If things stay the same the more they change, then you should be able to find the same things in the same places in the yearbook, right?

Wrong.

This year's Galleon has a whole new look–one we hope you will enjoy, full of color, lots of candid photos, and an all new senior pull-out section divider, which we hope will become a tradition.

So if you're looking for the same old things, check out last year's book.

If you're looking for changes, then check out the sections that are highlighted to the left, with opening pages indicated at the bottom of each column.

Want to see pictures of sporting events? Check out Changing Seasons. Looking for those adorable senior baby picture spaces? Go to Small Change. Can't find yourself or your friends fast enough? Browse Same Faces Changing Places.

Whatever you do, enjoy yourself, sign a lot of other people's yearbooks, and remember–the more things change, the more they stay the same.

The More They Stay The Same

Over the years, things come
and things go.
It's a big bad world that is so unknown.
There will be times of joy and there will be times of sorrow.
Keep your head up and look forward to tomorrow.
There's much to do,
so much to see.
Just remember that the future depends on you and me.
So in this time of great changes with family, fortune and fame, remember this,
my friends:
the more things change, the more they
the same.

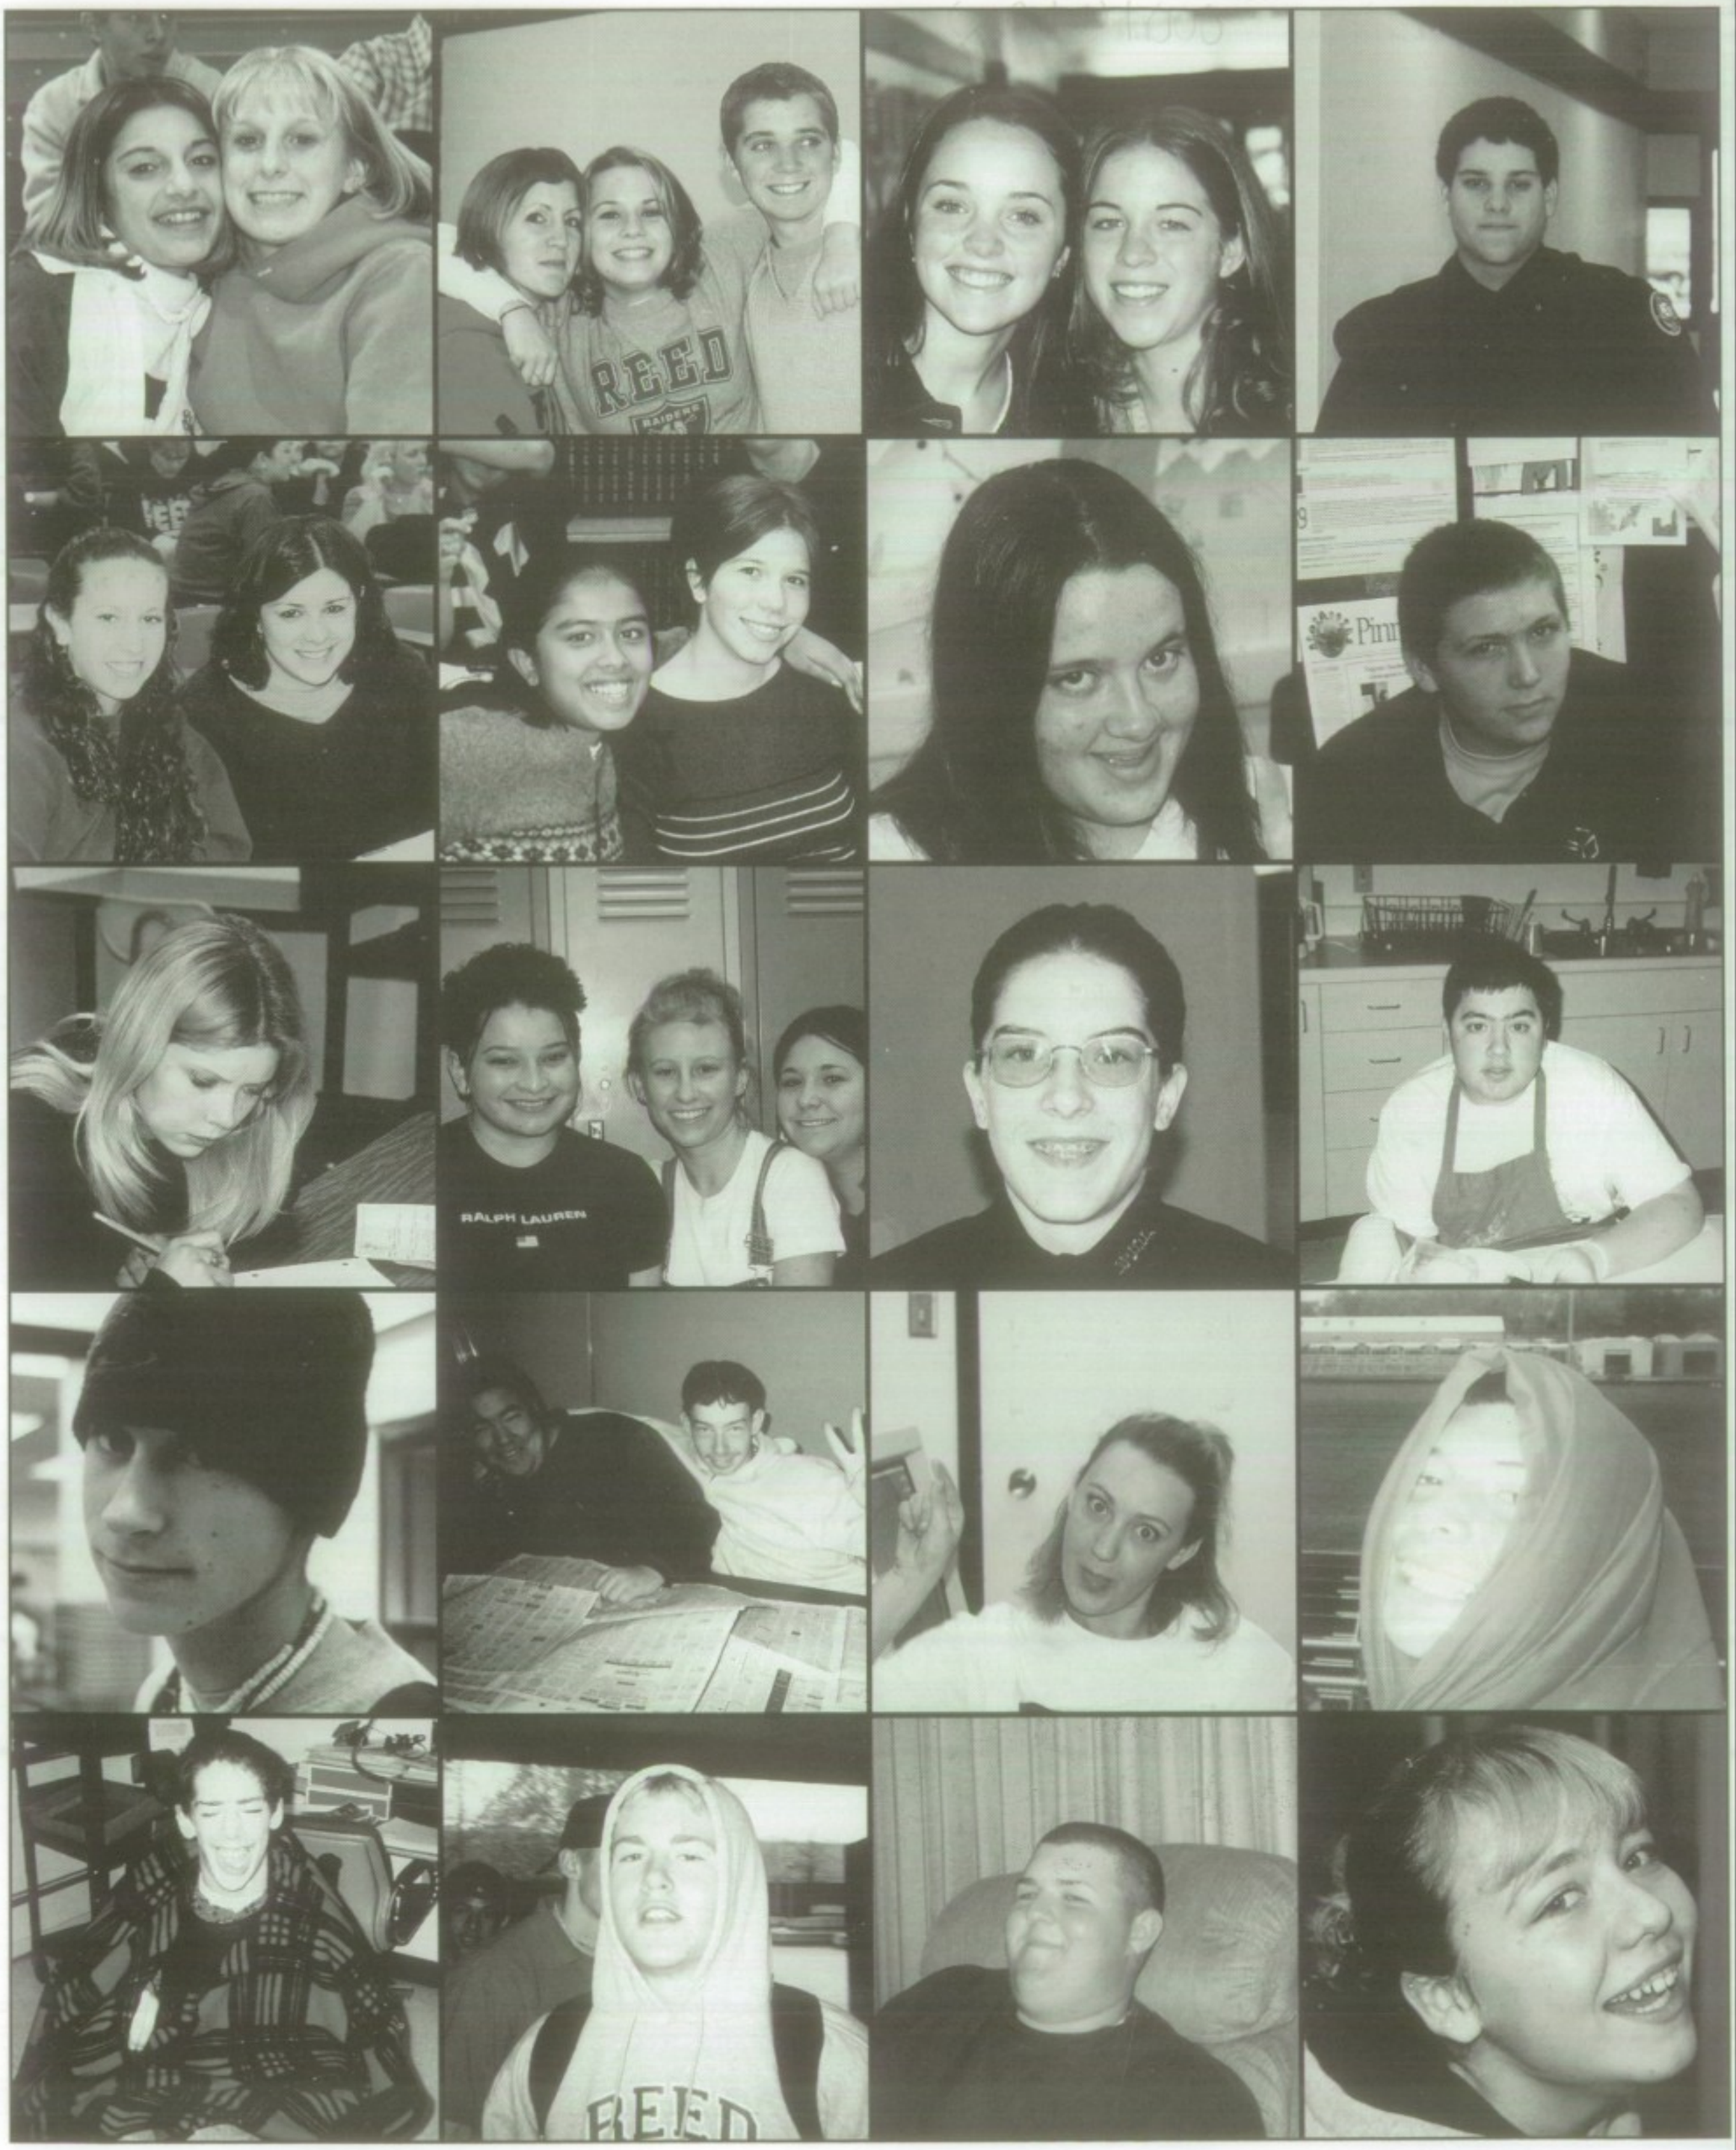
A Change of Pace



A Change of Pace: Living Section Divider

Living Section

Living life the way we want to–it's what teenagers do best everyday.

We have the freedom to experiment with friendships, fashions, fun events... in fact, almost every day provides us with a change of pace.

Our lives are constantly changing. Friendships grow and fade, causing our hearts to sing and ache (sometimes simultaneously). Our favorite styles can change with the latest shipment of new name brands to the hottest stores or the craziest dress-up day Student Council can dream up. And fun (okay, well at least interesting) things happen almost every second of our lives.

Since nobody knows more about living life like we are immortal, this section is one of the most interesting... our everyday lives are captured in pictures.

Hot Fun in the Summertime

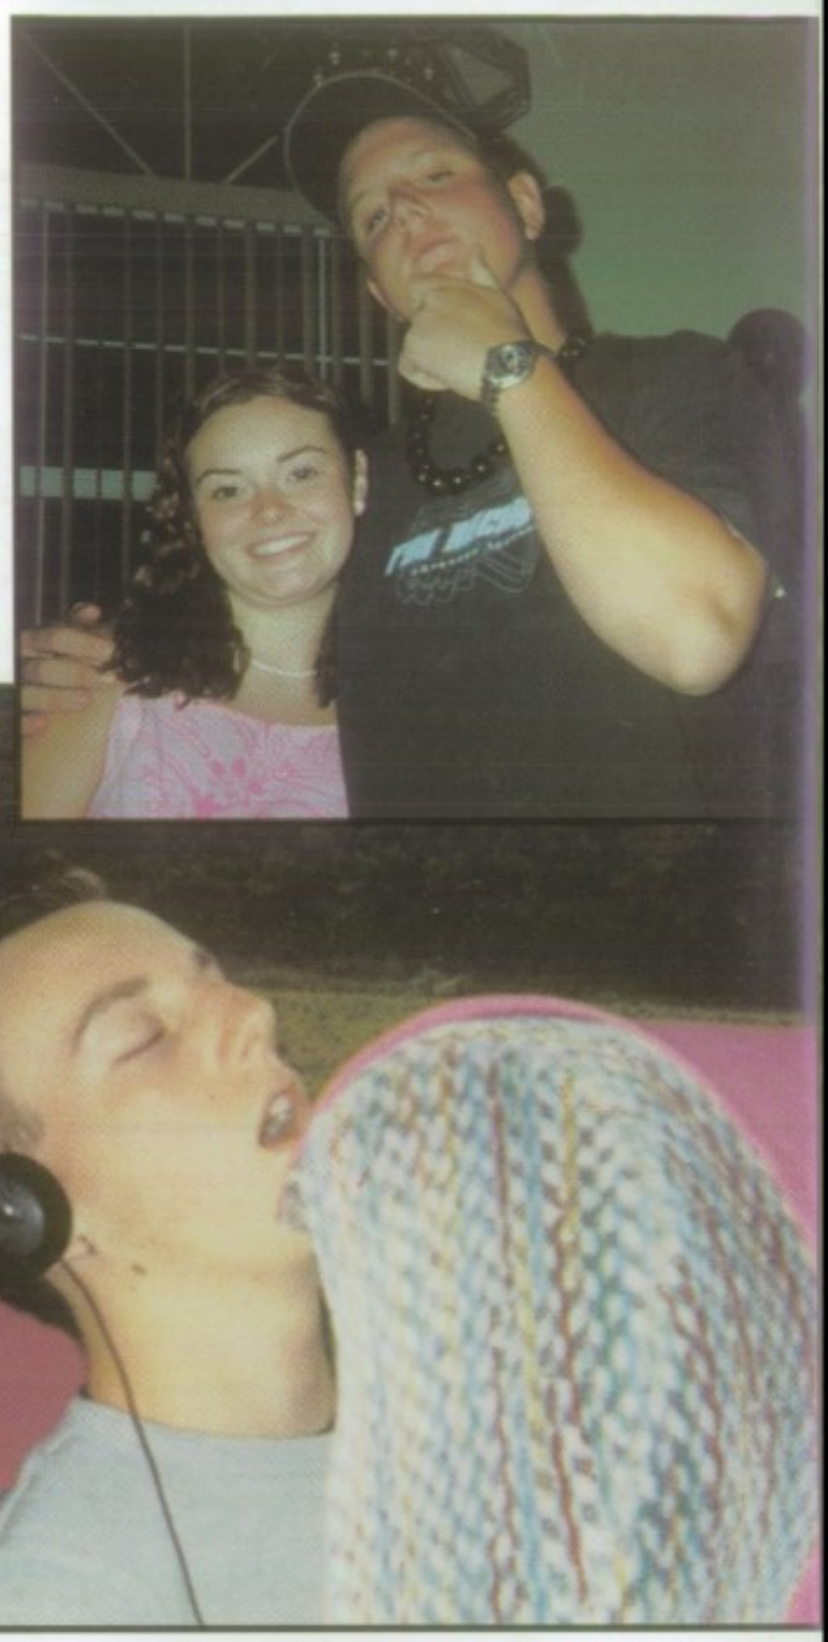
Summer is usually a time to kick back, relax, and enjoy the lazy, hazy days.

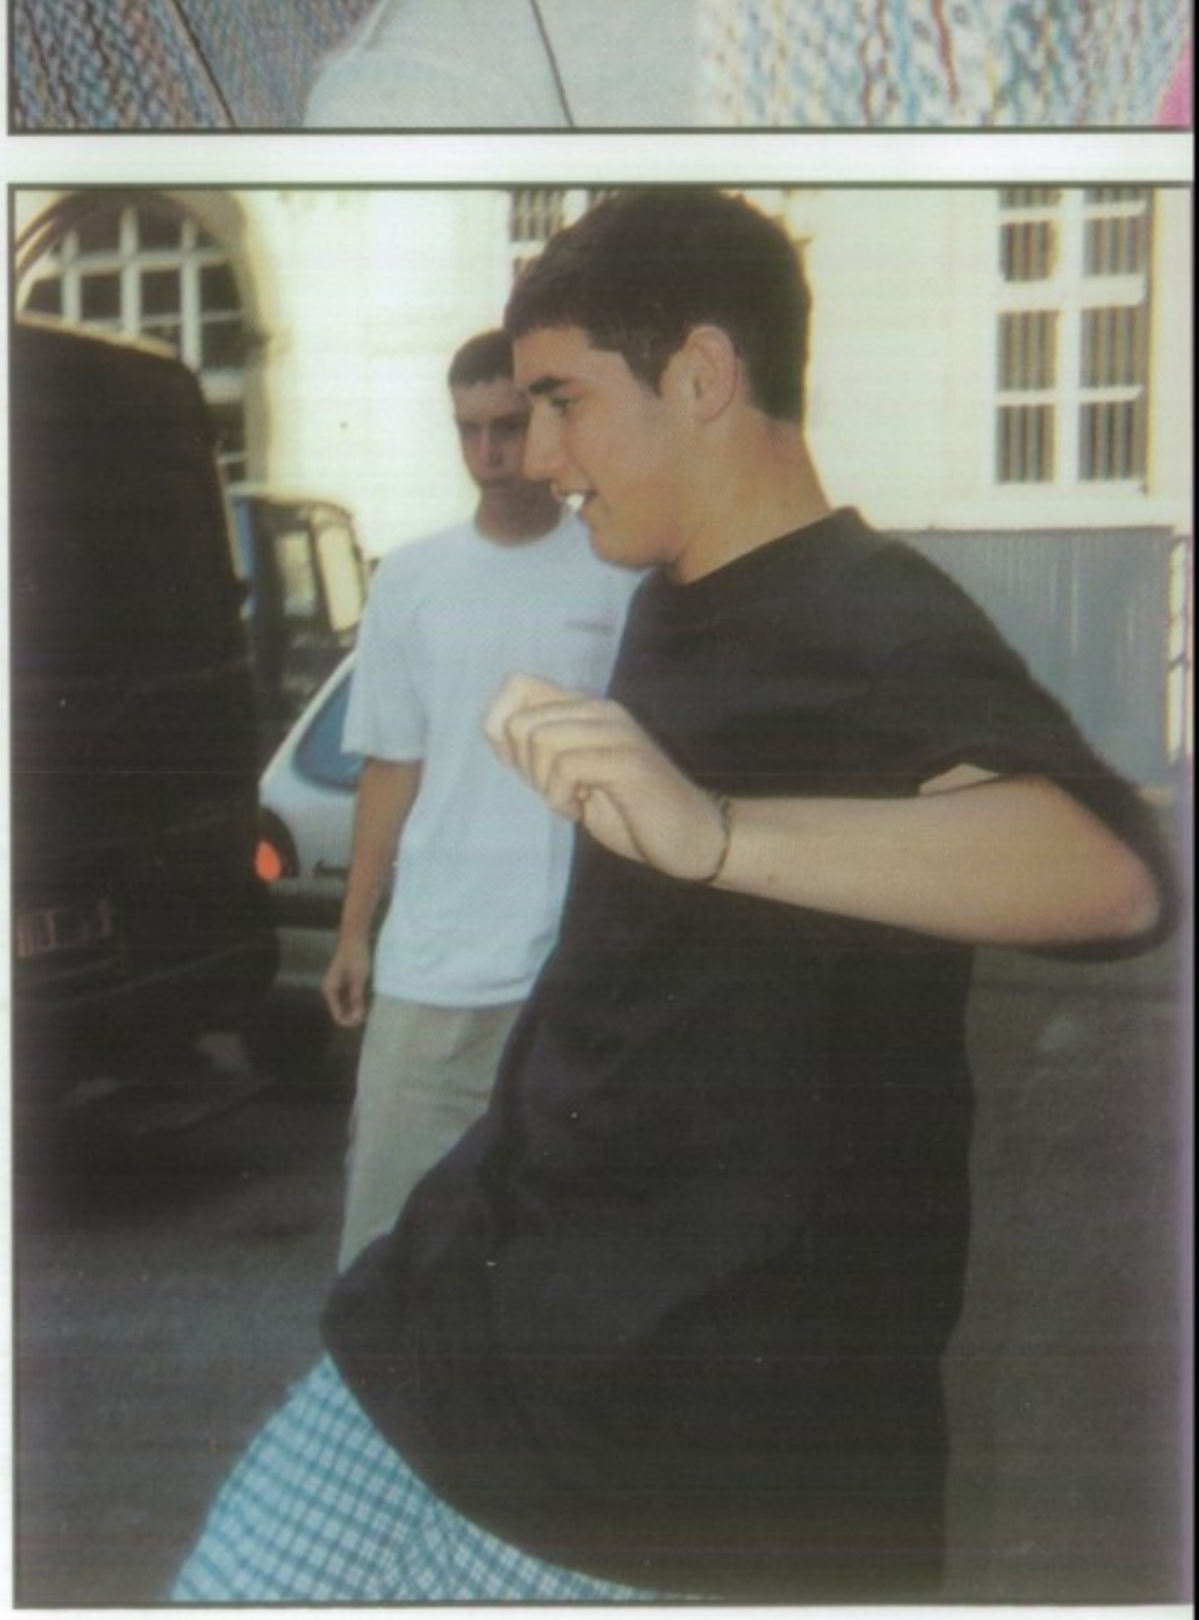
But for some students and teachers, summer was a chance to expand their horizons, see new countries and cities, and experience things that can't be taught in a classroom.

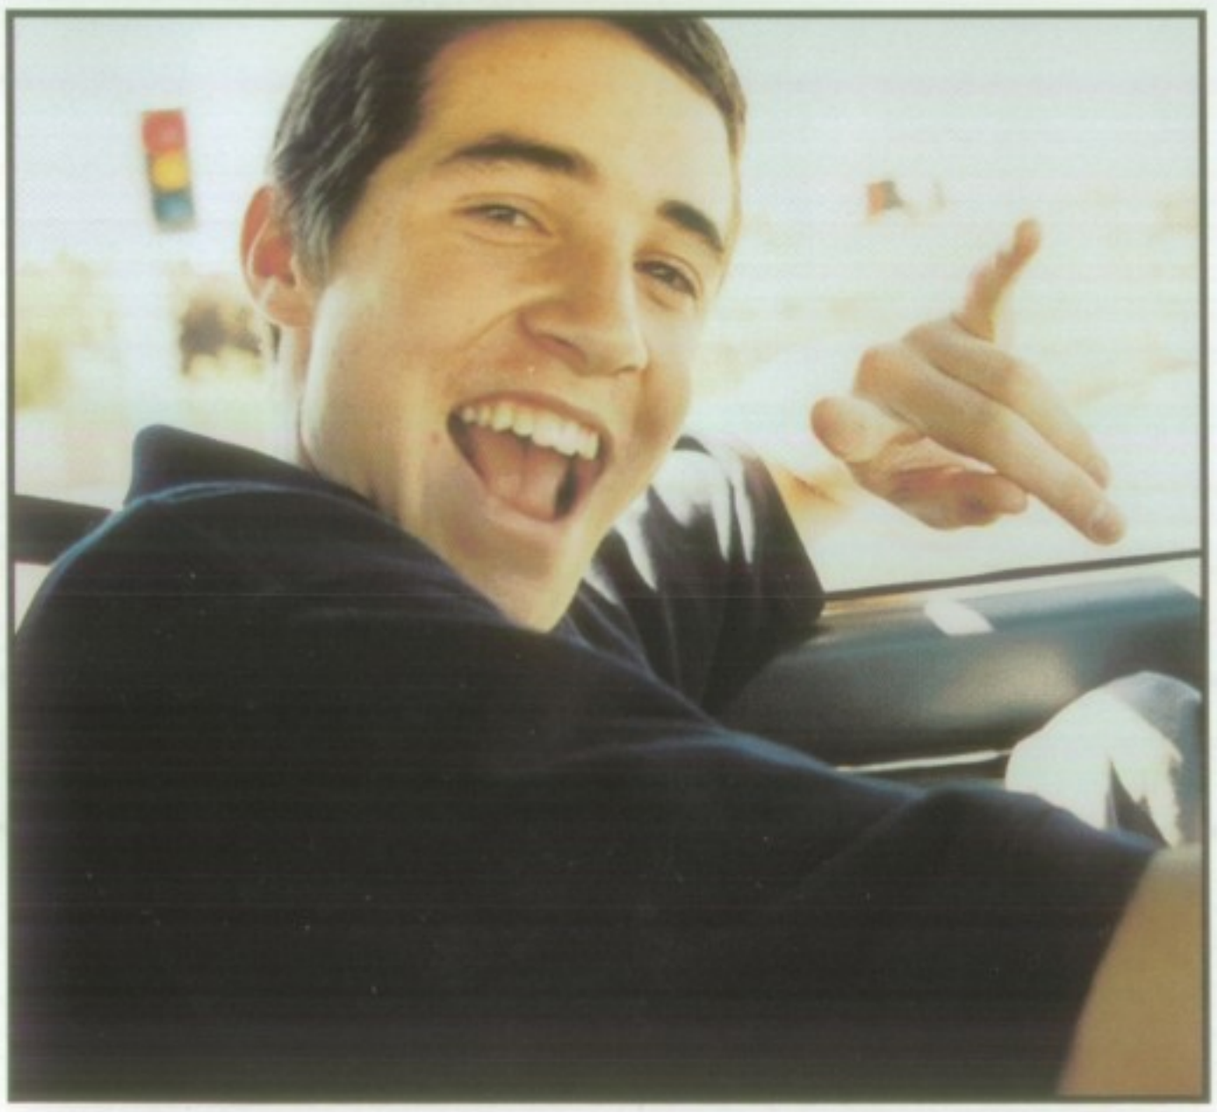
European tours, visits to Japan, and trips to California kept students and teachers busy throughout the summer months.

Students find many activities during the summer to keep themselves entertained. Anywhere from hanging out, to visiting wineries, to going to Japan, and attending FBLA meetings.

Even during the summertime, kids somehow find a way to keep in touch with their friends. To the right, Stephani Walker and Chad Recob pose together at a birthday event. Down below is Perdu sleeping.Perdu was the amity aide last year. After working with students and teachers, Perdue became a close friend and was invited to go to Europe with Reed's group.







Jeremy Long is pictured above driving his car during the summer. during the summer Jeremy was caught cruising around in his new Escort. Jeremy said,"I'm just hangin' out in my new Escort, and I'm not cool." During the summer people always manage to see their friends driving all over. Teenagers just like showing off their stuff.

During last summer some of the Reed students went on a trip through Europe. Killing time between educational visits to museums and historical sites. "I was just hackin' in France," said Ken, who loves to hacky sack whenever he gets a chance.

Ride em' Cowboy! While at an FBLA competition, Zach Martens takes a break to play on the Merry-go-round. On the FBLA trip students had time to clown around at the Long Beach Warf. "Hi, ho Silver!" said Martens.

The First Week Of School

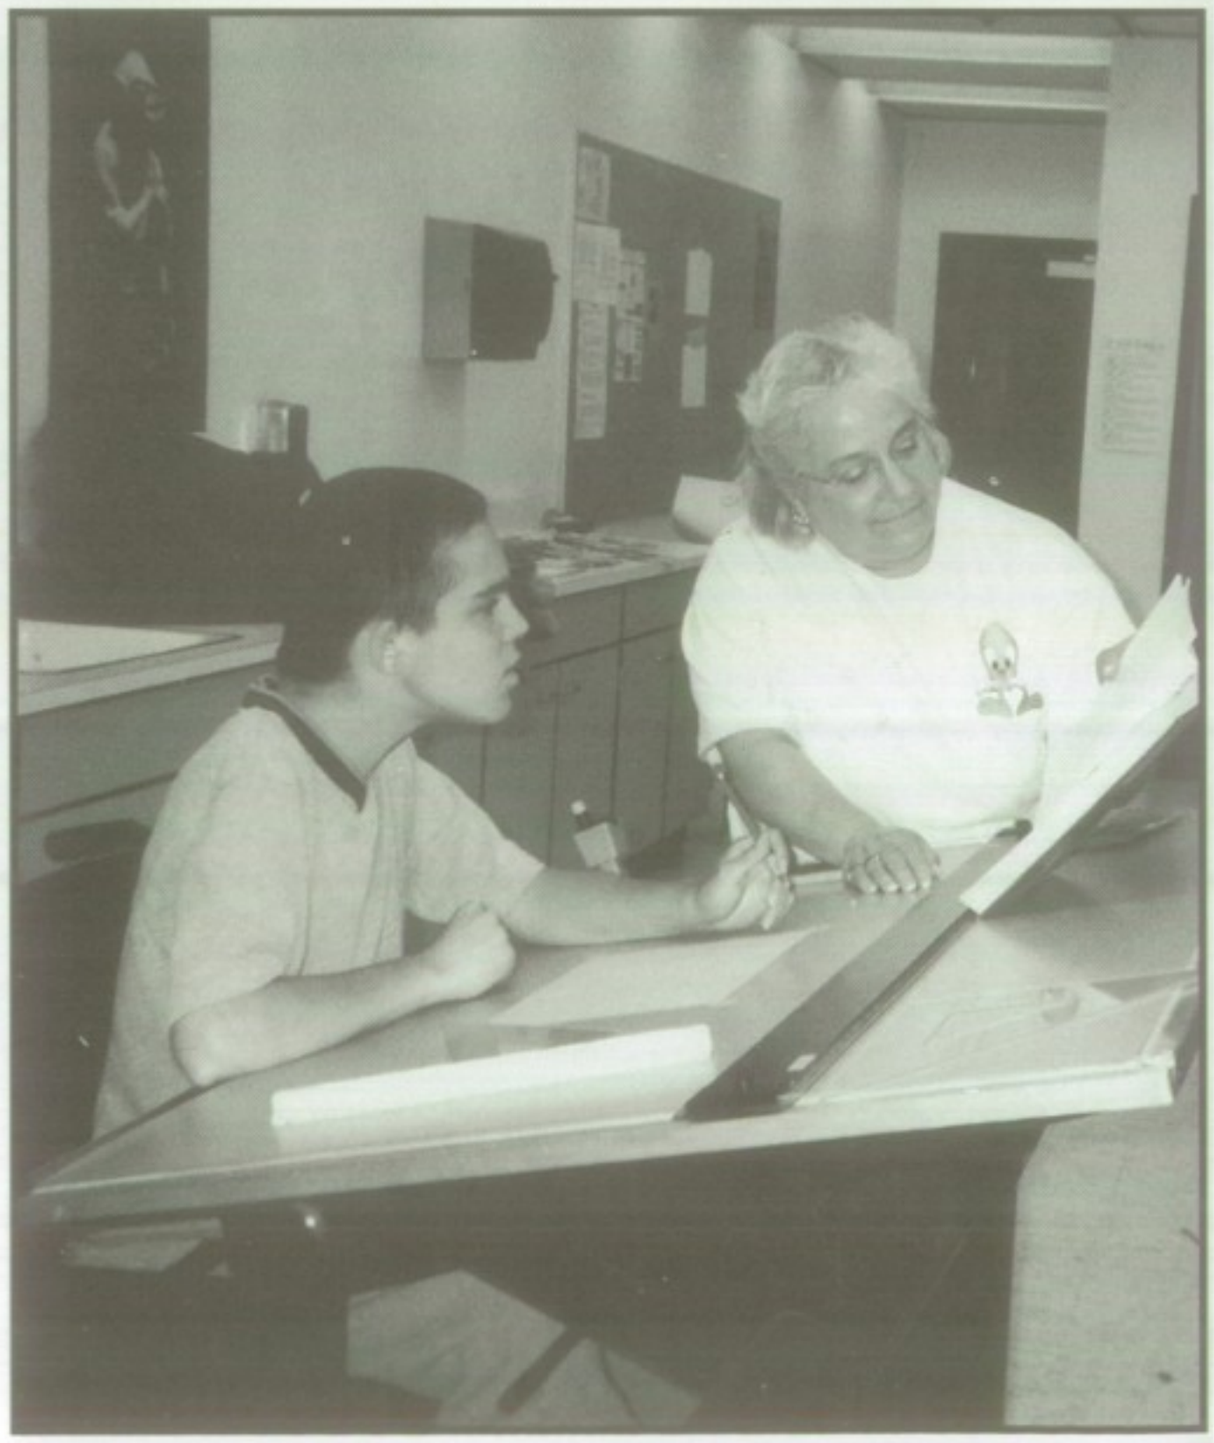
The First Few Weeks of School
Brian Brisbois (02), Jeff Stumph (01), Amanda Coe (01), Brett Lee (01),and Casey Mc Manus (01), Richard Crisostono (02) and Terressa Collins (02), and Heather Dean (01) and Holly Dean (01).

Almost everyone would agree that the first few days of school are the most difficult of the school year, although the rest are difficult too. No one likes to wake up and be at school at 7:00 am, but it is nice having the afternoon off.

A true Raider, Mike Carlson (02), enjoys showing school spirit. Many would agree that the peace sign went out of date over 30 years ago, but if it's up to Carlson, it will never go out of style.

Doing her best to look casual, Stephanie Nawmann (01), walks to her car to head home.

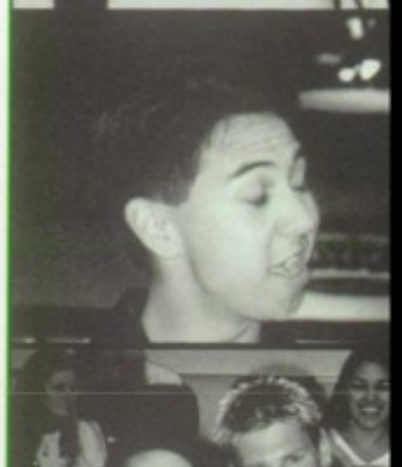
Laughing with her friends, Sarah Bajenski (02) enjoys lunchtime. Many students looked forward to lunch as the best part of the day.



You da man! Members of the concert and marching bands, John Ewers (03) and Kathleen Auyeung (02), hangout after school. Attending the many different events and practices has helped band members to form long-lasting friendships.

And this line will go right there... Working on a project, Russell Nelson (02) and Kathy (Nelson's personal aide), finish an assignment in drafting class. Many students enjoyed being in Brad Hayes' drafting class because they got to use their natural artistic abilities to create their finished projects.

What makes a close friendship? According to friends like Samantha Duran (01) and Marquis Gardner (01), a close friendship is strong, not weak. It's made up of two people helping each other conquer their fears and achieve their dreams. It takes commitement, communication, and determination. A close friendship takes understanding and consideration of feelings. It takes kind words, joy, and love for one another. A close friendship lasts through thick and thin, and grows through difficulties that come with every relationship. A friendship that lasts is special; it may grow old, but will never weaken, fade, or die.



Some things stay the same...

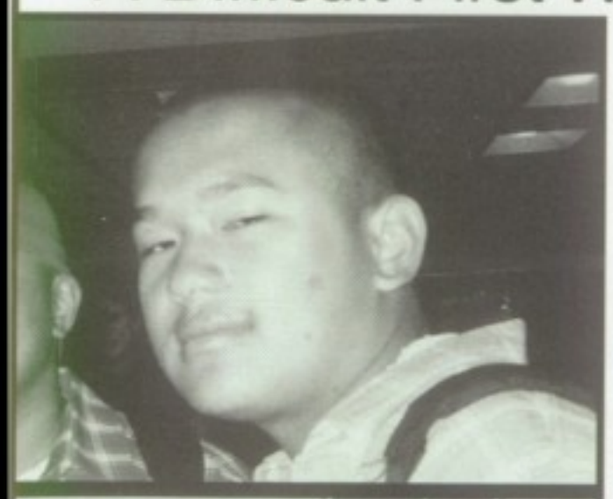
- Group hang-outs
- A dilemma - what to wear?

Some things change...
- Personalities
- Friendships
- Clothing styles

A Difficult First Week...For Some.

Crowded halls, confused freshmen, and new schedules



For students like David Huynh (03), trying to get through the hallways during the first days of school and still look cool was a real challenge.

Finding the perfect book, Hugo Chavez (03), takes his time finding something to read for class. Many teachers required outside reading from their students.

In Liz Walsh's Sports Lit class, Josh Morales (02), is either hungry or nervous as he tries to find the right words to put into his essay.

Megan Urban (01), Jarod Hollister (01), Serena Proudfoot (01), Jeff Champagne (01), and T.T. Tran (01), in yellow hall.

Remember the good times

Friendship

What is a friend?
Is it someone who...
Says they will care
And wants to be there
Will let you rest
Never put you to the test
Watches your back
Defending you from attack?

All those things and more make a friend.

A true friend is someone who...
Always stands by your side
Won't run and hide
Knows what is going on in your life
Helps you get through strife
Never lies or deceives
Gives and receives
Shows you they care
Will always be there
Stays true to the end
That's who I call friend.

Friends like us stick together through thick and thin! To show their friendship, Brenda Reyes, Beatrice Romero, Reneé Schwering, Christina Garcia,and Erika Orozco stand together arm in arm.

Friends are forever

Let's get together... Hanging out... sophomores, Kessa Purcell, Gregory Ashby, Jaime Ebster, Chris Day, Abby McDonald, Brian Wilfon, Summer Hanson enjoy Jimboy's for lunch.

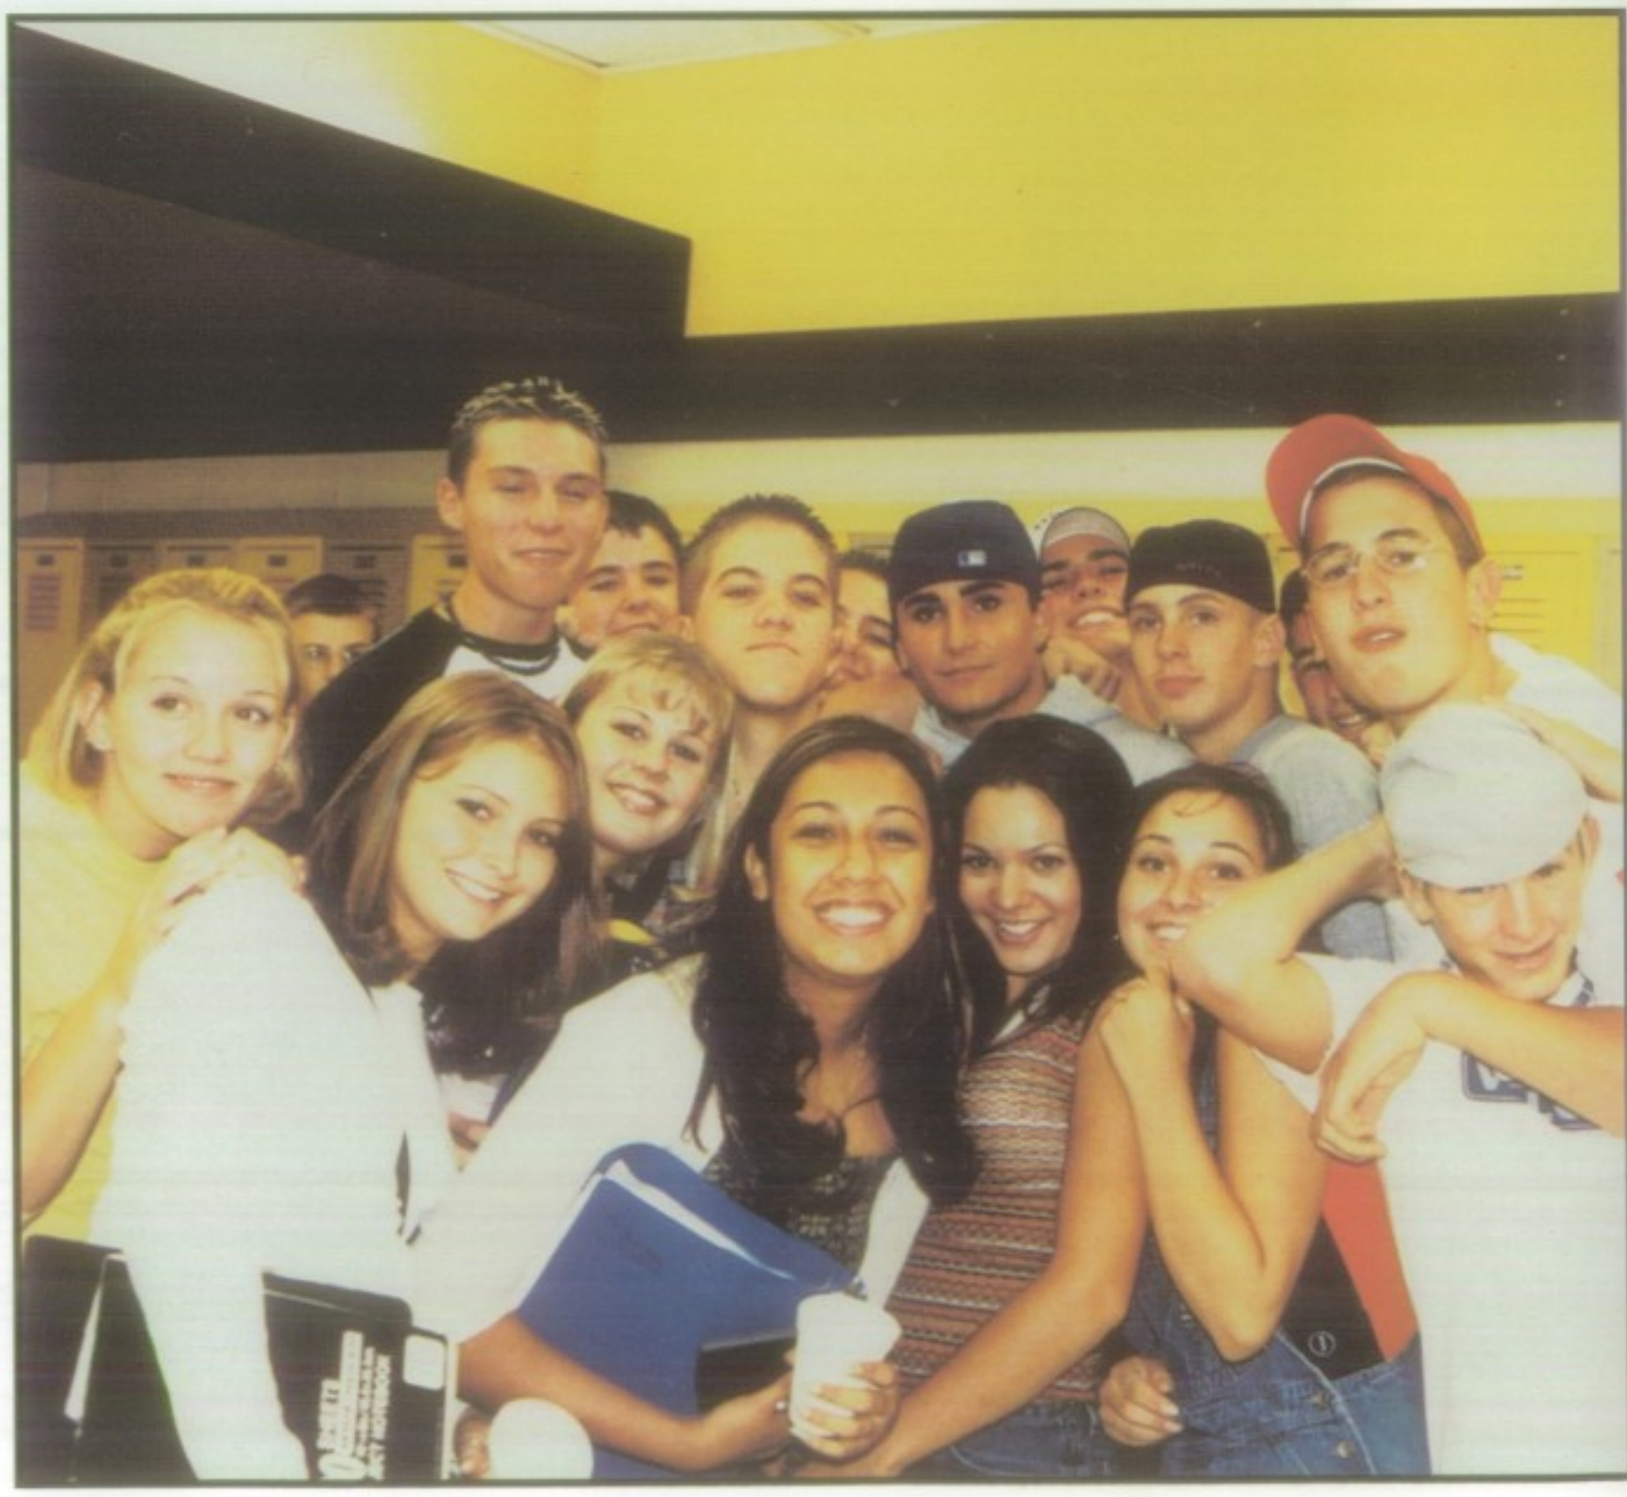
Just being together... Friends usually go places together, and this group of junior boys at a football game is no exception.

Chillin' with the homies... At an assembly, juniors Ana Contreras, Maria Contreras, Janet Munoz, Veronica Garcia, Esmeralda Ozuna and Daisy Murrio sit together and watch the show.

Oh what a cute smile... Showing their friendship, Christina Givens (01) and Mike Drew (01) enjoy each other's company in government. "Christina is a nice friend to have" said Drew.

Lookin' "GQ"... While eating in the courtyard, freshmen Jose Olivares, Robert Vega and Dean Kunc, make sure that they look good for all the girls that walk by."It's always fun to kick it with my friends and joke around during lunch," said Olivares.

Huddle up and smile pretty... A large group of sophomores gather together and squeeze in for a group picture right before they head off to lunch.



Always side by side...Often found together, seniors Dallin Smith and James Haz spend much of their time at school with each other. "It's cool to hang out with him, because we get along. We have known each other for a long time, and that's what makes us friends. We've got each other's backs, and we can trust each other. That's what being a friend means. It's watching out for the person instead of leaving him hanging," said Smith.

Sometimes a friendship lasts forever... Last year, Jose Nunez, Juan Alonso Rangel and Cesar Vera were best friends. Now that Rangel has passed away, his friends do their best to honor his memory. "I remember Juan as the best friend you wished you had and cherished every minute that you were with him. He was a good, kind, friendly guy that anyone could get along with, and we all miss him a lot. May he rest in peace," said Nunez.

Some things stay the same...
- Sharing secrets
- Caring about each other
- Always kickin' it together

Some things change...
- The way that people act
- Friends that graduate, (we may never see them again)
- New friendhsip form and some times replace the old ones.

How do you define friendship?

"Kickin' it all the time together and just having fun."

-Jason Davis

"Friendship means that you don't have to worry about who's got your back. You already know."

-Rafael Melendrez

"Sticking together, never forgetting each other, and always being there."

Remember the good times

Good friends are hard to find be cause they have to work so hard to be really good. They have to keep you sane in a world that presents so much insanity. They have to cheer you up in the darkest times. They have to help you finish projects that seem unending. They have to listen to you, even when they have problems of their own to deal with. And they have to like you - even when you are at your most unlikable.

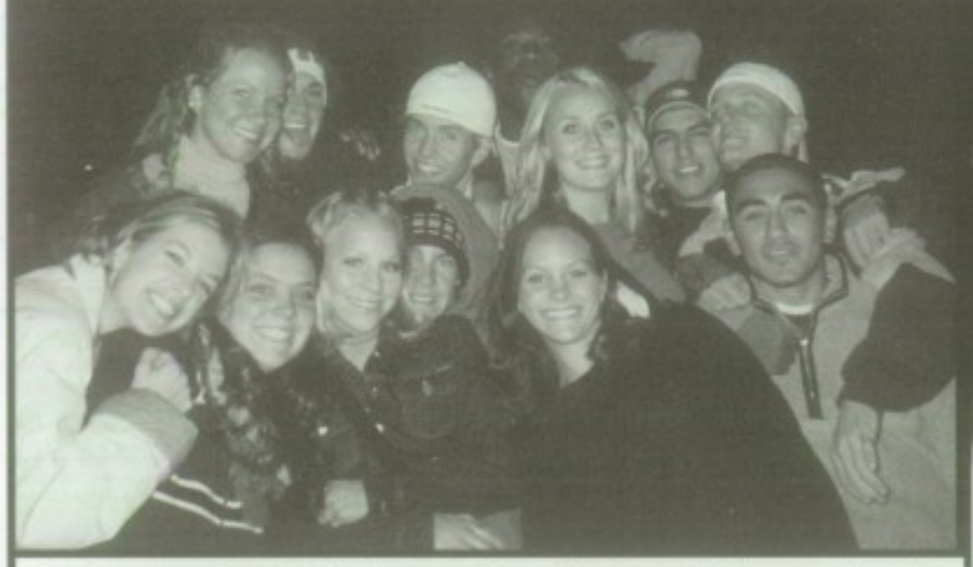
Good friends are a treasure to be protected and respected. It's not easy to find good friends. But when you do, you hold on tightly and do everything in your power to make them happy, because you never want to lose someone who does so much for you.

Peace, love and chicken grease... Crazy inside jokes help bond friends like seniors Ashley White and Tanisha Johnson,"Friendship is something special that only comes around once in a life time," said White.

Good friends know how to treat each other

Two heads are better than one... Juniors Brittany Christensen and Jina Yoo know that cooperation is the key to friendship. "Keeping it real is what friendship is all about," said Yoo.

We look all sweet and innocent - shows what they know... seniors Shannon Fyfe, Courtney Brown. "Friendship can be shown in many ways but sticking together is real friendship," said Fyfe.



Good friends make high school memorable... Knowing that they are making memories to last a lifetime, Alexis Alexander,Kellie Labarry,Carlos Madrid,Kim Armbrust, Adam Huckaby, Phillip Gorbet, Kerrie Kramer, John Prada, Ivy Alexander, Mitch Esters, Matt Gilmore and Tyler Baxter enjoy each other's company.

The key... Understanding the need for friends, Lesile Bettencourt and Alisa Adams do what it takes to keep their friendship strong. "True friendship is the key to life, and we all need it to keep going in life and getting somewhere," said Adams.

Freshmen can be cool too... Enjoying lunch with friends, Hunter Olds kicks back and relaxes with Ashley Boggio, Brandon Stephens and Jason Velarde.

Roxy girls... When friends first get to know each other, it's usually because they have something in common, like Jody Potts and Michelle Morale, who both like Roxy clothes.

Don't drop me please... Trust is a big issue for people like seniors Jessica Miller & Yvette Avilla. "Friendship is very important in life and it lasts forever if it's true," said Miller.

"Group Hug!"
Tanisha Johnson, Marc Thompson, Hassan Shabazz, Eric Kuiken, Kerrie Kramer

"Stuck like Glue."

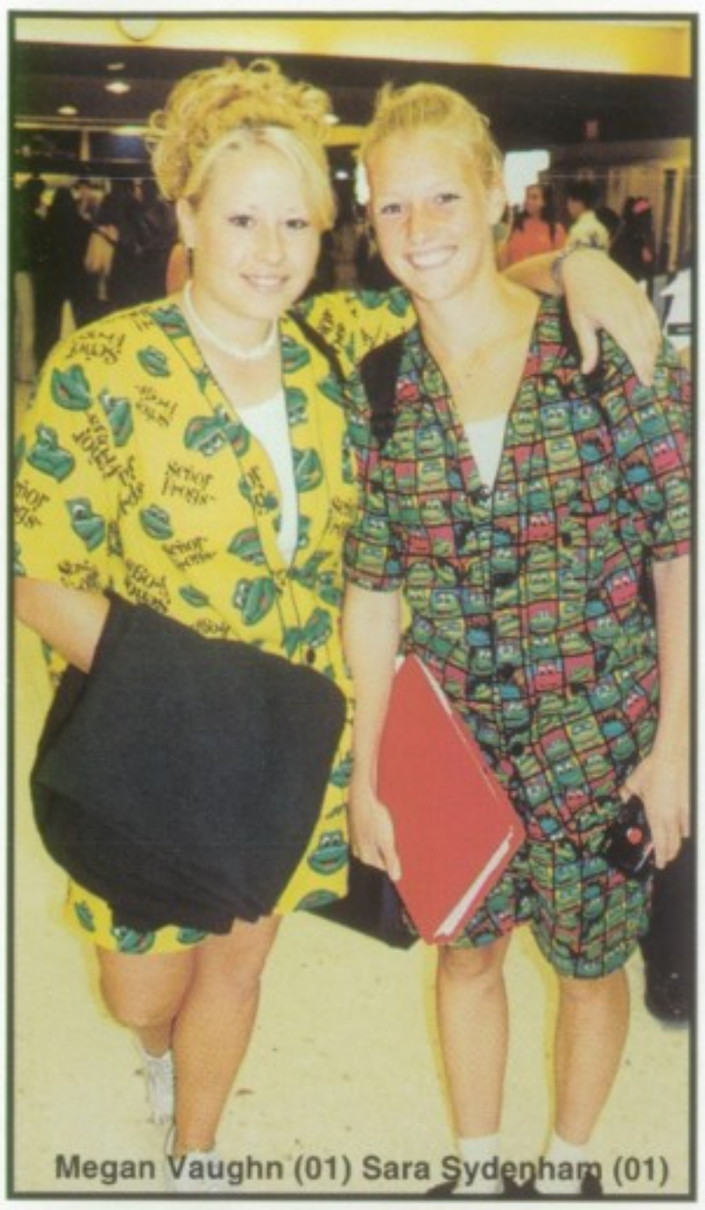
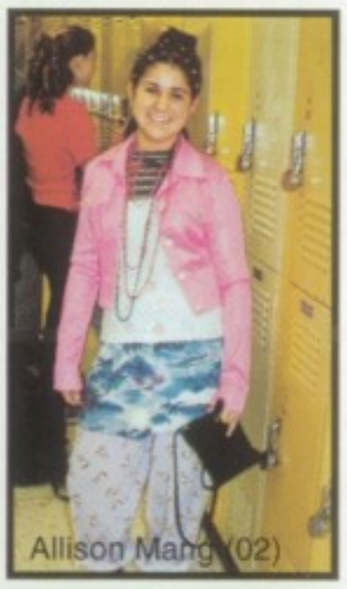
Student Council showed off the fashions in a preview fashion show, leather jackets and poodle skirts were everywhere ans girls rolled down their socks and boys rolled up their T-shirt sleeves on this day.

Thursday:

Freshmen: Hillbillies
Sophomores: Jungle safari
Juniors: Crazy hair & mismatch
Seniors: Pajamas



Megan Vaughn (01) Sara Sydenham (01)



Allison Mang (02)

Katie Smith (03) Lucas Delong (03)

Class dress up day is always fun, since the classes compete against each other for the best themed outifits. Seniors got to stay in their pajamas all day while juniors came to school with crazy hats and mismatched outfits, sophomores were on safari in the halls, and freshmen were all hillbillied-out. It was a sleepy, crazy, exciting, yeehaw time.

Friday:

Blue & Gold School Spirit

Spirit... Let's hear it! This is the one day when we all showed how much we love our school.People painted their faces blue and gold, either totally, or at least with a little dignified RHS on their cheeks. The seniors screamed the loudest, and of course, had the most spirit. Everyone dressed in school colors and supported the Raider varsity football team during the day so they would be ready to win the football game that night.

Raiders waved Fallon goodbye

Homecoming week was a big success this year, Student Council planned fun events for the week, including skate night, a tailgate, and the ever-popular lip sync, which generated money for charitable causes.

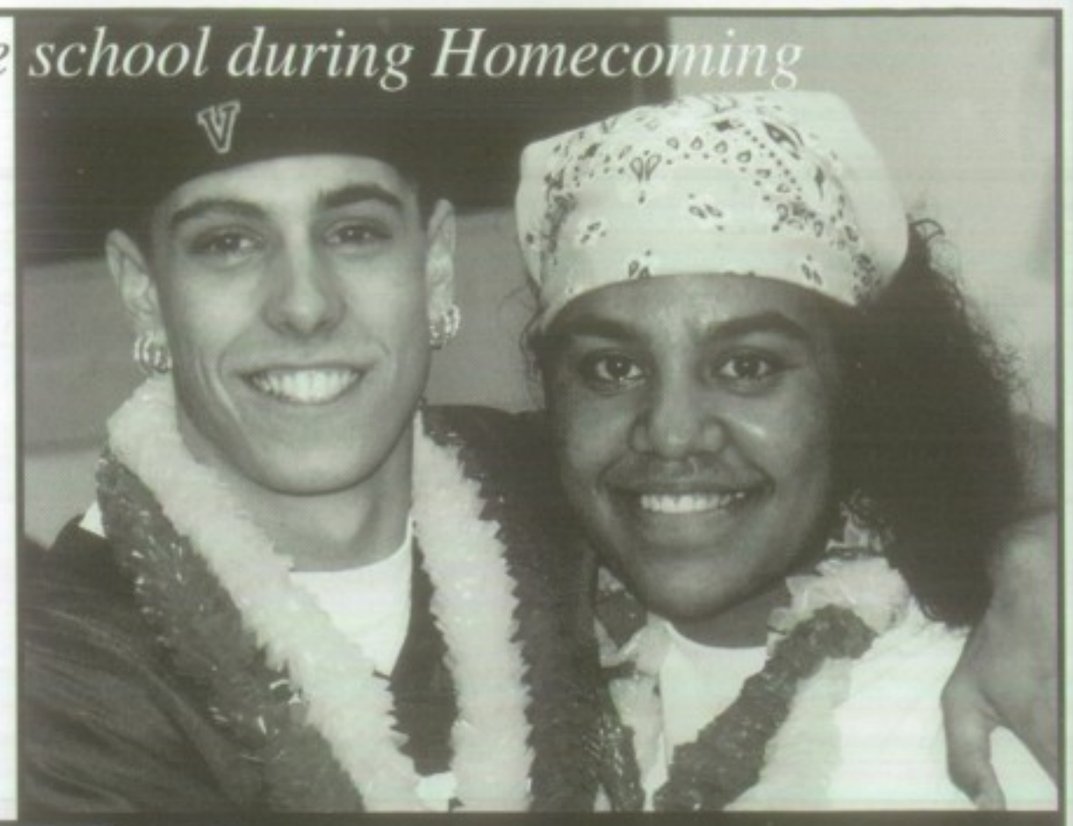
Katie Snell,Pavaree Lueamrung

As usual, seniors had the most spirit, dressing up in the most blue and gold for the last day of the week and making a point of being at the game.

Seniors rule the school during Homecoming

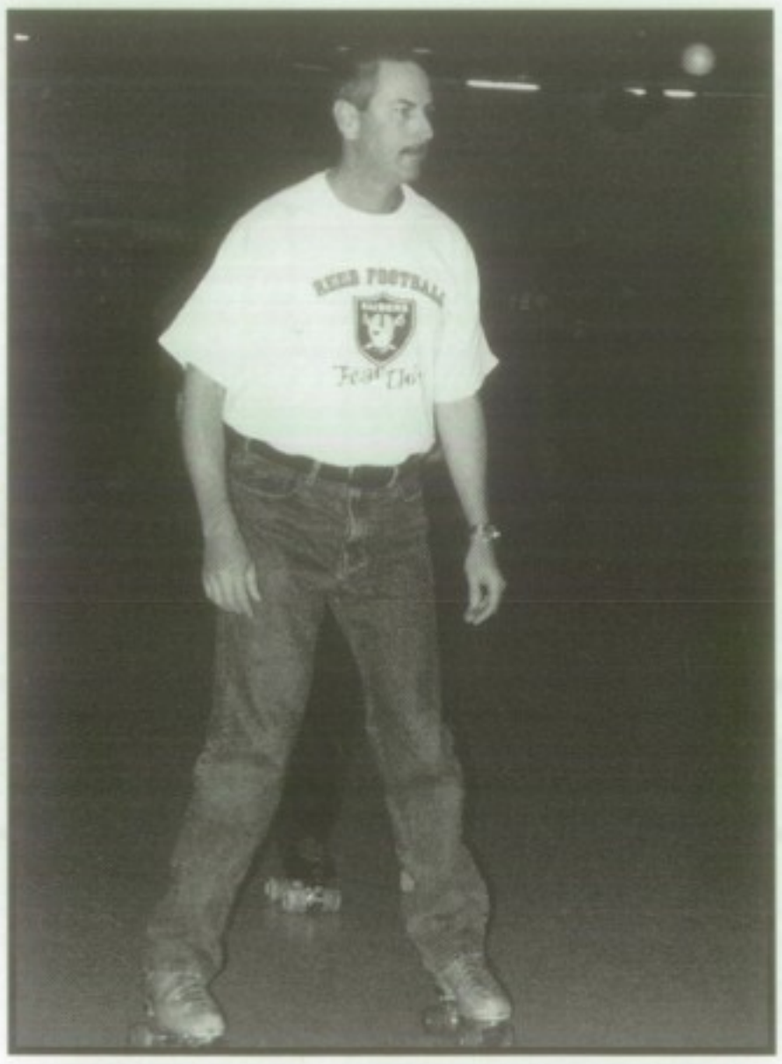
Showing more school spirit than past classes, seniors showed the underclassmen how things should be

Decked out in blue and gold, Troy Monroe and JoyceAnn Afuha'amango got the crowd interested in voting for her for Homecoming Queen. Each couple had a different theme for their official introduction in the assembly.



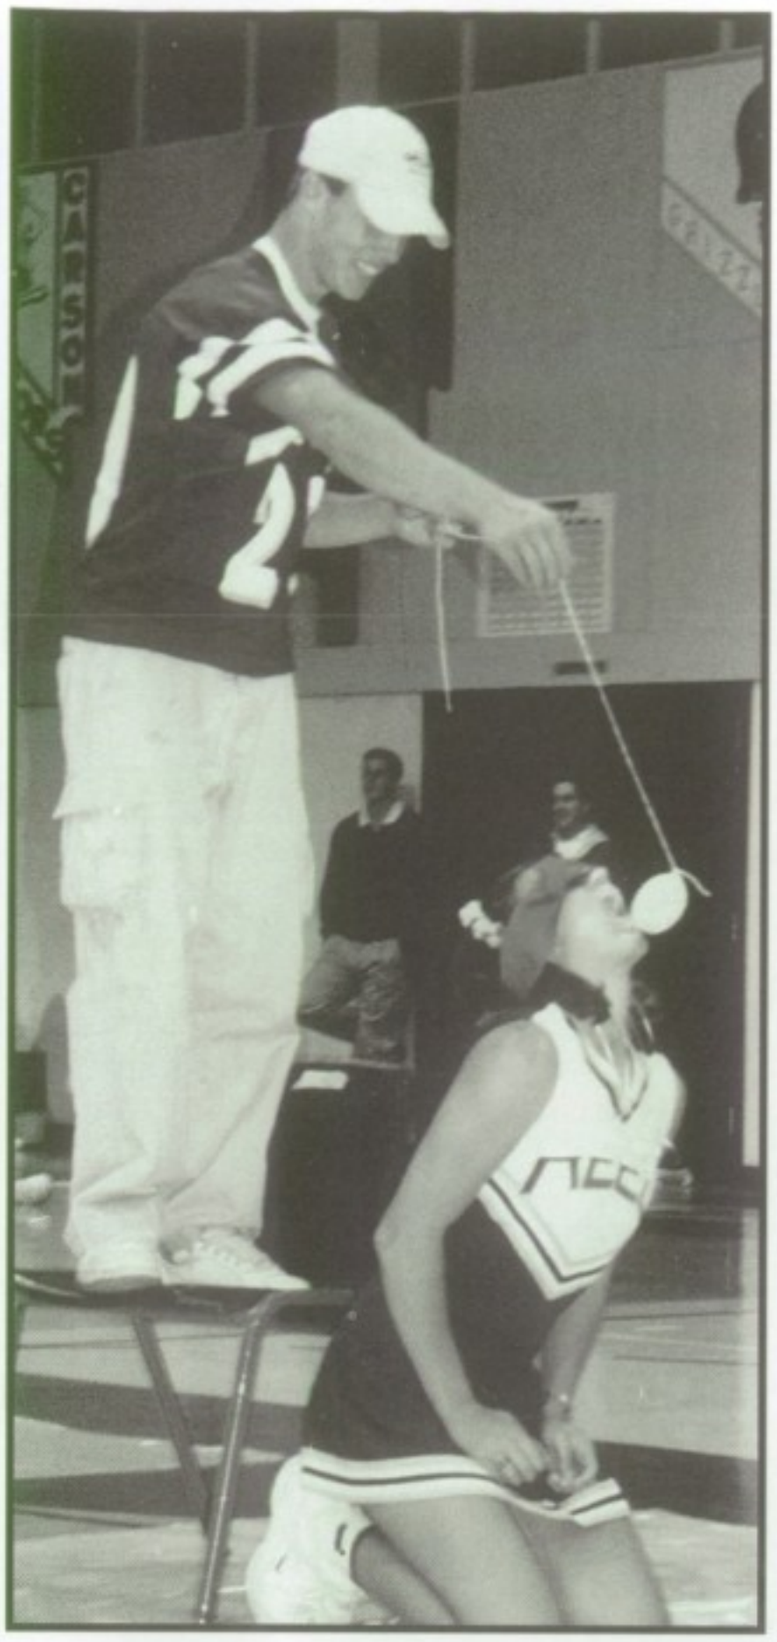
PJ's rule! Sleepy in their pajamas, seniors in Fred Hagameister's financial management class enjoyed their special day. "It was early and we were tired. How about some coffee?" joked Bud Perry.

Britney Spears comes to Reed... For the Lip Sync, Kiley Lagomarsino performed Spears' latest hit, "Oops! I Did it Again." "We had a lot of fun; next time we'll win it all," said Lagomarsino.



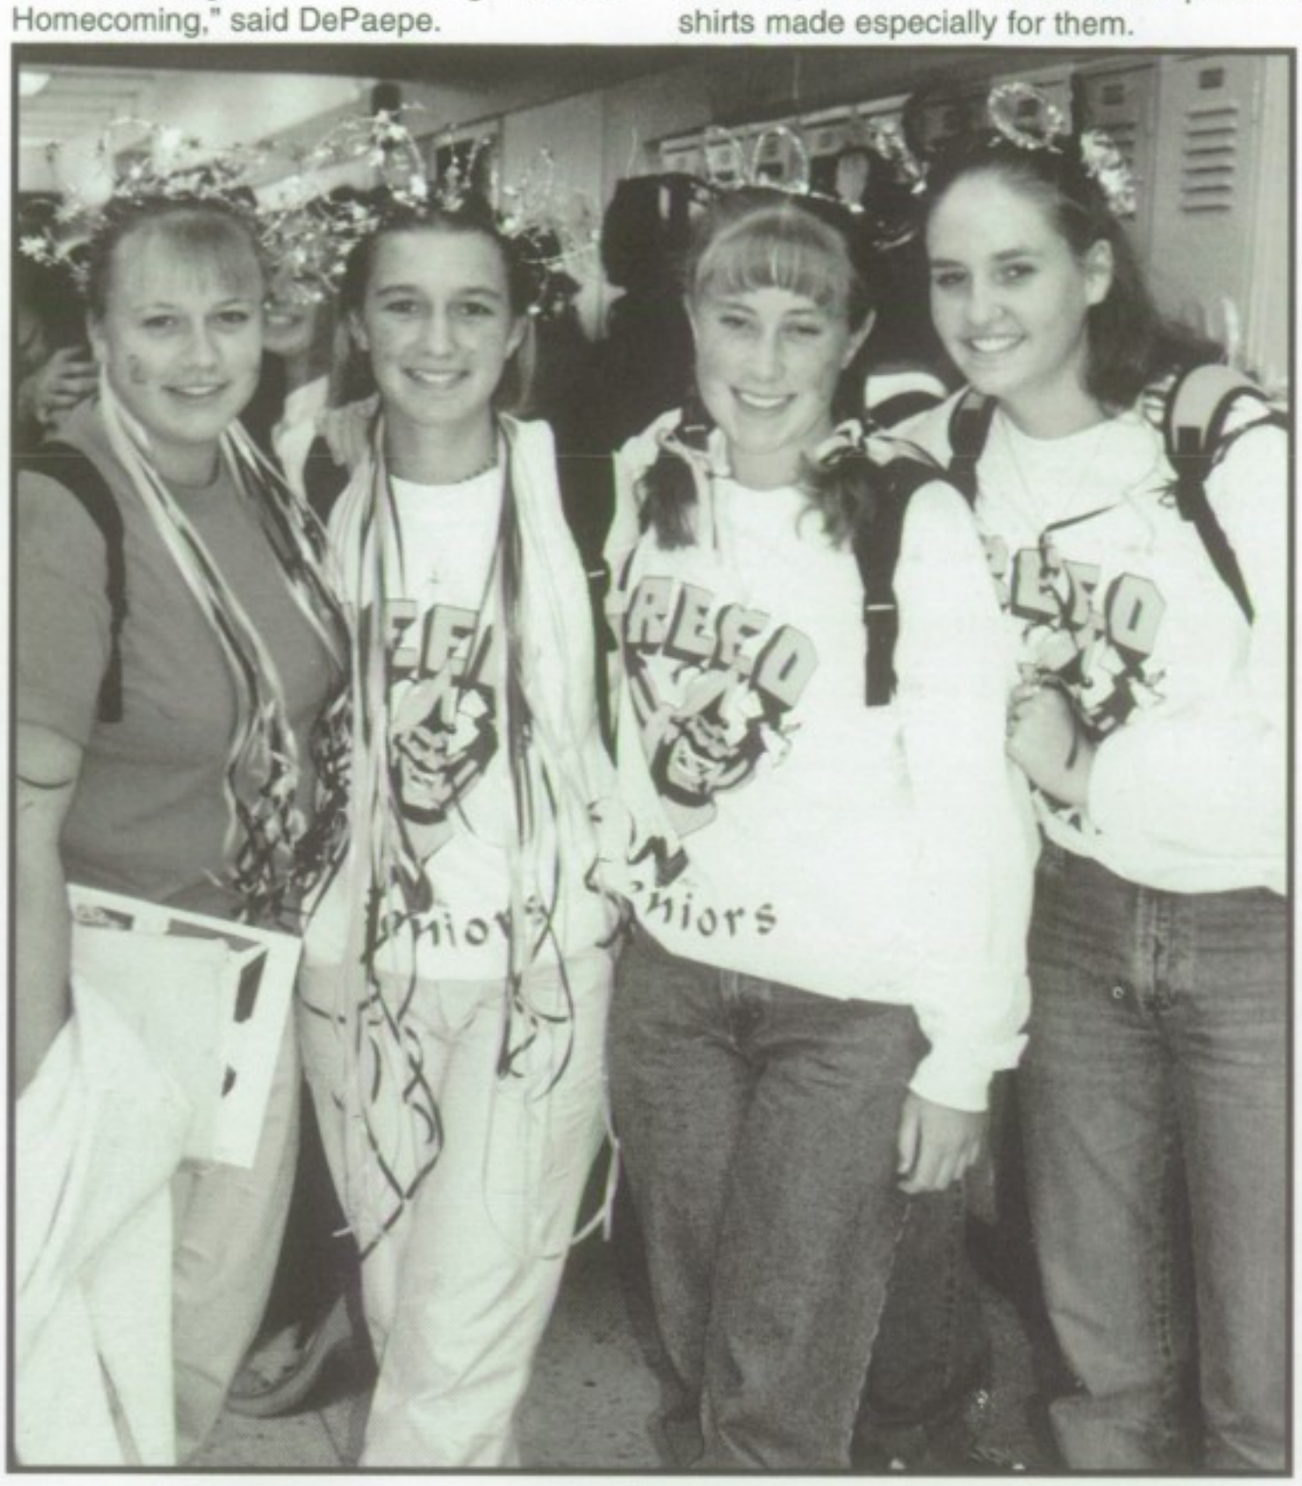
Hey Mom I can skate...I think. Skating during homecoming superstar Mr. Babb tears up the skating rink and passes up all the students on skate night.

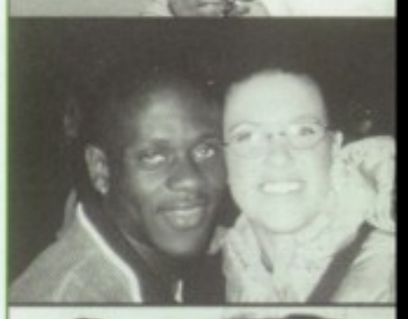
Queen for the night... After being chosen queen, Yvette Avilla, posed with her younger sister. "My litttle sister was congratulating me after I won.She was so proud of me and I hope she can have this expirence too." said Avilla.



Not exactly the most flattering position... Playing a game during the assembly Mark DePaepe sort of feeds Yvette Avilla a donut. "I had such a good time escorting Yvette for Homecoming," said DePaepe.

We've got spirit, yes we do... Sporting crowns on Friday, seniors Meghan Lyons, Breanna Balmut, Jessica Peacock and Katherine Schmidt, show their senior class pride in shirts made especially for them.





Some things stay the same...
- A week's worth of events
- Somebody gets to dress in pajamas
- Big game on Friday

Some things change...
- We played Fallon- not Sparks
- Egg wars got out of hand and were cancelled
- Powder puff was the next week

Q What was your favorite part of Homecoming week?

"When I got to escort Alexis Hill... I looked darn fine in that tuxedo."
-Marcus Liem

"Everything was really fun. All the events involved everyone. It was great."
-Megan Holtz

"The Lip Sync, because it was flippin' tight, and we should have won, but you know..."

Homecoming Halftime Celebration

Reed High School Home coming halftimes have al ways been fun and exciting. The marching band performing and the drill team dancing keep all the fans' eyes on the field.

The parade of floats circle the track and the candidates come onto the field as the school watches the new queen being crowned by the principal and Edward C. Reed at the center of the field.

Dallin Smith (01), Marcus Liem (01)

Nervous for the performance? All the canidates, players, dancers, band and drill team members put on a great show for us during halftime, especially during homecoming.

Band wows the crowd at the big halftime show

The homecoming queen and the commissioners were entertained by the extremely talented Raider Marching Band at the fall homecoming halftime. The marching band amazed the crowd with an excellent performance.

A Little Bit of Something for Everyone

Homecoming provides a wide variety of entertainment. There is an activity for just about everyone; the parents get to escort their daughters to the field, the fans watch the game and the students decorate the floats for their classes. Everyone is entertained and has fun the whole time. Homecoming is a big event and everyone gets involved during this exciting week. This also helps to bring the entire school together close to the beginning of the new school year.

Gridiron action at its finest

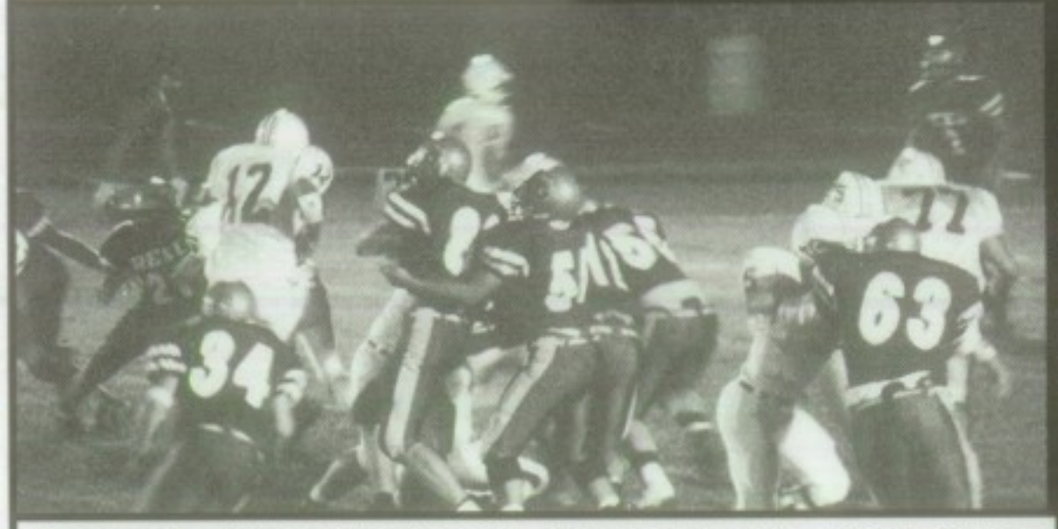
Two football games are traditionally played during the week of Homecoming– the varsity game that takes place Friday evening, and the Powder Puff game, which took place the following Wednesday, due to scheduling conflicts.

Players in both games spent extra time preparing themselves for the battle they wanted to win... and did.

The biggest game of the season

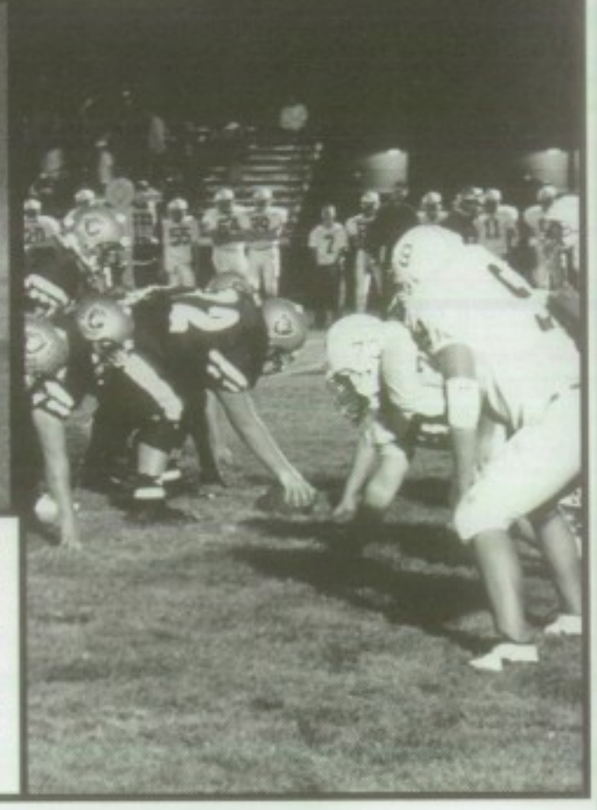
Winning Homecoming took extra effort on everyone's part

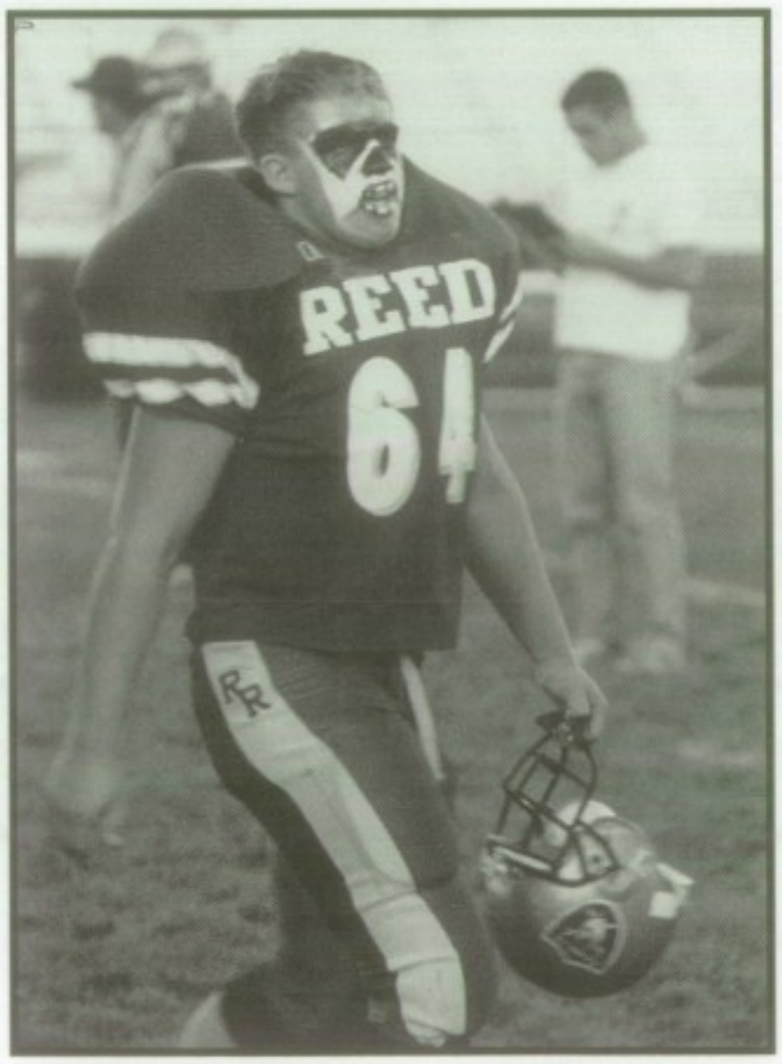
The entire team had to get hyped for the biggest game of the season. Losing to Fallon was not an option as Head Coach Doug Parry drilled his players each and every day to prepare them for the contest to be held on Friday night. Throughout the season, the team was plagued with injuries to star players and a slow start, but the defeat of Fallon's Green Wave put everything right for the biggest night of the year.



Teamwork... It wasn't just the yardage gained by the offense, or just the blocking of the defense that won this year's Homecoming game. It was a combination of both sides of the game that made the evening a winning one.

Tense moments... Reed players faltered in the second half of the game, allowing Fallon to score twice in a short amount of time, then came back with a vengeance to "Wave Fallon Goodbye," with a final score of 27-14.





Scary faces... To put himself in the right frame of mind to dominate the game, A.J. Sorenson spent extra time decorating himself with intimidating black and white face paint. Players usually use just a smear under each eye to keep the glare from the lights to a minimum, but special games call for special effects.

You want a piece of me? Ready for action, Adam Hunter looked around for a Fallon team member to frighten before the game.

Show some spirit now... Junior cheerleaders perform in front of a huge crowd trying not to embarrass themselves. They preform great stunts to cheer their team to victory, which sadly for the juniors, didn't happen.

Senior Powder Puff Team: Alexis Hill, Laurie Klein, Kellee Sims, Amber Nolte, Shannon Fyfe, Shauntaye Cotter, Meghan Sullivan, Amy Woo, Courtney Willson, Casey McManus, Yvette Avilla, Courtney Brown, Kendra Erickson, Sara Sydenham, Joyceann Afuhaamango, Carly Gurinskas, Sierra Malan, Heather Sandin, Daisy Gaynor, Stephanie Citra

Q Being a senior, what's your favorite powder puff memory you'll keep with you?

" When I won the crown and when my sister dressed me up and did my make-up. Also, when I got to show my moves to the crowd."
-Marcus Liem

"Our half-time routine and how everyone messed up, and ditching work only to get an announcement from my boss sitting in the stands!"
-Brandon Welty

"Truck'n over some juniors with Sierra!"
-Amber Nolte

This year, seniors once again dominated Powder Puff. The juniors were left with an upsetting loss, but will be pumped for next year's game that will once again, be a big success. Not only were the players excited to play the game, the bleachers were full of Reed students, friends and parents. The turnout of spectators was incredible. It was a suspenseful game that had everybody at full attention until the final seconds.

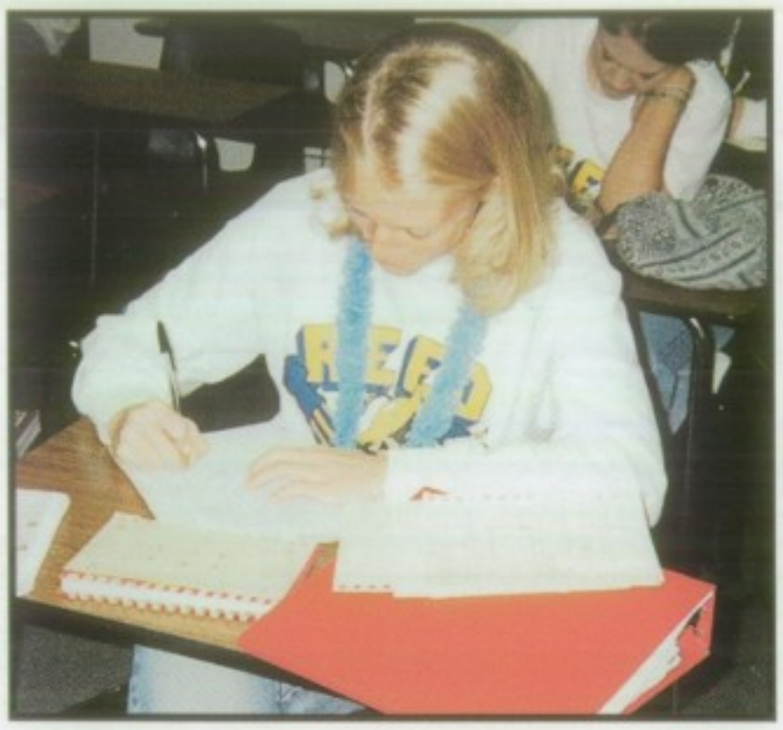
Show 'em what we've got- SPIRIT

Assemblies were the way Reed Raiders represented their pride and dignity.

During these events, the whole school showed pride and spirit, dressing up in blue and gold, participating in funny games and events, and cheering for the performers.

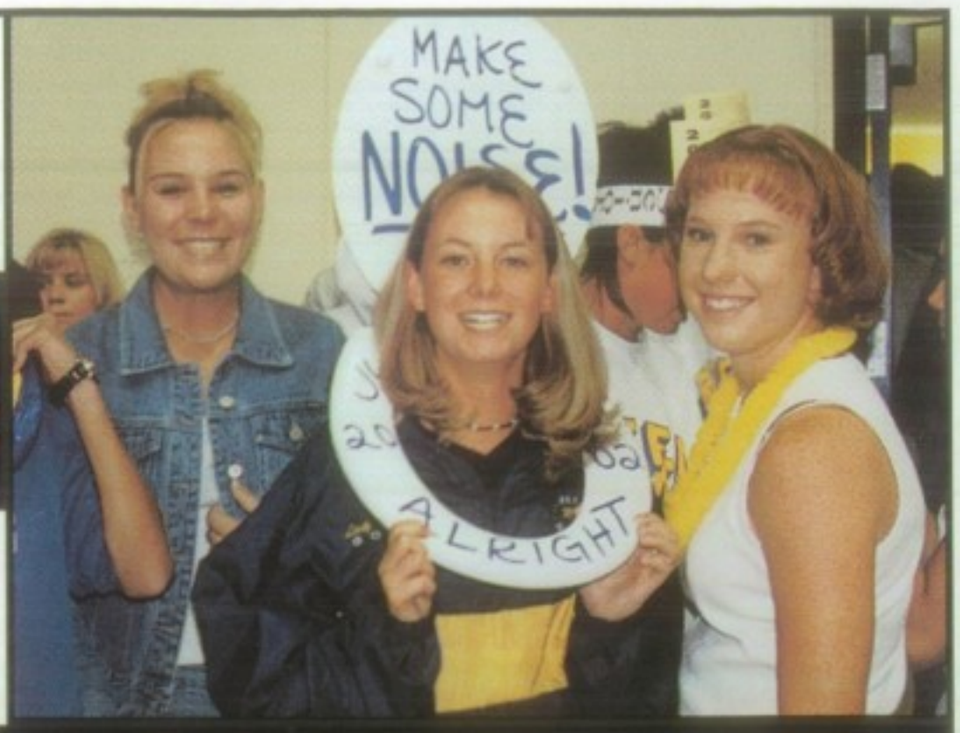
Just waiting for the assembly to begin.... In class before the assembly, Sarah Sydenham works on a paper sporting her Reed senior pride shirt for blue and gold day. Students dressed up for the assembly to show their spirit and support for the school.



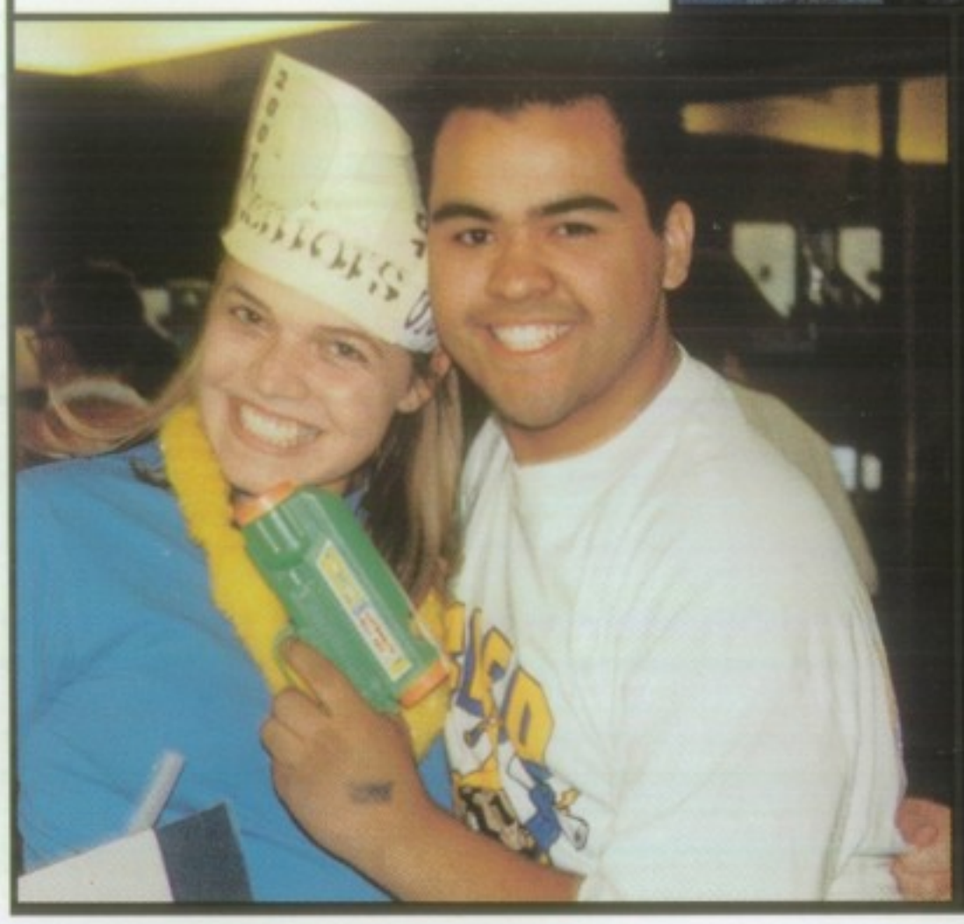
This is how we do it....

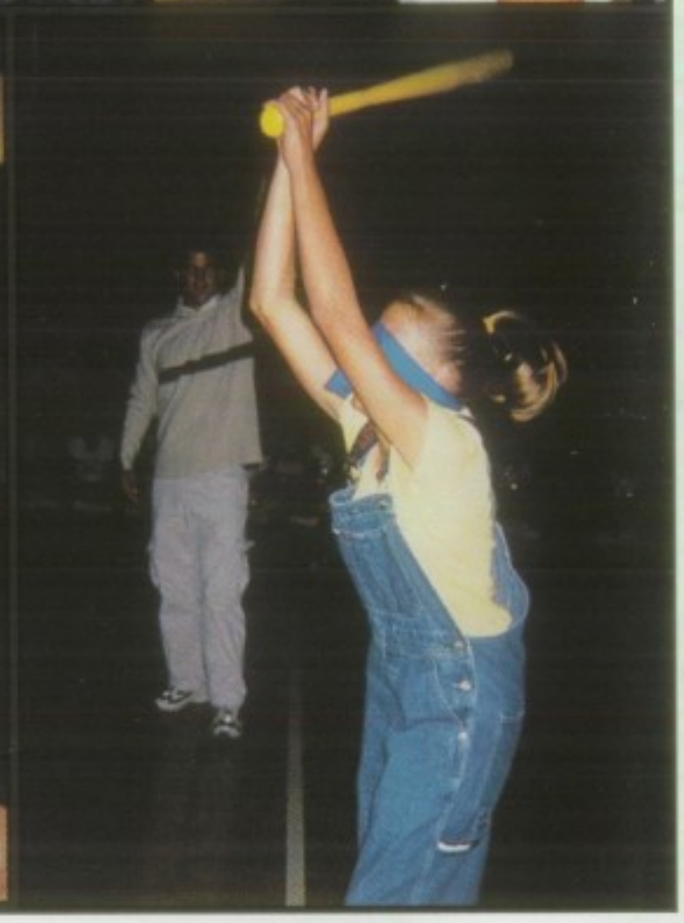
Reed Raider Pride

She's so lucky she's a star... Singing the National Anthem at the Homecoming assemblies, Jessica Otto wows the crowd with her talent.



Surrender your vote, or the girl gets it... Fooling around after the assembly, Marcus Liem and Alexis Hill goof on their routine.





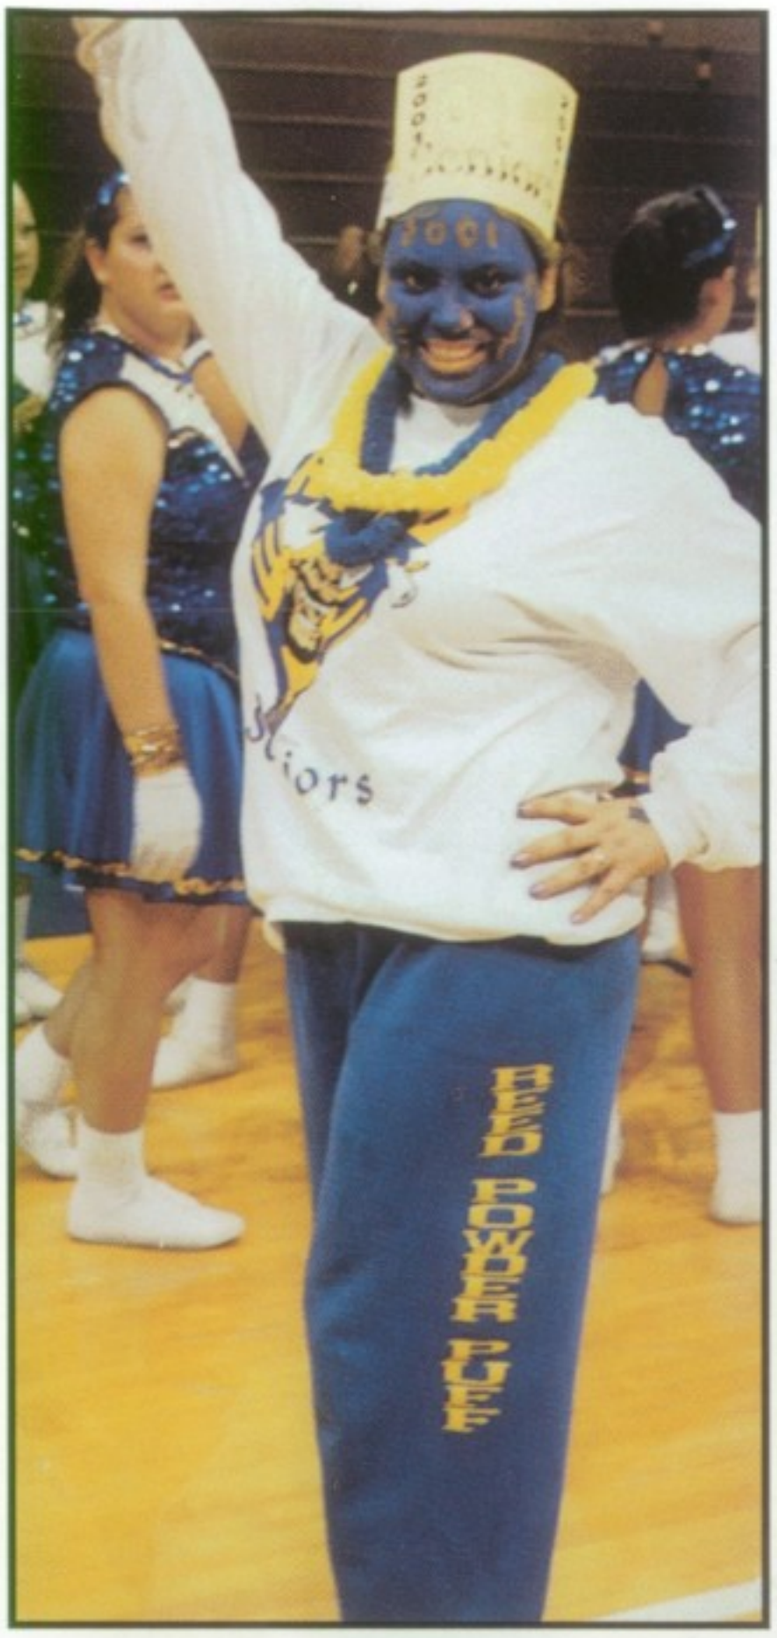
It's a day to have fun ... During Homecoming week, Jill Lauderdale walked the halls, showing her Reed Raider Pride by participating in the dress up days.

Running the entire show... As the Student Council, members held various responsibilities, like setting up week events and running the assemblies. This year's group did their best to get the crowd into the action of each assembly they created.

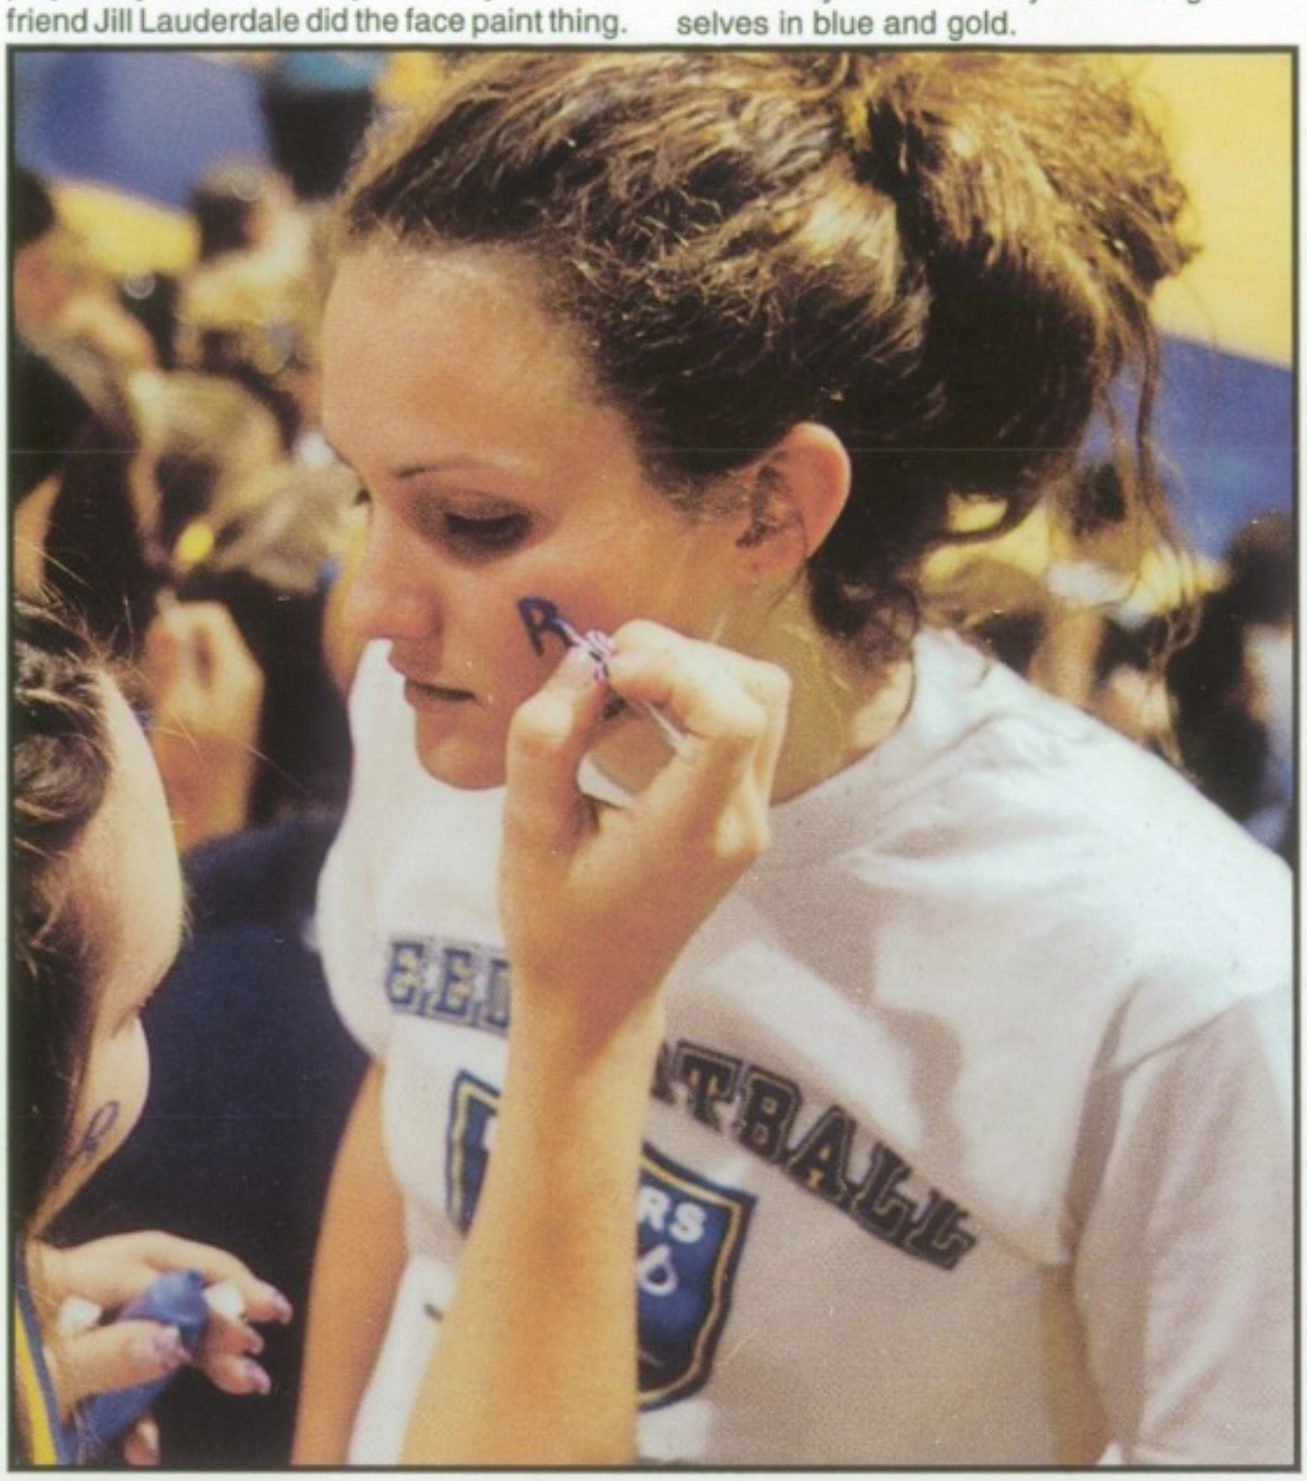
Q: How hard it is to plan an assembly?

"A lot of time an effort goes into each assembly. we have to do a minute-by-minute breakdown of the events and we have to plan out everything. It takes a lot of work to make each assembly."

-Marcus Liem



If you ain't dressed loud, you must not be proud! One of the best things about Blue and Gold day is the inventive face painting, displayed by Kellie Labarry. Labarry and her friend Jill Lauderdale did the face paint thing.



Paintin' faces. Showing off her school pride Amber Sobrio gets her face painted for the assembly. Many students got into the spirit of the last day of the week by decorating themselves in blue and gold.

Senior class of 2001

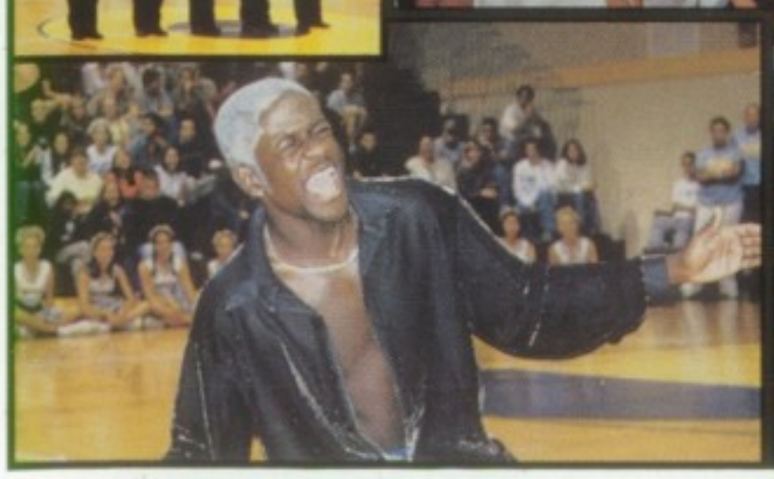
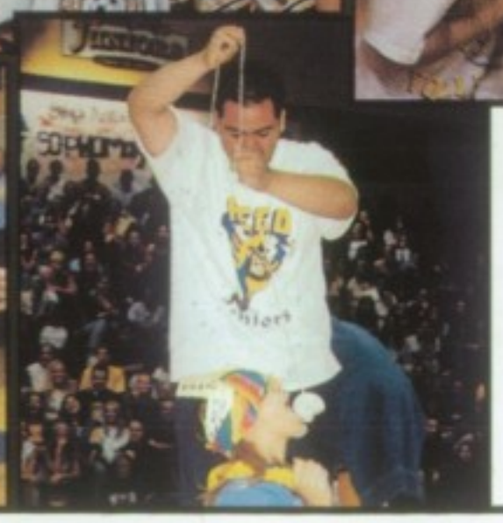
Junior class of 2002
School pride and country pride go hand in hand as the classes listen to the National Anthem.

Sophomore class of 2003
Filing in and out of the stands is a long process, even with double assemblies to ease the crush.

Freshman class of 2004
As the bottom of the heap, freshmen found out how the cheers were altered to single them out.





1) Standing tall, ROTC members carry the colors at the second Homecoming assembly.

2) "Yippie yai yo, yai yeah" The girls' soccer team shows their spirit with a cheer.

3) Varsity Volleyball in the house!

4) Pouring out his heart for "The Thong," Chaz Green imitates Sisqo from the Lip Sync.

5) Here fishy... Playing a game, Marcus Liem and Alexis Hill go fishing.

Coyote Ugly faces off against Freaks and Geeks to advance.

Snorting or a Yee-haw is what you heard when Coyote Ugly & Freaks and Geeks were competing.Erin Elliot was hoping for some right anwsers yet her wish did not come true. Colie Mcmanus showed off her tattoo along with her attitude to win. Colie Mcmanus and Mandy Herald kicked out everyone who lost with a smile.

No way! "I was so proud of my friends for even going out and doing something like Family Feud. It was a lot of fun and I'm glad I did it," said Jenni Gableman (03). She and her friends went as "Freaks and Geeks," from the television show.

Family Feud Fun

Four and a half came in and took the lead and almost got ahead of the village people..almost. They did not succeed.Walter Hopkins got a lot of anwsers right and his pal Mark Burkhardt gave him a pat on the back. Mike Silvia & Rich Mcgrail try their hardest to get the right anwsers. Walter Hopkins went against Mandy Herald and laughed in her face when she got the wrong anwsers. She had the last laugh when she went away with the championship though. Adam Hunter thinks he is the man in this game but he got shot down when he lost! Colie Mcmanus lets them know whats up when she gives Mark the hand during the face off. All in all they tried to fight against eachother thier best. But The YMCA village people will stand victorious.

Katie Smith gets down with her bad self and gets freaky just like her group Freaks & Geeks.Pink ladies tried thier hardest to get a chance in the game but their cuteness wouldnt cut it! Althogh Kasey Purant tried in the face off she didn't succeed.

Good morning angels.. good morning yes.. wake up and get your mind in order. Charlies Angels did a good job anwsering in the third round but that didn't last for long. They tried their hardest, and did great.

Back Up The TRUCK!

Tailgates bring the school together to get pumped for the big football games. Usually held on Thursdays, these fun social events get the fans ready to cheer on the team at the game on Friday.

Steve McKnight

According to tradition, students play games like volleyball, play music, and eat food that they have barbecued on small portable grills.

Come On Baby Light My Fire!

Tailgate barbeques

Is it done yet? At their own tailgate, Chaz Green, James House, Jarad Clark and Matt Elliott wait to start cooking their food with help from Mr. Malan. "Getting together with your friends at tailgates is so much fun," commented senior Matt Elliott.

Hanging out at the tailgates

Groups of people came and had a great time visiting and eating food that they had made themselves. It was a time to see their friends, kick back and relax, as well as getting the students ready for the game to come on Friday, it also was a good way of bringing the school together as the new year started.

The first tailgate was heald early in the year, and the second was held during Homecoming week. But some students made it a tradition to just grab some fast food and eat in the lot before every game.

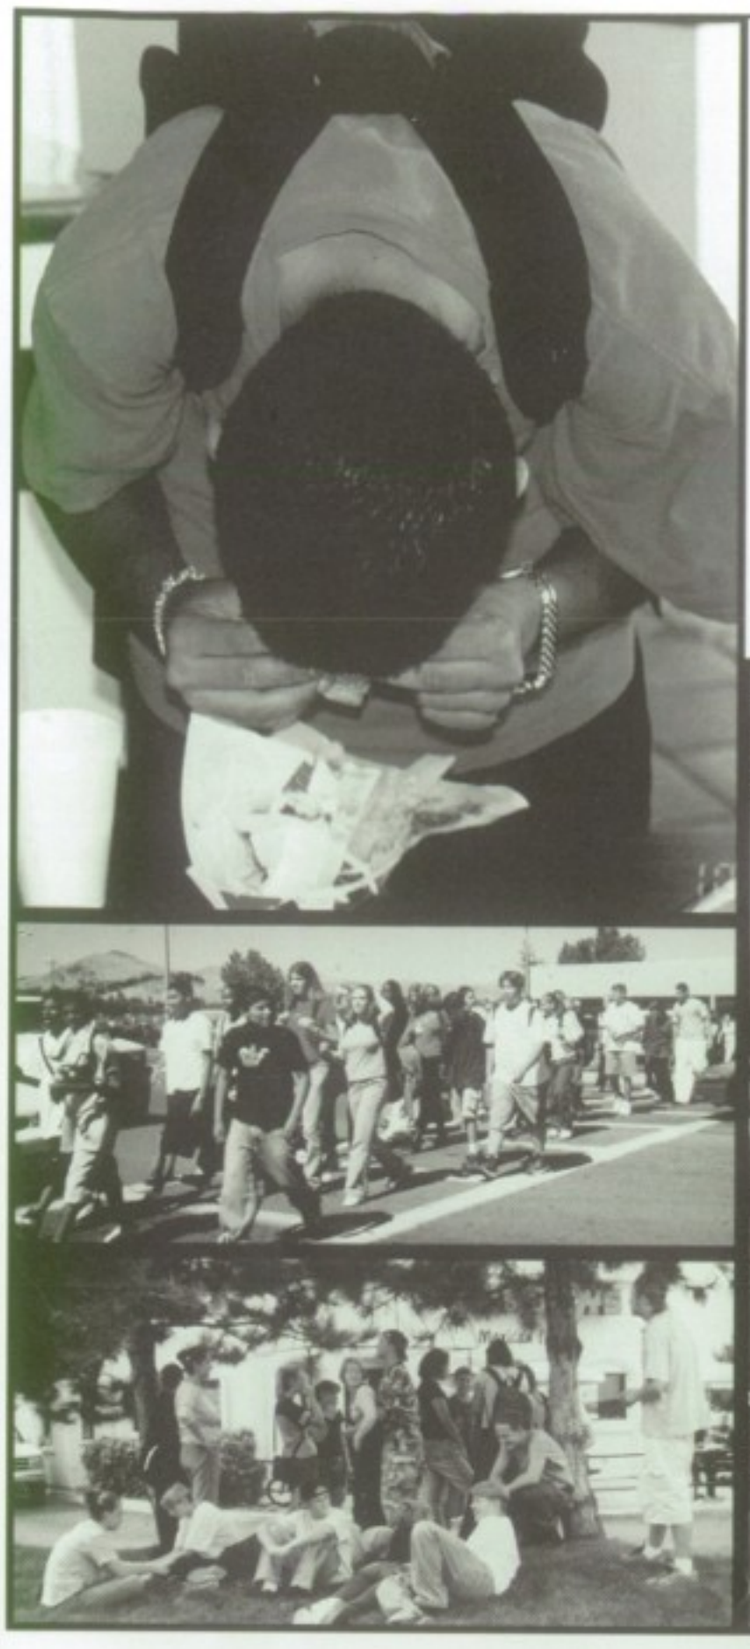
Lunchtime At Reed High School



No ride? No problem. Fast food was just a few steps away.

I can't get enough of this taco! It's so good... Lots of kids headed just across the street for their daily lunch-time plans. "We eat at Jimboy's or A&W, It just tastes good," said Raul Chawla (03).

Grubbin on some ice cream... Enjoying an A&W cone, Mike Harrison (03) cools off in the early days of school.

Many Reed students prefer to eat across the street during off-campus lunch time. Jimboys, Port 'O Subs and The Corner Bakery are just a few of the resturants students have to choose from. Others eat at school, buying just a bagel or a bag of chips from the carts or the school store.

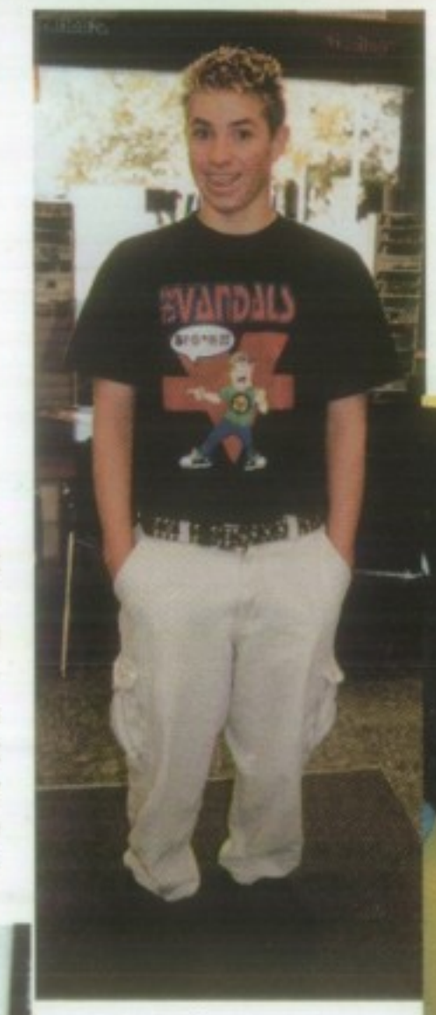
Fabulous Fashions

In a world where what you wear can make or break your reputation, teens make statements using their clothes instead of their mouths.

Ashley Jones (03) is wearing a cute blue shirt and matching black pants with blue flowers on them. This outfit was a definite complete Contempo purchase.

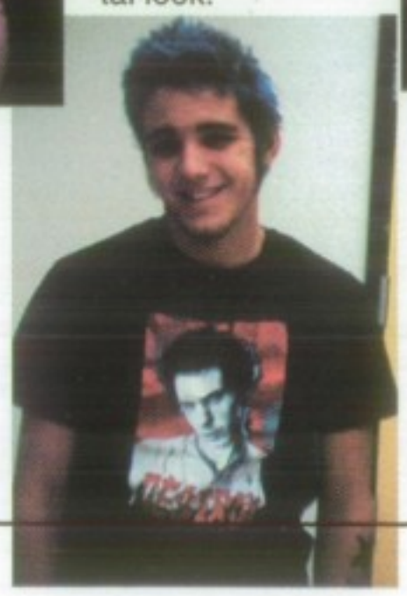
Alternatively speaking...

Gothic Variety... Melissa Zorn, Amber Waters and Megan Price (03) are all gothed out and are ready to go party! Their style is a compilation of many different looks, created for comfort and interest.



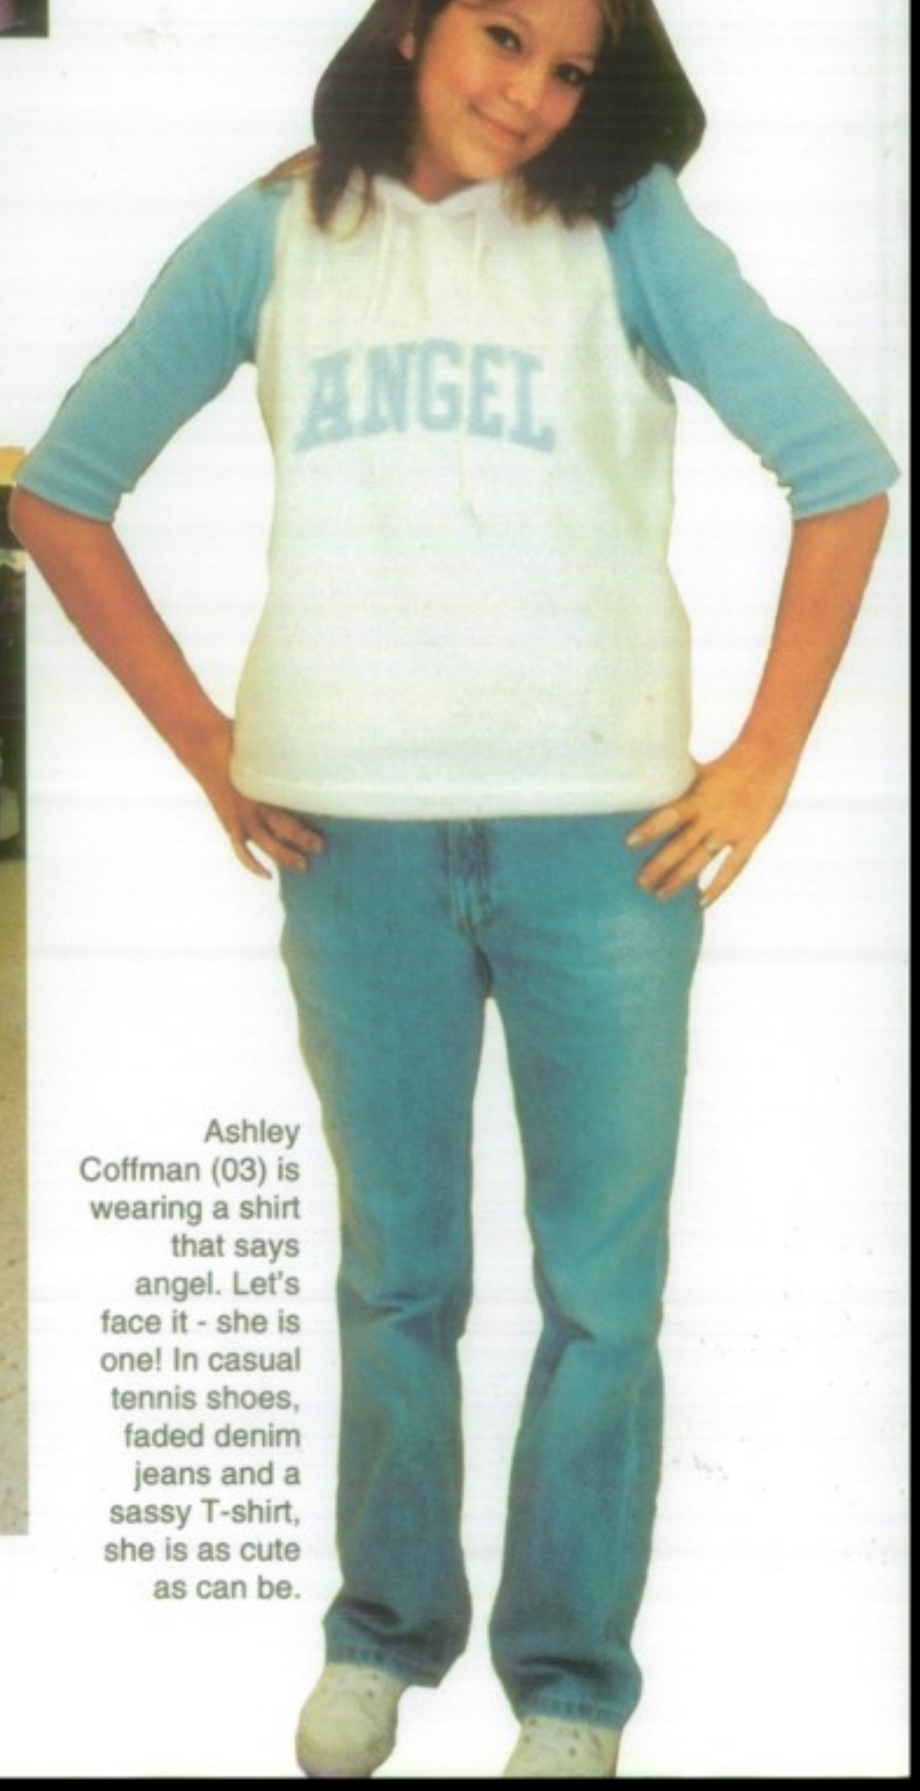
Punked out, Asa Barton (02) sports his favorite band's T-shirt with his awesome belt, he is ready to go to a show. He wears Osiris skate shoes as well.

In a Tinkerbell T-shirt from Hot Topic, Laura Thomas (02) is all pinked out! Topping things off with a cute furry black jacket and a crazy braided haristyle completes the total look.



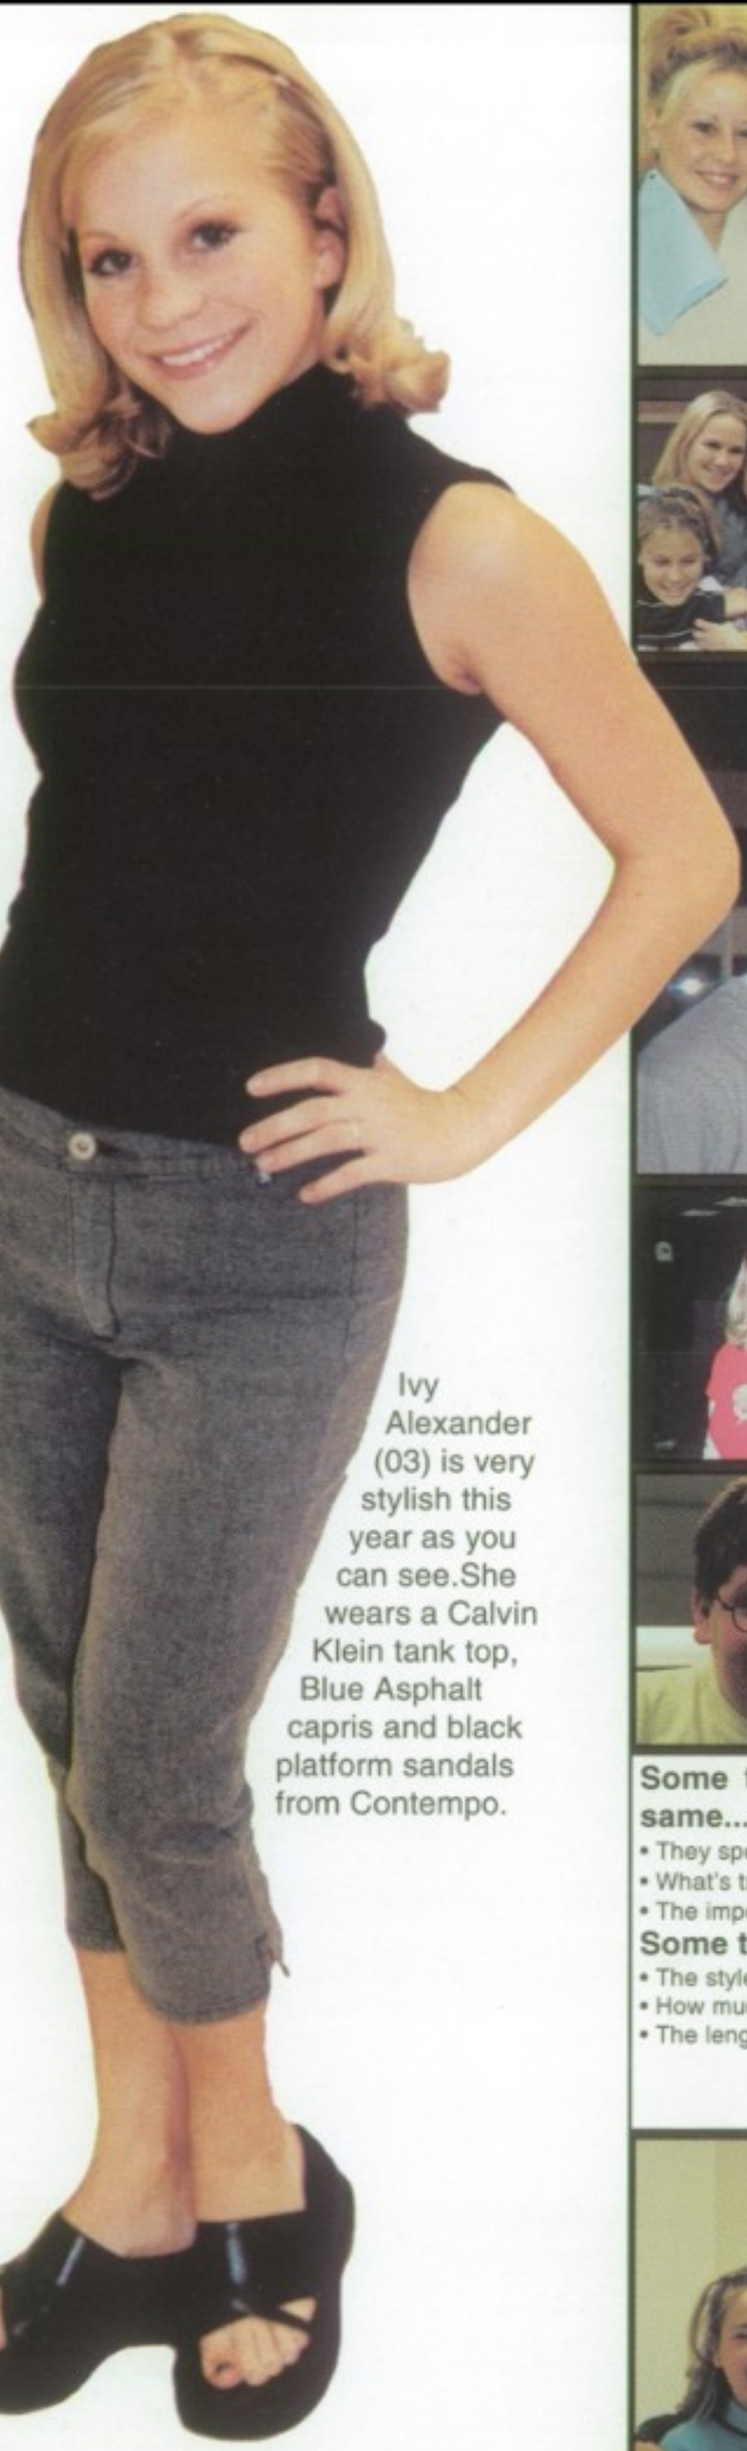
Bargain shopping appeals to Luke Hots, who refuses to pay more than $20 for any single piece of clothing. Blue hair and a winning attitude finish off thie Hot Topic employee.

Looking like she dyed her clothing by washing it in a rainbow, Amy Miller (02) is a crazy little chick with bizarre clothing and it's awesome!



Ashley Coffman (03) is wearing a shirt that says angel. Let's face it - she is one! In casual tennis shoes, faded denim jeans and a sassy T-shirt, she is as cute as can be.

Jenni Gableman (03) is wearing an Angels jean jacket and adorable jean capri's to match it with a cute blue T-shirt underneath. Cute strappy white platform sandals complete this late summer outfit.



Ivy Alexander (03) is very stylish this year as you can see.She wears a Calvin Klein tank top, Blue Asphalt capris and black platform sandals from Contempo.

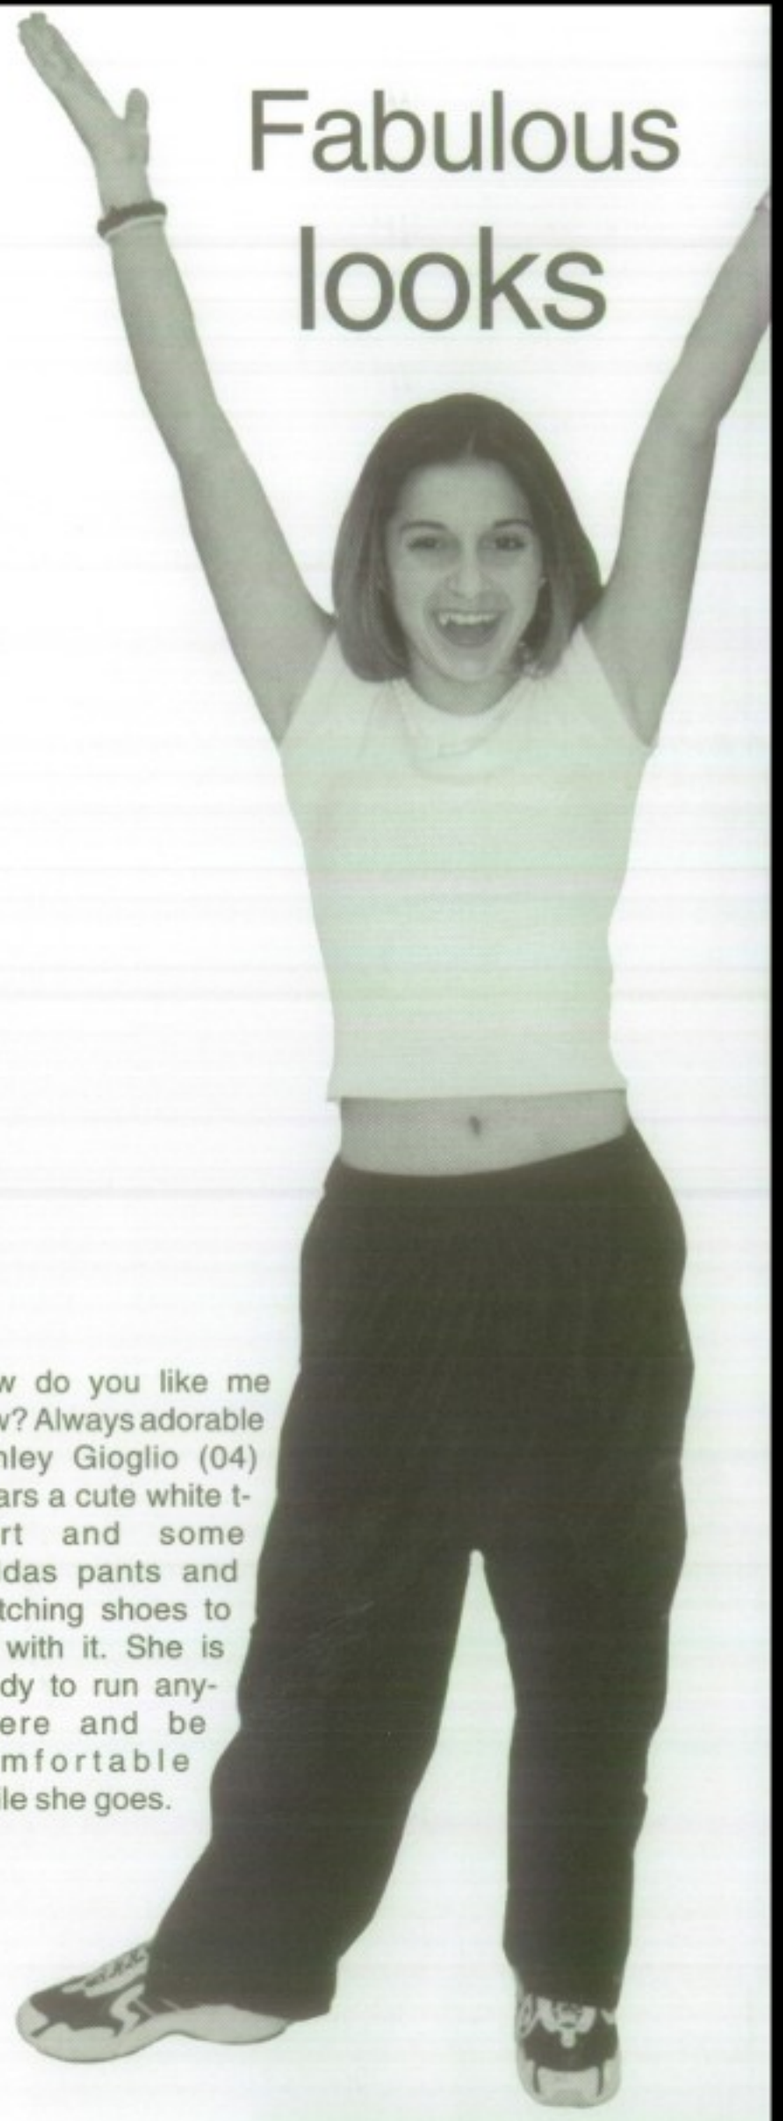
Fabulous looks

Check me out! Striking a pose, Amber Sobrio (02) loves her snake print pants and black shirt to match. Her platform boots are a great finishing touch for this outfit.

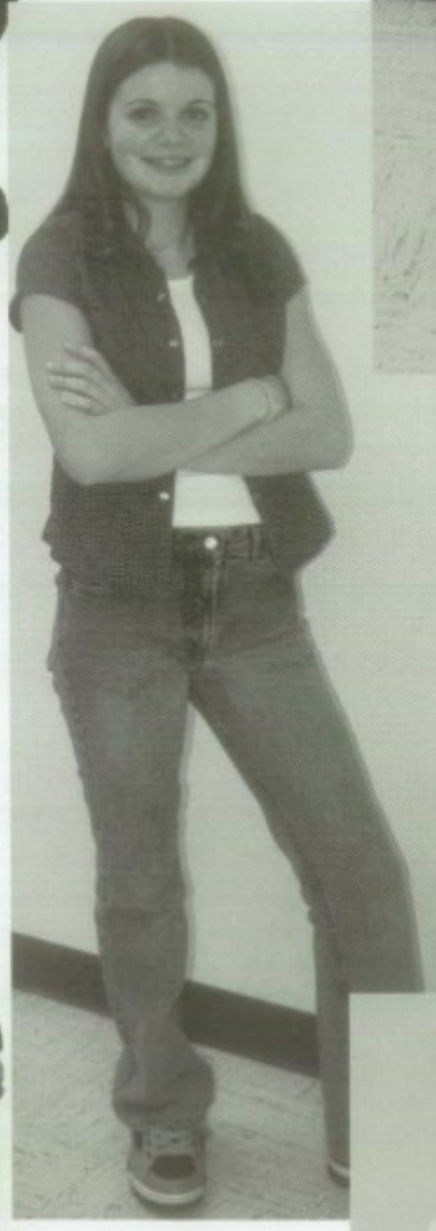
Twin wear... Casually dressed, Ashley White (04) and Amanda Agger (04) both wear cute shirts from Pacific Sunwear and, being friends, these girls both wear Etnies shoes and baggy jeans. They are as cute as can be!

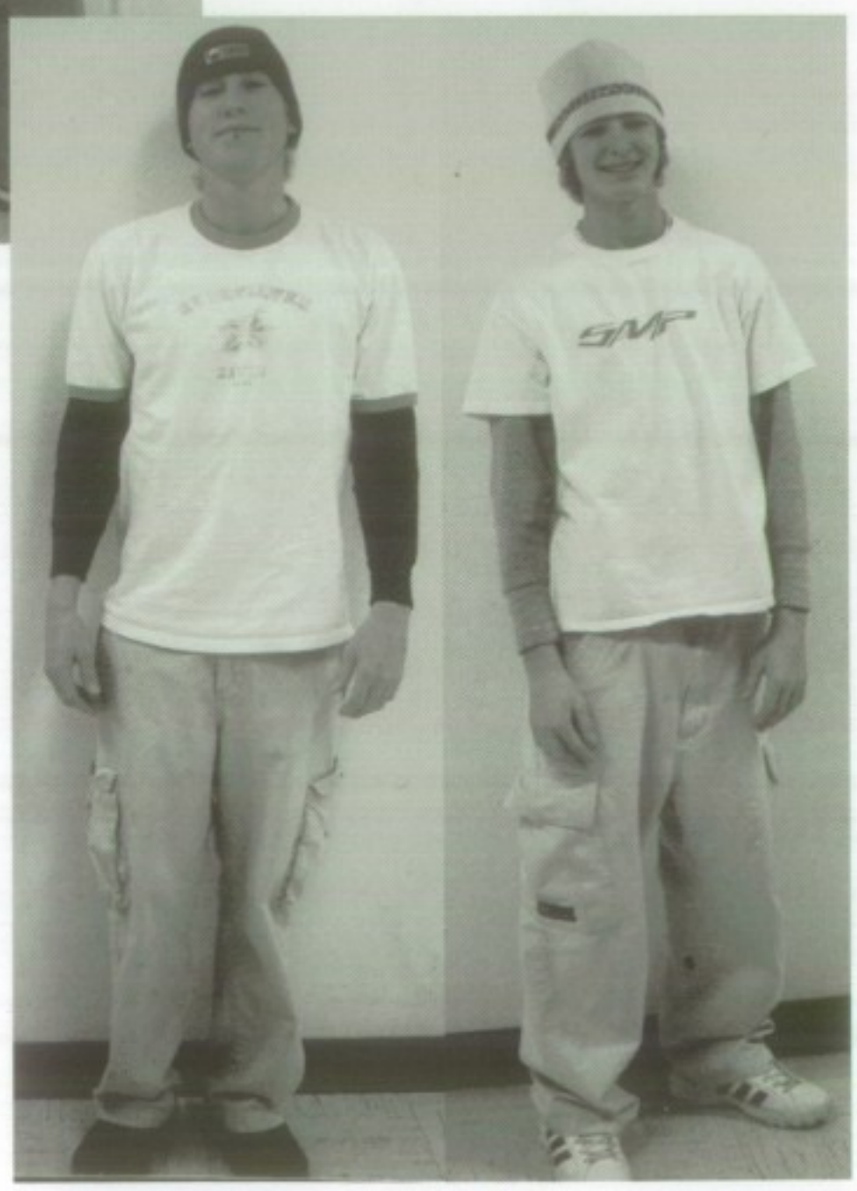
Timeless style... Fresh-faced Megan Kight (04) wears a cute shirt from Millers Outpost. Some cool blue jeans and some etnies shoes to match. She has a smile that could melt anyone!



How do you like me now? Always adorable Ashley Gioglio (04) wears a cute white t-shirt and some Adidas pants and matching shoes to go with it. She is ready to run anywhere and be comfortable while she goes.

Sassy... Stylin' and still in dress code, Kristy Keller (04) has pants and shirt that are glittery. Together her outfit all comes from Contempo.

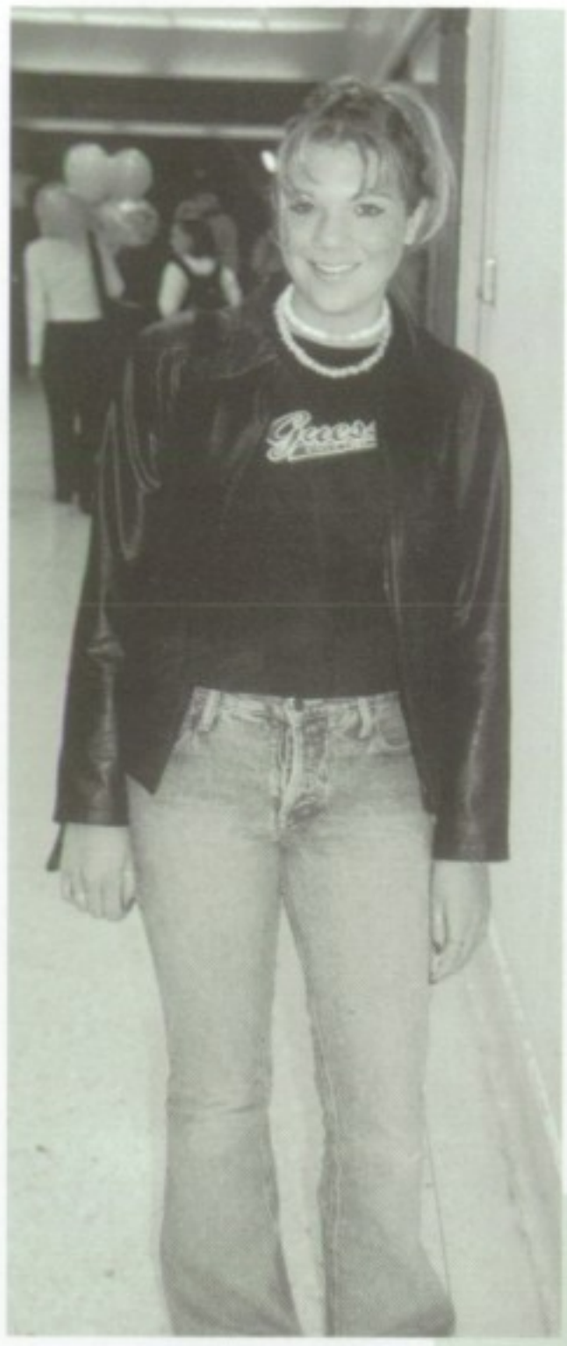




Senior casual... Decked out in traditional "bro" gear (as in "Whassup, bro?"), Trey Vossler (01) and Brian Day (01) both wear beanies and cargo pants. Trey sports a Quicksilver shirt and Brian wears a SMP shirt. They both have long-sleeved shirts to keep warm.

Friends dress for style together... Good friends Robby Altizer (03) wears a Nautica shirt, blue jeans, and some Adidas shoes to finish off his look. Lexie Brecke (03) has an Abercrombie shirt, parachute pants, and DC shoes to tie everything together. They look awesome in their similar fashions.

Guess what? Wearing a name brand fashion ensemble, Jade Parish (02) sports an adorable Guess shirt and some matching capri pants. Black platform shoes from (of course) Contempo finish off the look.



Guess who? It's Amanda Walenta (04) wearing a fantastic Guess® shirt and a cool leather jacket and puka shell necklace finish the casual trendy look.

Totally awesome, dude... Nevada surfer Curtis Corbridge (01) looks awesome with his Hurley shirt and Abercrombie cargo pants. ES shoes go along great with his outfit. He has a cool necklace with a surfboard on it to give him that great look.

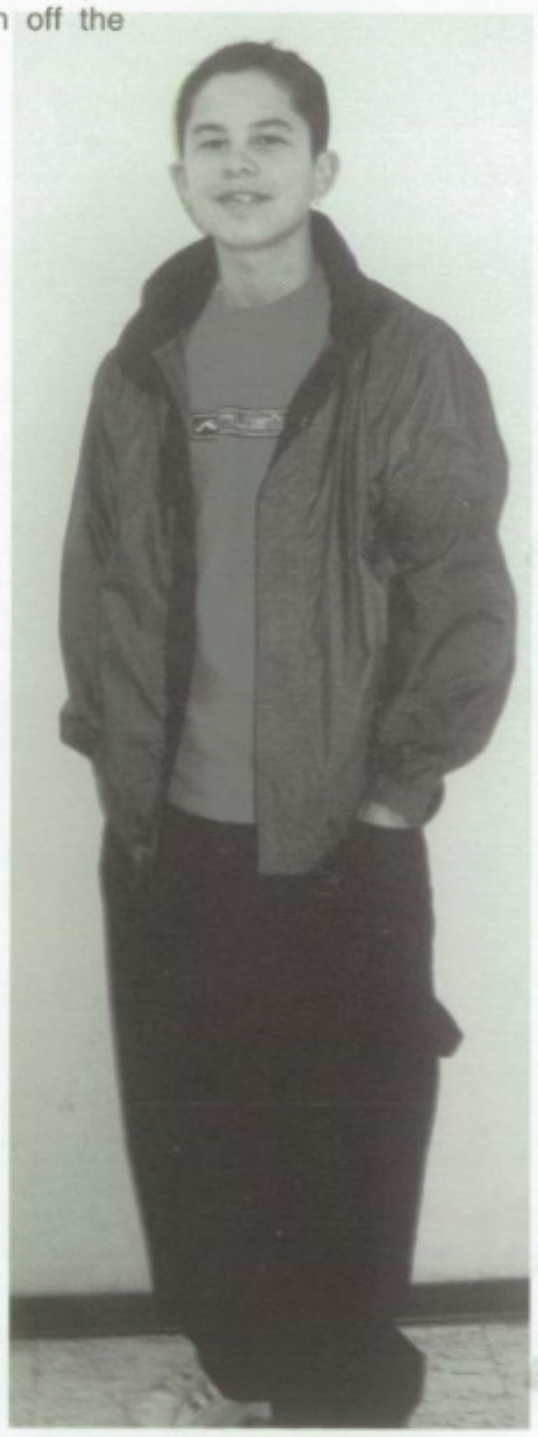
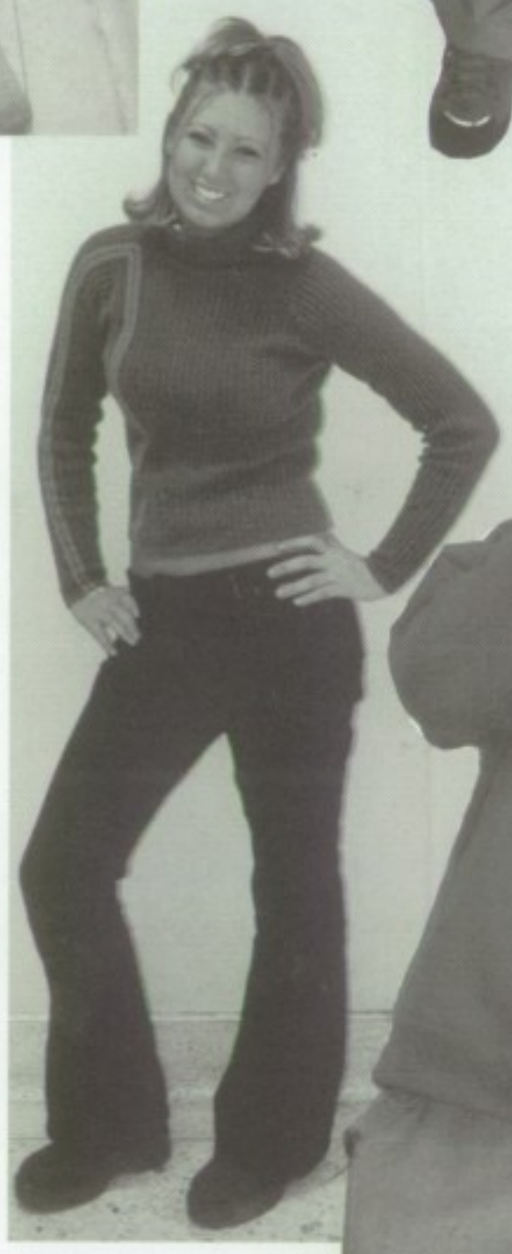
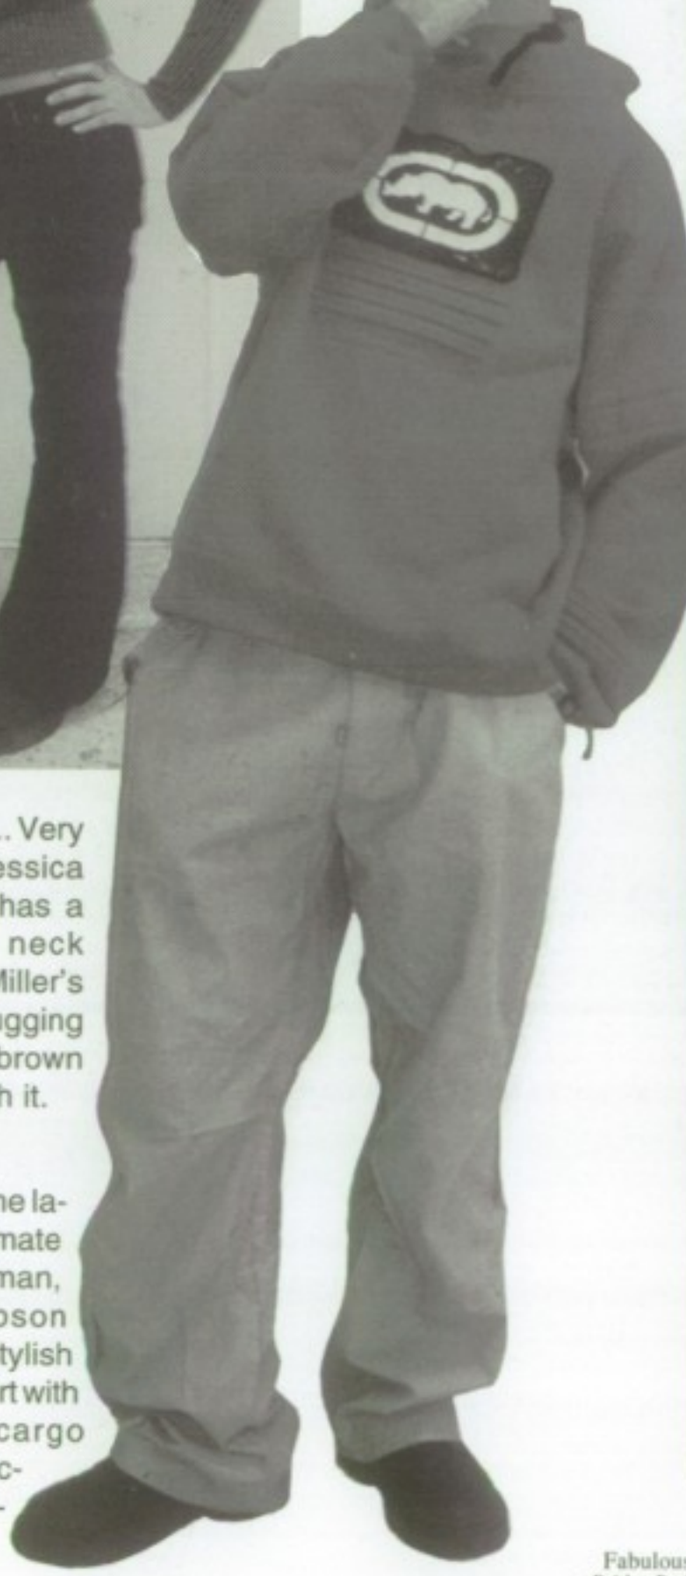
Cute as a button... Casually cool, Emily Harrison (04) wears a cute shirt from Millers Outpost with some form-fitting blue jeans. Her Sketchers shoes go along just perfectly.



Stylin' and profilin'... Comfortable in his fashion choices, Daniel Hernandez (02) has a cool Rusty shirt along with his snowboarding jacket. He was ready for some snow, even though we didn't get much this year.



Total cuteness... Very fashionable Jessica Rodrigue (02) has a cute high neck sweater from Miller's Outpost. Hip-hugging blue jeans and brown shoes to go with it.



Checkin' out the ladies... The ultimate cool ladies' man, Marc Thompson (01) has a stylish Ecko sweatshirt with matching cargo pants and practical comfortable shoes.

-Britlyn Beck, Shawnice Kraeber, Chelsie Riley

Come on out and support your team

One of the highlights of being in high school is the fun and excitement of cheering on athletes at sporting events.

Many teens look forward to those Friday nights at the football field, showing their school spirit.

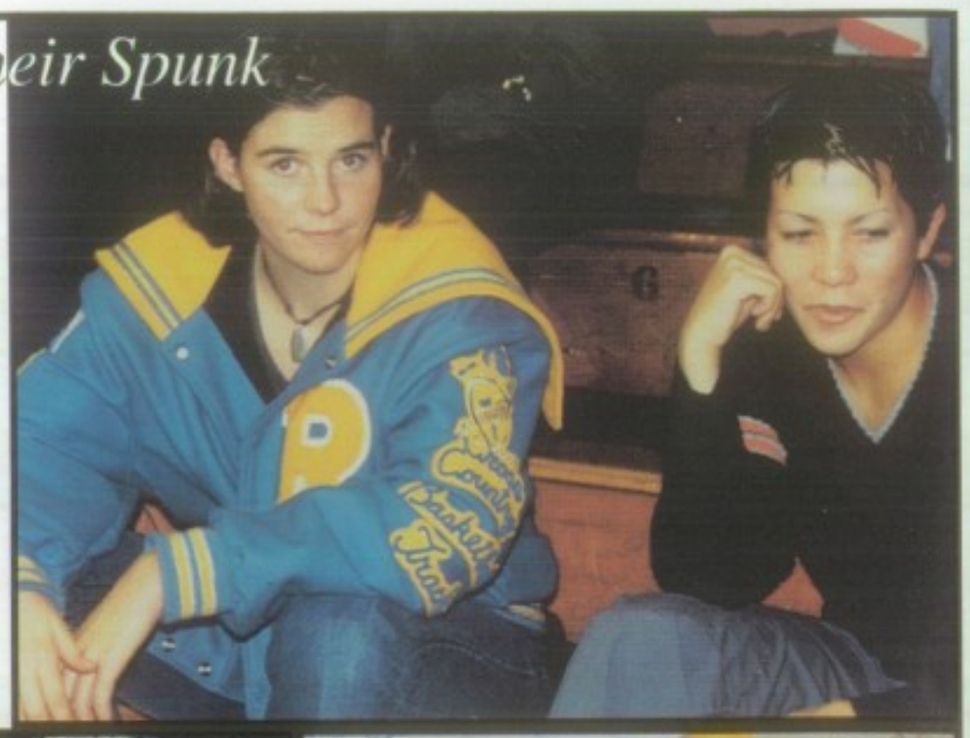
Show some soccer spirit...Though it was about forty degrees the night of a girls' soccer game, there was still a good turnout of fans willing to withstand the cold night air, for the sake of showing their team spirit.

Lady Raiders Show Their Spunk

Even the Raiderettes like to show their spirit

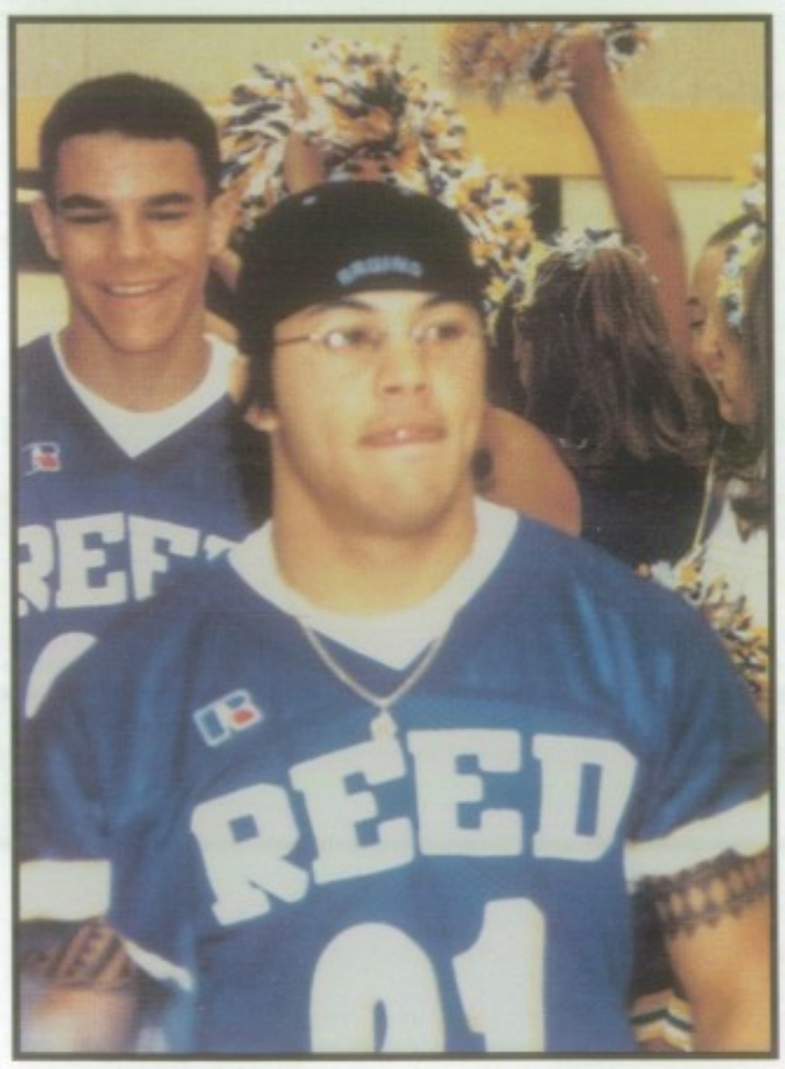
"The best part of going to the games is what we do afterwards."
-Shannon Fyfe (01)

People go to all sorts of sports events... Catching up on gossip while attending a wrestling meet at Reno, Erin Sparks and Camille Vidrine wait for the next match.



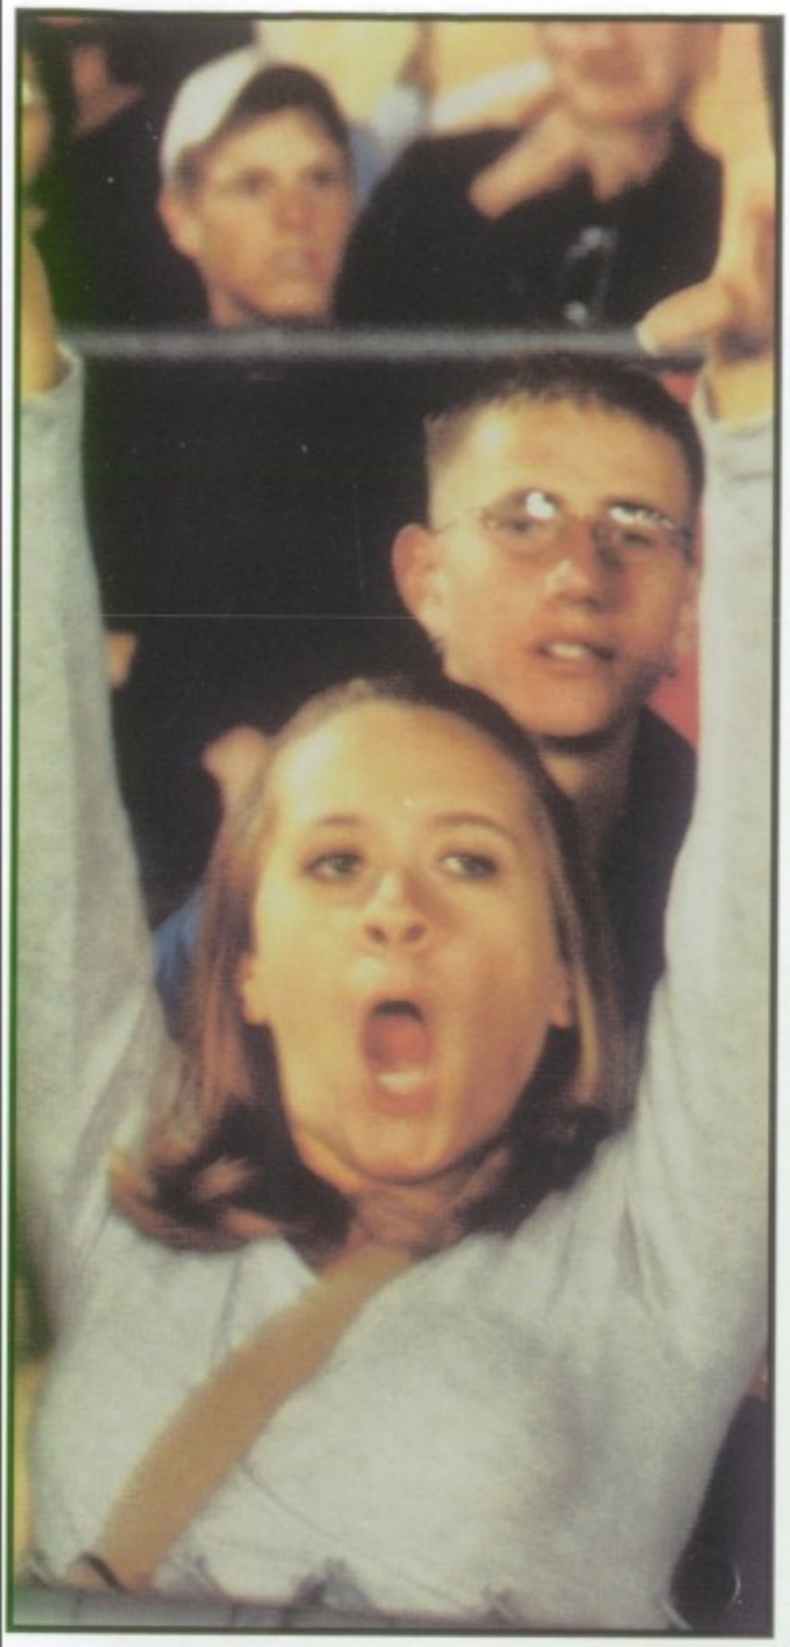
Taking a moment to pose for a quick pic, Kellee Sims (01), Nicole Manke (01), and Kiley Largomarsino (01) show their school spirit in many ways. Cheering since freshman year, they show a good example of Raider pride.

There was a lot of cheering going on at the homecoming assembly right before the big game. Lacy Barela (02), Melissa Satmary (02) and Jennifer O'Brien (02) warm up their lungs as the football players walk onto the floor.



The homecoming assembly is the time Raiders get pumped up for the upcoming game. Kaipo Dean is one of the many football players who helped bring the team to their victory.

As the leaders of the school, seniors like Angela Ferretto, Casey McManus, Haley Blancey, and Colleen Locker spent a lot of time supporting the Raiders at games. "It's always cool to go to the games," said Blancey.



Yelling at the top of her lungs, Haley Blancey (01) lets everyone know who she's cheering for. Though other people are cheering, nobody is as loud as Haley. "I was trying to block out Laurie's voice.....just kidding,"joked Blancey

The volleyball team didn't do too well this year, but Molly Demers (03) and Kristy Keller (04) were in the bleachers supporting the lady Raiders anyway. "They didn't really win a lot, but I still wanted to show my support," said Demers.

Some things stay the same...

- It is always freezing.
- It is usually an exciting game.
- We make at least one touchdown.

Some things change...

- Food in concession stand.
- The players.
- The halftime show.

Another big highlight about going to games is being with friends. Not many people actually watch the game, they think of it as a chance to get together with friends. "I like the atmosphere with all the happy people. And since everybody's there, it's a little social hour,"said Jarad Clark (01).

Some people will go through anything to watch a football game. Craig Turner (01), Tracy Gummert (01), Shauntaye Cotter (01), and Stephanie Perales (01) show that a little rain never will keep them away from a game. "I was sharing a blanket with three girls. How could I not go to that game!?" joked Turner.

Rumors fly at Reed

Rumors is Neil Simon's farcical play about a dinner party where the host is found unconscious and bleeding, the hostess is nowhere to be found, and the hilarious attempts of the party guests to cover it up.

The cast and crew worked together to overcome obstacles to present their play. Having to reprint posters was not going to stop them from making this a good play for all to enjoy.

Just try to find a camera shy person in this bunch. Cast members have a blast posing for pictures and being goofs. The happy couples are all smiles; and why shouldn't they be? Rumors was one of Reed's most successful plays.

Behind the scenes

Techies rule the backstage, guiding the actors into position to take the stage, managing the props, switching sets and lighting, and virtually controlling every aspect of the production, other than the actual acting. The technical crew was run by Jeff Champagne (01).

Taking time to pose for some fun pictures after a long night of lights, camera, and action.

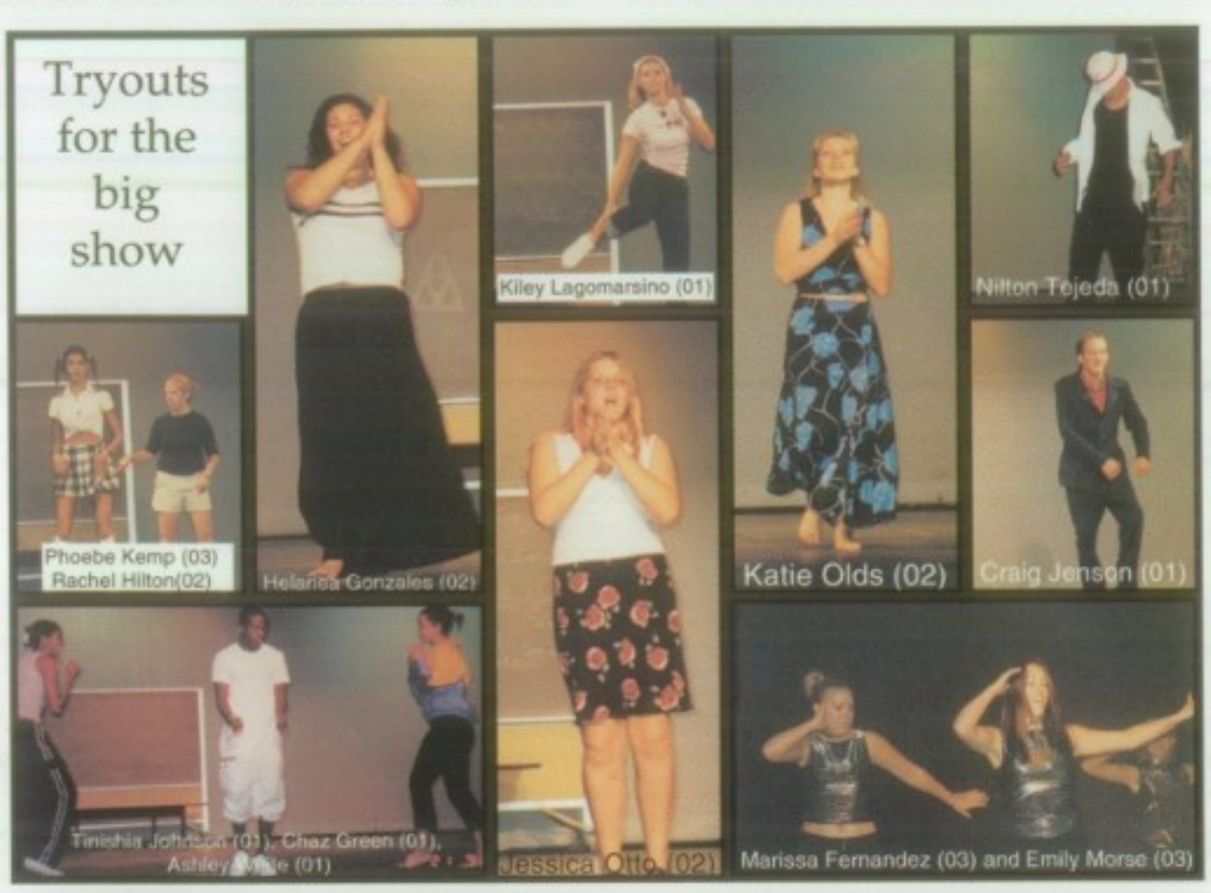
The Great Pretenders

After four days of strenuous tryouts and lots of practice, the show was a big hit. It included acts by Together, Sisqo, N'Sync, Christina Aguilera, Britney Spears, and many more.

Together, first place winner, took about a week to get the moves down and about two weeks to perfect the act that got them $150 in prize money that they donated to the March of Dimes.

Sisqo's group praticed every Sunday for about a month and a half, which earned them $100 that they donated to a student in need.



Gettin' his groove on...Mike Garland (01) sings, "Breakin Up Is Hard Enough" during the assembly with the rest of the Together crew. Brandon Welty (01), Danny Harrison (01), Jarrett Hardester (01), Joey Lynch (01), won first place in the lip sync contest. The pop group then gave their winnings to the March of Dimes.

Having a Ball

The third annual N.J.R.O.T.C Navy Ball was held on January 19, in the Ponderosa Room at John Asquaga's Nugget. During this event all the cadets dressed up in their best attire to eat good food, make toasts, and dance the night away. It was a very memorable event.

Mm... this is delicious! Enjoying dinner at the Navy Ball,Micheal Norten, Sean Bosch and their dates eat a delicious meal before the dance.

Dinner and dancing

Cadets enjoy a night of fun and celebration

"It's wonderfull being an honored guest. N.J.R.O.T.C. is great, it means a lot to me and they are wonderful representatives of the school." -Principal Mary Vesco

Cheers! Sitting at the head table executive officer, Matt Robinson, lifts his glass to give a toast to the Navy.

Oh no! Here he comes. Standing at attention, Josh Stone and Tyler Idline wait for Sargent Staffford to walk down an isle of blue and gold balloons.

When's dinner? At the Navy ball dinner, Scott Toole and his date read through the list of events for the night to see what's up next.

Making a grand entrance, Jamie Elder and her bodyguard escorts Charles Burrow and Jeramie Lou go to the dining room to find their table.

Oh, how pretty. Before the dance, Candice Noel helps Nicole Dyer put on the beautiful corsage that was given to her by her date.

A man on a mission. Walking his date into the Navy Ball, Nick Moore thinks about all of the fun things that he will be doing on his special night of dinner and dancing.

Ready or not, here I come. Entering the ball, batallion leader Eric Diamond (01), struts his stuff. He was one of the few guests that got to sit at the head table and make a speech.

"My favorite part of the Navy Ball was being a candidate"

-Alonna Creveling

"My favorite part of the Navy Ball was hanging out with my friends and dancing."

-Kayla Baker

"My favorite part of the Navy Ball is the food!"

-Nick Smith

"My favorite part of the Navy Ball is seeing the women in their dresses."

-William Creveling

Andy Speakman and Breanna Bacmut

Justin Puckett and Courtney Wilson

Eric Diamond

Jason Leech and Kenneth Marler

As friends and couples sat down to eat and enjoy eachothers company, they also awaited the crowning of their King and Queen. The candidates for the Navy Ball were: Matt Robinson, Wan Lee, Ray Stoven, Jessica Otto, Eric Diamond, Alonna Crevling and Andy Speakman. The winners for the night were Andy Speakman and Alonna Crevling. They were crowned and had their picture taken, as well as all of the other candidates.It was a festive event that everyone will remember.

What wås your favorite part of homecoming?

"Getting to represent Reed in the best possible light."
-Mike Garland

"Walking out and hearing all my friends cheer for me and the excitment of being nominated and caring on my family tradition."
-Erin O'Connell

"The dance was fun, it was kicken I had a good time."
-Jarad Clark

"Singing Unforgetable with Jarrett at the assembly and having Mr. Hardaway escort me."
-Marquis Gardner

"The assembly because I liked doing the skit with Sierra. It was fun!"
-Dallin Smith

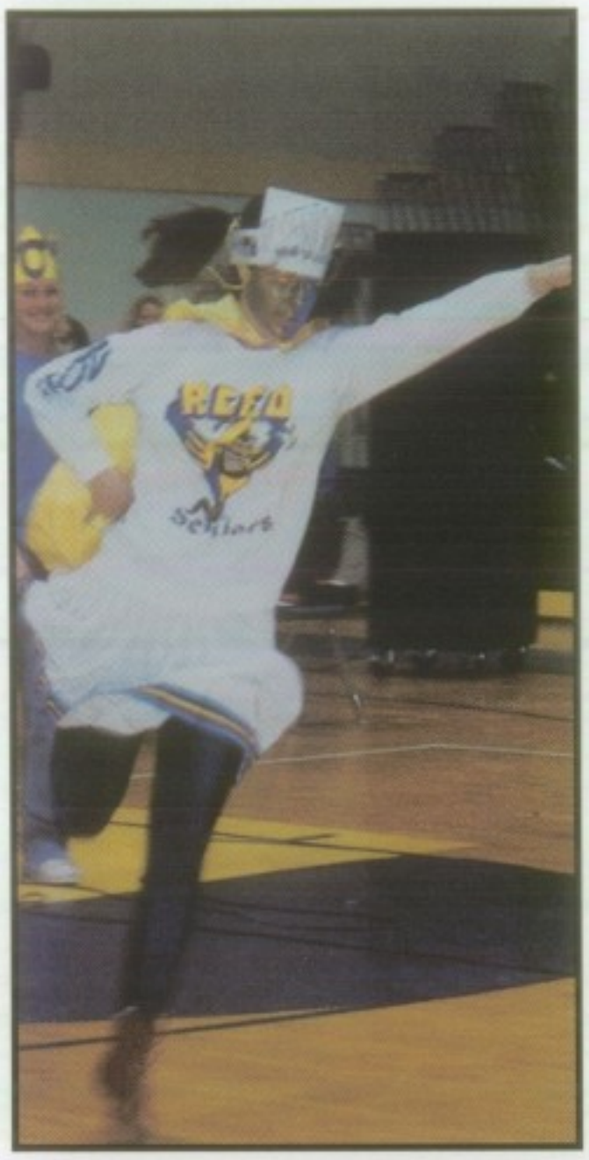
"The whole experience was a lot of fun. I've never been apart of things like that so it was really memorable."
-Shauntaye Cotter

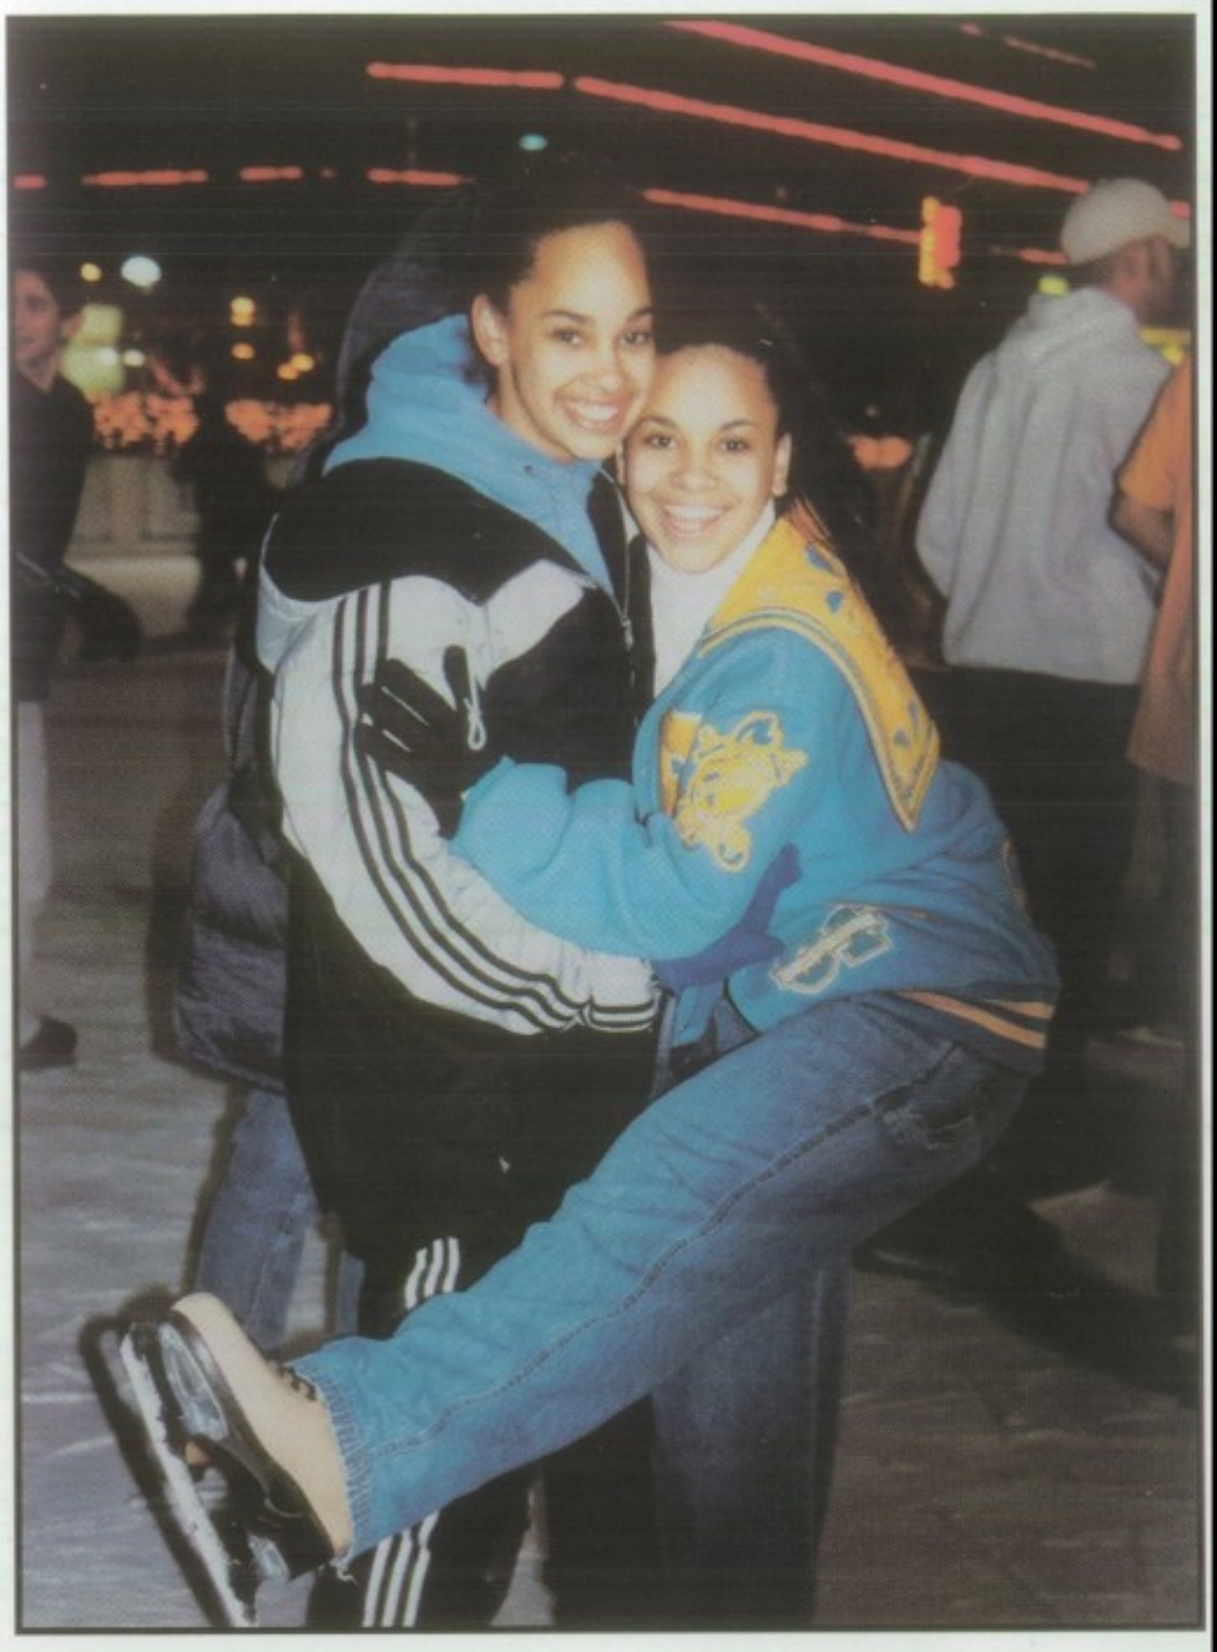
"That my mom got to escort me in front of all my peers."
-Marcus Liem

"The assembly was the most fun because I got to play lots of fun games."
-Kellee Sims

Sisters together forever! During ice skating, Tori (04) and Kellee Sims (01) got to enjoy each other's company. "Skating wth my sister was fun because she's really busy and it gave me a chance to spend some time with her," said Tori.

Super Raider! The most spirited Raider, Mary Kay Sheahan (01), hosted the assembly. "Squirrels in the morning, squirrels at night, squirrels all the time, and I'll be allright," said Sheahan.





Smile and pretend you're friends! Hugging Troy Callahan (01), Lauren Randolf (03), Jina Yoo (02) and Jennifer Woodcock (01) take a break during the skating event."It was the most thrilling experience I've ever had as the chilling air raced through my hair. I felt no pleasure like that before," said Callahan.

Look at those top of the line skates! Senior J.D. House enjoys a day out on the ice. Ice skating was the most popular event of Winter Homecoming. House's feet were too large to fit in the rental skates,so he took to the ice in street shoes. "I was just bustin' a move in my size 14 skates." said House.

Raiders freeze the rail at Winter Homecoming

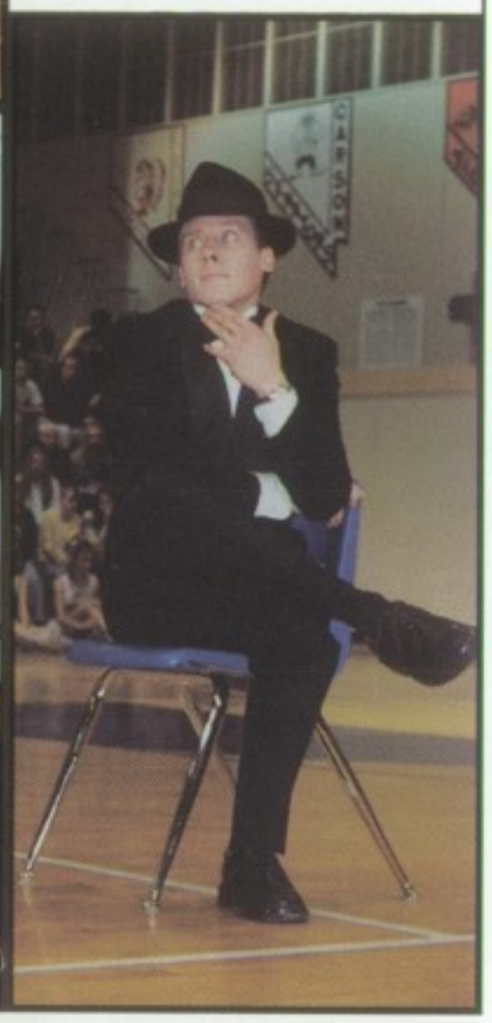
Raiders definitely froze out the Railroaders at this year's Homecoming basketball game 60-45. Dress up days and activities were a big success, especially the ice skating at the Reno Arch and the annual talent show.

Homeoming royalty Chaz Green and Sierra Malan reigned supreme after the coronation ceremony during the halftime show.

Check out the candidates in action

The candidates practiced and got all dressed up for the time in the spotlight. Counterclockwise Erin O'Connell (01) and Shauntaye Cotter (01), Kayla Baker (01) and her dad, the candidates, Jarrett Hardester (01).



How was your first ice skating experience?

"It was fantastic besides the fact that I can't skate. It was cool skating with a bunch of friends even though I saw the nastiest thing of the year- Amanda's tooth. I'm just glad the doctors were able to fix it."

-Marc Thompson

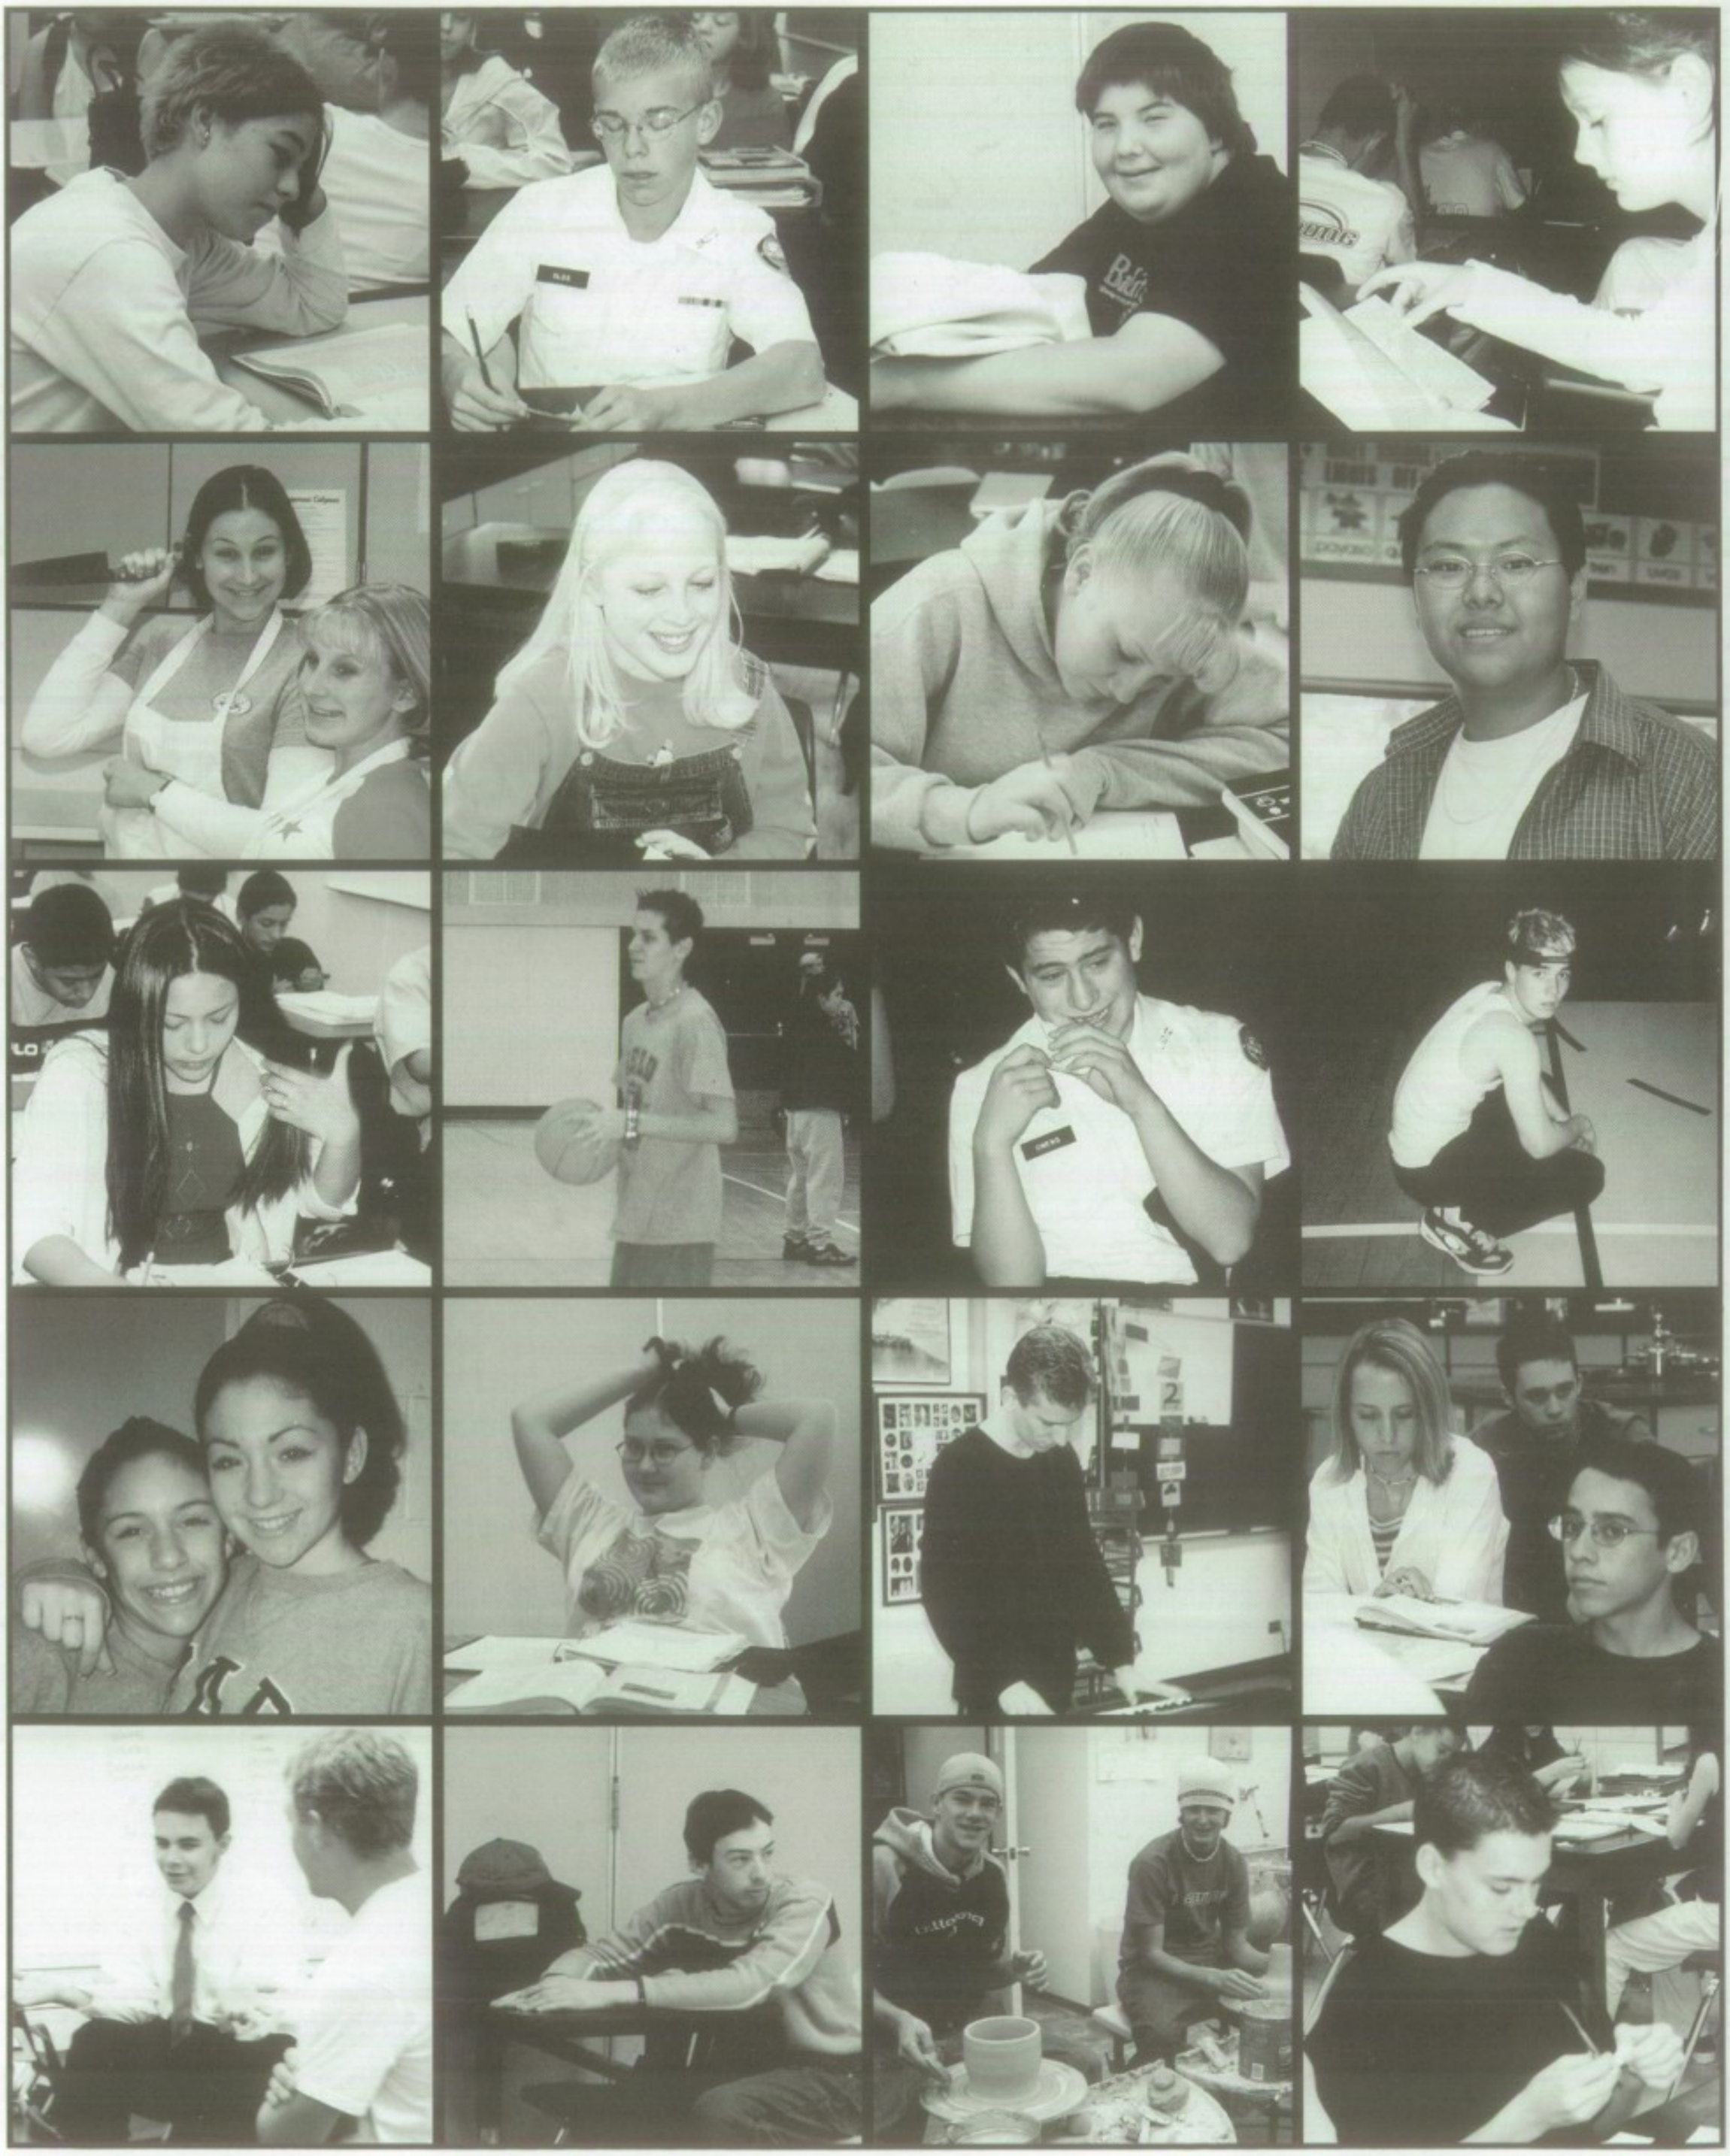
Same Old Things



Academics

Academics is what school is all about. Without it, you would be sitting on the couch at home. A lot of you would love that, but you need school to get a job and to succeed in life and make a lot of money. Doesn't that sound better than sitting on a couch for the rest of your life? On the next pages we followed students through the eight periods of school.

First Period

Pop Quiz

1. Who teaches first period painting?

2. How many classes are taught during first period?

3. Which electives are taught?

4. How many Raiders hate waking up for first period?

5. Who teaches Algebra 3-4?

Answers

1. Jill Neri

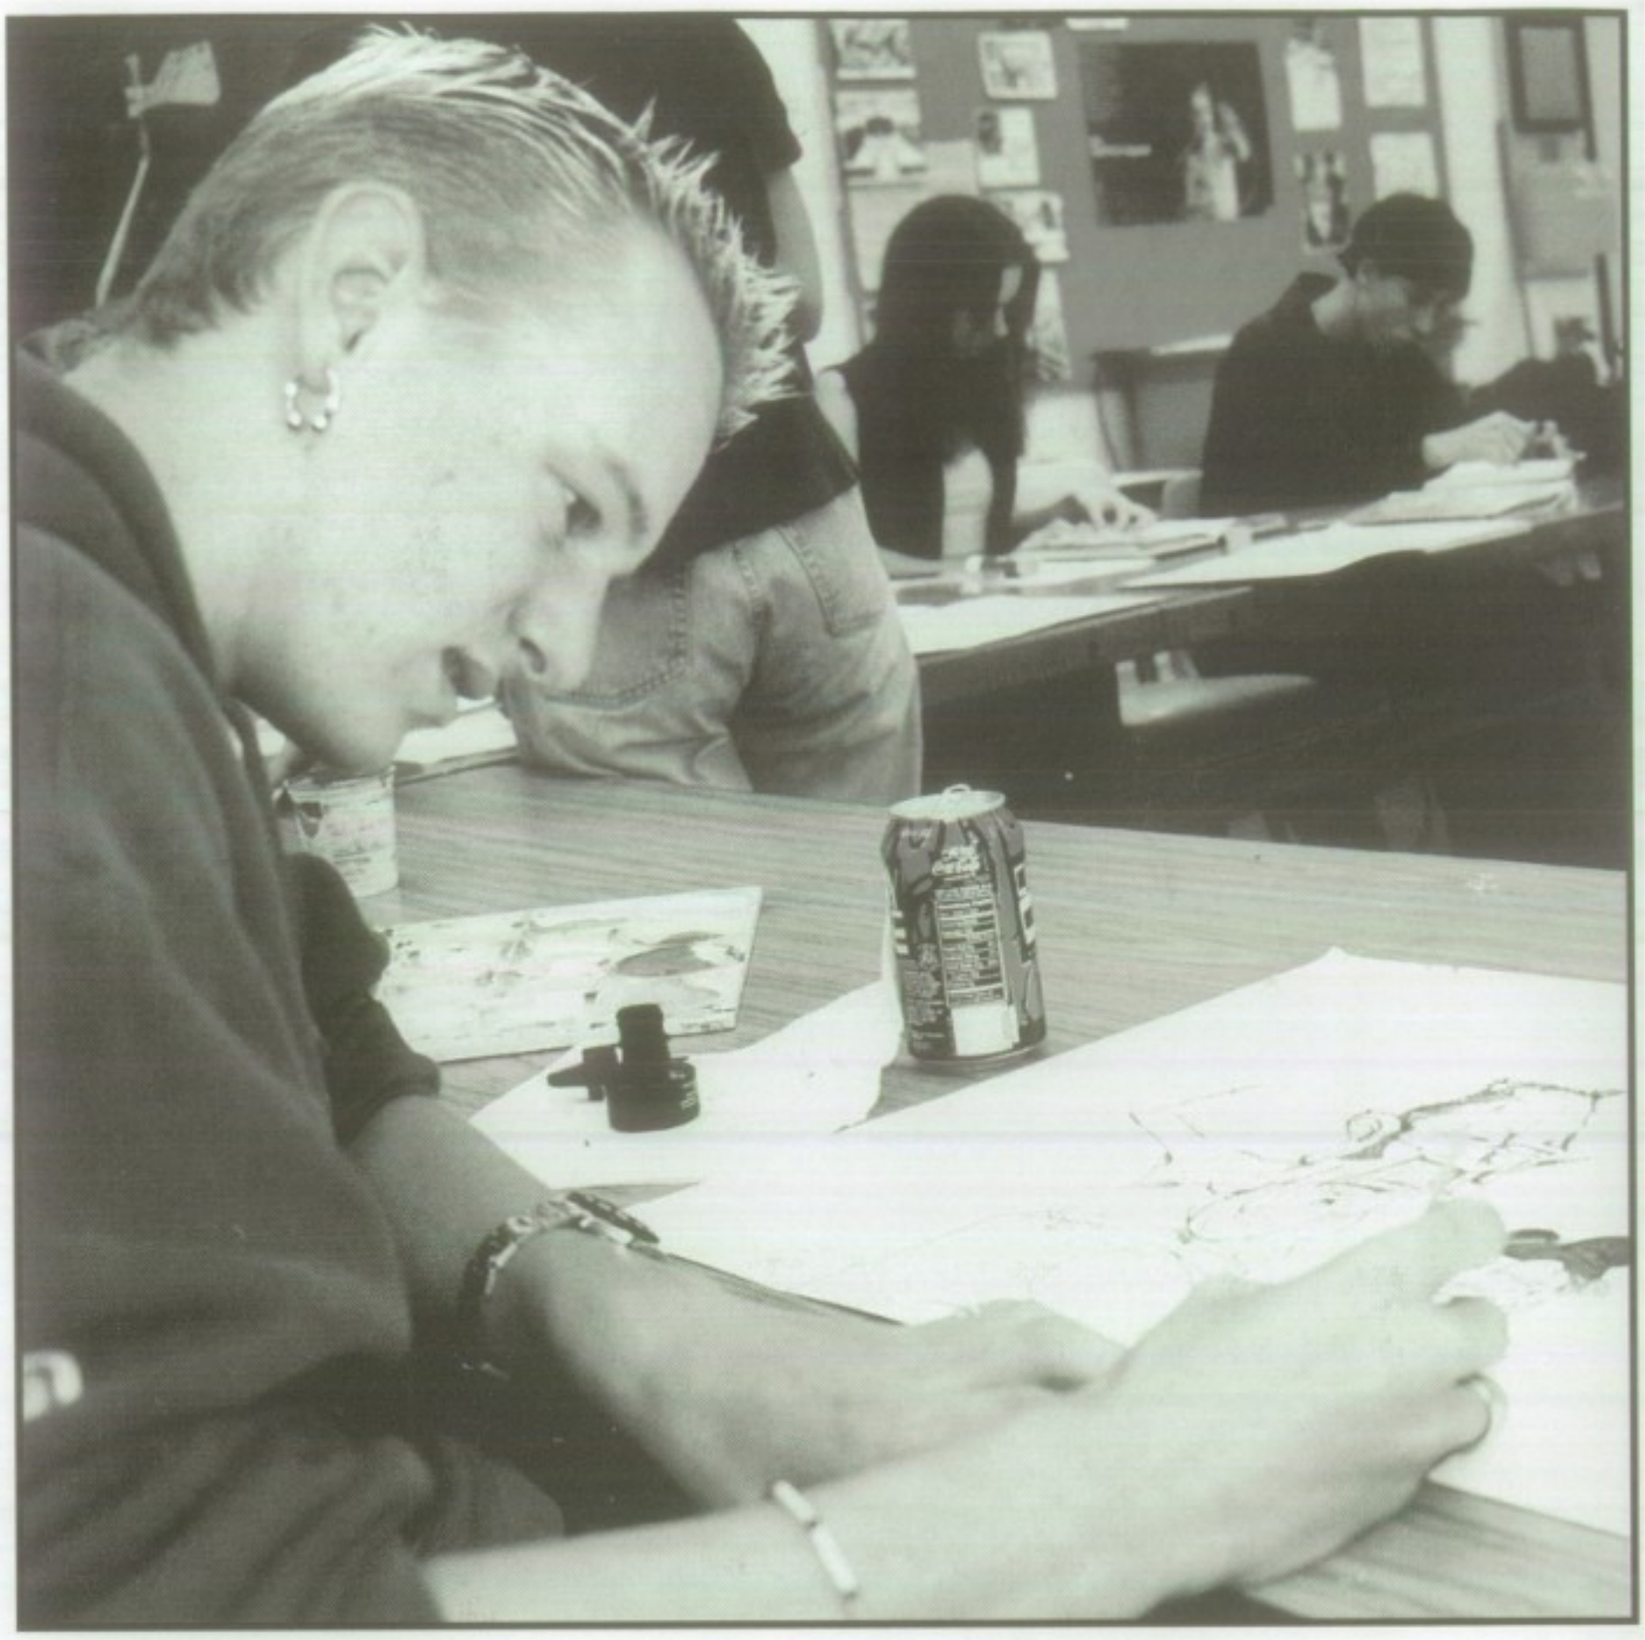
2. 30

3. Painting, P.E., Sports Lit.

4. The whole junior and senior class and their teachers too.

5. Kindra Cerfoglio

Paint paint paint! In first period painting, student like Eric Kuiken (01) get a chance to experiment with watercolors and oils. Some of them have natural ability and some have to work to get a good grade. Because students are required to do certain projects sometimes they get frustrated. "This class is great, pshche!" Says Eric Kuiken.



"Talking on the phone at school is great! I love being an office aide. I can even talk to my boyfriend just kidding."

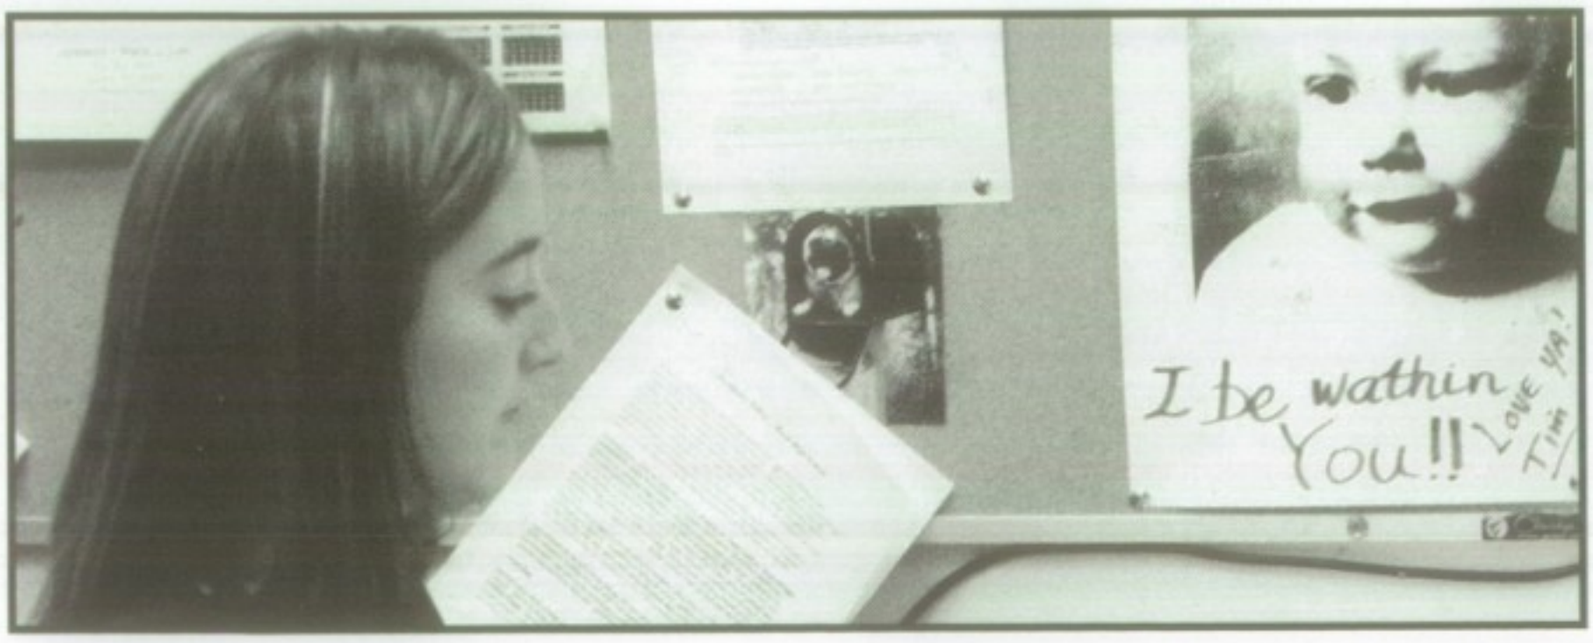
Michelle Anderson (01)

"I don't like math, but you have to take it, so it's a must have."

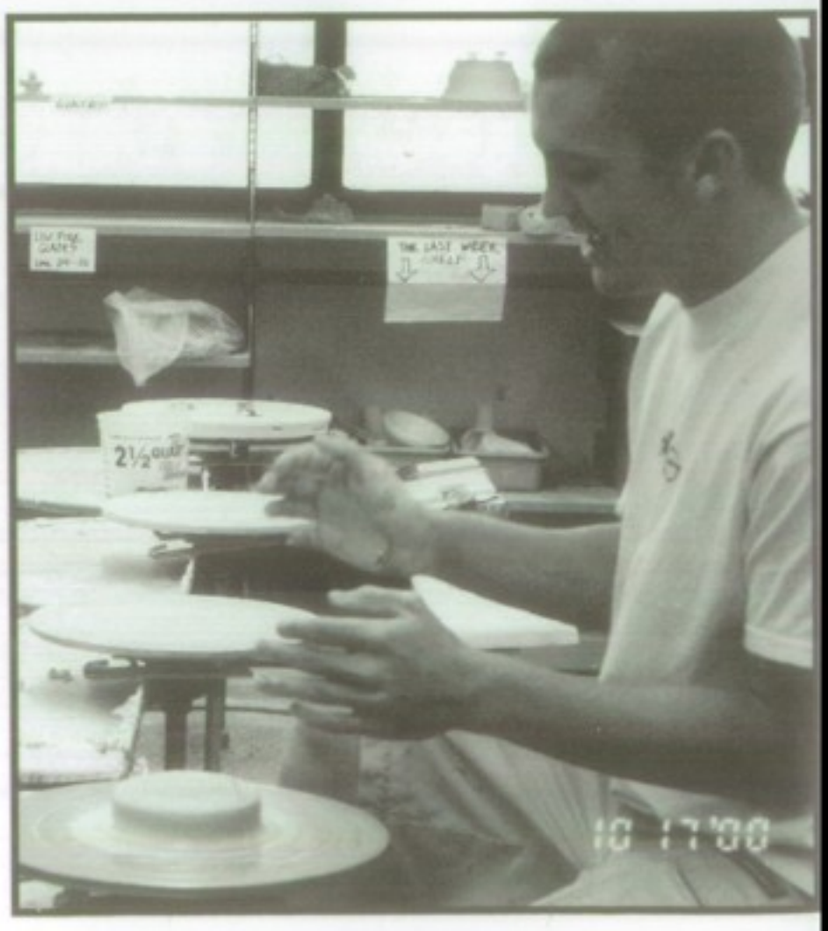
Robert Wittenburg (01)

"This class is off the hook! I love painting and I love I having it with my friends, especially when she gives us food."

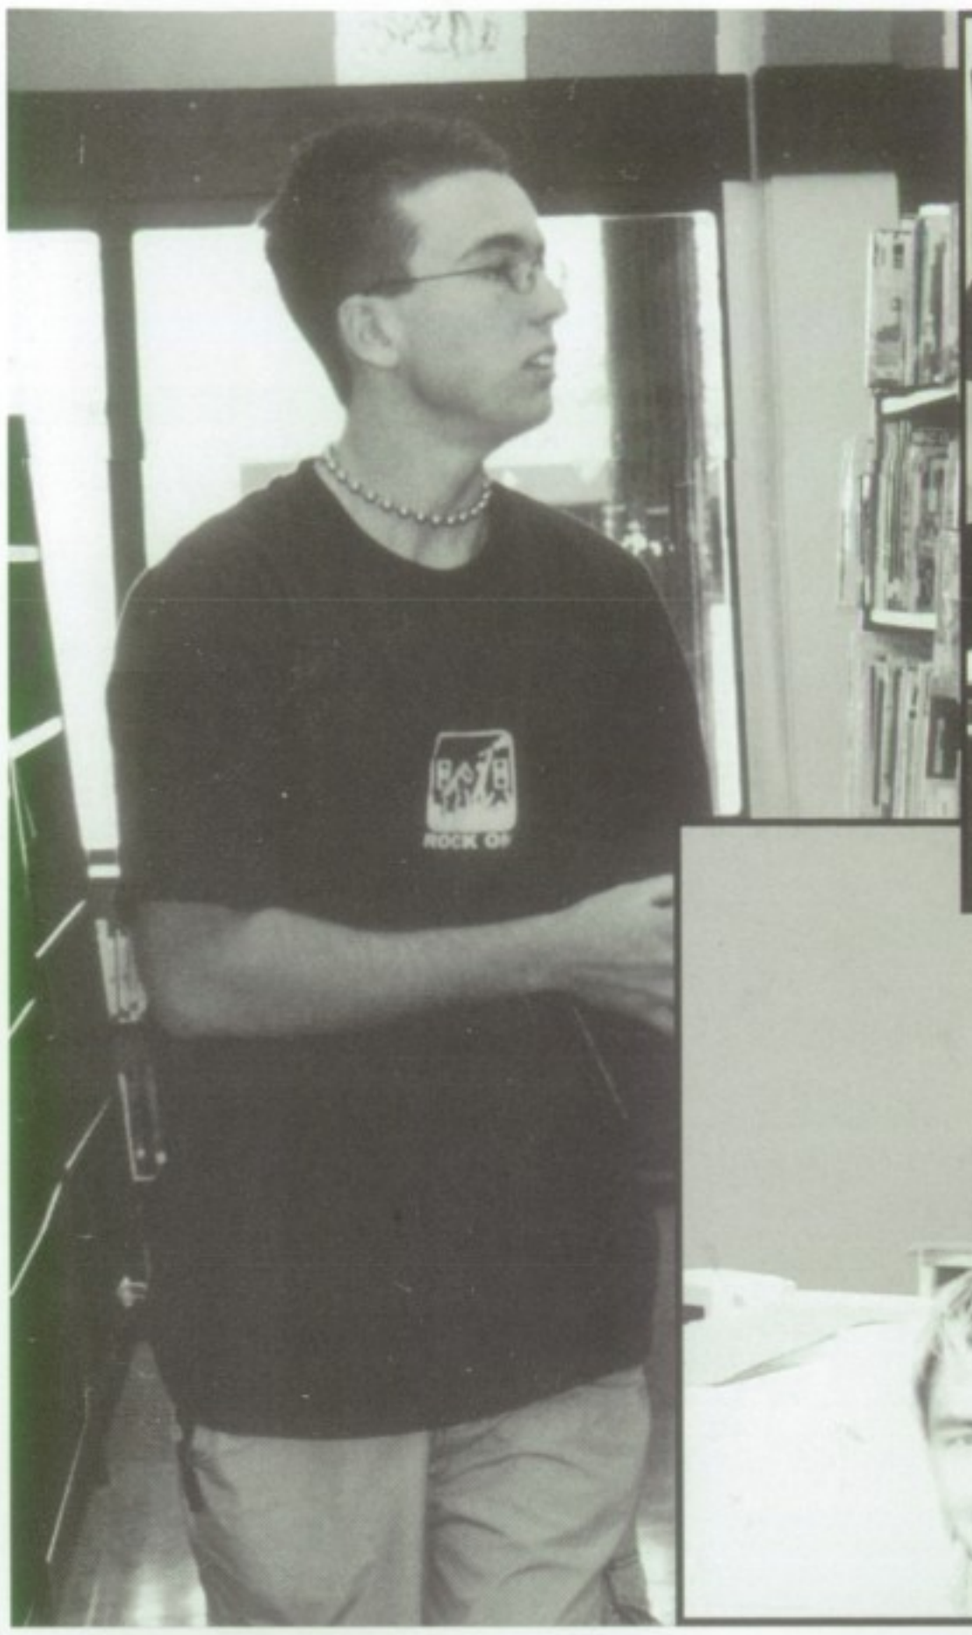
Elysa Buckheart (02)

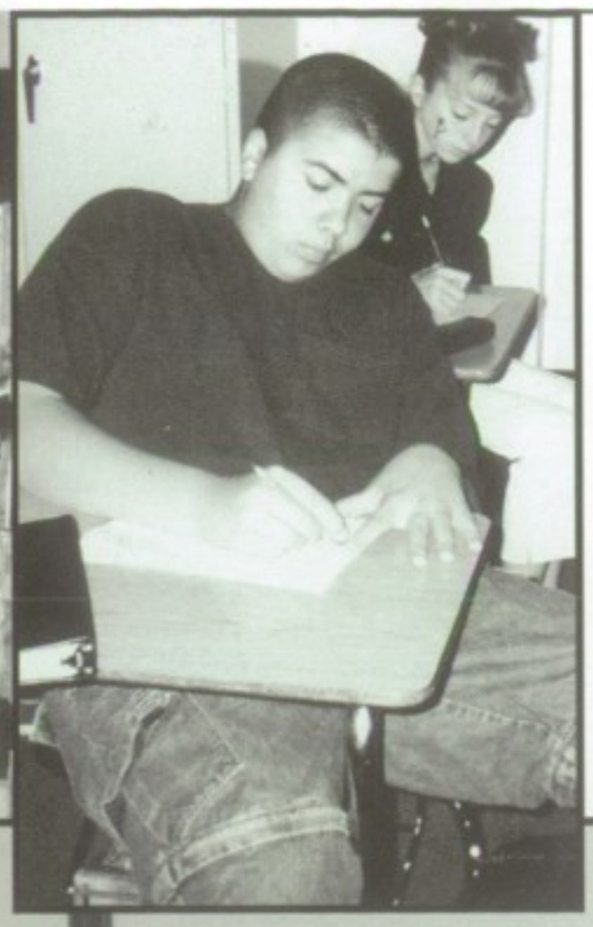


Being a attendance aide is not at as fun as it seems. As you can see Laura Stoltz (02) sits and files papers. As a aide you anwser the phone and file papers for all the people who arent at school that day.



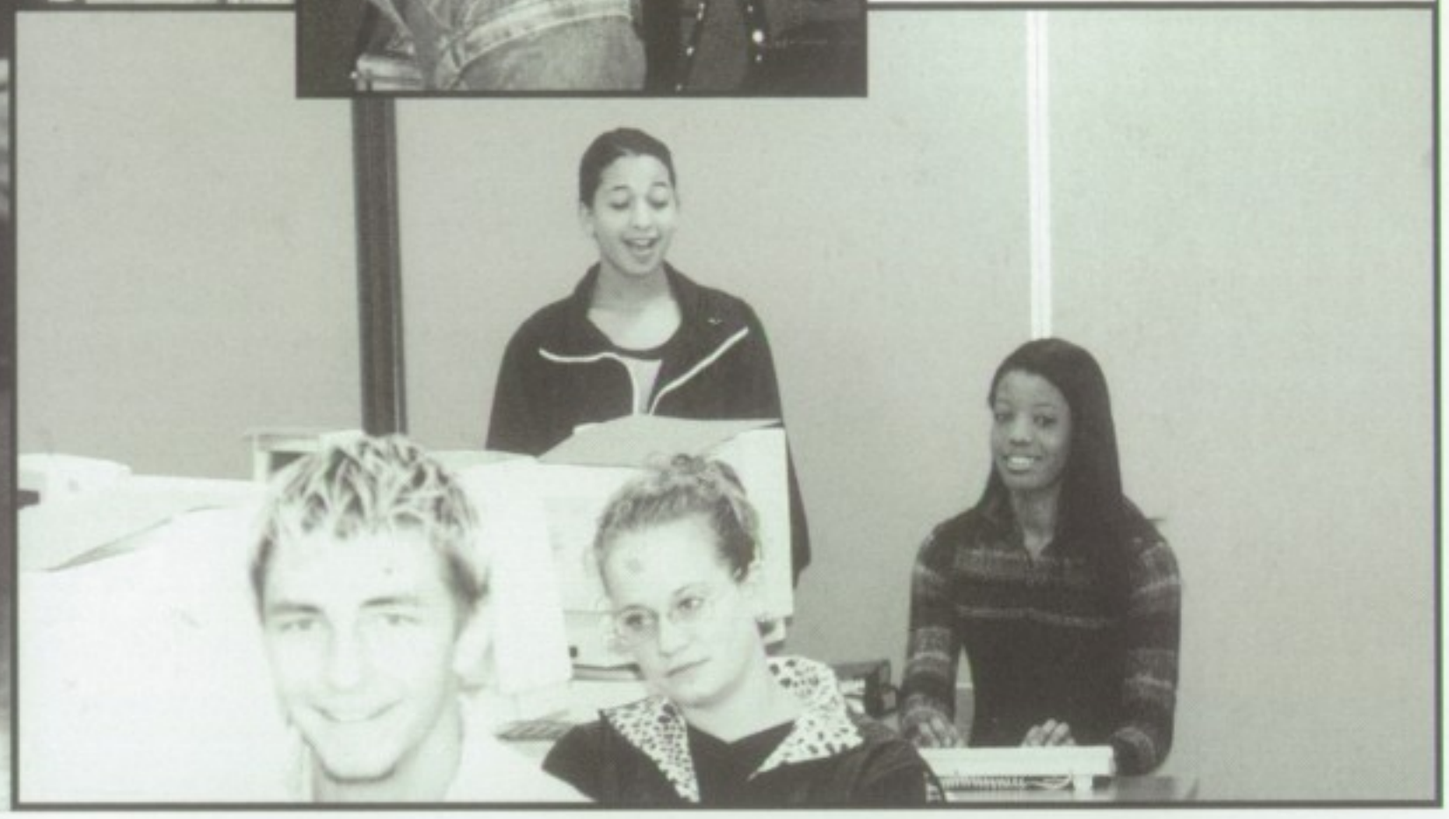
Ceramics is a fun class that we have here at Reed. You make vases, dip holders, cups and anything else you want. People seem to enjoy it. John Calahan (01) sits at the wheel with a smile on his face as he tries to make a pot.

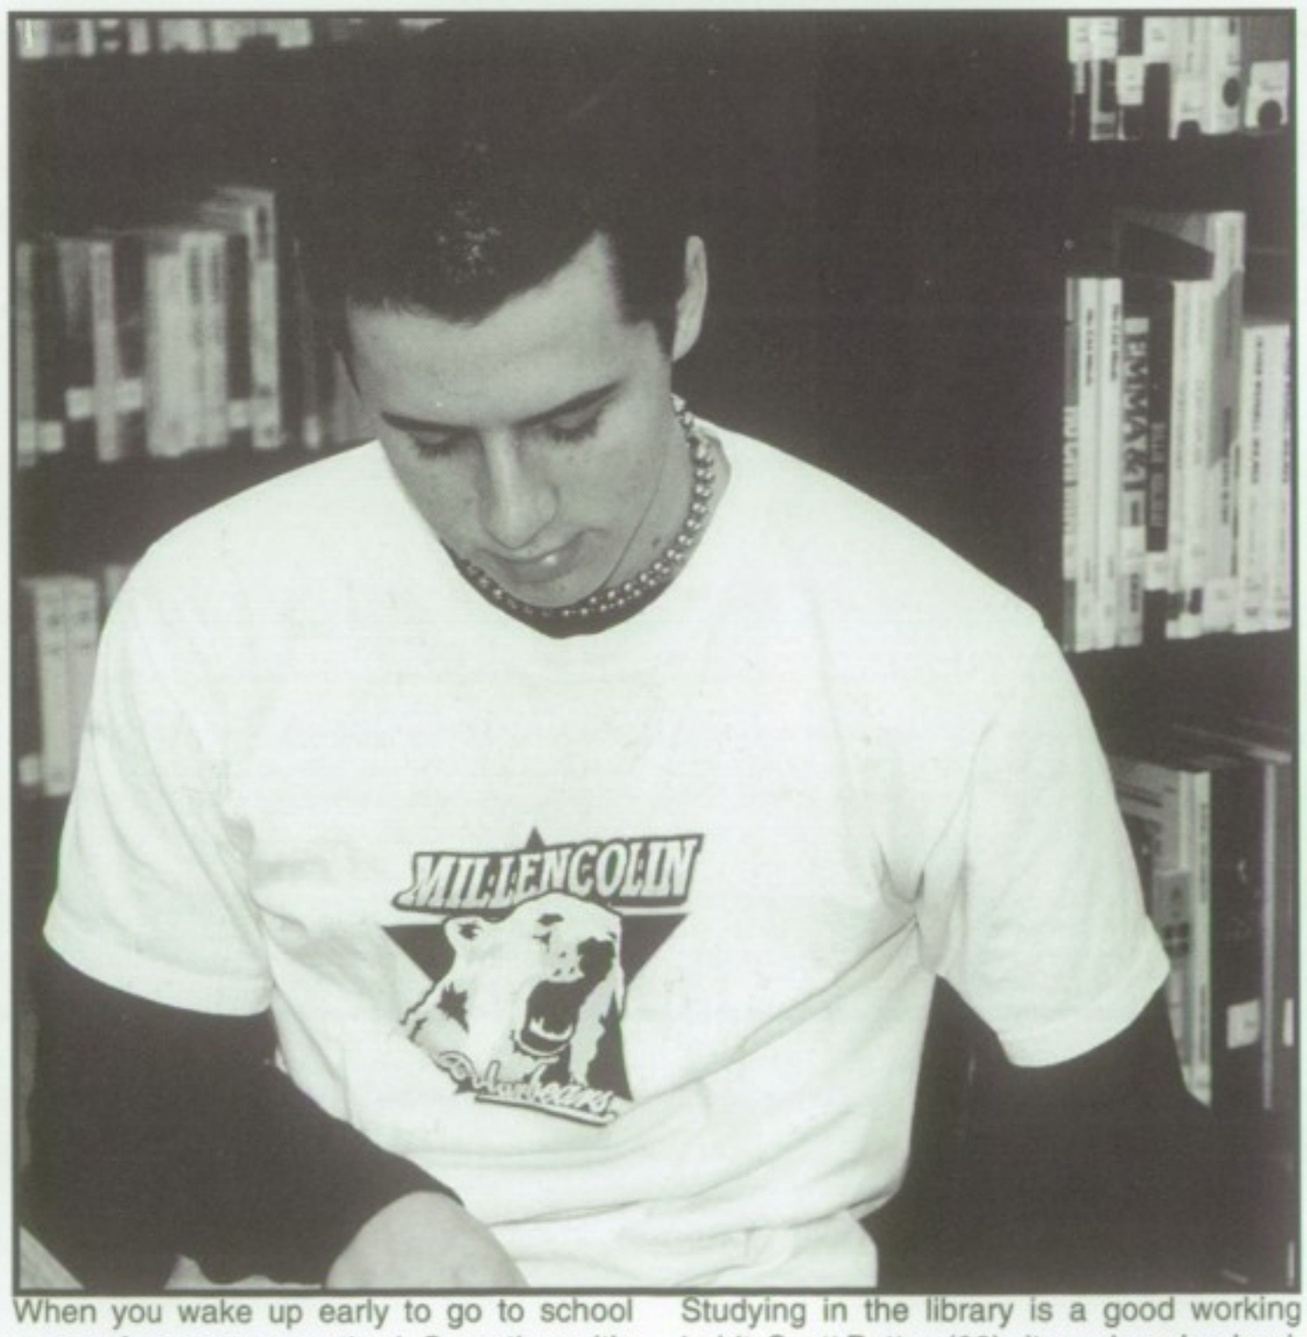




Class work takes brains..

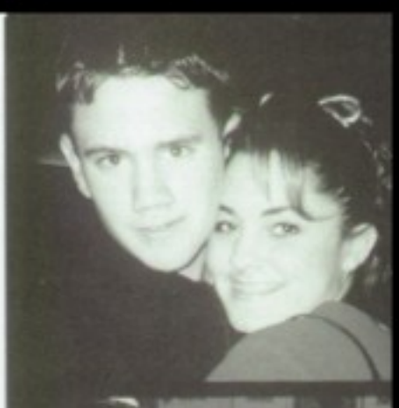
Computers is something that everyone has to take. It teaches you how to type for the future in a job where you might need it. You learn the keyboard and how to type the right way and fast. Justin Cane, Emily Stolpman, Marquis Gardner and Ashley White sit and type away. (01) Chris Gilbert (02) runs around the Library as an aide. He puts back all the books that people leave around.





When you wake up early to go to school some of us come very tired. Sometimes it's from doing tons of homework or staying up late. Sarah Holloway hurries to class and runs to her locker to get her books for the day in her pajamas.

Studying in the library is a good working habit. Scott Patten (02) sits and reads a book and gets ready for an assignment that is due.



Some things stay the same...

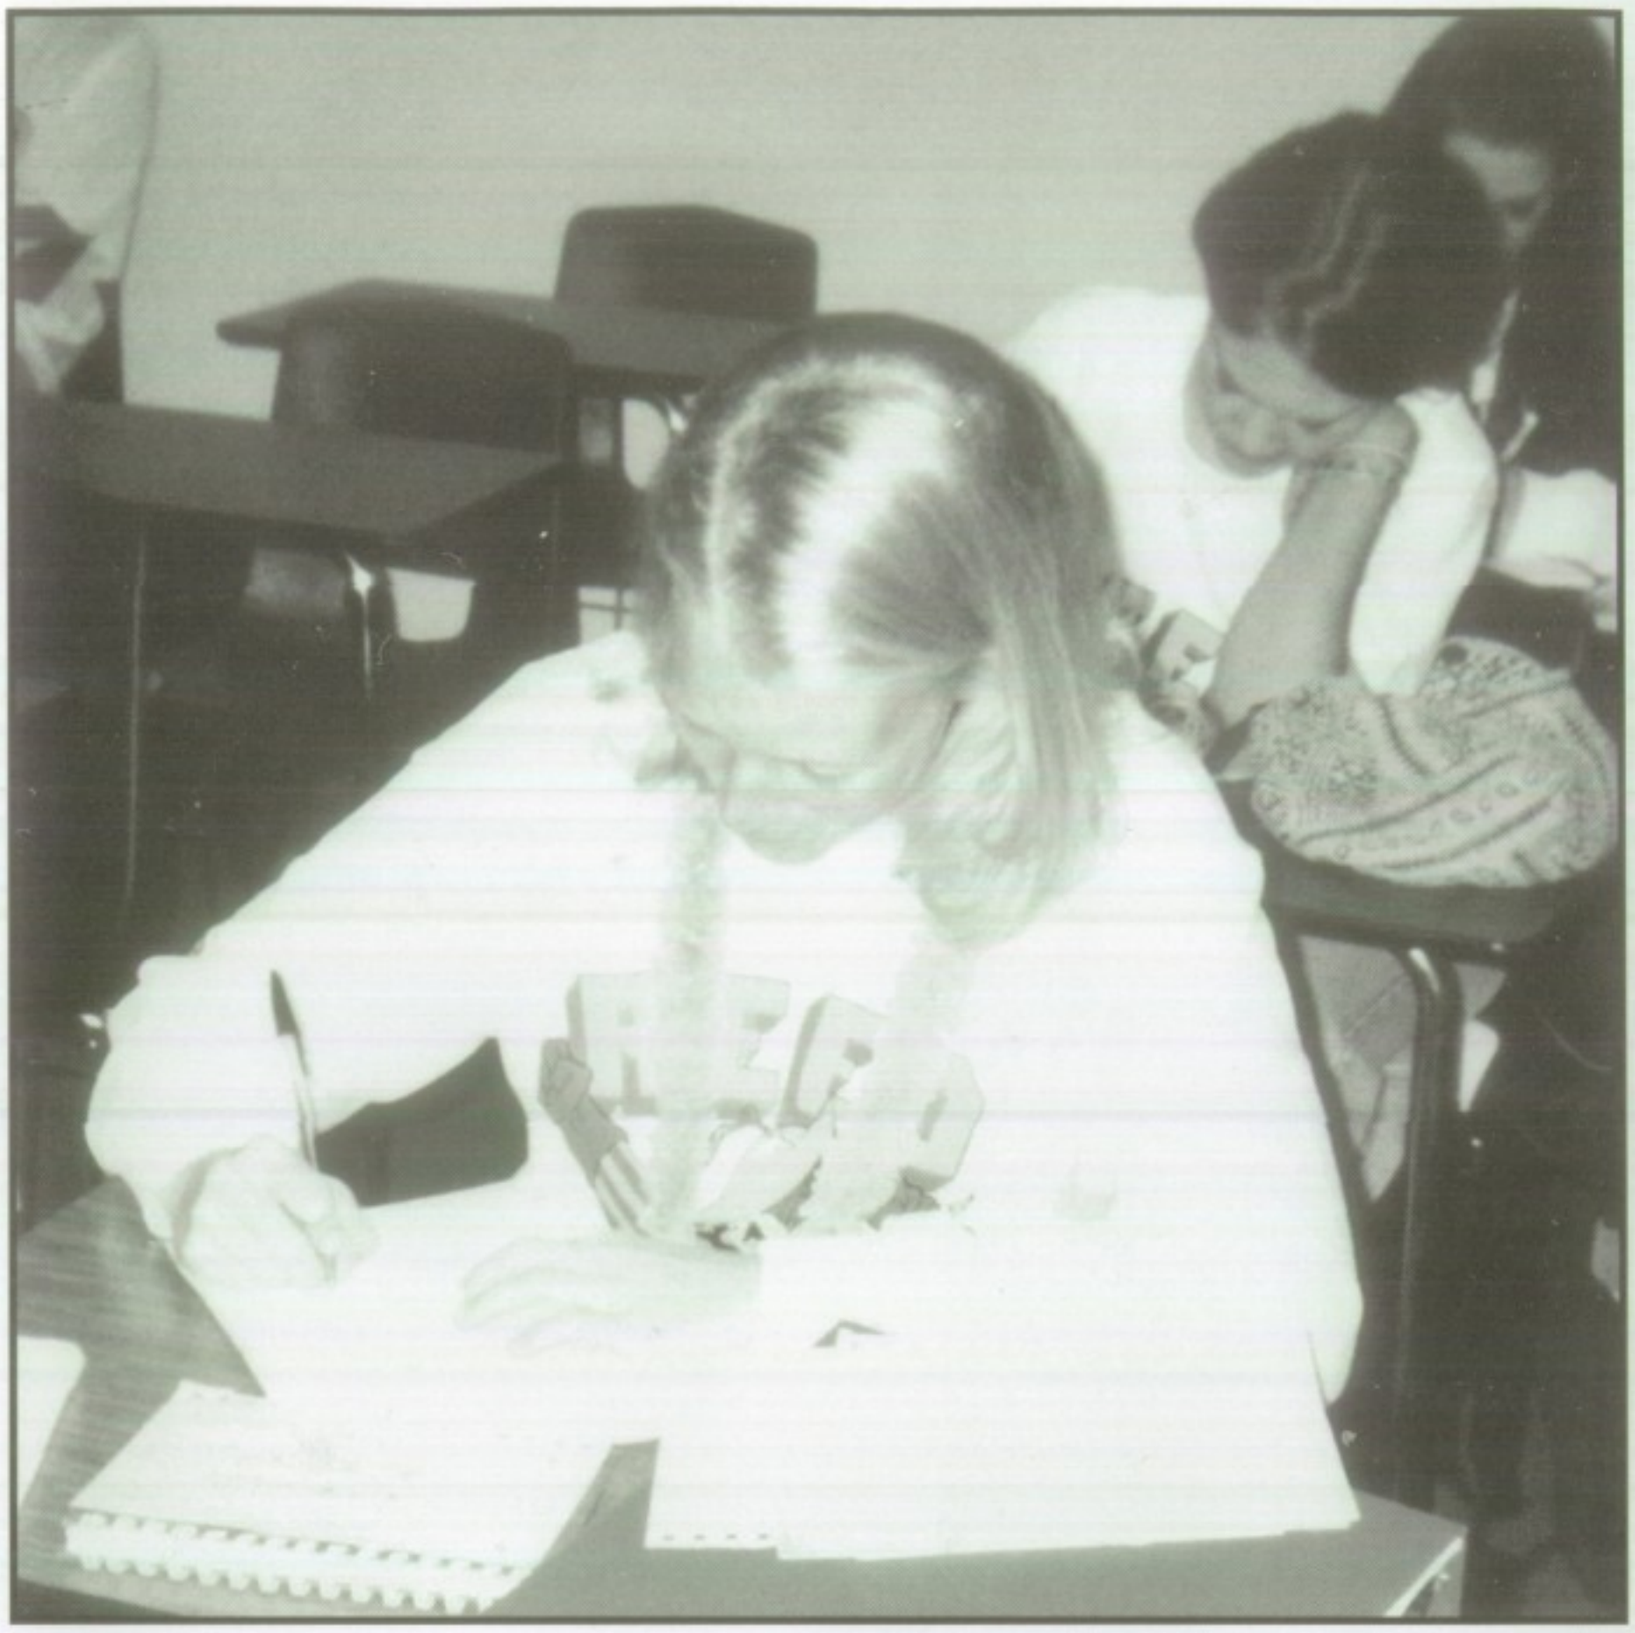
Write write write... Study study study. Completing her assignments, Sara Sydenham works hard to get good grades, which are important to her.



"My hand sometimes gets a cramp from writing so much."

Sarah Slater (02)

"I like to eat M&M's while I do my classwork."

Johnathan Mills (01)

"Ceramics is a lot of fun. I like to paint my stuff after I am done with it."

Rey Seranno (01)

What is this guy talking about? Doing what they were assigned, Carly Spicer, John Rodriguez (01) and fellow classmates sit and talk in class in a discussion in government.

Will I ever get this math done? Working through a problem, Kristy Farson (03) tries to get her homework done so she can have more time with her friends on the weekends. According to Farson, Algebra 1-2 isn't such a bad class. "I like the class I guess, but it's a lot of hard work," she said.

Staying focused is the key to academic success.

Calculators, who needs them? Obviously Amber Nessman (01) uses hers often in her calculus class. "It is a very hard class but I get through it just fine," said Nessman.

Government with Dave Nolte is a challenging class. Students have a lot to learn about how the country's political system functions.

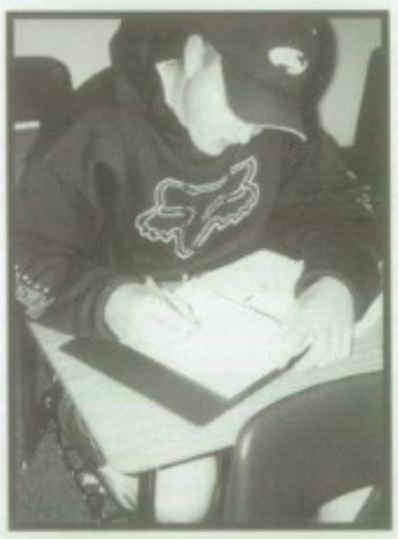
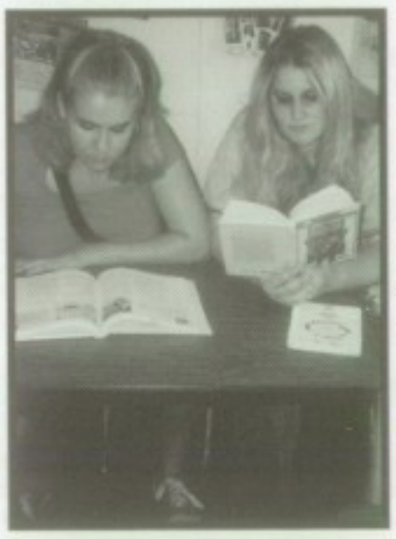
We study hard! Megan Powers (02) and Kiley Mcoy (02) both are doing classwork for Algebra 3-4. They get a lot of homework in this class. Mr. Bothe gives alot of work and expects the kids to get it together in the end of the semester.



"I hate doing classwork!"

Chad Recob (02)



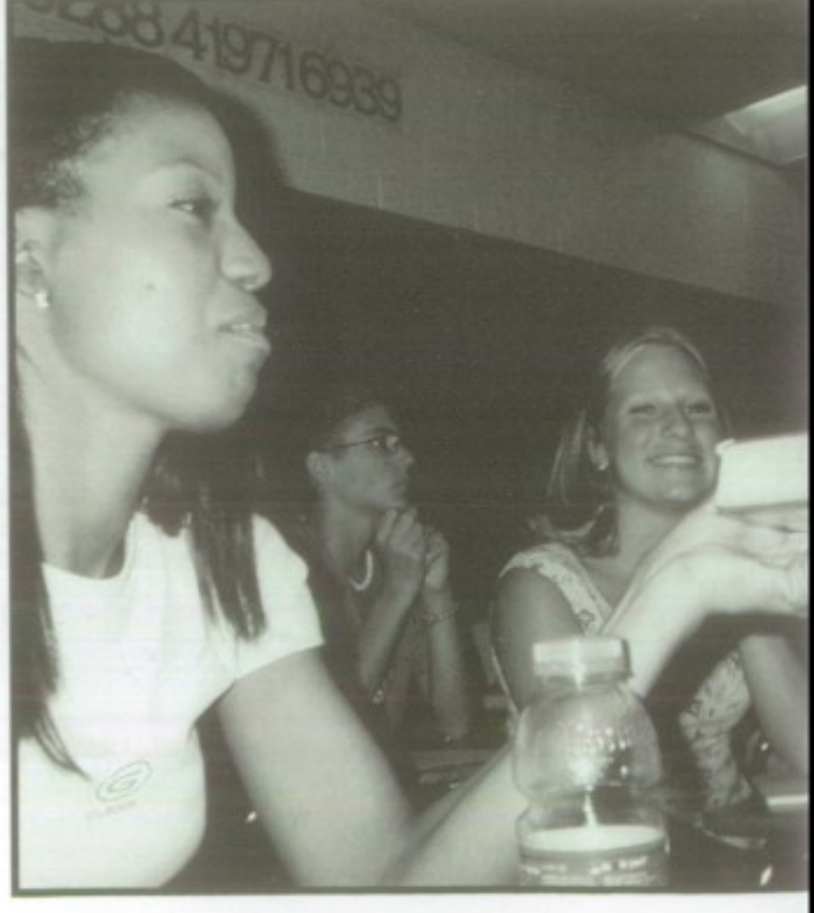
"I like reading, and it is fun with friends to help me out."

Amber Beck (01)

"The Student store is fun and it gives me a extra credit for school."

Sandra Griffin (04)

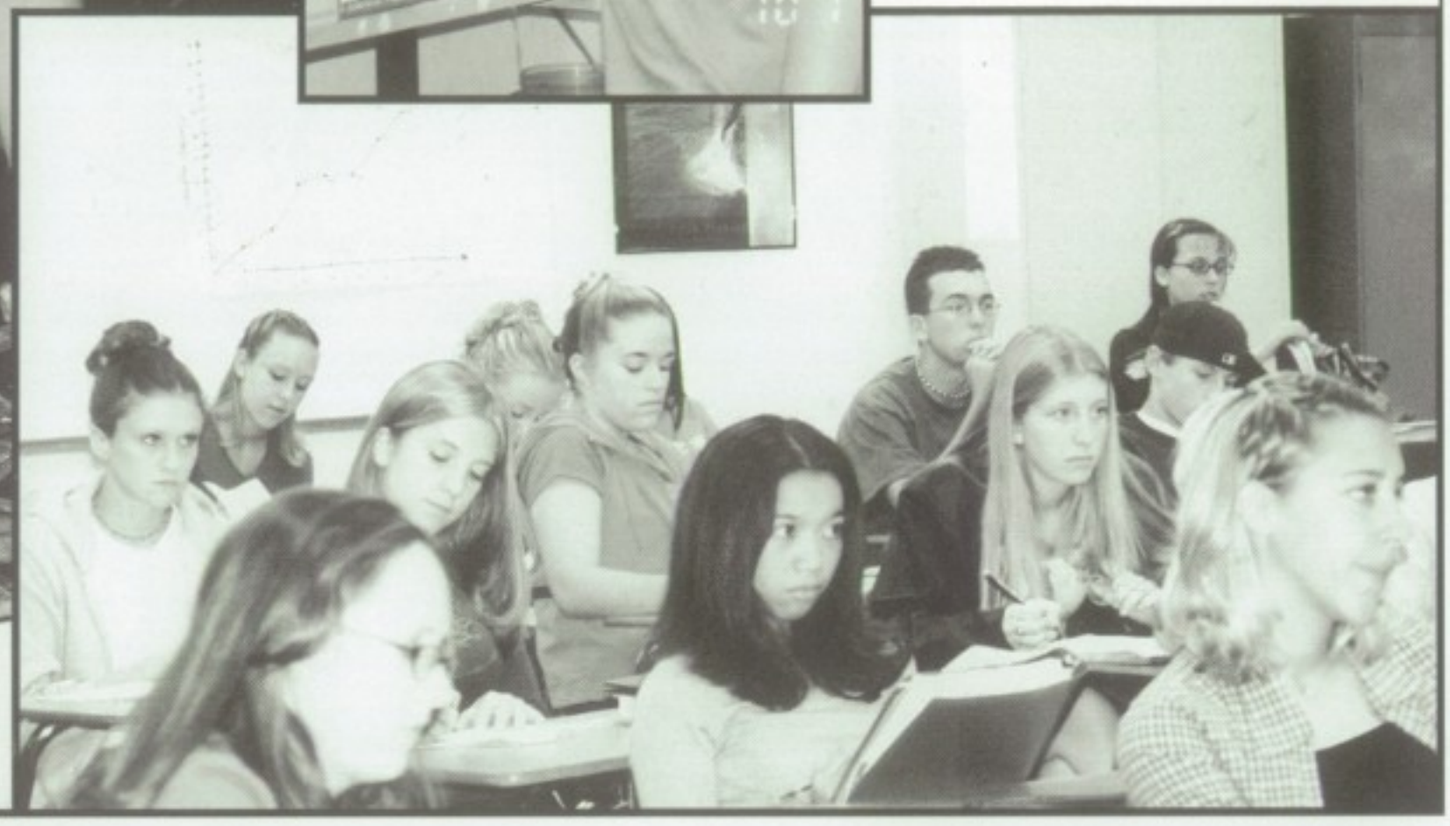
What are u talking about? April Cordona (01) and Casey McManus (01) talk in class. April says "It is fun to have someone to talk to in class, that is when we even have time!"

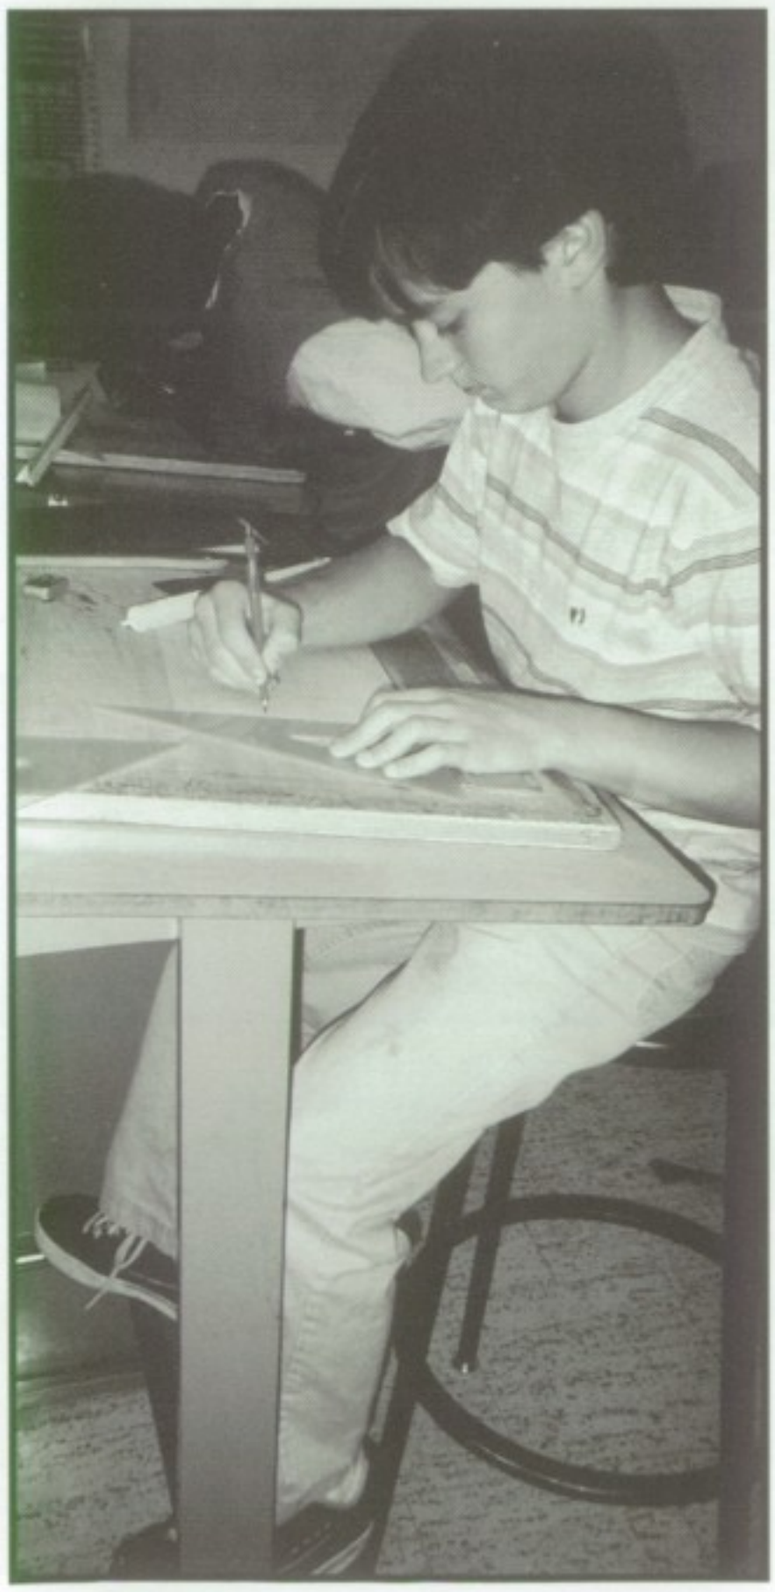


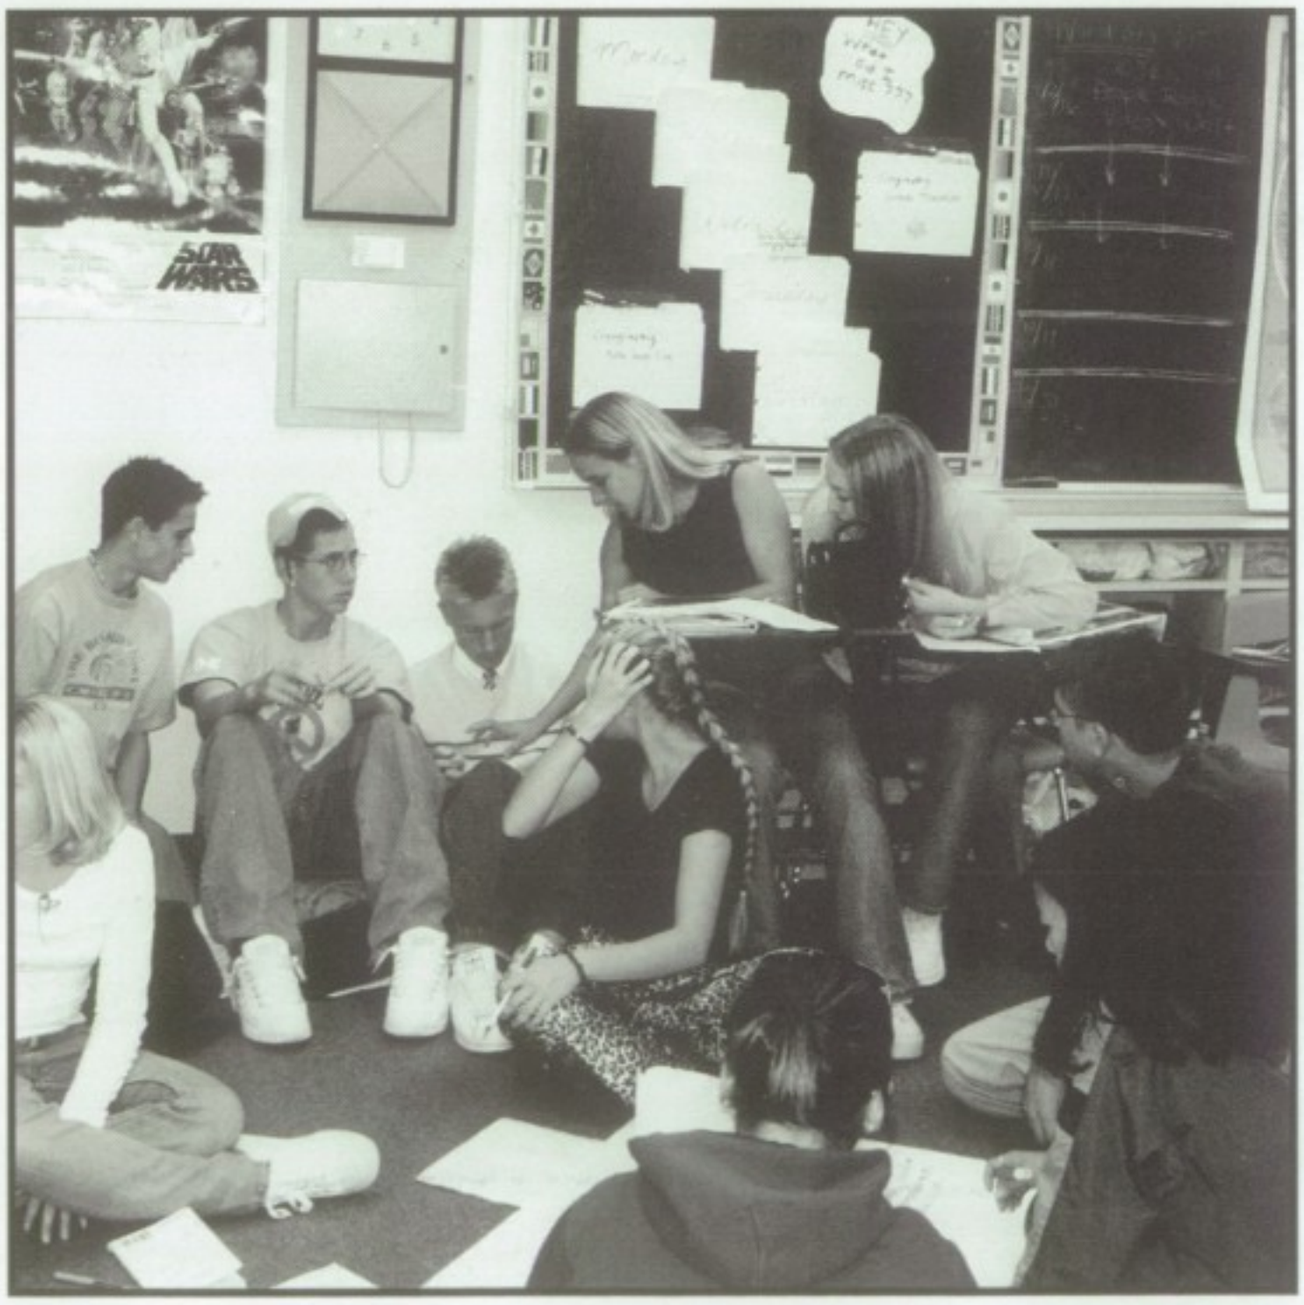
Kendal Riley (02) explains to us how she likes almost all of her classes and enjoys to have friends in her classes such as Marques Wagner (01). They have alot of fun together and make class fun.

Raiders take classes to get things done

Geometry is fun! Not to everyone though. " I just sit and listen and sometimes I can't even think because I get so tired of listening." said Charmie Batara (02). " I try to get a good grade to please my mom and myself." says Kim Poore (02). Auto shop is another fun class people take at our school. They learn how to take car parts apart and then put them back together. Also some kids like to bring in cars they want to work and they do that as thier class work. " I like this class, it is a lot of fun." says A.J. Sorensen (02).







Drafting is fun.Students learn all the technical aspects of the art of drafting. They learn how to use drafting tools and do some of the things architects do.

World Studies is a fun class to take. A lot of the time you get to work in groups to get your assignments done." This class is fun,I have a lot of my friends in the class, but it gets hectic sometimes." said Mark Roberts (02)

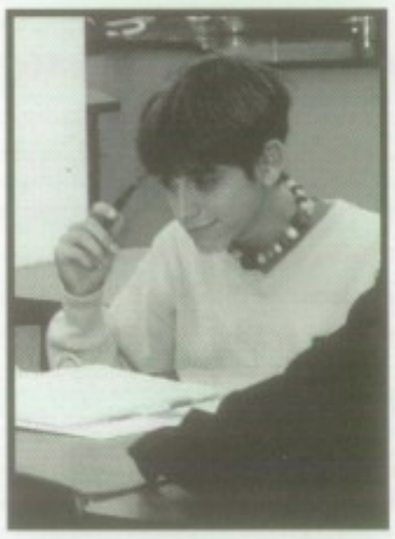
Asa Barton (02) has a talk discussion with Jason Hobbs (02) in his group for a report they have to do in Mythology. "Any class is bad, but I like this class cause I have Bobby and Justin in it with me" says Asa.

"Science is a bummer but I try my hardest to get good grades."

Annie Collup (02)

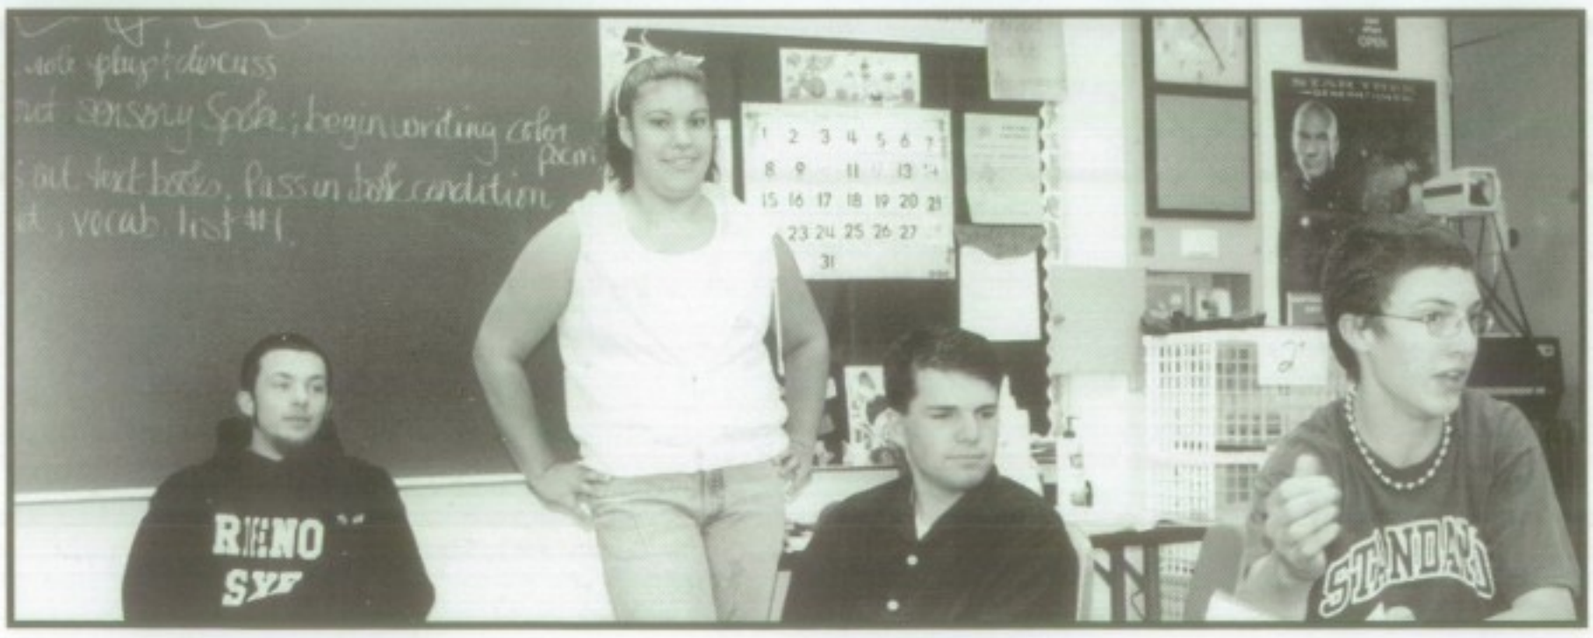


"Maybe if I sit here and think hard enough it will just come to me in a vision."

Mike Carlson (02)

"Mythology is a good class it is hard sometimes but I have alot of cool people in it with me so it goes by faster."

Britlyn Beck (02)

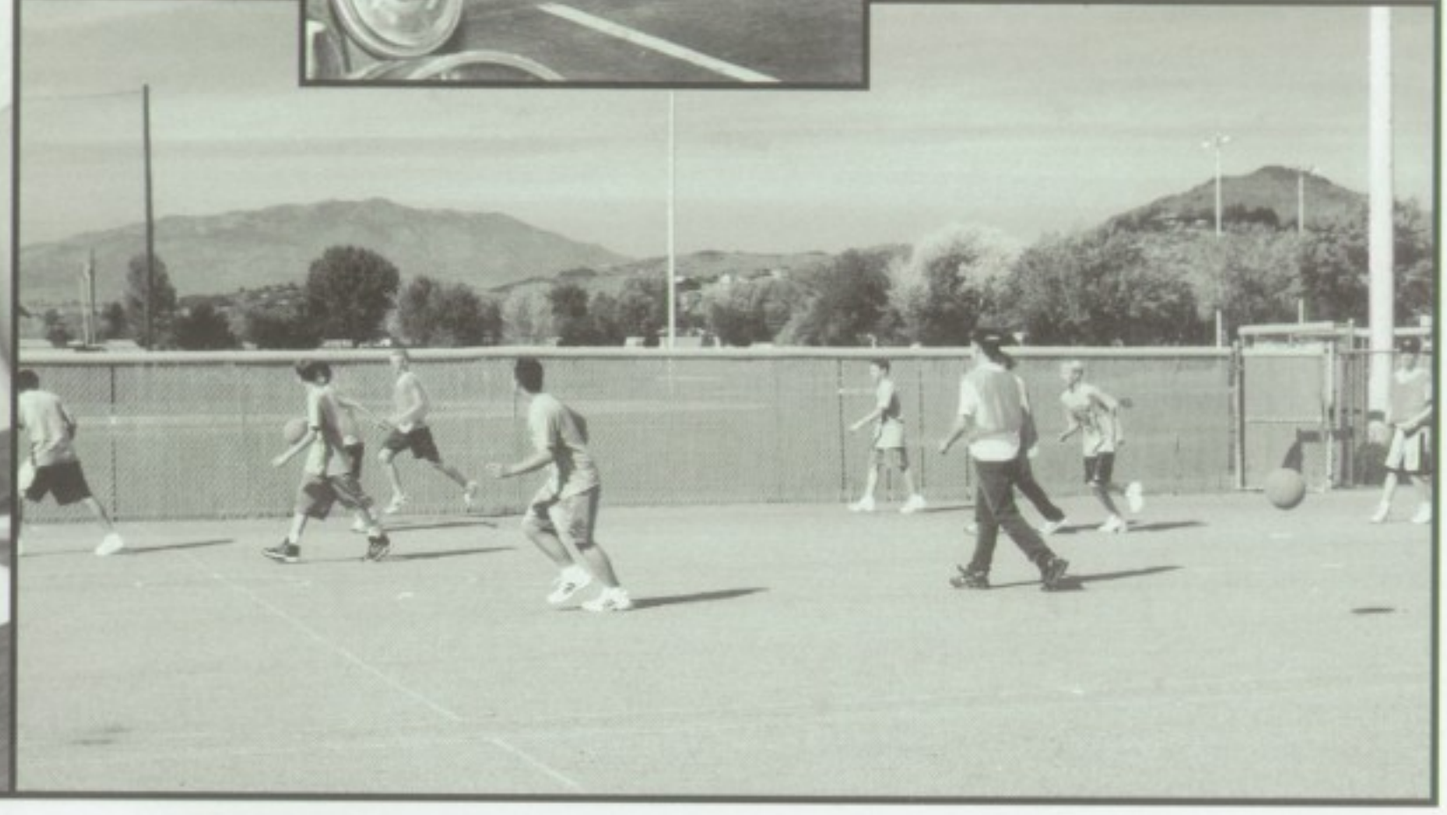


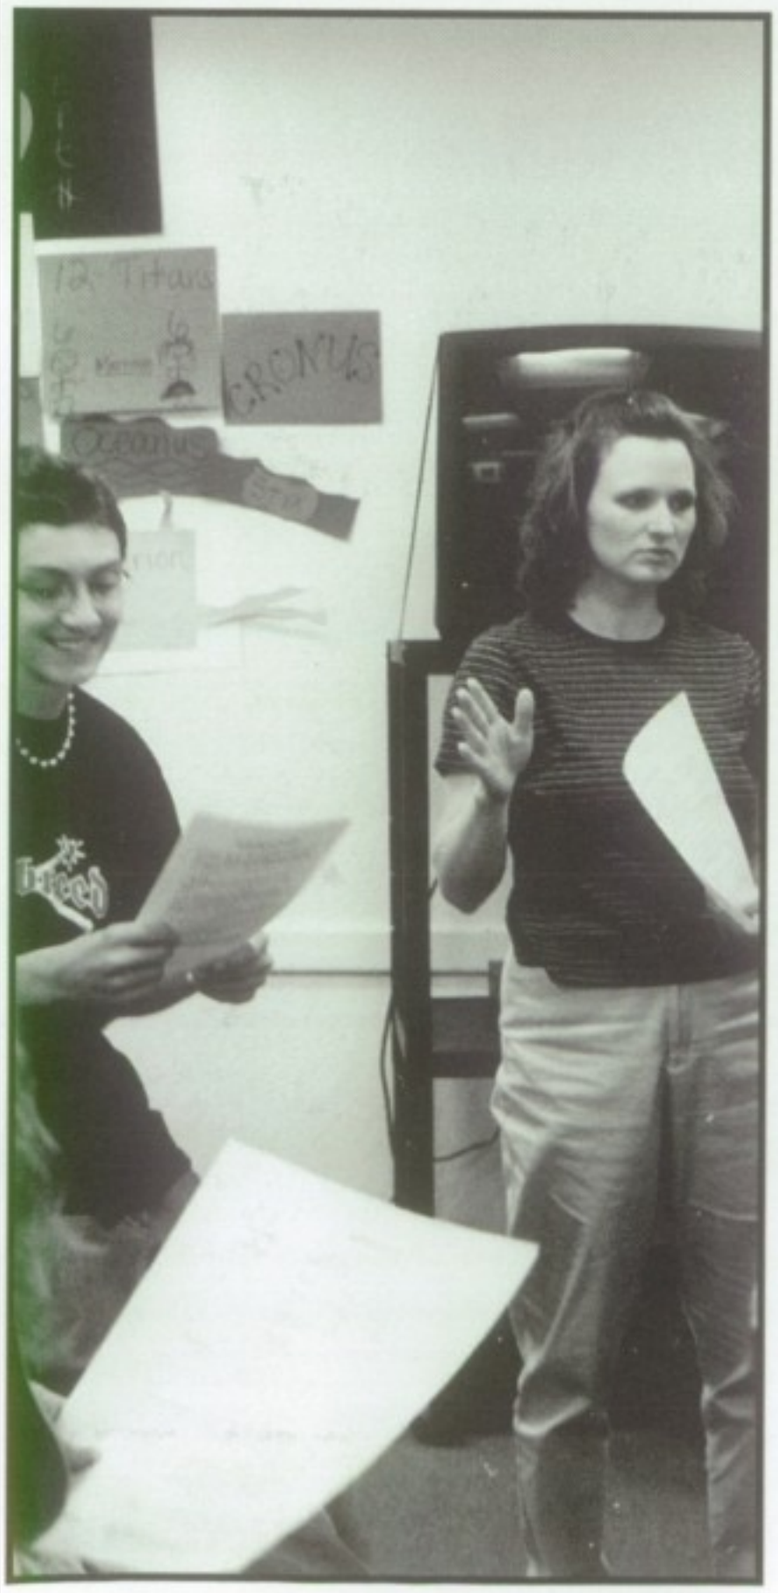
Well because I think so! Robert Wittenburg (01) tells a Greek myth in class with fellow classmates. A acting story they did one day in class.

WOW! He looks cute. Sarah Demers (01) sits in class as she plays the part as the inventor. She sits in class thinking about what she should do to prepare herself in her class that day.

Classes can be fun and very hard!

Team sports can be a fun class when you have friends in it. "P.E. is a fun time to run around and have fun." said Justin Lundy. Students have to work hard for their grades students like Melissa Satmary says " I have so much to do in my life, school, friends, family,my boyfriend Thomas, and getting my homework in it's a hard thing!" Weights is a class where you learn to tone your muscles.





Robert Wittenburg (01) smiles as he reads his part in the play in mythology. Mrs. Folkers is a really good teacher and has a lot of patience with the kids.She knows how to make the plays fun and exciting.

Sewing is a very fun class. Mrs. Crepaldi teaches the students how to make many things like pajama pants and little purses. Cody Bent (03) enjoys this class.

1. Roy Wooldridge
2. Two
3. Richard Cabitto
4. Karen LeFebre
5. 98

Messy work... Ceramics is a fun class to take if you like to mess around with the clay. Brett Lee and Josh Koder(01) work on the wheel to make a vase, they have lots of laughs and a fun time in that class. "Mr Wooldridge makes it a fun class," said Koder.

"I like this class cause I have some of my friends in it, plus I try really hard to get a good grade."

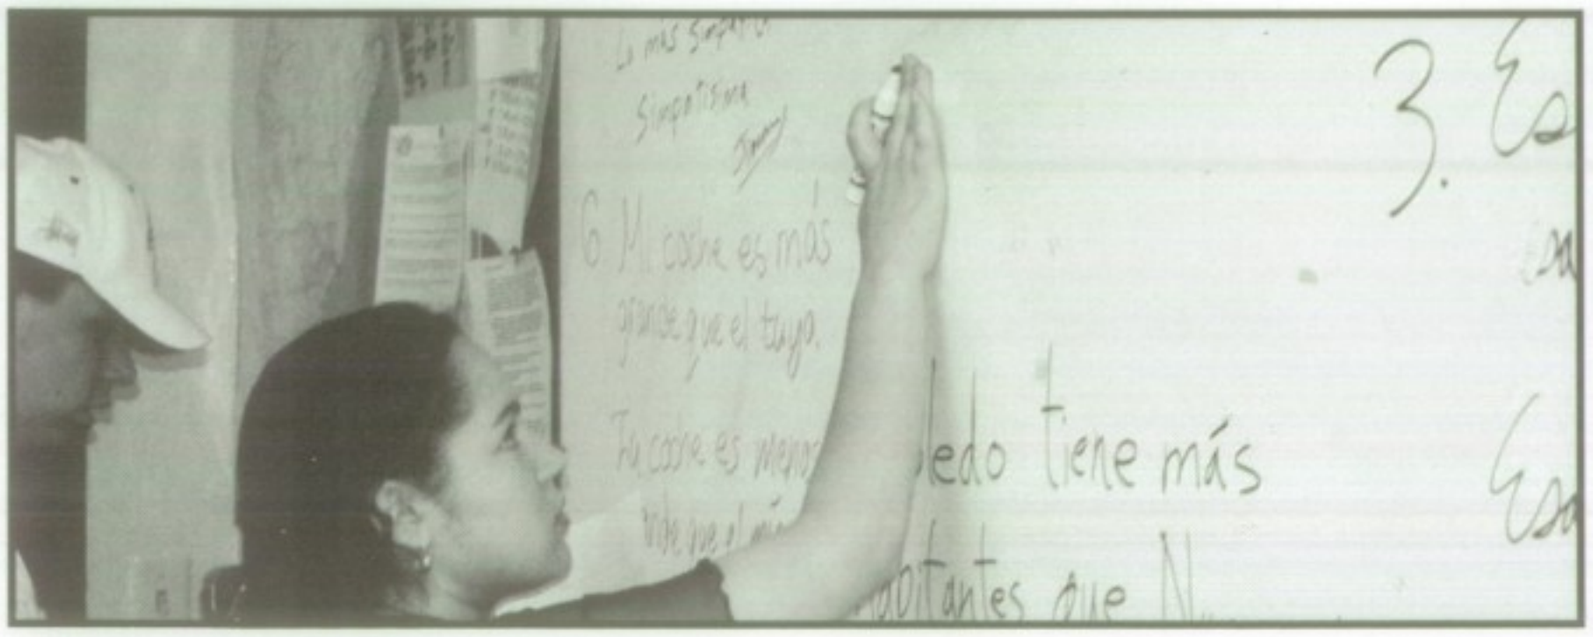
Ashley Field (04)

"Sometimes I just can't stand this class!"

Anjuli Suttle (04)

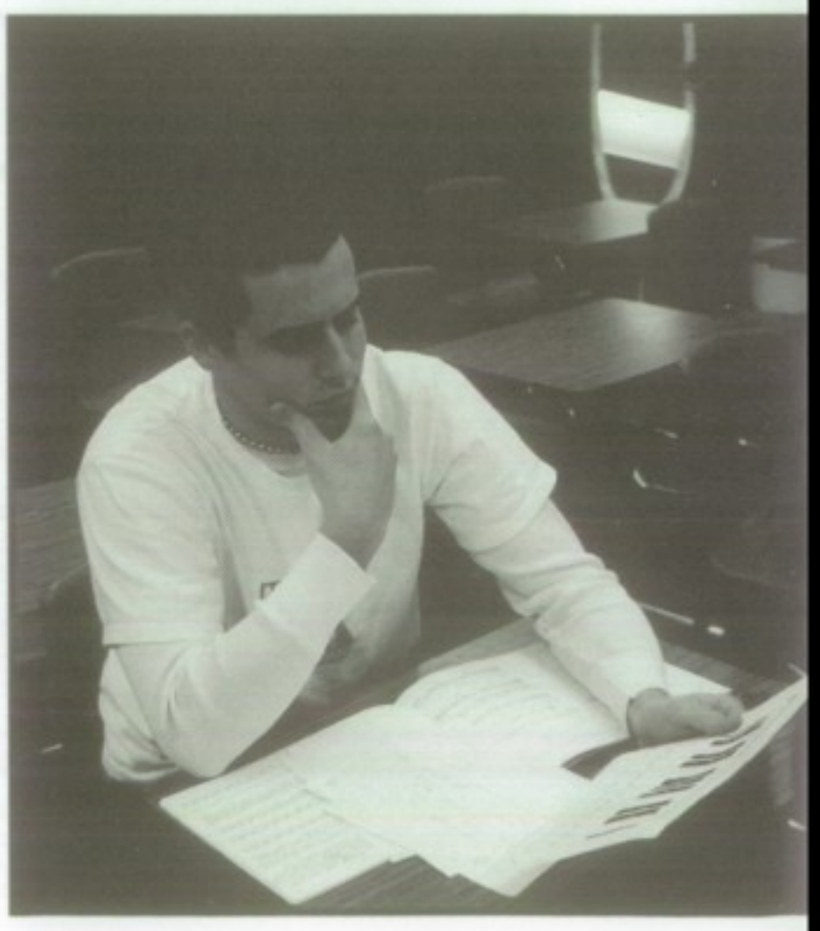
"I don't understand this at a!l! Oh, well, I can always take it again."

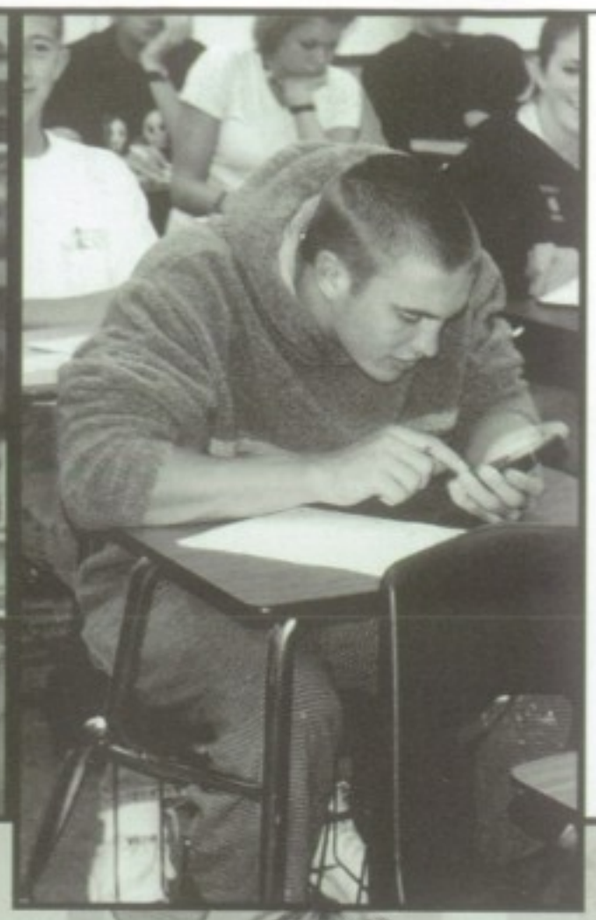
Marnea Koder (04)



Speaking a foreign language may seem just an interesting hobby in high school, but students learn enough to be able to travel to another country and get around without the aid of a dictionary if they pay attention.

Music classes aren't just for marching band members anymore. They now encompass a wide range of musical interests, including punk and rock, which is good for people like Scott Patten (02), who is in a band and uses what he learns in school to improve his music.





Get your class work done in a hurry!

Learning how to help others is art of the curriculum for office aides like Jaime Stein (02) who distributes large boxes and copies for Jane Carey. Library aides work in the whole library area, which includes the copy center. "I love helping Mrs. Carey she is a sweetheart and it's a fun job," said Stein.

U.S History isnt all that fun unless your one of those kids who loves it. So for people like Katie Adams (02) and Jill Garisson (02) they work together on assignments to get things done quicker and faster. It's called teamwork.

Some things stay the same...

5. Speech & Debate

Ceramics teaches kids a lot. People like Johnathan Mills (01) teach Emily Stolpman & Alicia Washburn some techniques on clay building and sculpting animals. It takes a lot of patience and hard work to comlete a ceramics project that makes the student proud.

"I help myself as well as the people in my class. We get a lot more projects done faster that way."

Sara Bolingbroke (03)

"I love this class. It is a lot of fun!"

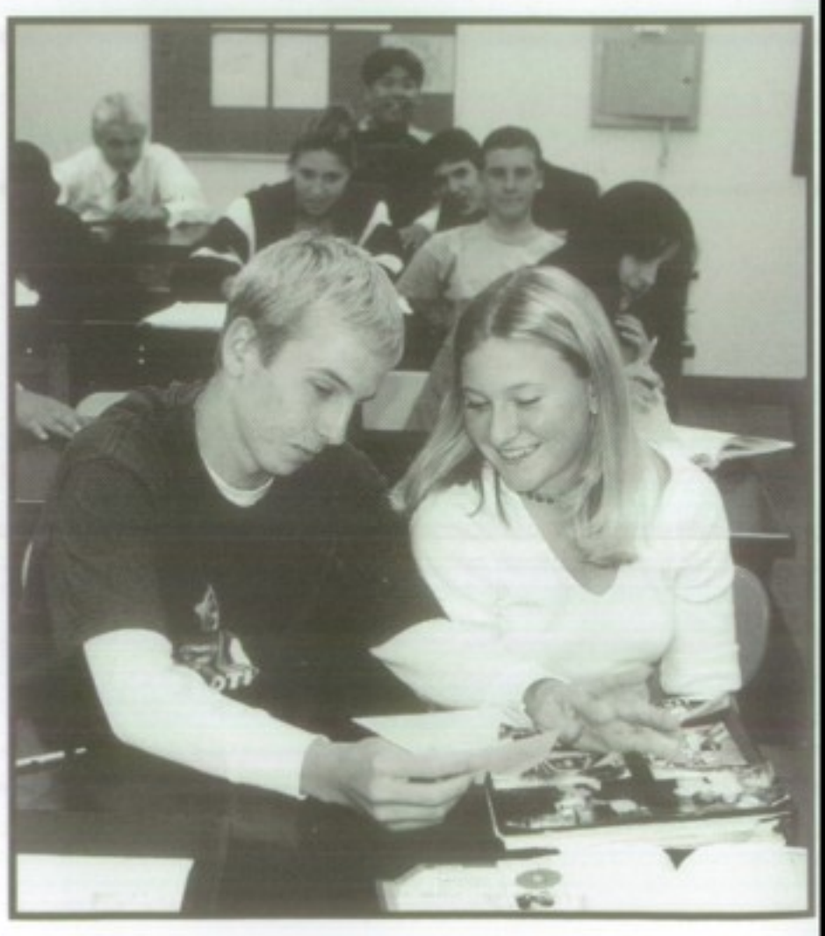
Sam Feller (04)

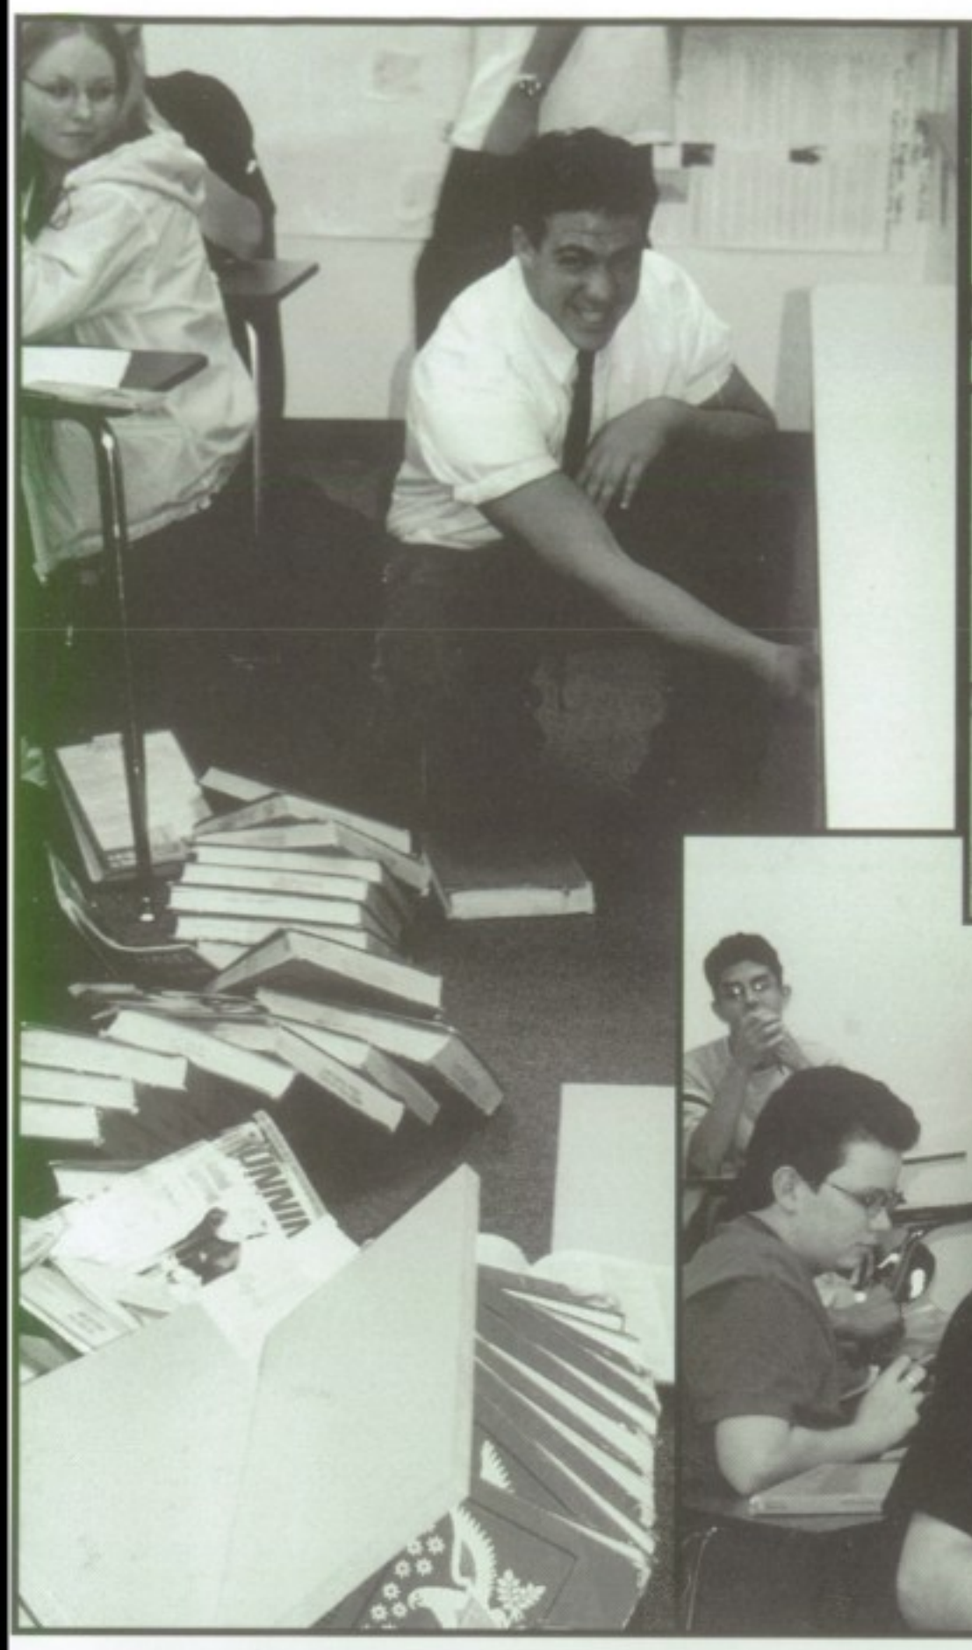
"Class is fun and so is typing... Not really. I would rather sleep!"

Casey Phoenix (02)

In painting classes, students have the opportunity to express themselves through art. Many students take this class because they feel that it helps break up the monotony of sitting in regular academic classes.

Environmental science is a lot of work. To omplete a project, Troy Willard and Ashley Field partner up and learn how to use a grid to map things out. "I like learning from Troy, because he helps me out," said Field.



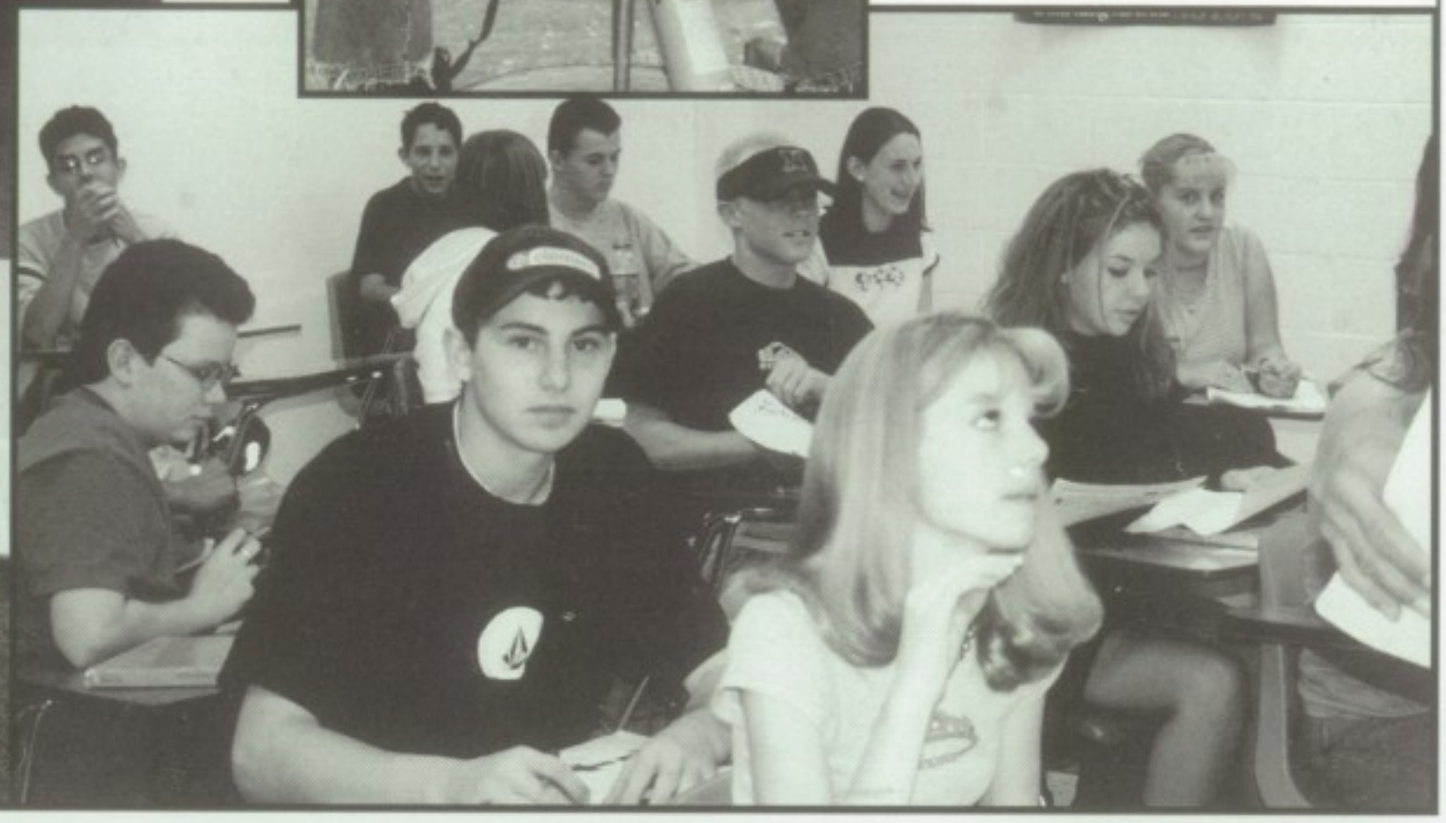


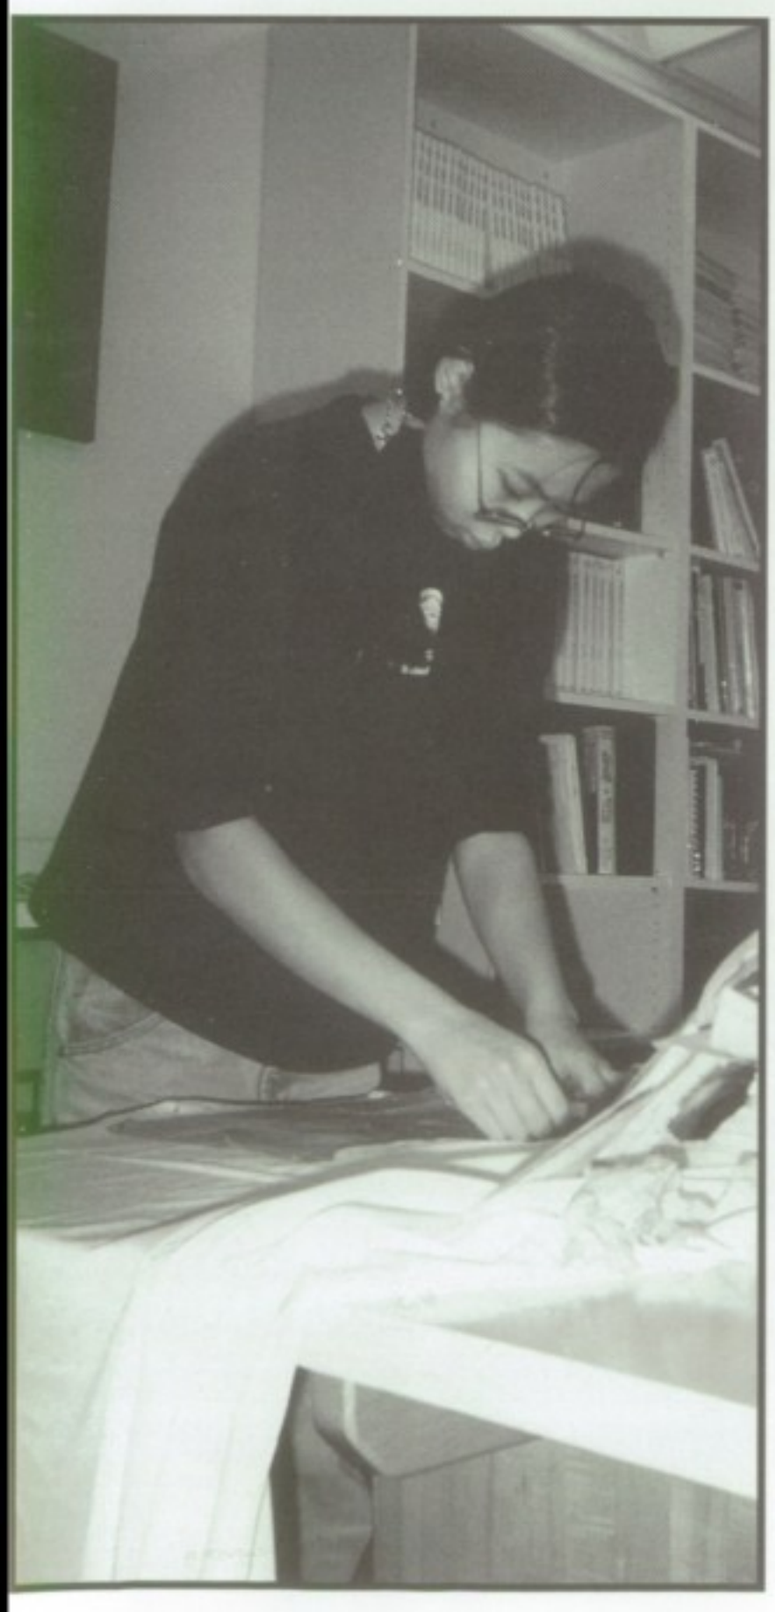
Class doesn't always have to be boring – students and teachers make the time interesting

Drivers Education is required before teenagers can earn their licenses. "I'm glad I got to take this class, I learned a lot from Mr. Tolano," said Jenni Gableman (03).

U.S. History is a hard class, but knocking down an entire set of books doesn't make the homework go away, as A.J. Sorenson (02) learned the hard way.

Justin Sibley (02) makes a fantastic bowl in his cermaics class. This is his second time taking this class because he loves it so much.





Too nimble for a thimble... In sewing class, Kathleen Auyeung (02) works to complete her assignment - a pair of cool pants. The best thing about this class was that students could wear what they made as soon as they had finished. "I like making stuff I can wear. This class is so awesome!" said Auyeung.

A great skill... Learning how to sew was an easy challenge to accept for Kim Armburst (03), who enjoys the class because she can make her own clothes, and because the teacher allows the students to work at their own pace to finish their projects. "This class rocks!" said Armbrust.

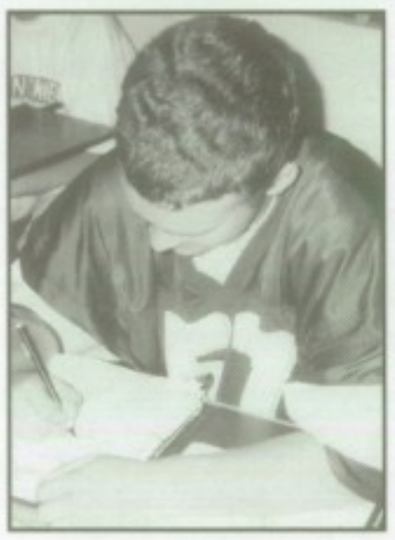
Clothing is a fun class to take. It requires a lot of concentration and hard work to get the stitches right. "I like to make different and fun new things," said Amy Miller (02).

"Computer class rules!"

Alicia Smith (02)

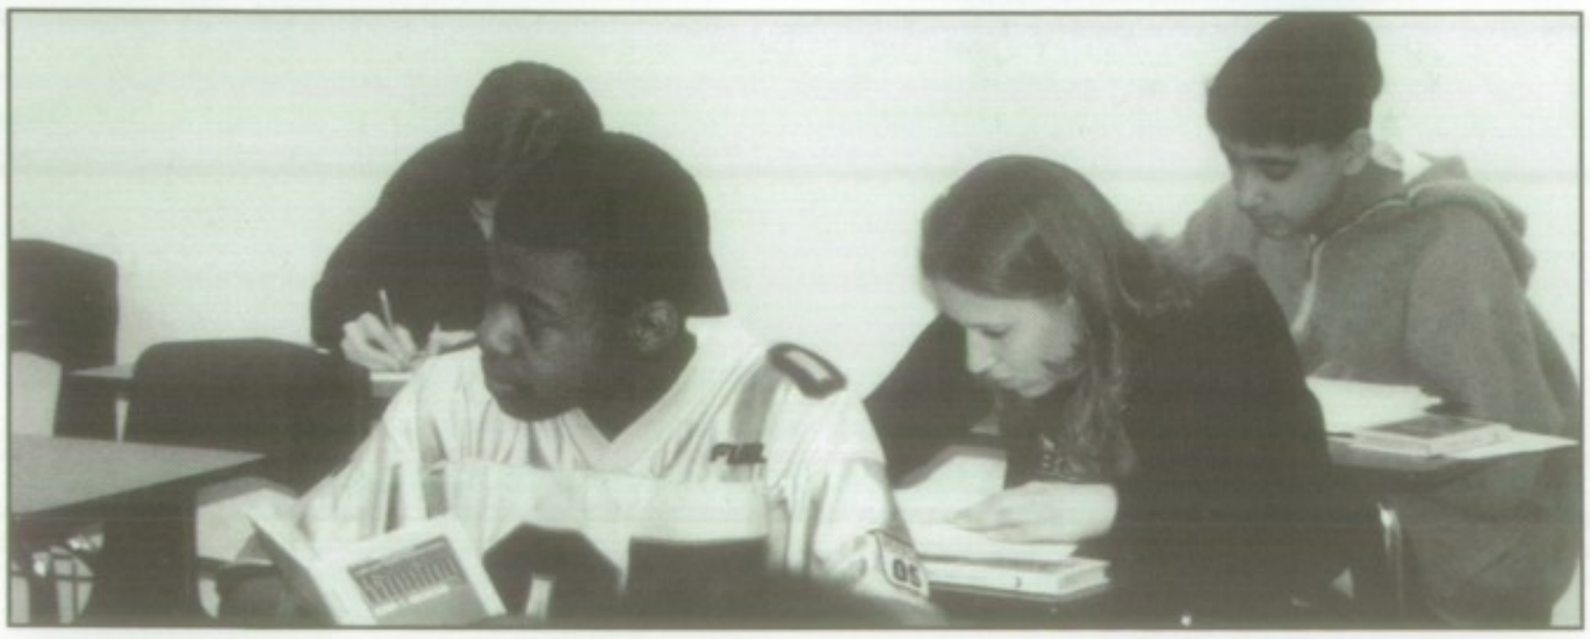
"It's fun because you learn something new everyday [in Spanish]."

Sarah DiPrinzio (04)



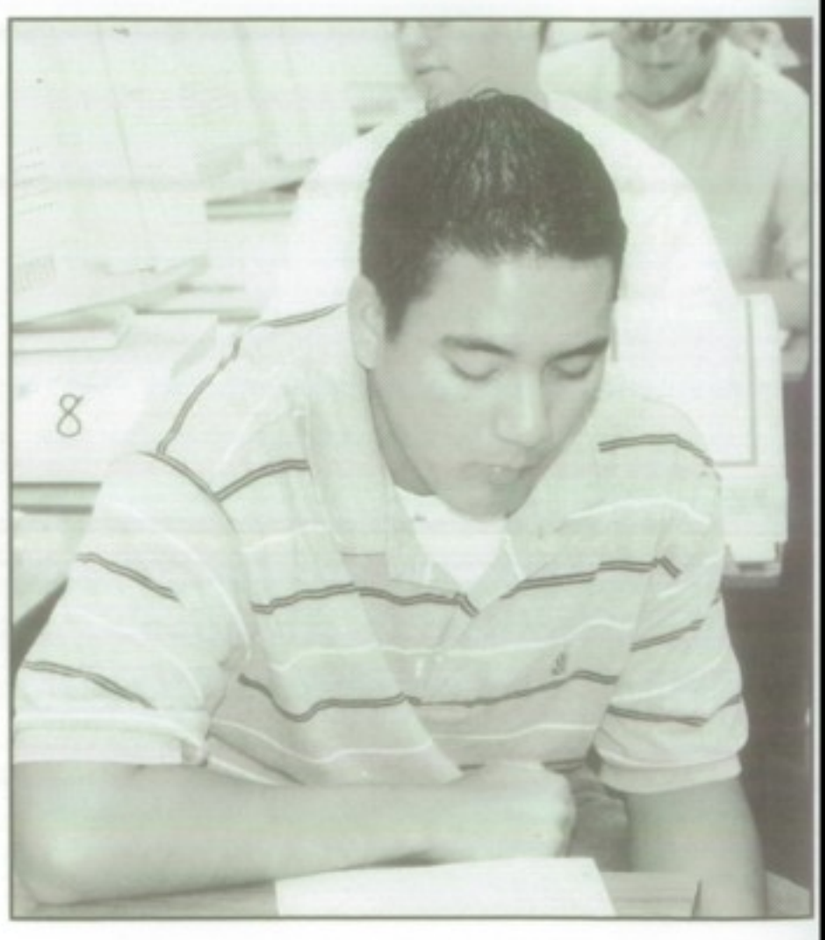
"Working in class is not as fun as it looks!"

Mark Kunkel (03)



Freshman English is always a great learning experience for students like Kyle Smith (04) who receive the opportunity to read award winning books. Freshman also study grammar, short stories, and poetry.

Computers class is something we all have to go through. It is a great skill for any one interested in any type of business to learn. Students like Chris Brown (03) have to learn the rules of keyboarding properly.



Too much excitement in class

Math for sophomores is fun when they get to take Algebra 1-2. Robby Altizer (03) said, "Sometimes I just sit back and watch how much work we all do."

Foreign Language classes, like Mrs. Catherine Kawakami's eighth period, need hard work and good study skills. All classes take a lot of dedication and hard work to get everything done at the semester.

We've Got Talent

The Talent show took place on January 25 at 7:00 in the theatre.

The show included singing, dancing and just having a good time.

Oustanding performances came from first place winners Samantha Duran (01) and Jarrett Hardester (01) and second place winner Courtney Brown (01).

I love to sing. Senior Marquis Gardner performed the song "I turn to you,"by Christina Aguilera. "The talent show was a fun experience. I got to sing one of my favorite songs,"said Gardner.

We're all having fun

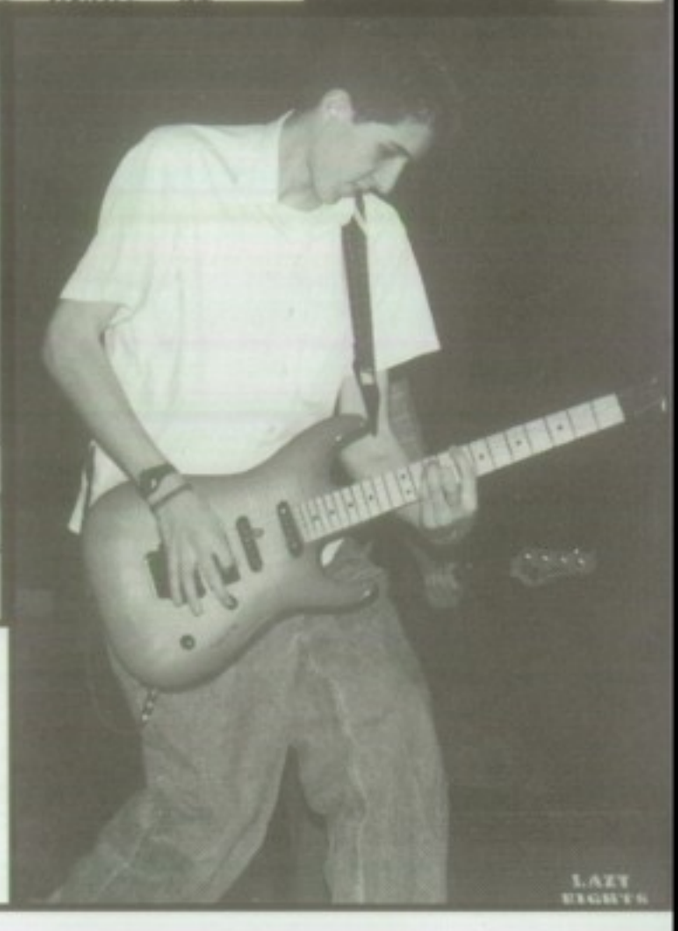
It's not just get on stage and sing- you've got to practice.

"I love to perform. It wasn't about competition to me. I had a lot of fun!"

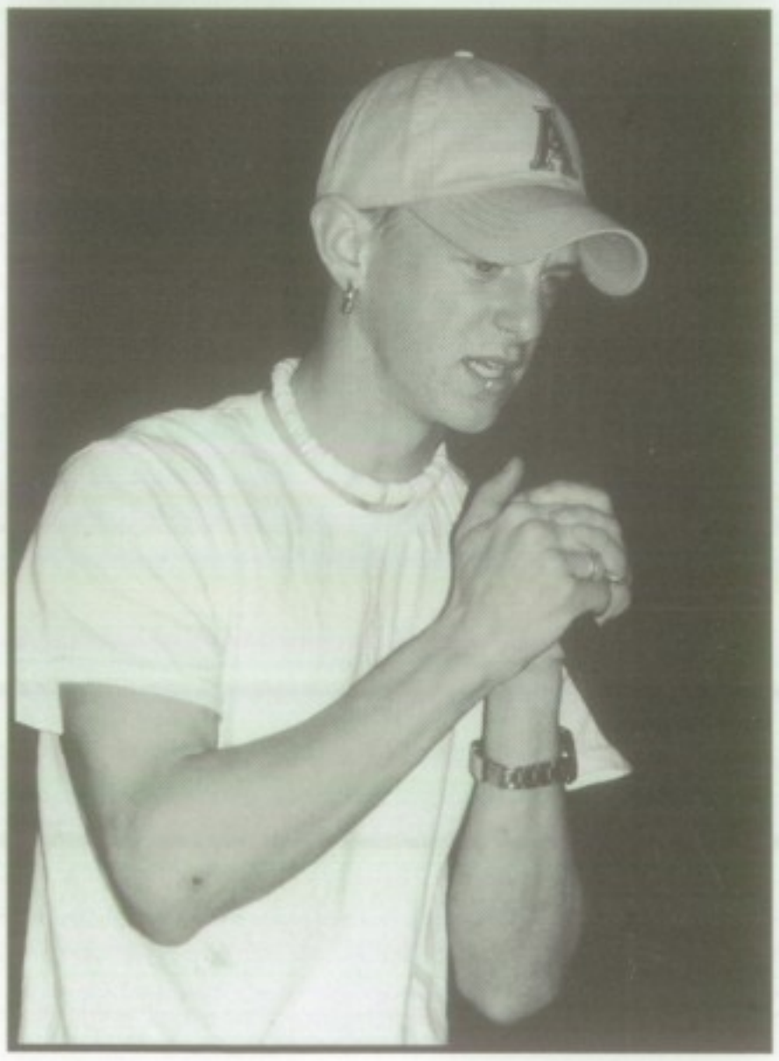
-Erin McNally

Hours of practicing paid off for Erin McNally(02) and John Lorentzen. Although they didn't place, they both had fun practicing. "Mr. Lorentzen and I spent time making sure everthing went perfectly," said McNally.

We are the best. Another Reed band, Breakneck, performed at the Talent show. Andrew Eckes, Kyle Givani, Tyler Elliot, Robert Ponte and Grant Kelly. "Word" said Eckes.



Playing the guiter, Kyle Givani rocks out during the talent show. Breakneck rocked the house! "We had a great time playing at the talent show, we should've placed. Word!" said Givani.

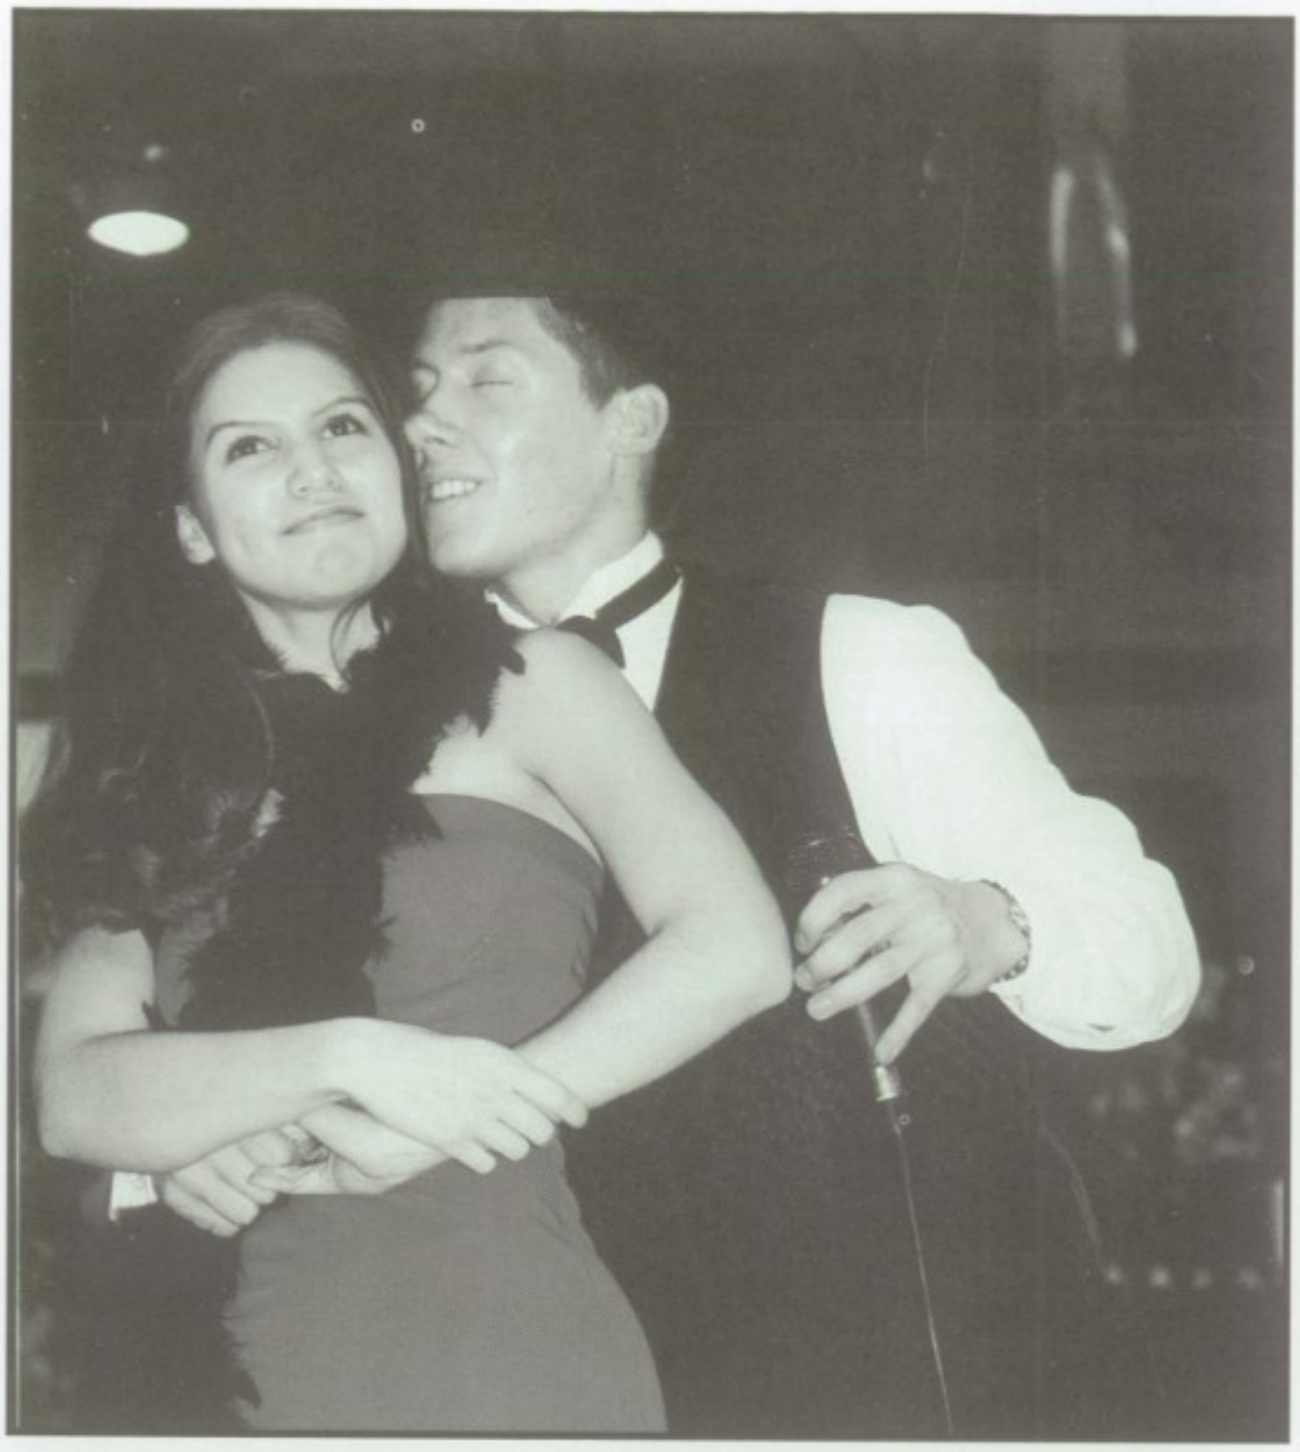


Pray that I win! Essence's Eric Kuiken(01) sang like a pro at the talent show. The band performed Linken Park's "One Step Closer." "It was fun and I'm glad everyone had fun dancing on stage, even though we got in trouble. Come to our shows!" said Kuiken

Things getting a little out of hand. During the performance of Essence, students jumped on stage and started moshing to the bands music. It didn't last long before Mr. Babb broke up everything. "I felt like getting crazy with my friends, it was all for fun," said Horner

Sing the Yodel song! Senior Courtney Brown (01) took second place at the talent show. "I'm glad I got a chance to perform my senior year, I had a lot of fun," said Brown.

It must be "Witchcraft" for Samantha Duran and Jarrett Hardester. Their performance earned top honors. "It was an honor to win first place especially being a senior" said Duran.



Some things stay the same...
- Lots of talented students
- Great crowd support
- Big Prizes

Some things change...
- The winners
- The performances
- Crowd and Performer connections

"Not only did our band tear it up, but we had the whole crowd behind us. Thanks for the support."
-Brian Day (01)

"Even though I think the two bands should've placed, it was still fun!"
-Mike Lockwood (02)

"I had a lot of fun performing in the talent show. It was a good experience."
-Brittny Adlish (03)

"You better believe it: I did it for Austin!"
-Trei Vossler (01)

I'm really into singing this song Jessica Otto (02).

Essence: Mike Lockwood (02), Brian Day (01), Eric Kuiken (01) and Anthony Sifre (02).

Practice makes perfect Sara Sydenham (01).

In order to form a more perfect union

It was a great way to end their local competition; Reed's team qualified for the national competition in Washington, D.C.

"It was one of the most enlightening... experiences of my life," said Heather Marvel (01).

Thumbs up. Mike Garland, Peter Spence, and Valen Hernandez pose in the snow for their group picture. "It was a class, it became a lifestyle," Garland.

"I love this group..."

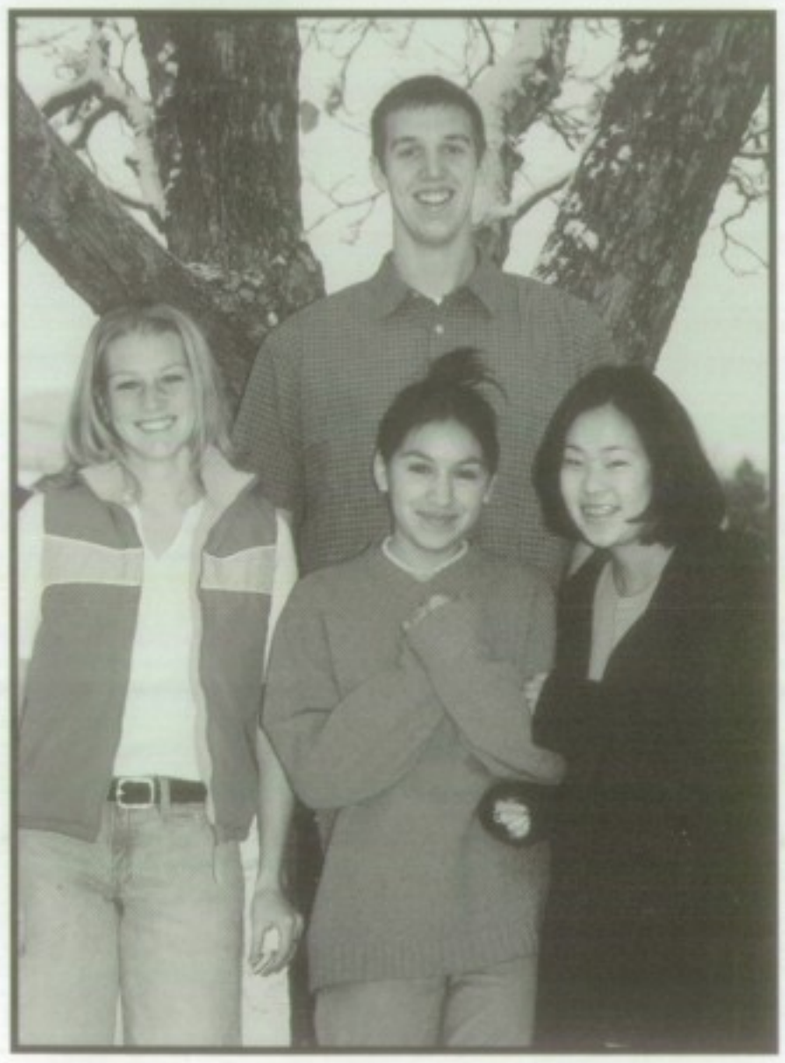
Experiences changed the way they viewed education

"They are an incredible inspiration.. the experience will live with me forever."
-Mark Towell

Get to work. Peter Spence and JoyceAnn Afuha'amango. "Stress, work and drama are temporary. Pride, friendship and memories are forever," said Afuha'amango.

Snow and government, what a combination! Jarrett Hardester, Jeff Champagne, Abby Chaney, and Kristina Kamper. "I understand government better. Competing gave me a chance to take a stand on issues," said Chaney.

What are you looking at? Jarrett Hardester is trying to look like he's thinking hard. "Although I developed an ulcer, it was certainly worth all the sweet, sweet lovin'!" said Hardester.



Say "cheese" and smile. Matt Henry, Nancy Ortiz, Christina Kim, Sara Sydenham, showing group unity. "This class was a lot of work, but after a few long meetings and pizza deliveries, it all boils down to fun," explained Henry.

Look at the GQ's of We the People. Nick Arser, Jarett Hardester, Matt Henry, Jeff Champagne, Mr. Mark Towell, Brandon Welty, Peter Spence, Ray Stover, Mike Garland. "I love this group. They are an incredible inspiration. The experience will live with me forever," said Towell.

Riverdance, here I come. Brandon Welty, doing his best not to smle. "Veni, vedi, vici! We came, we saw, we conquered," said Welty.

Reading up on that Consitution. JoyceAnn Afuha'amango does some last minute cramming for Carson City's state competition, which Reed won to advance to D.C.

Q: How did you feel about being in We the People?

"We the People isn't a class– it's a collection of life lasting memories"

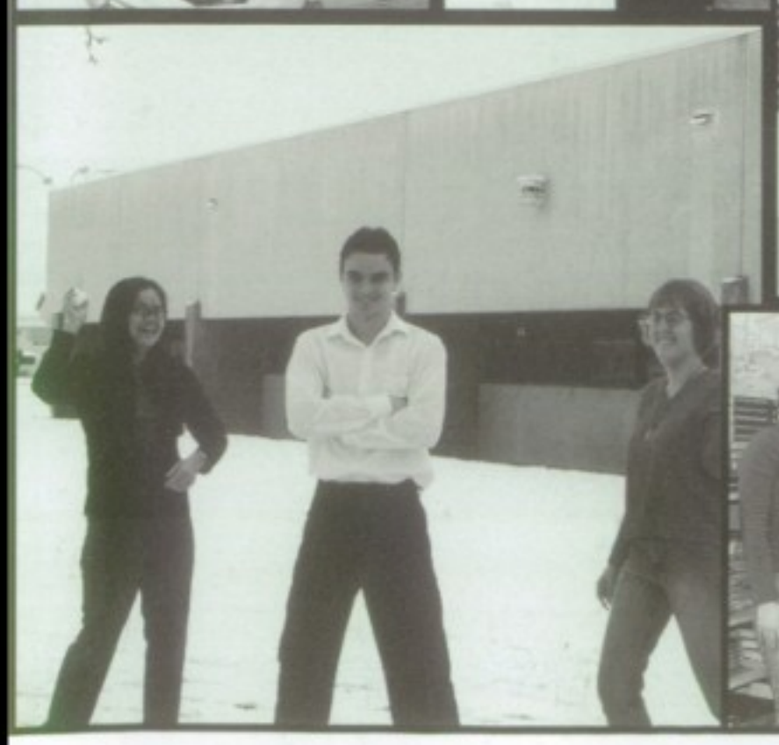
-Sara Sydenham

"It's been absolutely crazy all year- especially with 'drama'- but we pulled through in the end."

-T T Tran and Heather Marvel

"Taking We the People is like taking 'the road less traveled,' but that has made all the difference."

-Monica Macaluso



It was about hard work and dedication to academic studies, but it was also about having fun and getting to know each other better. The group had an early start each morning, and had to get right on top of their stuff to make sure they could win. In the end, their efforts paid off with a chance to go to Washington, D. C., for the low, low price of only $20,000. The students held a raffle and did other fundraisers to earn the cash needed for the trip. This money was successfully raised by the second week of March.

Sierra Schools Credit Union FBLA

FBLA members learn a lot about opening a business, running it, and advertising it. They spend countless hours doing service projects as well as their assignments. Yet, they do not even earn a credit for being in the group!

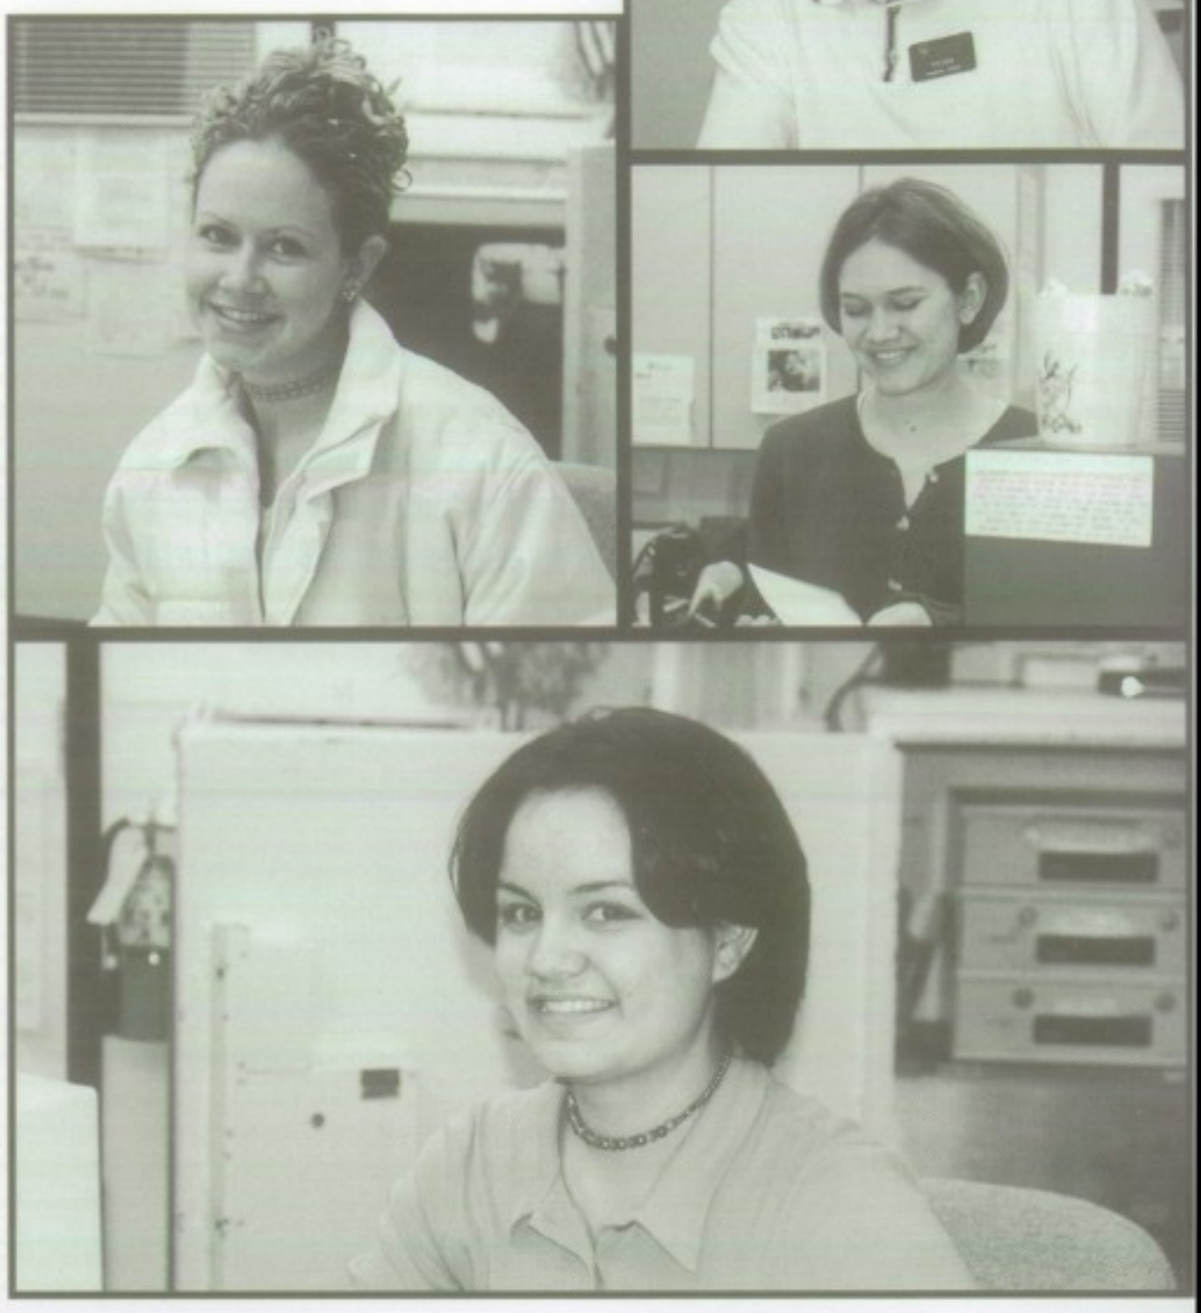
SSCU students do not earn money, but they do earn a credit for being in the teller class and doing the bank work assigned to them. They also enjoy themselves.

Students who took SSCU as an elective class found that it was quite an educational and fun class. Shauna Cain said, "This is my first year, and it is a great experience. I have learned a lot."

Kevin Dacio said, "I am taking this class next year. I have made great friends."

Amanda Mangaoang said, "This has been such a great learning experience for me."

Kim Armburst-Works at the main branch because of the class. "I have a great time being in class."
Victor Perez-"Bling Bling money ain't a thing"
Monica Macaluso- "It was a fun, relaxing class." "This class helped me with my people skills."
Tara Olson-"Good experience for buisness needs."



Alexis Hill had a blast in her SSCU class this year. "It was a way fun class! I am the Diva of all tellers. I am also the joker person of the group."

One big happy credit union family! The tellers learn skills they can apply in the real world of work and build camaraderie as well.

During her time as a teller, Megan Riley enjoyed her assignments. She said, "This class was ots and lots of fun! You meet a lot of different people. Most of the time the class goes by fast."

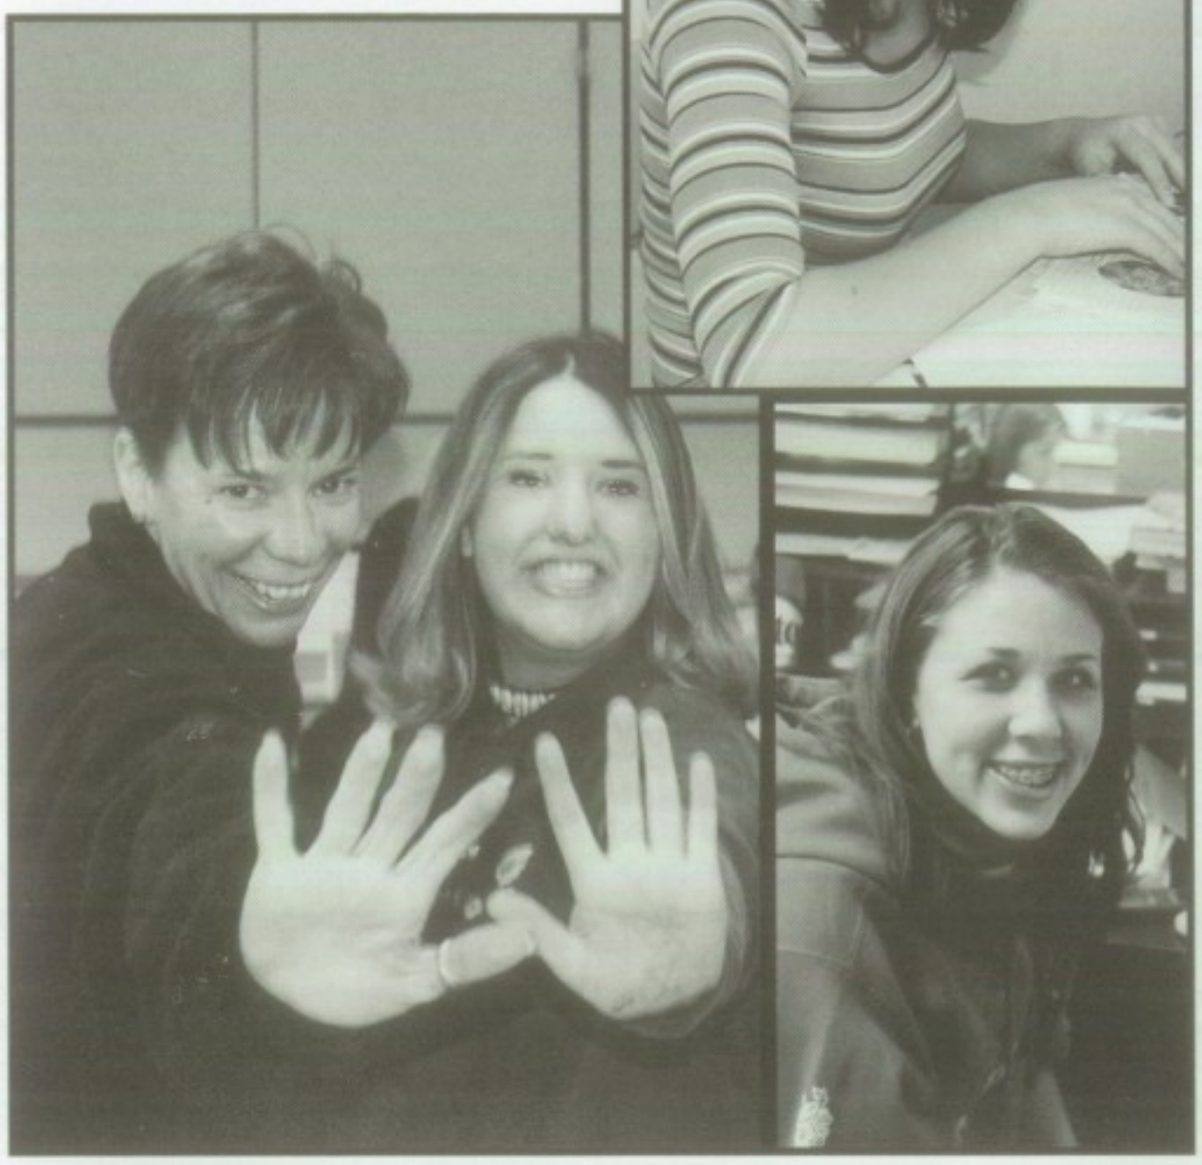
Place Big Headline Here

When they showed up for their first day of year book class, students got a lot more than they had bargained for. They found out there was a new teacher, a new way of doing year-book, that underclassmen would be allowed on staff, and oh yeah, they did the newspaper too.

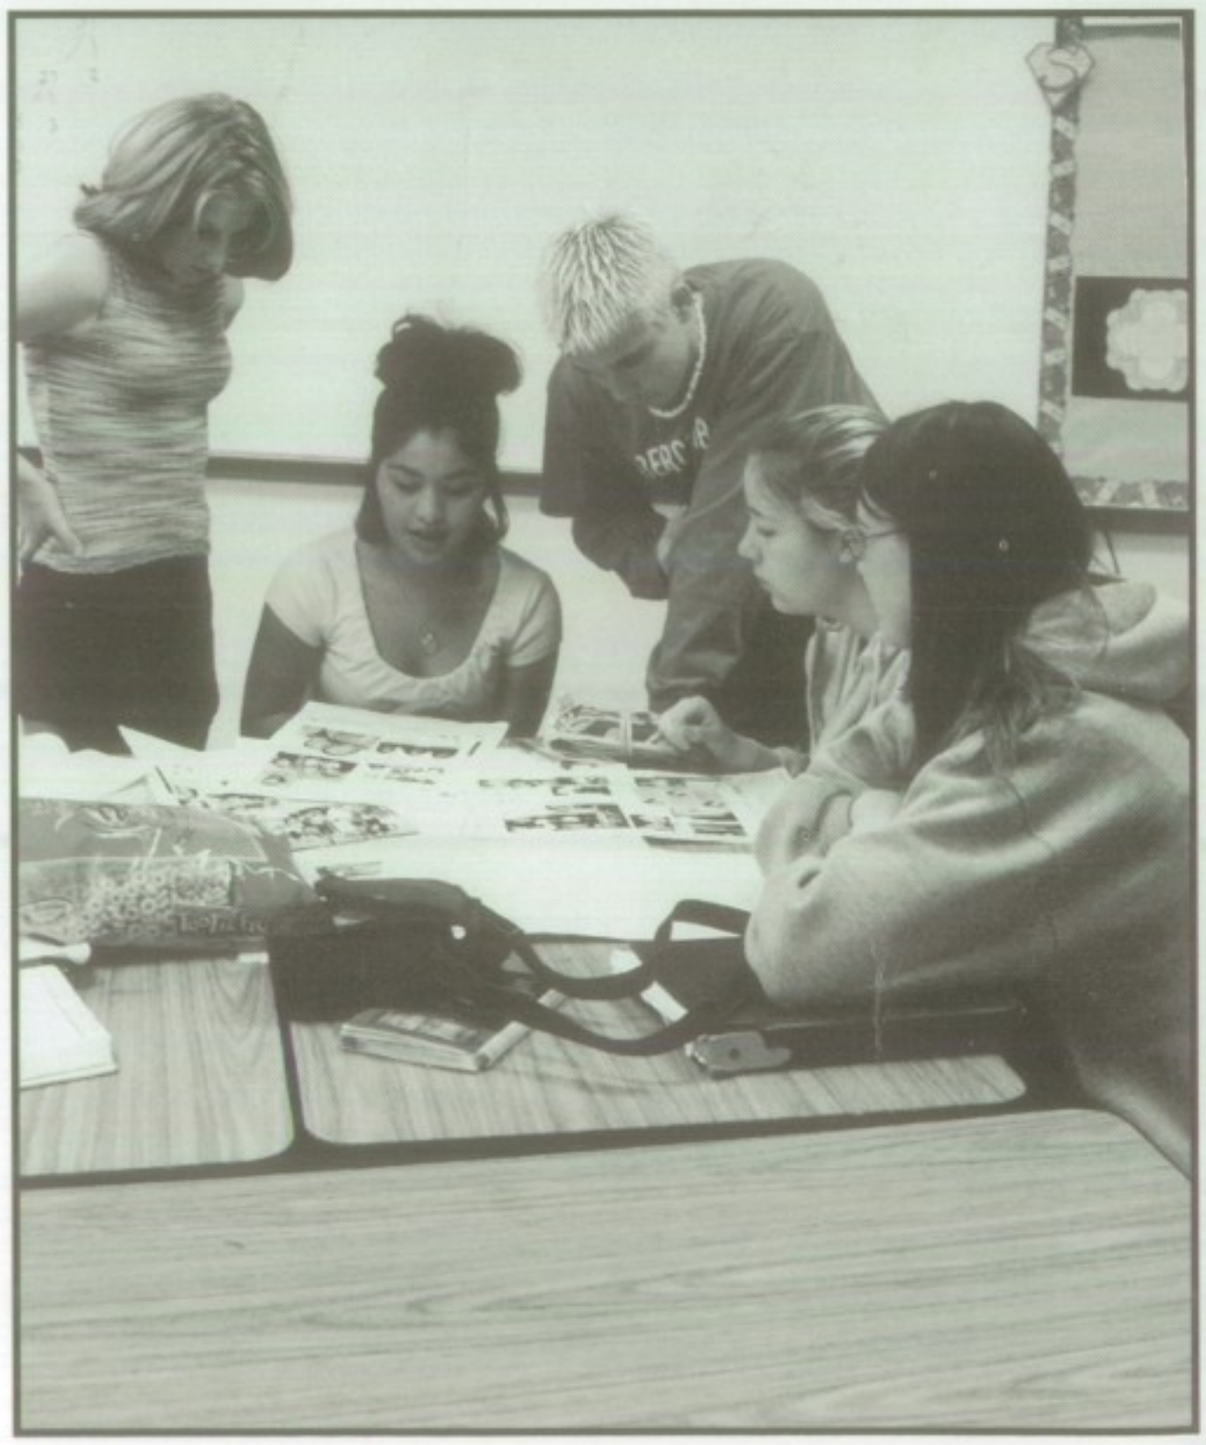
But the staff pulled together, cut out bad attitudes, and created a memorable book and paper.

Work, work, work!!! Creating the yearbook was quite a challenge, however, we managed to have a ton of fun doing it. We ran around, danced, sang and also somehow completed spreads.

What's the X? Even our new and wonderful teacher, Liz Walsh, got involved in our jokes, because after sitting in the same room typing for six hours straight, everone found something funny. It was hard at first, especially because nobody knew how to do what Walsh wanted them to do, but we all grew on eachother and eventually the class became a productive and fun one. Now for this layout to be perfect, all of this space should be filled with fun and interesting facts, so there.

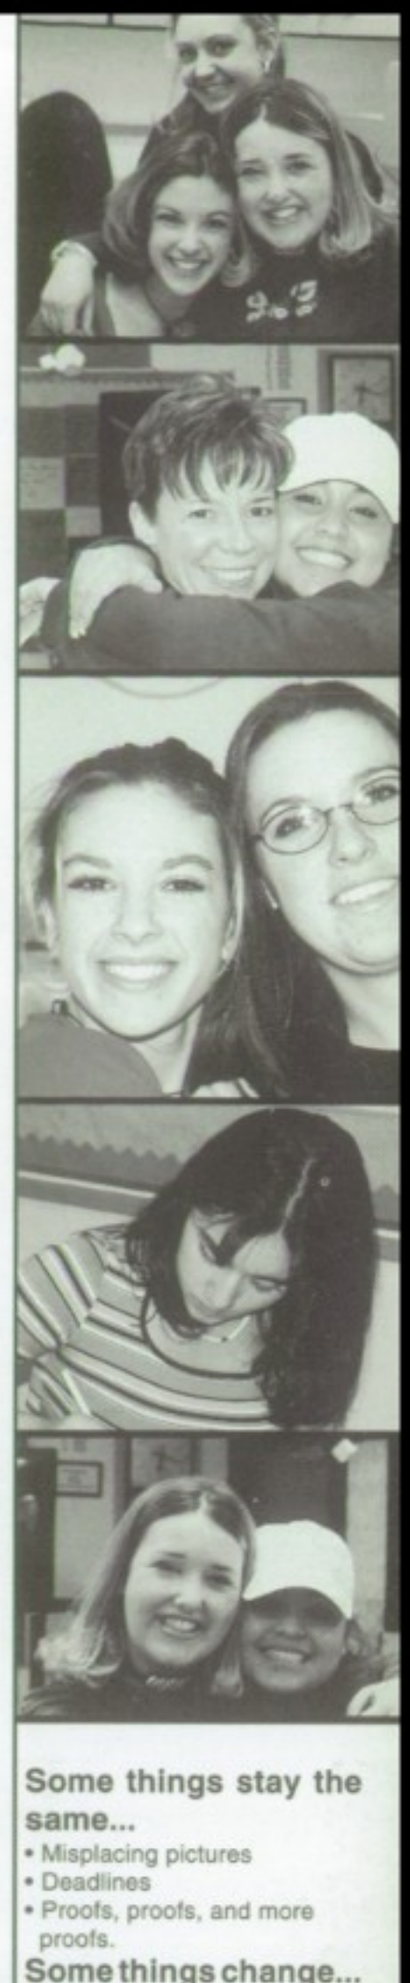


ROTSA! Being confined in a small room with Cathleen Corsun, Claire Housby, and Britlyn Beck (02) makes us all go a little crazy and creates a lot of inside jokes that will aways last. The inside jokes usually came from people messing up on their spreads or forgetting to identify people before the due dates.



What were we thinking when we did this layout? As proofs come in, staffers like Chelsie Riley (04) Christy Liem (03) Jerod Perkins (03) Brittany Pearson (02) and Kelly Wood (01) have to review everything and try to fix their mistakes. Sometimes this works well, other times, it doesn't.

A bunch of nuts! The publications class poses for their yearbook picture after a hard day of computers crashing and misplacing pictures. Not only did we work during the day, we also worked well into the night and sacrificed our Fridays and Saturdays to get the yearbook and newspaper done.

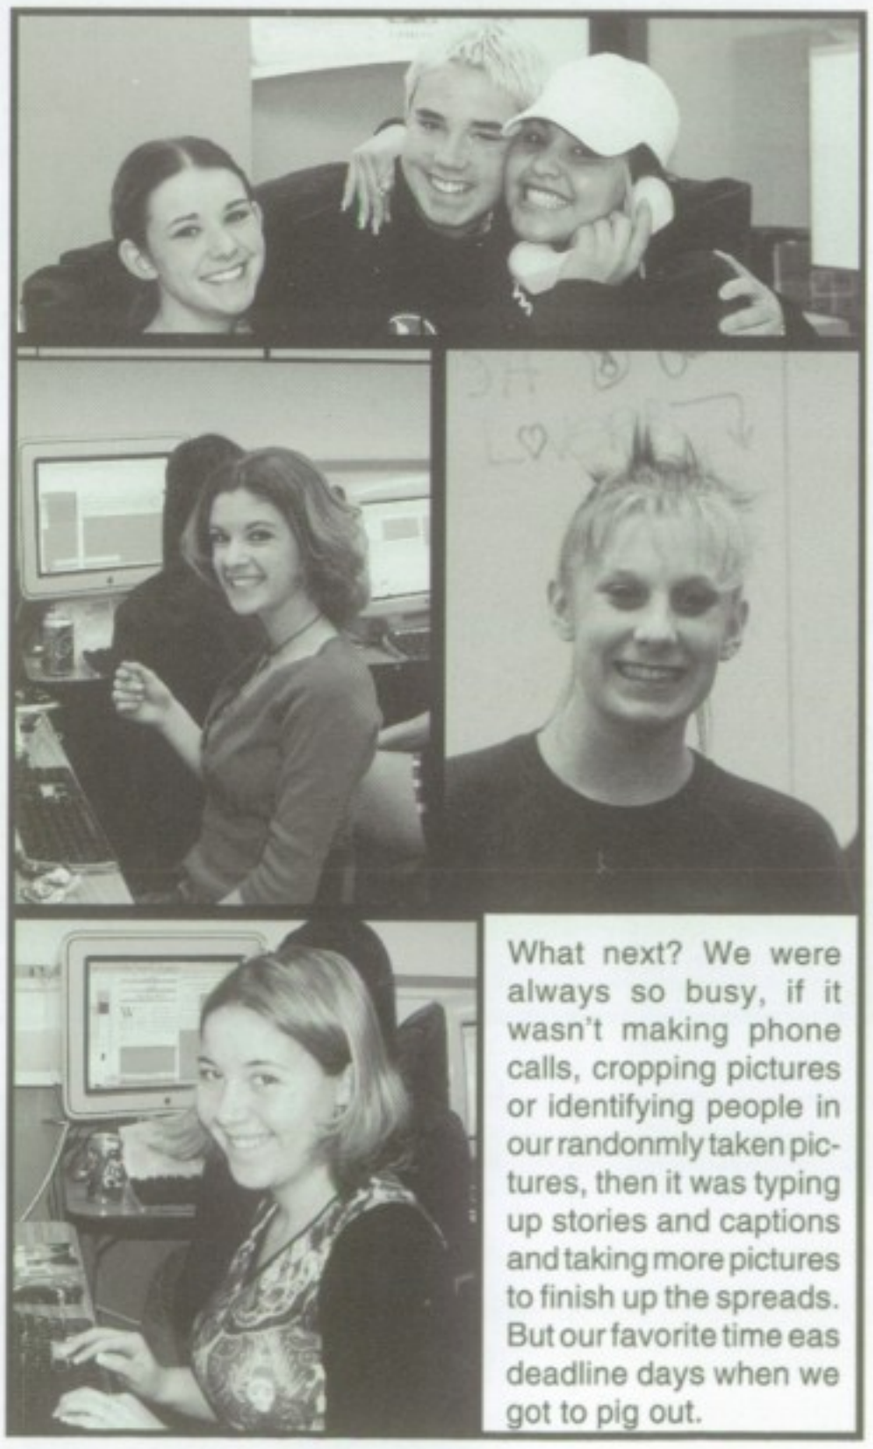


Some things stay the same...
- Misplacing pictures
- Deadlines
- Proofs, proofs, and more proofs.

Some things change...
- The teacher
- The entire yearbook
- Doing the newspaper too

Leave it to Beaver (and other private jokes)

Did sombody say wood? This was just one of our many jokes that we made with eachother over the year. Other jokes include: Ashley the orgo with her hunch-back finger and all of those crazy pictures we took of eachother, then there was everyone beating up Jerod, and everyone going crazy when the computers wouldn't work and the computers yelling, "It's not my fault!" at us! Mrs. Walsh with her rubric for grading the yearbook spreads that scared everyone to death in the first week, and "semester end," when the staff changed drastically. These are things we will always remember.



What next? We were always so busy, if it wasn't making phone calls, cropping pictures or identifying people in our randonmly taken pictures, then it was typing up stories and captions and taking more pictures to finish up the spreads. But our favorite time eas deadline days when we got to pig out.

Two of a kind. Taking a break from their duo, Jarod Eaton (04) and Eric Galperin (04) like going to competitions for several reasons, one of them being the girls.

This is tough. Skeptically, Mike Heinrich (01) looks at the speech he has to memorize. Like we said before, this stuff takes dedication. No Slackers here!

Quotable

"[I like] how much of a team we are and how we have fun because of it."

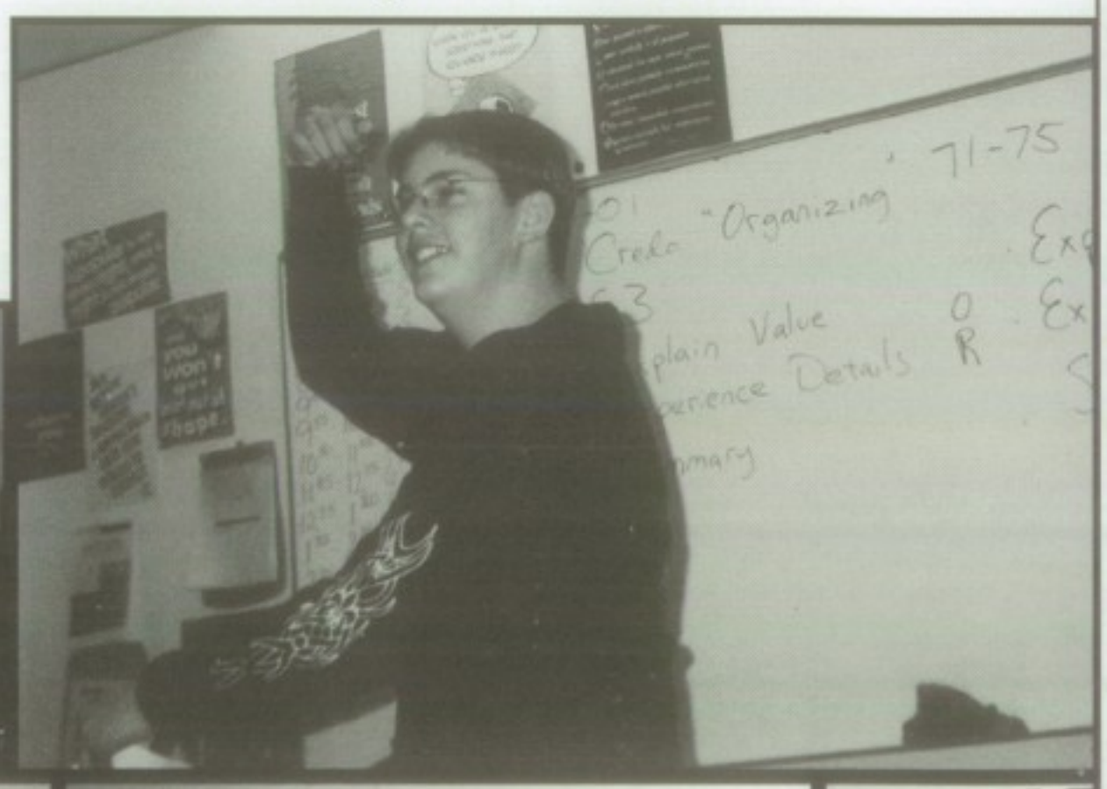
-Kim Stanhouse

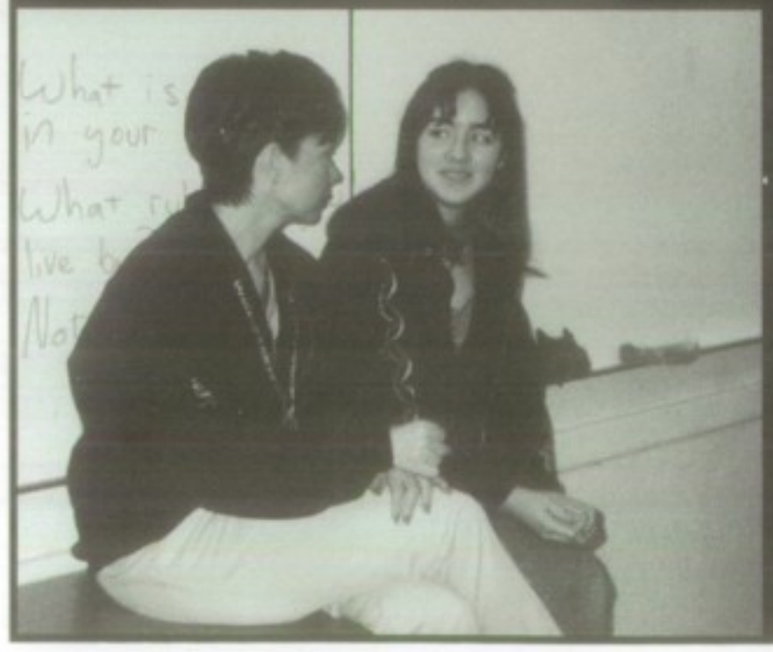
"I enjoy [competition] because I like meeting new people from other schools at competition."

-Wendy Wang

Competition Once a Month Keeps Team in Check

Competition's tough but enjoyable for the team. Speeches and cases have to be prepared and practiced carefully. The team members say it's tough but they like it for many different reasons, one being the competition."I think it's a wonderful oppurtunity for students to compete against other high-schoolers and fine-tune their public speaking abilities," said Mrs. Liz Walsh.





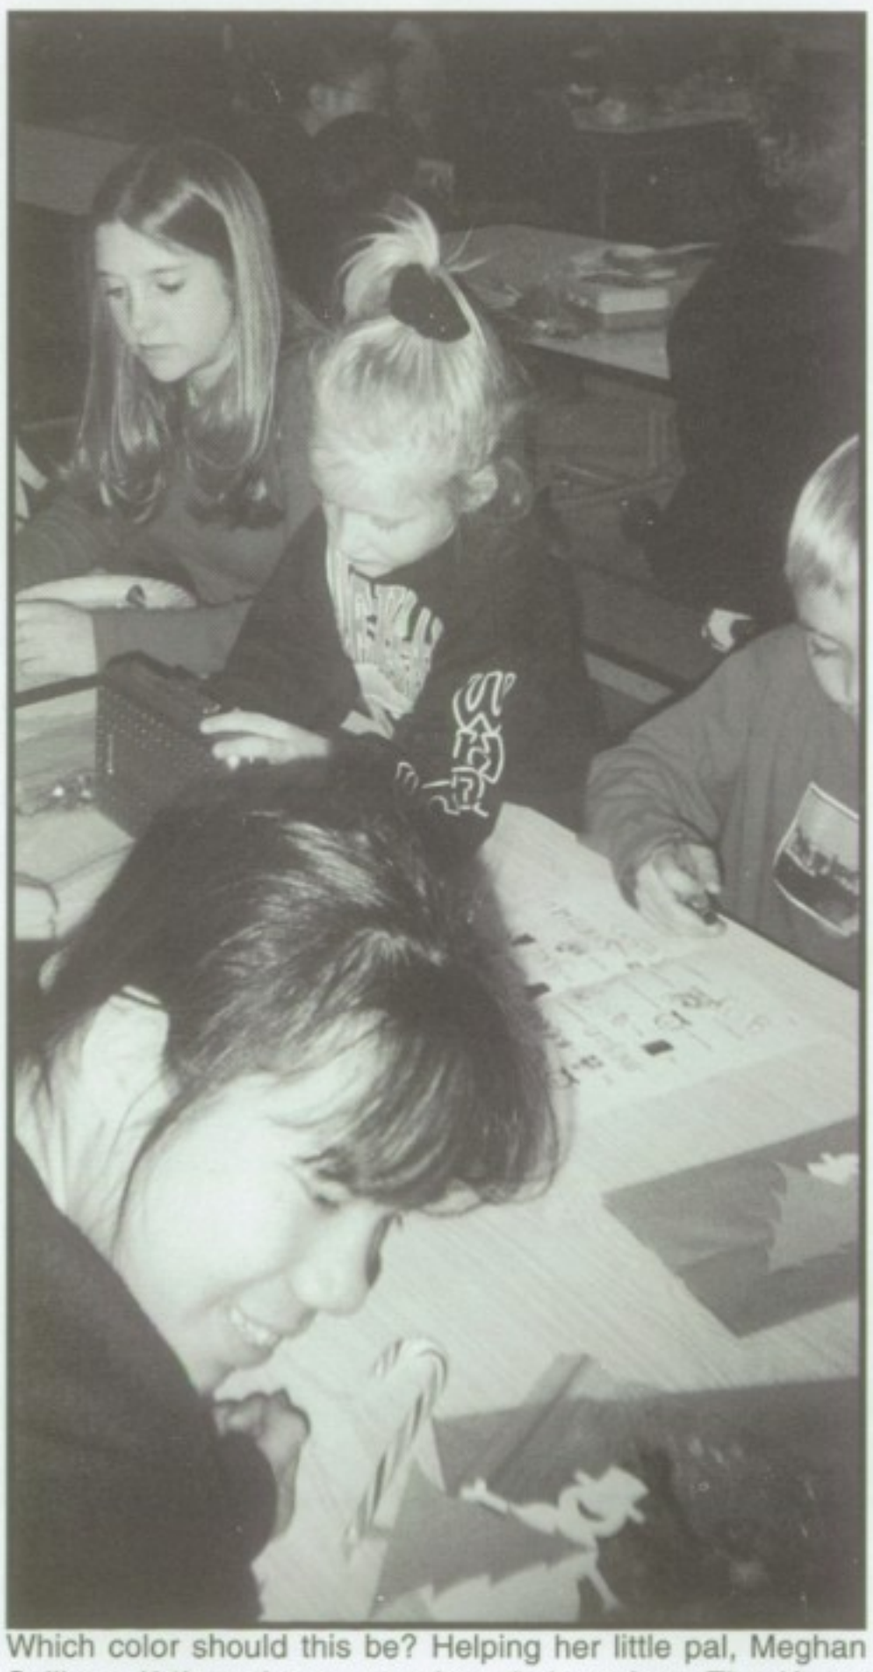
Help me! These discussions can get a little out of hand with our outspoken classmates. Debate topics are hot with this team. Junior Gary Muro (02) shows us what he thinks of this motor-mouth.

Helping elementary school kids was a part of the community service this year. Members of the society spent a day with young kids and even put on a show. Mark Bush (01), Adam Frenza (01), and Linh Long (02) all put on a smile helping these little ones and Alexis Hill (01) does a little dance for the crowd.

A little extra effort

The National Honor Society is an organization for students willing to go the extra mile in academics as well as helping the community. There are grade requirements to join and students give their time to the community. The club not only gets recognition for local services, but being a member can look great on college applications.

The Speech and Debate club was full of excitement this year. The monthly competitions were tough and took a lot of effort to break into finals. Students join to exercise their speech and argumentation abilities.



Which color should this be? Helping her little pal, Meghan Sullivan (01) works to complete their project. The Honor Society visited the children not only to spend time with a younger generation, but to set a good example.

You make me feel like dancing! Knowing how to have fun, Namit Chawla (01) acts out his part as a king. Entertainment was a central part of the work they did to keep the kids interested in learning. "I thought that it was great because the kids had fun and the little guy I was helping said I was funny," said Chawla.

Singing their hearts out

Being involved in choir or In termetzo (Reed's show choir) requires dedication, a strong voice, and the ability to show off some pretty fancy moves.

Members are hard workers who love to sing and dance.

What is going on? giveing a little smileSerinity Warner (02) gives us a little dance number to show us just how good the Reed choir can be!

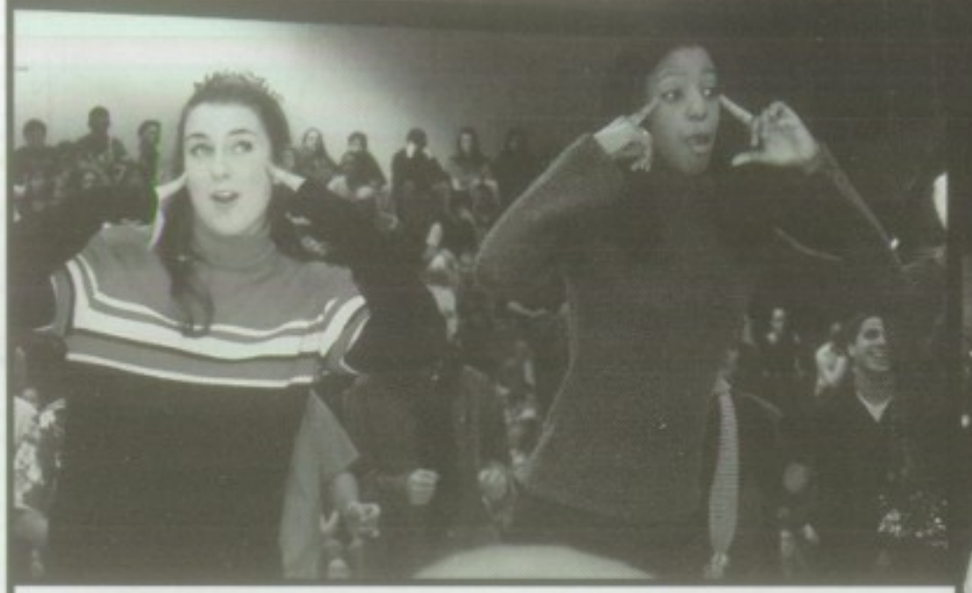
Choir makes life excite

Choir faces always leave a smile behind them

"Speding time with friends was a plus."

-Jennifer Woodcock (01)

Takin a break from singing. Choir students pose for the camera during a performance.Celeste Hafford (04) says, "I liked choir alot this year, it was fun."



Just think about it. Intermezzo members Erin Elliott (02) and Marquis Gardner (01) perform their routine with precision and pizazz, just like they would for competition judges.

Hey baby, check out these moves... Alicia Karau (02) struts her stuff for a great performance. No practicing for this girl! She doesn't need it.

Alicia Karau (02) and Marquis Gardner (01) have became close during the year in choir. "Having friends in class is what I love."says Gardner

Practicing singing for a concert comeing up is something the choir takes advantage of. Getting in as much practice as possible is a must in this class.

Hear my ROAR! Katerina Humperys (03) gives us a smile since she is with such a hottie! She is mezmorized by him! Having this much fun should be illegal in school!

HAHAHAHAHAHAHA! Laughing is one of the most important things to have when your in choir. Jessica Banano (03) takes some time out to enjoy the good things in life.

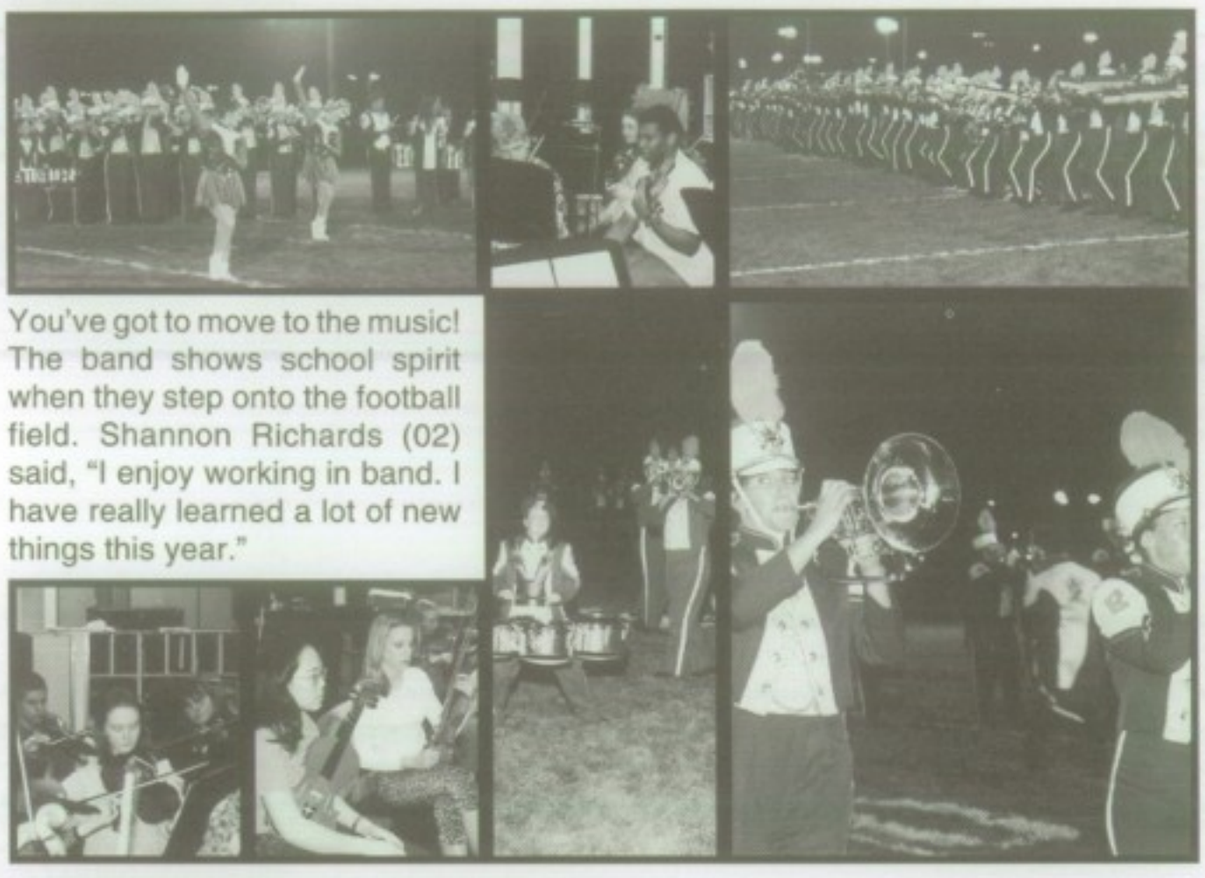
Let the Beat Control Your Body

Whether they were in marching band, con cert band, pep band, drum line, orchestra or wind ensemble, beautiful music flowed from their instruments.

Musicians entertained crowds, impressed judges and enjoyed themselves on the football field, in class and on stage.

It was not easy, but the students and instructors loved it.



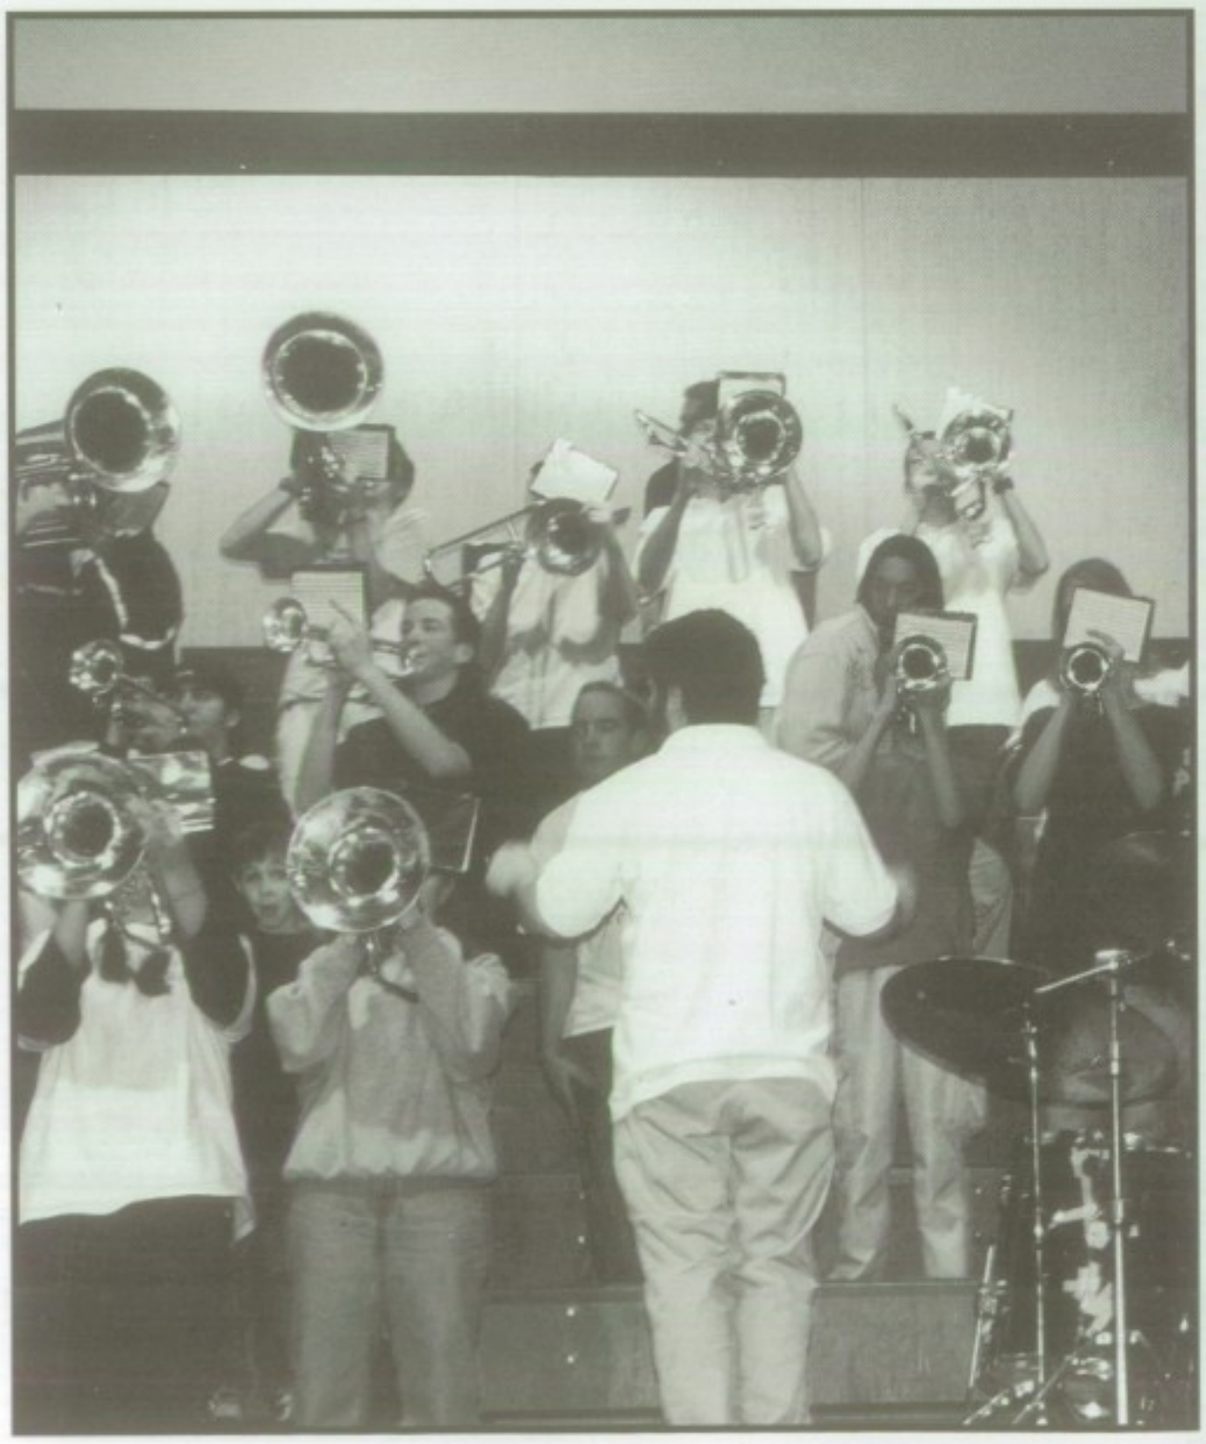
You've got to move to the music! The band shows school spirit when they step onto the football field. Shannon Richards (02) said, "I enjoy working in band. I have really learned a lot of new things this year."

It's all about the brass... When the horn section gets up, audience members get ready to be rocked. The brass section put a strain on older eardrums as they played old favorites and popular new tunes to keep the house pumped.

Play, my children, play! Steve Alberti (02), directs the pep band during one of the hoe basketball games. Band members could choose whether they wanted to participate in Pep Band after playing a season in Marching Band.

Soul of a winner! This season our marching band did fabulously in competition. They worked and strived for their place in the trophy hall, and it paid off. At the, Sierra Nevada Band Day, they took thrid place, at, Fresno, they took fifth and at, McQueen,the marching band blasted everyone away when they won first place.

"We were offensively loud!" said John Cranee, a marching band member. This is one of many inside jokes for band students.



A whole lotta instrument... A member of the orchestra can count on being challenged, whether it is by the director, the music, or the instrument, which can be a bit unweildy at times. Here, Tawny DePaoli gets a workout holding up her bass, which is a daunting task for anyone.

Practice,Practice and Win!

All work and no play! Band students display commitment, sweat and determination, which were three things they encountered all season long. Practices began during the sweltering hot August days and continued until after football season..

Amber Johnson top left is caught with her eyes closed. This just proves the amount of stregth is truly takes to be a band member.

Jason Roamer, (shown bottom right) is helping his friends and getting them in shape, oviously it paid off with all of our wins this year, good job.

Orchestra director Ms. Erin Ferree keeps time at the Open House event.

I've got the music in me...

Music students march to their own, sometimes difficult beat.

Making beautiful music isn't easy, even for students who have been doing it for years. The band and orchestra are constantly getting new pieces to work on so they can improve their technical skills as well as their ability to sightread. And in marching band, students also have to move all around the field while maintaining an even supply of breath to their instruments (well, all of them except the drummers).

Just here to help! Key club meets once a week to plan their services. The members committed hard work and effort to help out around the community. Their results were recognition, smiles, and knowing they did something right: helping out and committing to their own community.

Takin' care of business... The Varsity team meets before a game to dicuss strategies. We are the Champions!!!

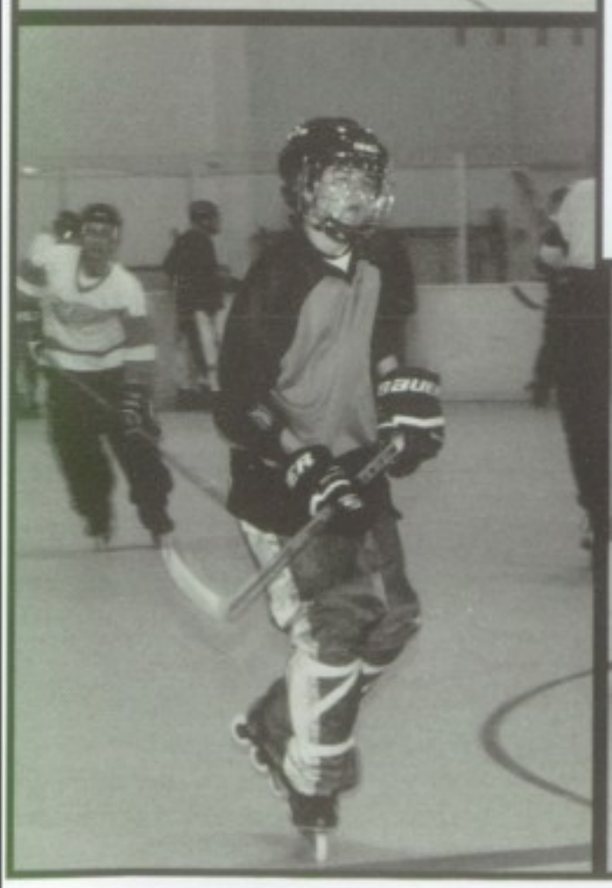
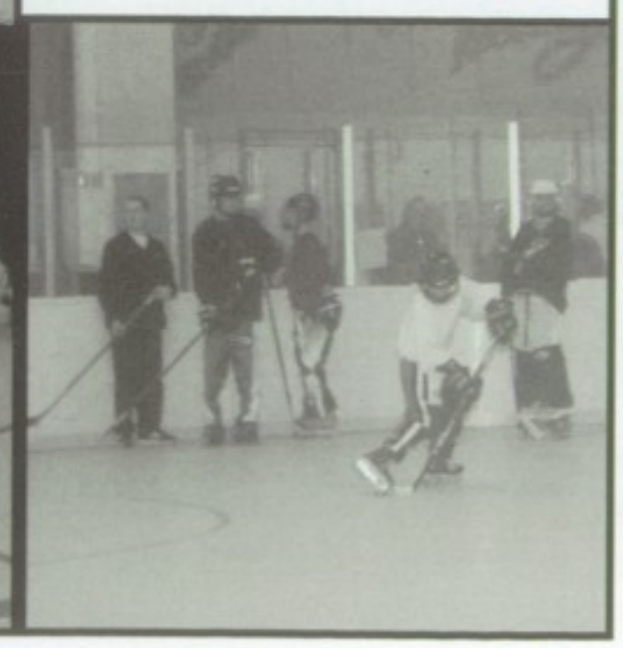
The Varsity hockey team won the championship games this year 6-1. They played long and hard, and they finished with pride. The guys put their skill to the test, playing schools like Reno and Carson at the championship games. "I like it when we win and become the champions," said Kyle Kiviat(04). Every member showed real talent, bringing the team to victory. Congratulations for their success in playing and succeeding in a real sport! This year's seniors included: Steve Ball, Mike Drew, Jeff Hogue, Sean Jabbour, and Brett Porter. Freshman Varsity player Mickey Lang (04) said,"It was tight... The last game was so fun."





A need for speed! Speed-demon Brad LaDue(04) shows off his fancy skills and what he can do. Mickey Lang(04) teases his opponents, and, an excellent goalie, Junior Jacquez(04) makes the block. Guys join the team for many reasons, often more than one. "[I like] getting in fights," said Brad LaDue(04).

What the heck is that? Gabe Sweeney (01) looks under his car to see what the problem is. He has a lot of time in this club to look over his car and fix the things that could use a little bit of work.

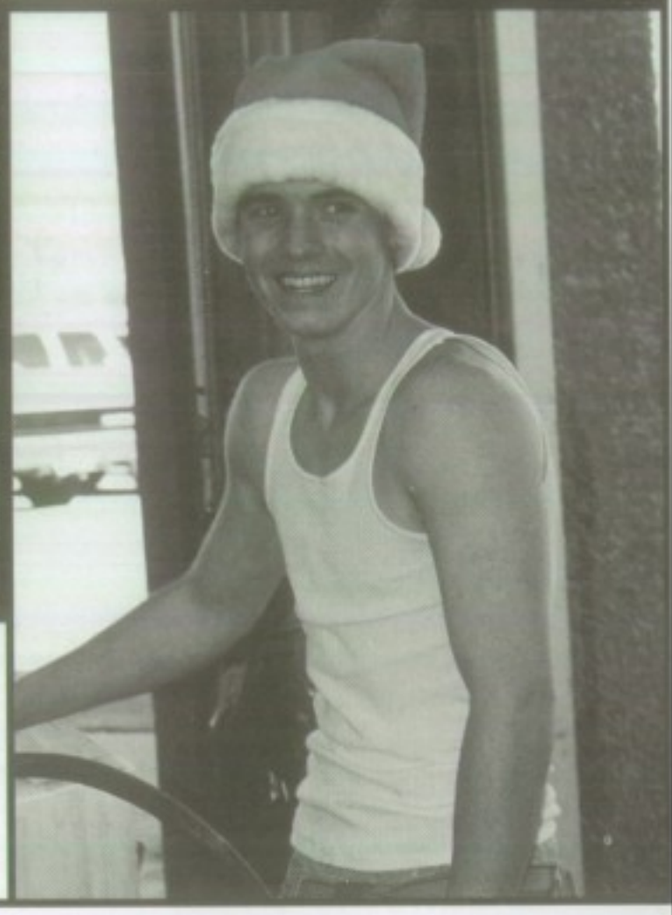
Auto: the class you will certainly use after graduation

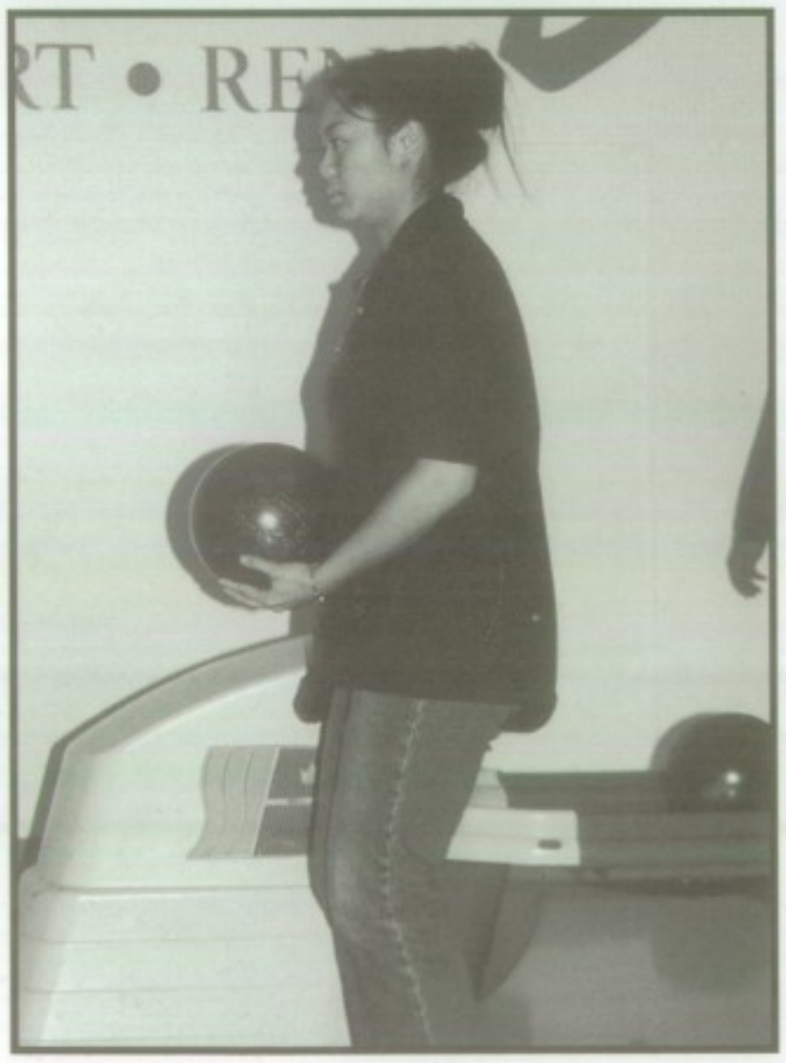
"This class is a lot of fun."
-Joe Kwapich (02)

Auto club is tons of fun.....The many hours spent around cars could be hazardous to their health if they don't take precautions. "Goggles are great protection devices," explained Smith.

Some of the classes in high school may seem pointless, but auto is different. Students use their knowledge in everyday situations, so they know it's important to pay attention.

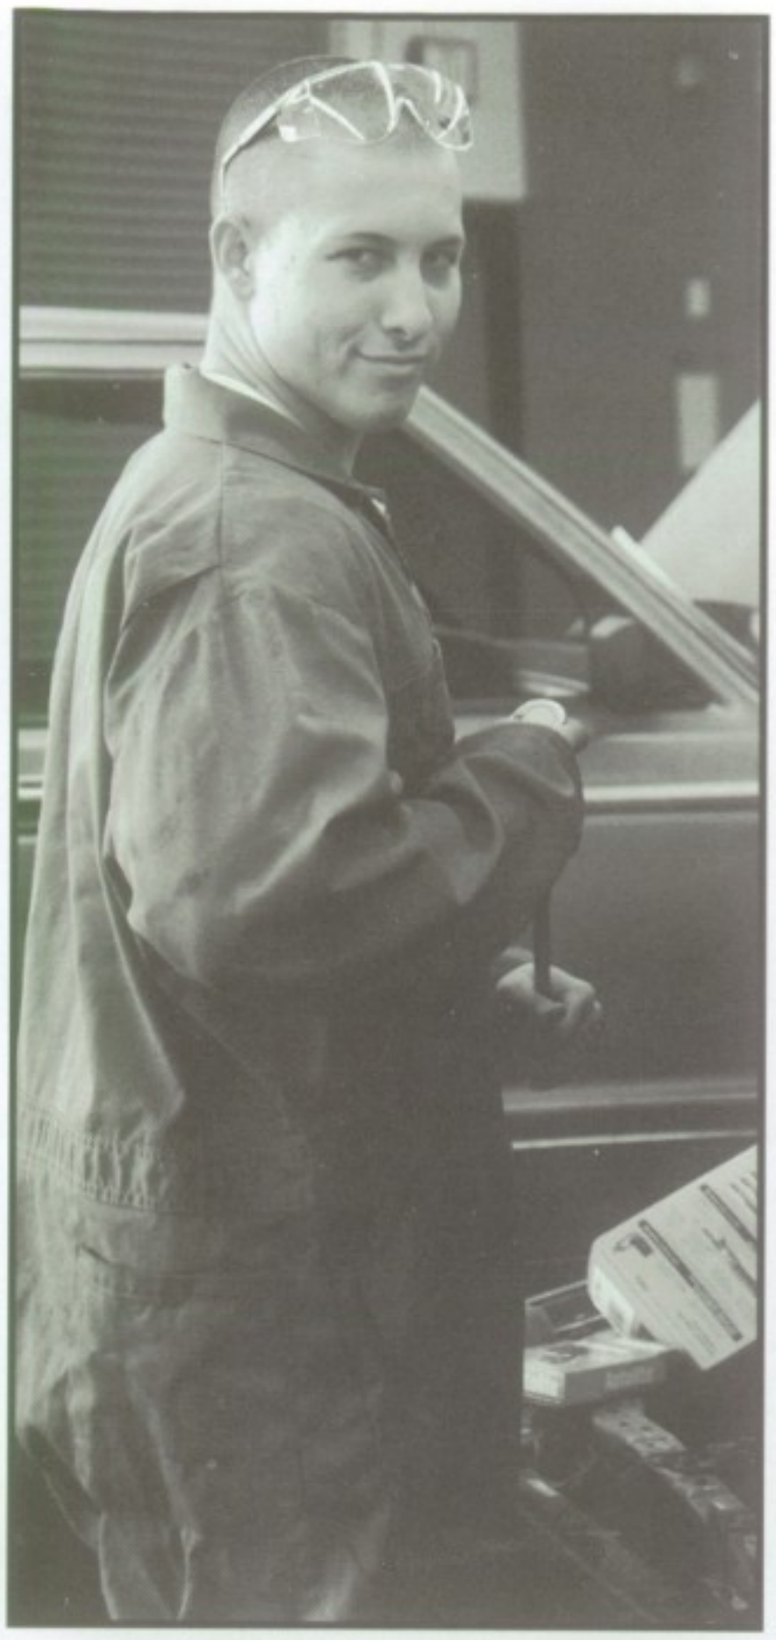
Jerin and Richard Corron are the guys you want in your car when it decides not to work. The skills that they learn in auto will help anybody get out of a jam.





Joan Gita (01) has loads of fun in bowling club. She is a great bowler and tries to work her best to improve her bowling ability. While she doesn't bowl with him often, her brother is also a member of this physically active club.

Look at those shades... Even though it is a pain to wear safety glasses and they make you look like a major fashion victim, safety is always first at Reed High.



What's up, Baby! As each auto student and club member learns more about the automobile and its parts, he is more comfortable with the prospect of fixing major problems.

SMILE! While it isn't officially a sport, these club members get a good workout at meetings. It is a fun way to imporve bowling skills and learn more about a very popular sport.

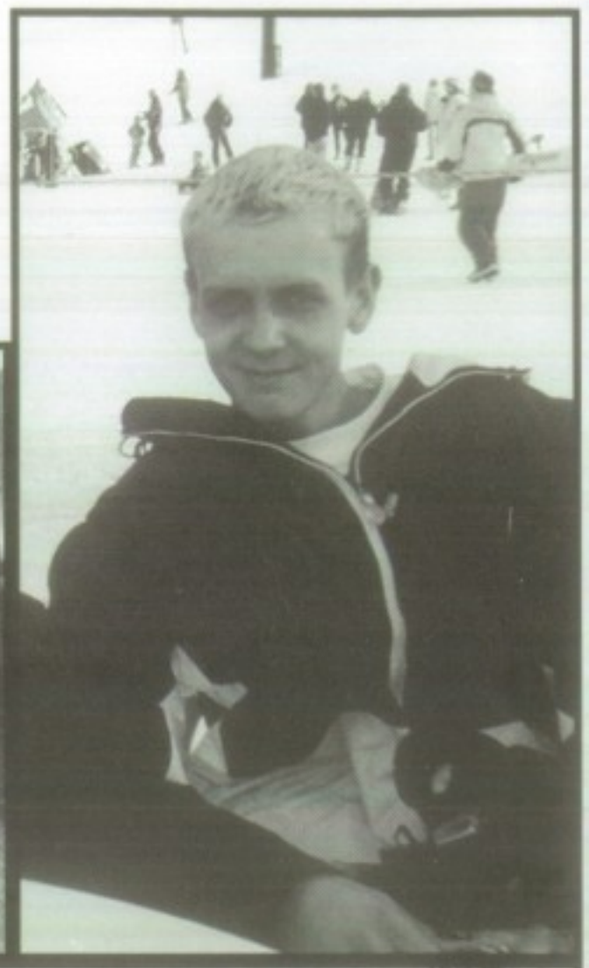
Snow Jam 2001

Though the ski season got off to a late start, the Ski Club still took full advantage of the limited snow. They have gone up to a number of ski resorts, including Mt. Rose, Northstar and Squaw Valley. Anyone was welcome to join, no matter what your skill level was. It was a chance for both skiers and snowboarders to get together and hit the slopes for an exciting day on the mountain.

Like the Ski Club, Japanese Club also took part in many interesting adventures. They made origami and went out for Japanese dinners.

Snowboarders are also welcome to join the Ski Club. Kerrie Easter (02), Leslie Ledbetter (02), and Katie Kunze (02) love to hit the slopes as often as possible, though there hasn't been much snow.

The Ski Club has always been an important part of this school. Kyle Gableman (01), Stephanie Rue (03), Kerrie Easter (02), Leslie Ledbetter (02), and Katie Kunze (02) are all a part of this exciting club. They enjoy being part of a school function while having the freedom to be their own.

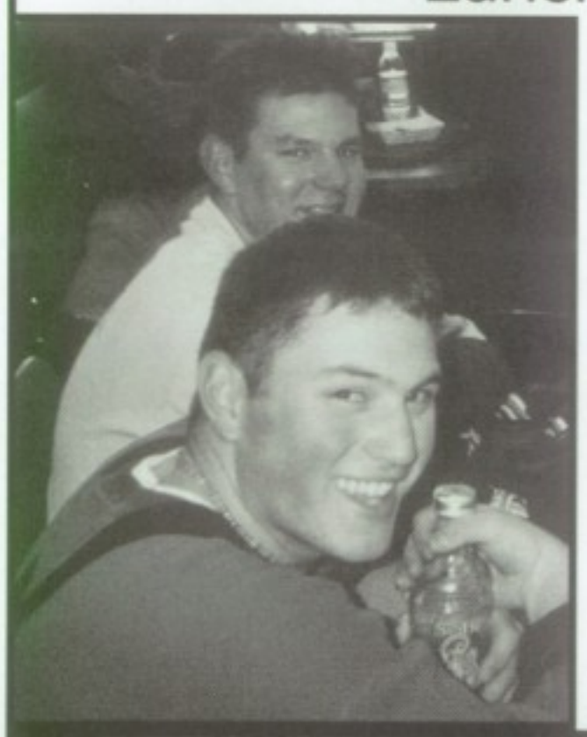


Japanese is another exciting addition to this school. We have only had this club for about two years. The advisor is Mrs. Susan Gearhart also teaches Spanish. They meet about once a week to discuss Japanese culture and also learn the art of origami.

Here we come! Ski team members prepare to hit the slopes. Even though they have to be at school at 7:30 on aSaturday mornings, they still have a big turn out of kids in the club.

With more than twenty members, Ski Club is one of the larger clubs at Reed. But who wouldn't want to join a club that hits the slopes every other weekend? It's a very fun and exilerating club led by Mr. Bridgewater.

Lunch time!



Skiing for six hours straight will make anybody tired and hungry. So don't be surprised when you see many of the Reed Raiders chillin' in the cafeteria, but they try to eat as fast as they can so they don't waste and precious slope time.
Mt.Rose just installed a six-person lift that gets you to the top of the mountain in less than four minutes, so that helps to get more runs in.
Ski Club will probably be a part of Reed for a very long time, so hopefully you will join within your four years here at Reed.

Jenny Gableman (03), Jina Yoo (02), Trista Walker (03), and Michelle Barthuly (03) take a breather at the top of the mountain. Snowboarding can really make your butt hurt, so it's always good to rest as much as possible. But they don't want to rest too long. They might miss out on some good runs.

Courage, Honor, Disipline

Being in N.J.R.O.T.C. is a great honor. The cadets learn discipline and self-respect. Cadets learn many skills for real life and possible military careers. The program reaches many of the fortunate teenagers that are involved in it. R.O.T.C. also teaches teamwork skills which are essential to everyday life. The discipline taught in this course is an important quality. Those who take this program have an advantage above the rest.

Yes drill sargeant! R.O.T.C. members engage in various events thoughout the year. During the year cadets participated in such events as the Navy and Military Ball, Parades, and community service.

The cadets go marching two by two. Repesenting our school at the homecoming basketball game, Nevada Day parade and a rifle team competition, cadets show that Reed really is the best. Members of the R.O.T.C. carried out the colors, shot their rifles, and carried a banner all in honor of our school.

Rising above the rest. Showing how well maintained they really are, members of R.O.T.C. dressed up in their uniforms. Every Thursday the cadets dressed up in their uniform to show their pride and involvement in the program.

Whistle while you march! Hold your head up high and be apart of R.O.T.C. This program is separated into four equal platoons. That in their own special way teach these teens more then they ever expected.

Forward March! Marching through down town Reno the members of R.O.T.C. represents Reed. Representing the school is just one of the many duties that the members in the program have.

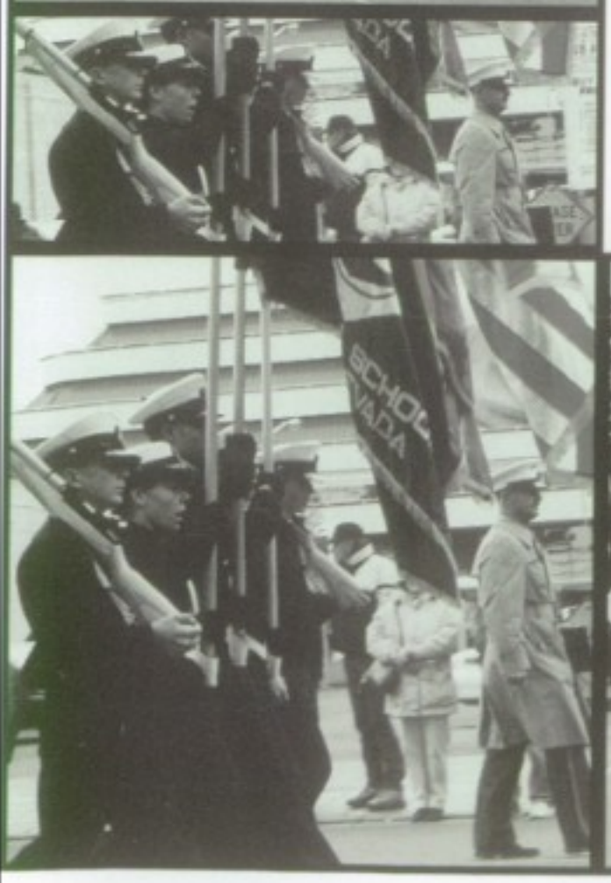
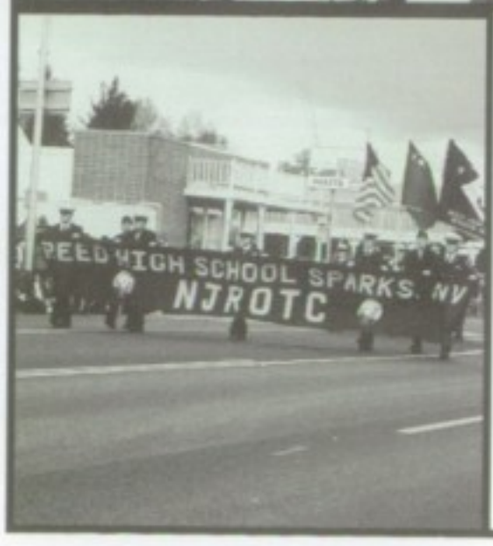
R.O.T.C. Betters all cadets

R.O.T.C. not only focuses on teamwork, self-respect and discipline but also helping out and being in community events. The Raider R.O.T.C. represnts Reed in many parades and events such as the Nevada Day parade. Student cadets marched in parades thoughout Nevada. They showed off their pride for the program and showed the whole cummunity what great people R.O.T.C. has helped them become.





The R.O.T.C. is very involved in our school. During school assemblies and important gatherings at the school the color guard presents the flag of the state, country and school. They also run the food drive for the entire school during the holiday season in which the whole school donates food for needy families in the area.

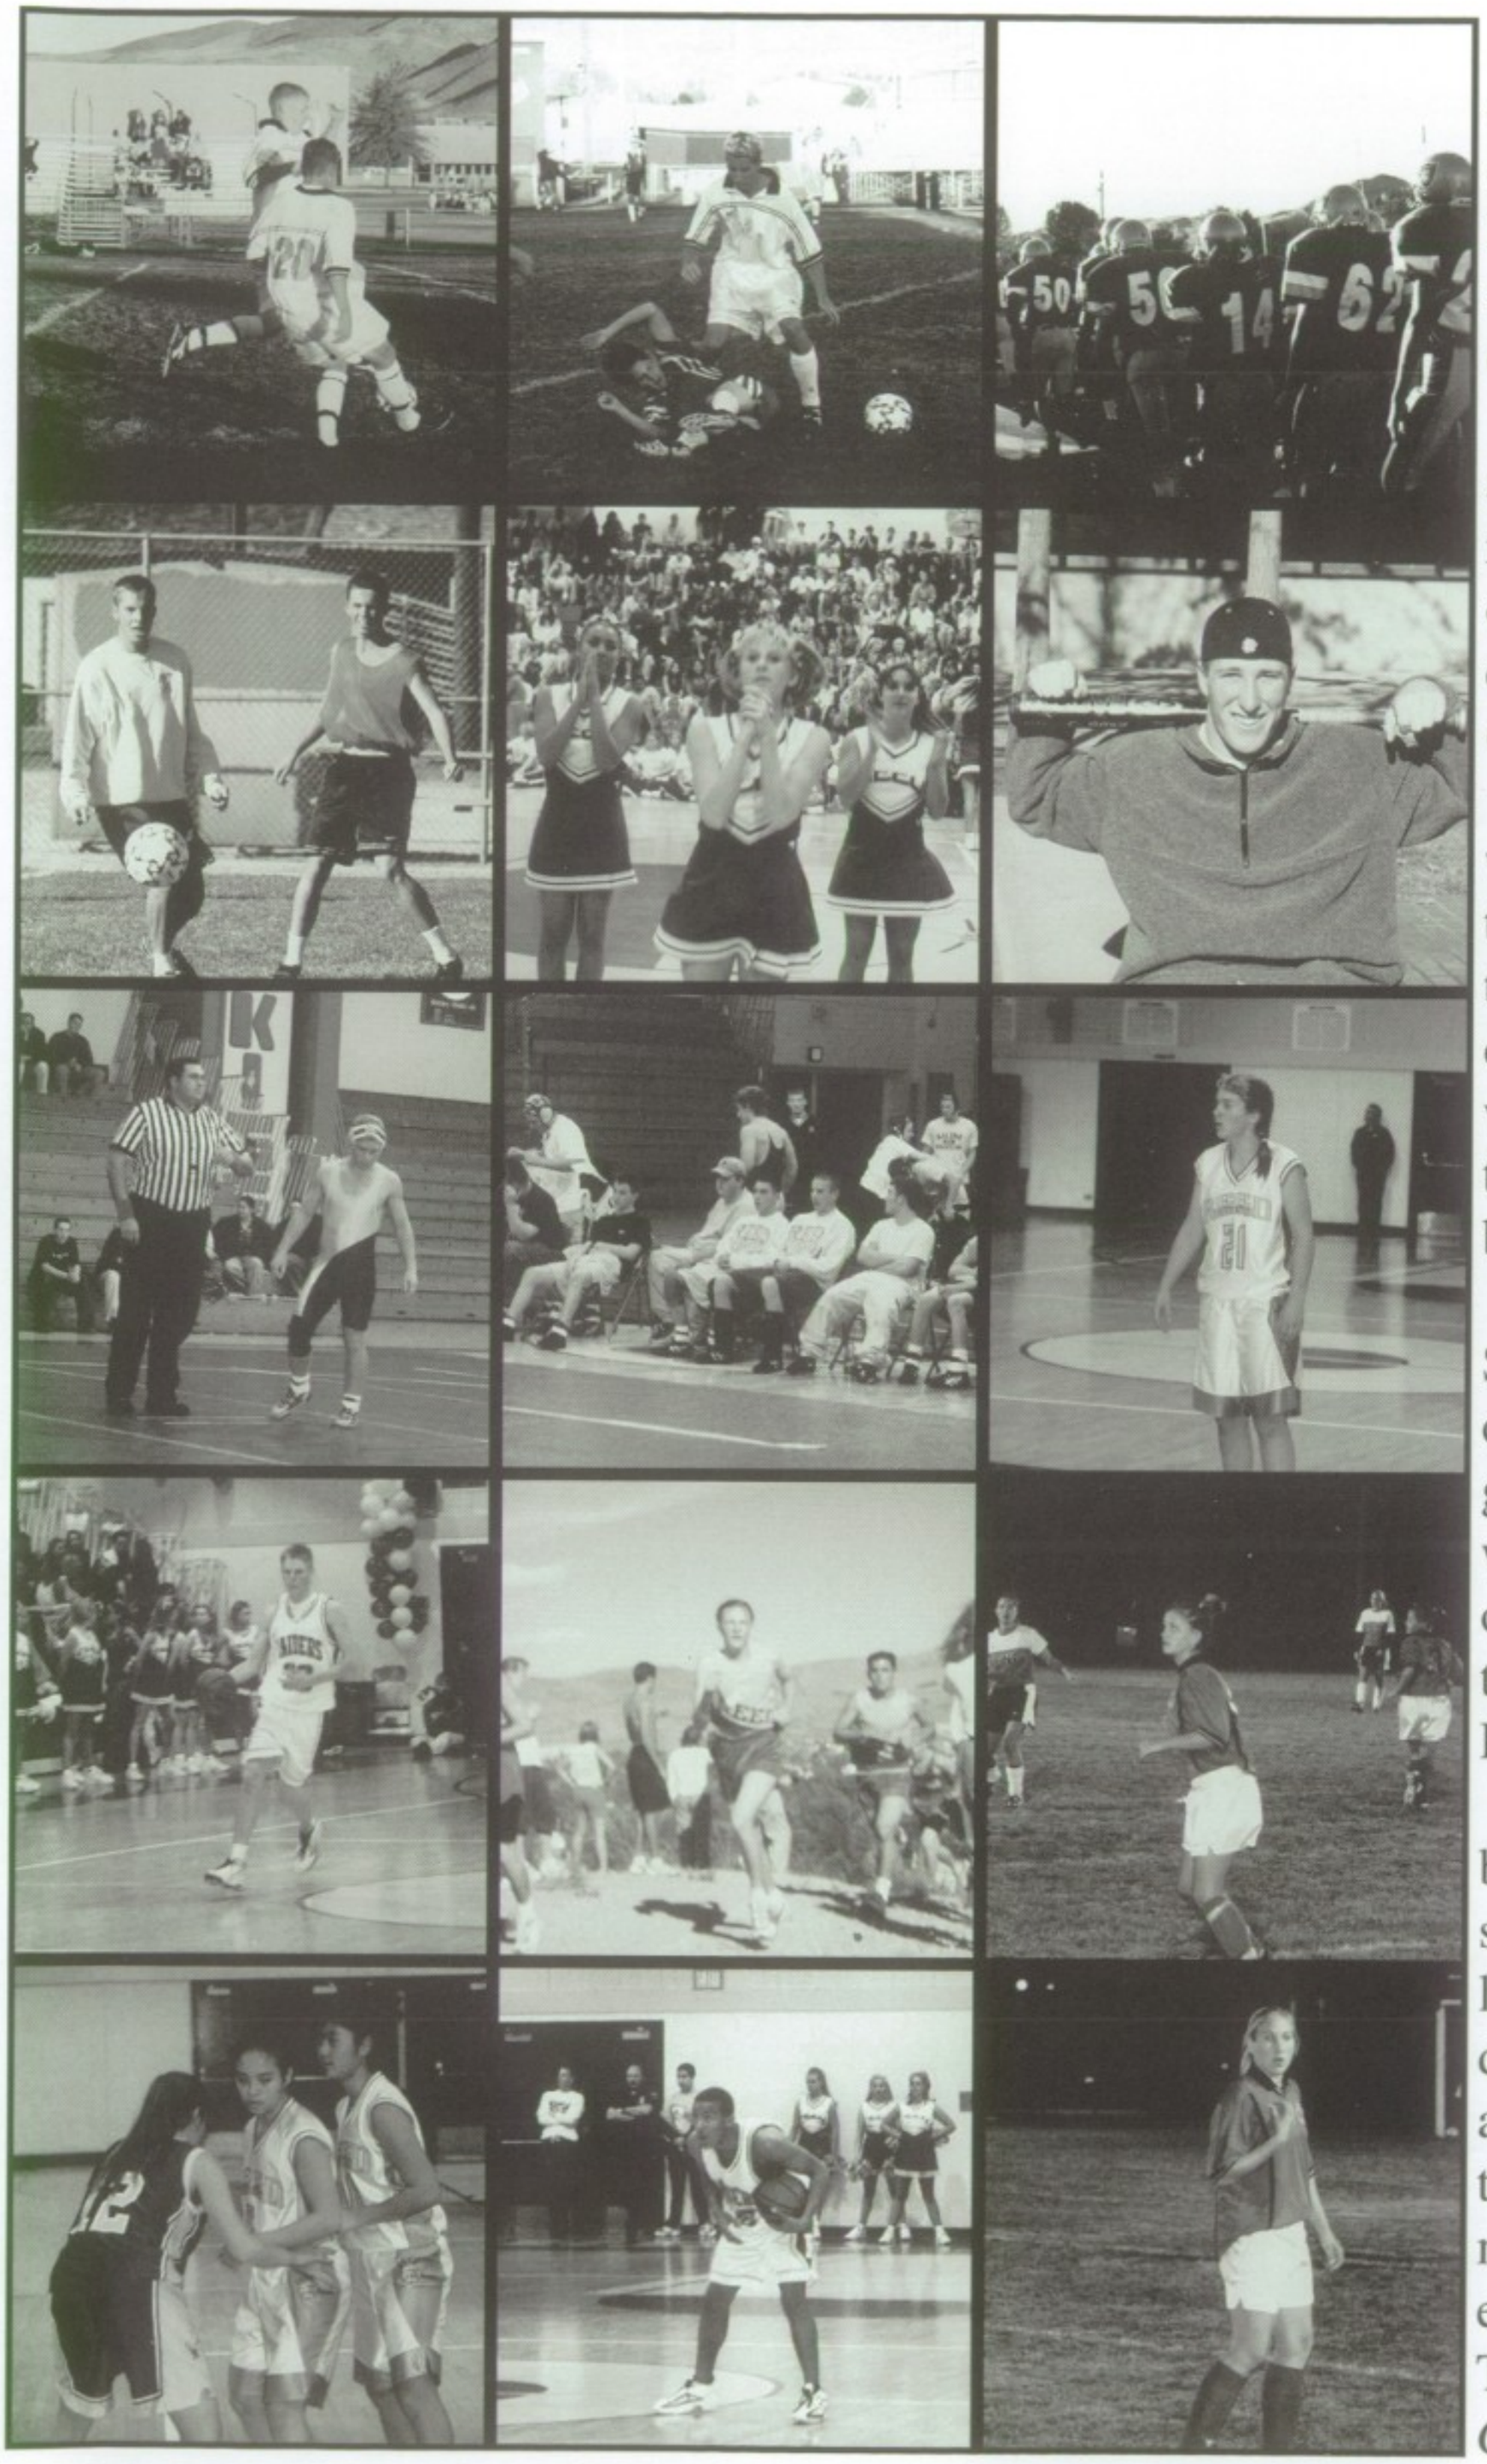
Changing Seasons

Changing Seasons: Sports Section Divider

Sports Section



With so many things changing in our world today, it can make us feel like it's all too intense; and for some it is. For others it's a way of life.

For athletes, intensity is a way of life. Whether it's running, catching passes, or hitting a ball, athletes constantly deal with Changing Seasons.

While not only dealing with the obligations to their studies, athletes put themselves through rigorous excercise regimes, eat well, and do whatever it takes to perform to the best of their abilities.

For the Boys' Varsity Soccer team, it really paid off this year as they won game after game all the way to the State Championship. It was the first time that had ever happened at Reed.

Teammates also form bonds that will remain strong the rest of their lives. They make friends, develop workout habits, and strive for scholarships that will help them to make more of themselves than even they had imagined. They learn to adapt to life's Changing Seasons.

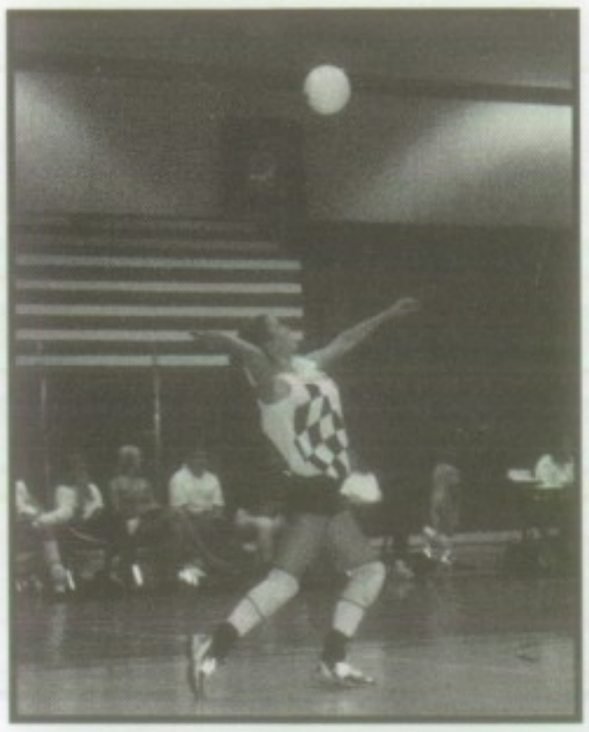
Let's get ready... Varsity girls volleyball raises the excitement level as they run out into the gym, cheered on by the younger generation of players, the freshman team.

Can't touch this... To more unsuspecting opponents, Keeli Welty's serve is overwhelming. Welty's serve caught many opponents off guard and thanks to it, the team earned many points.



Quotable

"The year wasn't really as much about winning as about building relationships on and off the court."

-Kristen Erickson

"I would say the highlight of this season was probably rallying to beat McQueen."

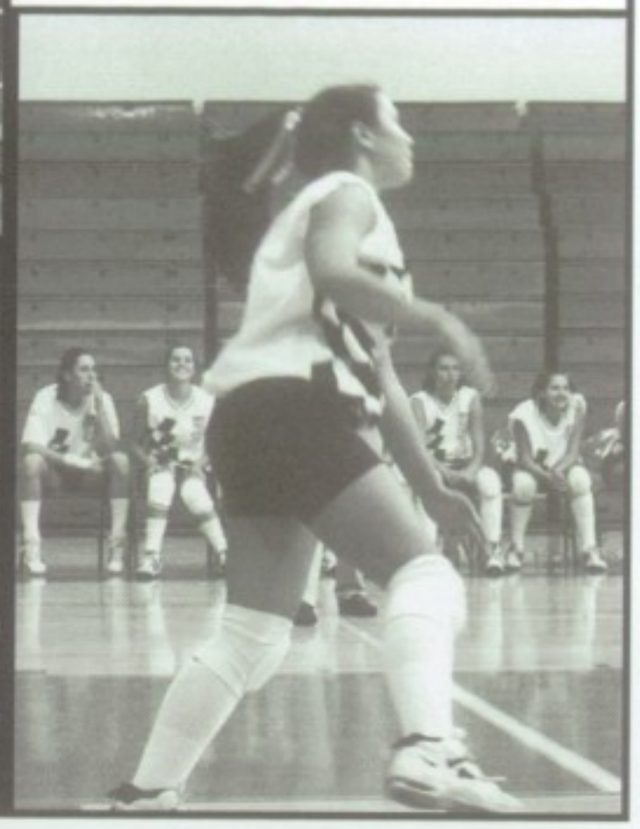
-Coach Lynn Rapp

Teamwork is a key to victory

It's all about working together... Keeli Welty and Sarah Slater show the close relationships built during the season's hard work. The girls emphasized their relationships throughout the season, working on communication, trust, and skills. Led by Head Coach Lynn Rapp, the girls worked very hard to have a good season.

It was hard for Sarah Slater being out on the sidelines for most of this season. Players like Slater don't like to sit out, but do something to help their team win.

Working on skills



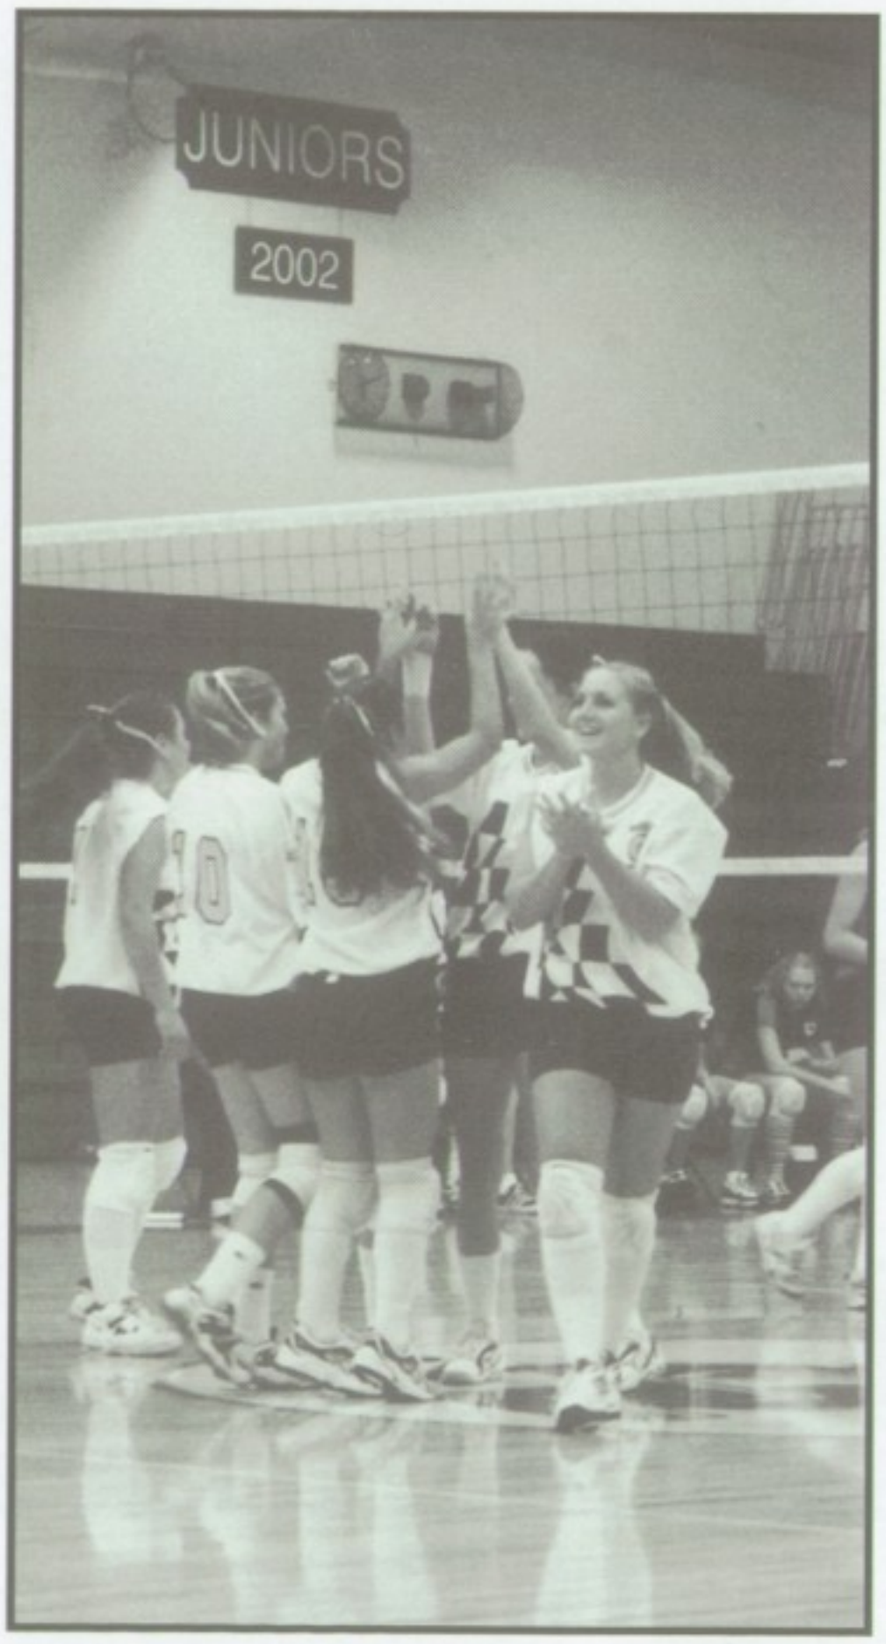
Serving high, working hard, and warming up were all important in every game. (below)
The bench looks on as Whitney Smith advances toword the ball. "This season was off the hook. I had so much fun," said Whitney Smith.

Volleyball seems like it might be an easy game. heck, people play it on the beach all the time. The way those professional beach volleyball players do it, they make it look effortless.

But it's not. It requires strength, skill, determination, and teamwork to do well in a volleyball game. It also takes a lot of practice.

Working hard throughout the season, the varsity girls' volleyball team learned a lot about hard work and long hours of practice.

Led by coach Lynn Rapp, the team worked on those fundamentals.



We did it! Preparing for the next game in the match, Megan O'Conner heads back to the bench while the team congratulates each other on another job well done.

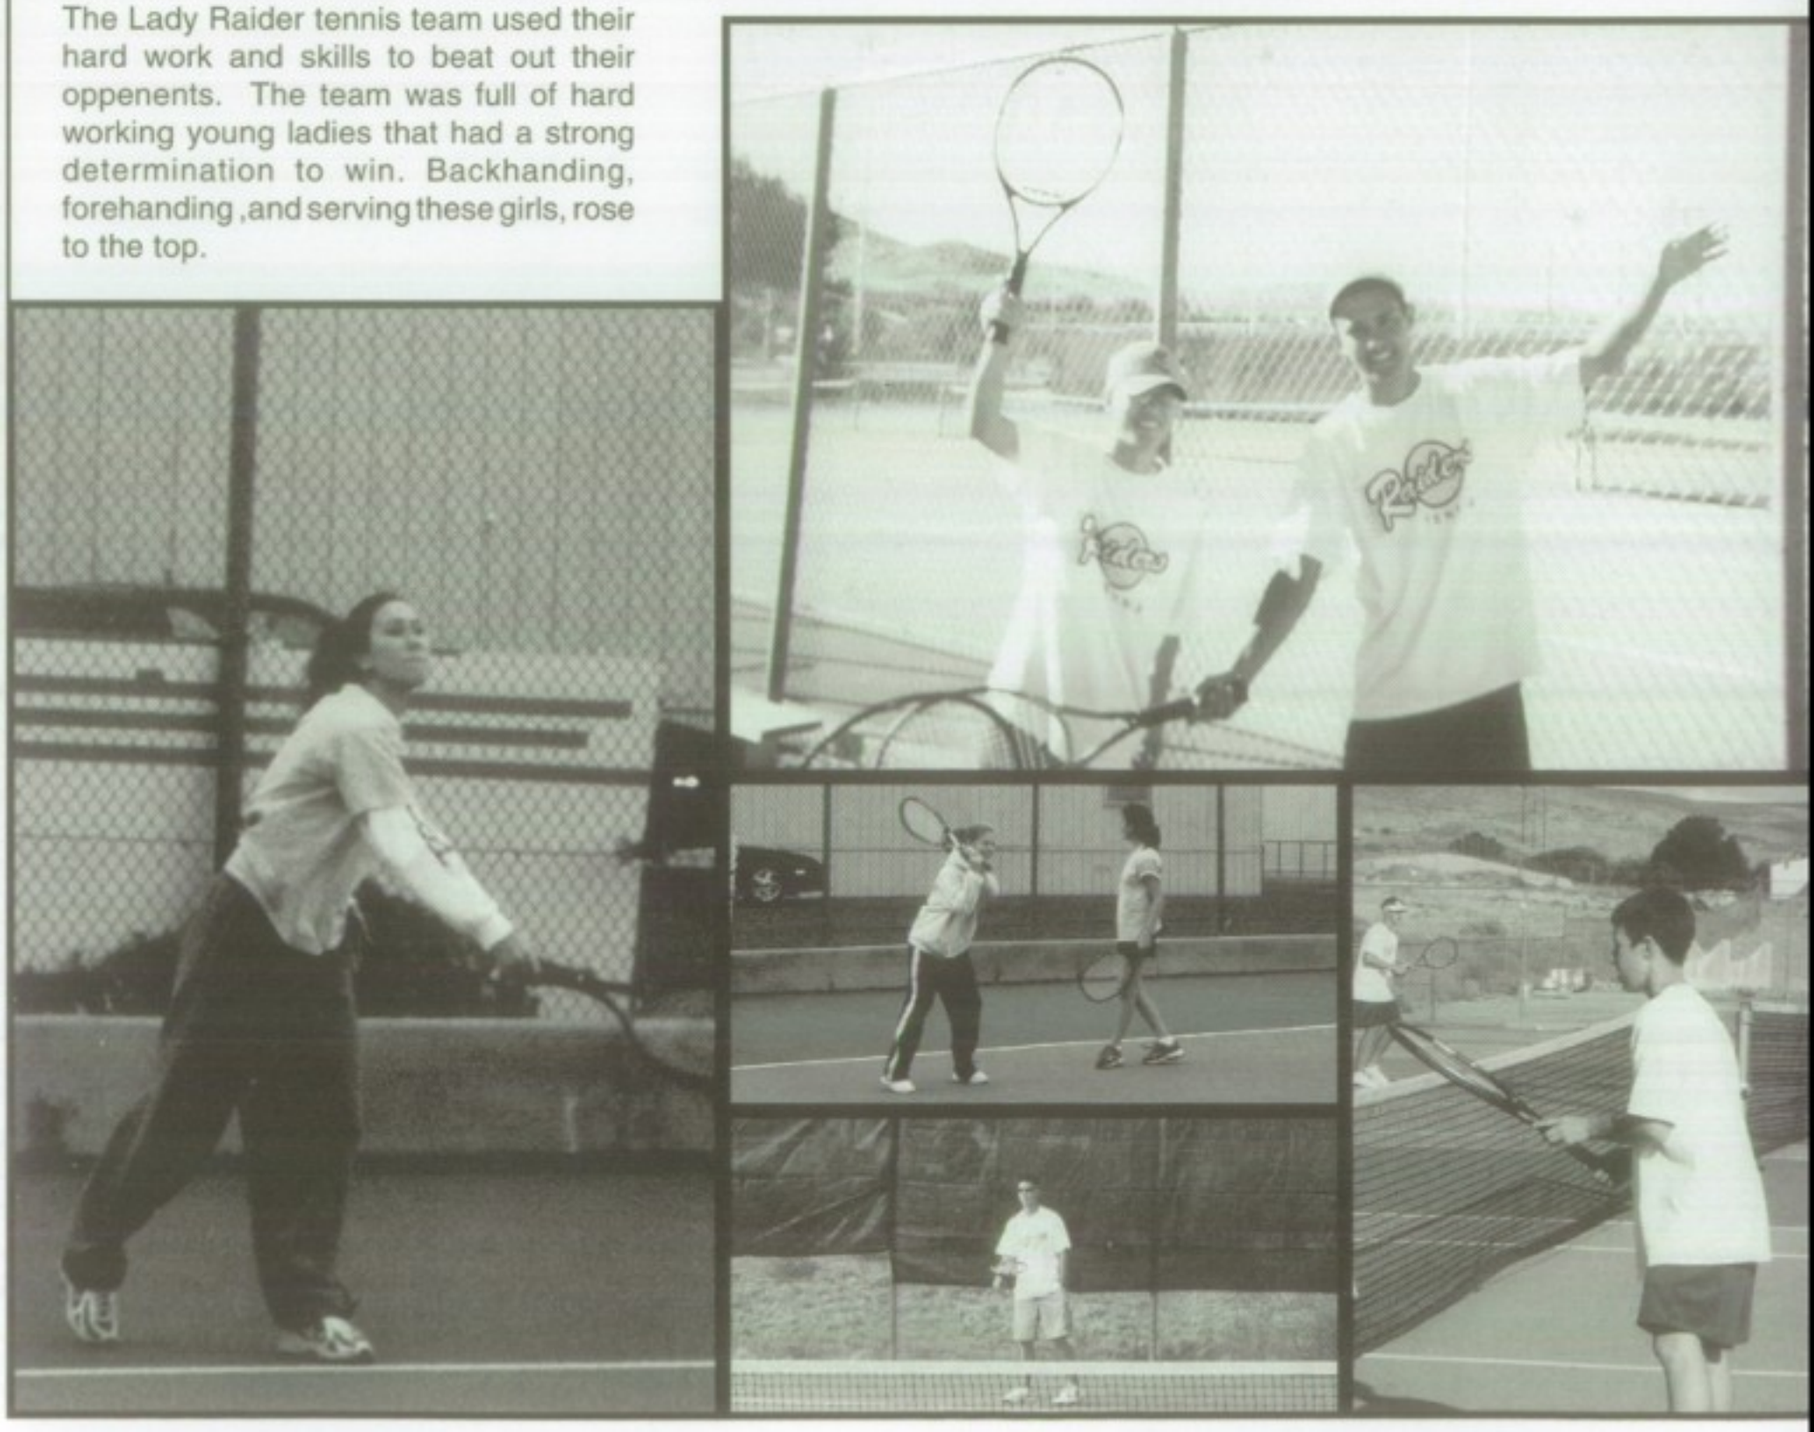
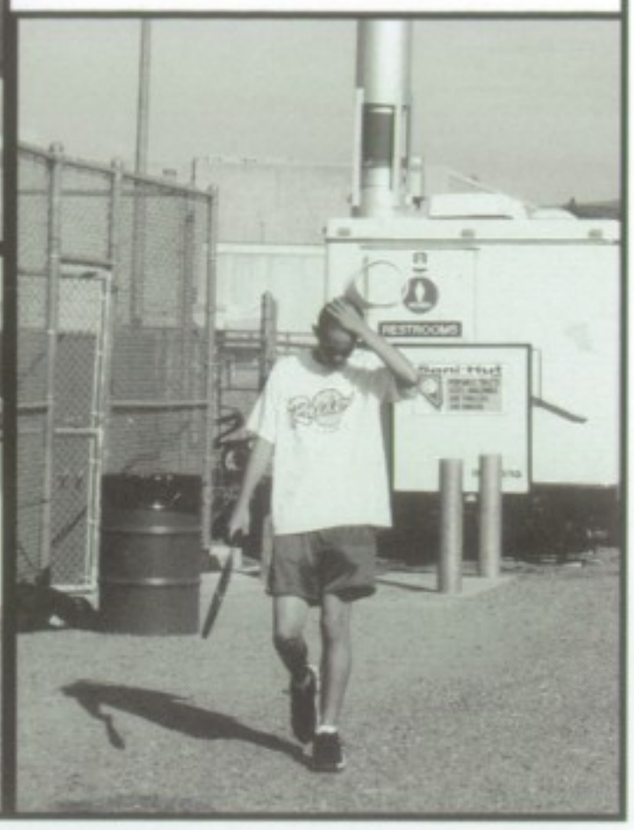
Girls team uses skills and hardwork to beat the competition

The Lady Raider tennis team used their hard work and skills to beat out their oppenents. The team was full of hard working young ladies that had a strong determination to win. Backhanding, forehanding ,and serving these girls, rose to the top.



You can't handle this! Jeff Hogsett (03) practices his swing and serves the ball while David Kuykendall takes a quiet moment to prepare for his match. The tennis team used a lot of mental strength and skill on and of the court.



A Winning Attitude

The tennis teams spent long hours perfecting serves, forehand shots, backhand returns, and of course, the expected handshake after the winning match.

Boys' Head Coach Bob White said, "The team really pulled together this year and did their best. I was proud to be a part of this season."

Tennis, unlike other team sports, is a team sport made up of individuals. How each player did affected the team's overall record.

They have heart

So close to a championship they could taste it, the girls' varsity soccer team was primed. They could hear the cheers of the crowd from the boys' game on the next field, and were hoping they could also take Zone.

After beating Reno in the semi-finals, Reed's girls played Douglas for the Zone title, and lost 0-2. They were, however, very happy with their second place finish.

Showing intense concentration, the players, Sierra Malan, Jennifer Mavus, Alexia Fields, and Monica Thompson take matters into their own hands (err...feet). With both eyes on the ball, they make their way through the opposing team to score a goal. "Soccer takes a lot of concentration. You always need to keep your eyes on the ball and make sure your footing is right," explained Fields.

Go after that ball...With a dertemined look on their faces, the girls show their ball handling skils with ease.

Nicole Follette (04)

Run like the wind..... For these girls, soccer is life. Practicing countless hors a week is the price they have to pay to be this good. After taking on many of the best teams in our region,Monica Thompson (02), Mandy Herald (02), Jen Mavus (03), Tia Bartek(04), and Laurie Klein (01) and their teammates made it all the way to zone. Though they didn't clench the title, they are still winners in our eyes.

She can do it!....You may think that being one of the youngest girls on the team would make you a little nervous, but that's not the case with Trisha Gibbons (04). She knows how to keep up with the older girls and help them to victory. "I have been playing soccer for most of my life, so I have a lot of practice under my belt," explained Gibbons.

Shouts of joy and excitement could be heard a mile away when the girls won the game leading them to zone.Sierra Malan (01) and Sherika Hardaway (01) were one of the many girls engulfed in all the excitement. "I was so excited because we were going to the finals for zone. It was a big relief because we worked so hard. I was just happy," said Hardaway.

Practice Makes Perfect

Laurie Klein, Sierra Malan, Jen Mavus, Mary Kay Sheahan and Kerrie Easter know this all too well.Having practice everyday from 4-6 p.m. can wear someone out, but you wouldn't know it by the way these players rule the field.

As Trisha Gibbons (04) dribbles the ball down the field, she can only think about how good it will feel to beat the opposing team. Getting into the swing of things

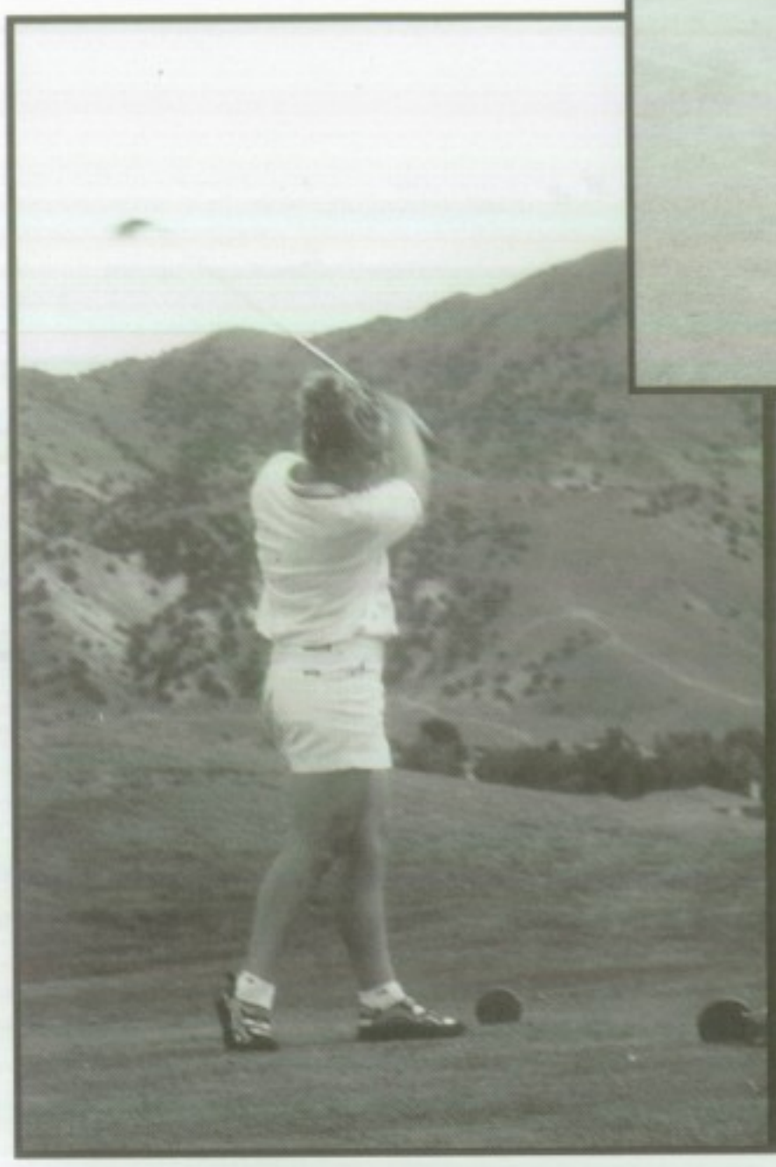
The girls golf team had a sucessful season this year with their new JV team accompanying them. Jill Lauderdale (01) said, "Split teams was a good idea. It gives the varsity more quality practice time and the JV can improve their physical and mental game before they play in any major tournaments."

Lauderdale had a challenging season this year in trying to improve not only her playing skills, but her attitude and her mental game. Lauderdale this season managed to pull through and reach her goals which helped her to make State this year.

Lauderdale was forced this year to look not only at improving her physical game, but also her mental attitude. Lauderdale was put under some pressure this year to excel. She set goals for herself, and met them.

Jill Lauderdale (01), carefully aims and decides how she wants to go about putting the ball in the hole. Lauderdale, takes her game very seriously. Fellow golfer, Emily Morse (03), practices hard out in the tee box. This year was not based on winning, but practicing and trying to improve everybody's game all around. It was important to set an example for the JV golfers hoping to move up to varsity next year. Diane Edmonds, tries to get her tan on out on the practice putting course.



Varsity teamates, take a break and show some teeth. The Varsity girls pulled together to help the JV team get prepared for varsity next year. It was a lot of hard work and effort, but in the end it was all worth it as the team became stronger; both physically and mentally.

Jill Lauderdale (01), pictured to the right practices her golf swing. Lauderdale worked very hard this year to improve her game, having a sucessful season this year which ended in State competition. Lauderdale said, "I've improved not only my physical game, but my mental game, also."

Smile pretty! The JV golf team had a great year. All the girls learned just what it meant to be a part of a team, and the true meaning of team work. Each of them hope to make it to the Varsity level one day, and by showing their understanding of the game and their desire to move up, each and every one of them will no doubt suceed to the next level. Hard work equals improvement

Lauderdale wasn't the only one on the team improving and practicing hard on the courses this year. Varsity player, Alana Espiritu (02) pictured here practicing her golf swing. Even though there were seperate teams this year, they pulled together and united as a whole; improving all of their games and attitudes, as one. The team not only grew together from practicing, but also remembered to just have a good time. Also pictured team members Kindra Hastings (01), and Allison Lang (04) standing around enjoying the weather, the game, and most of all their teammates.

Reed High golfers are pictured practicing their golf swing. This year the JV teams introduced ways to be able to play the game, but not have to worry about the stress and pressure of tournaments. Other team players are pictured "hitchin' a ride," and taking it easy.

Some things stay the same...
- The golfers always have a lot of practice time
- They always compete in tournaments
- The golfers always work to their full potential

Some things change...
- There is now a JV team.
- Each year the teams play different teams in thier tournaments.
- Every year there are different players

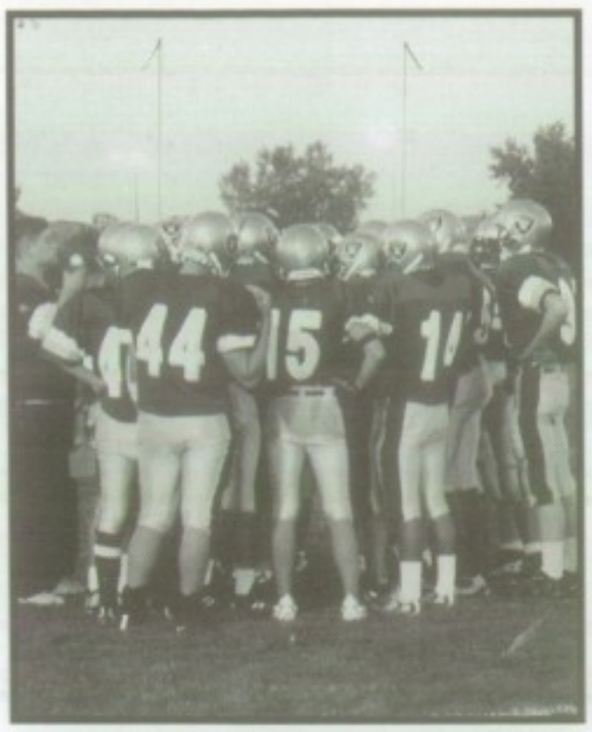
Coaching is a big part in football. The coach gives advice on what stradagies to use and how to get the ball and score! David Huynh and Ronille Pabico sit and get a lecture.

During practice usually there is a team huddle to get positive feedback on how the day went and what things the team needs to work on next time they get together.



Quotable

"I enjoyed my JV year a lot. It went good, especially when we had game day every Thursday. I got to play linebacker."

- Bobby Morgan

"I never got off the field. I played center, offense and defense. I'm thrilled about moving up to varsity next year."

-Kris Arroyo

Emmanuel Fugueroa #56 and Keith Byers #66 give a big what's up?! They have a fun time being on the football team. They are brand new freshman so they got a good dose of something different.

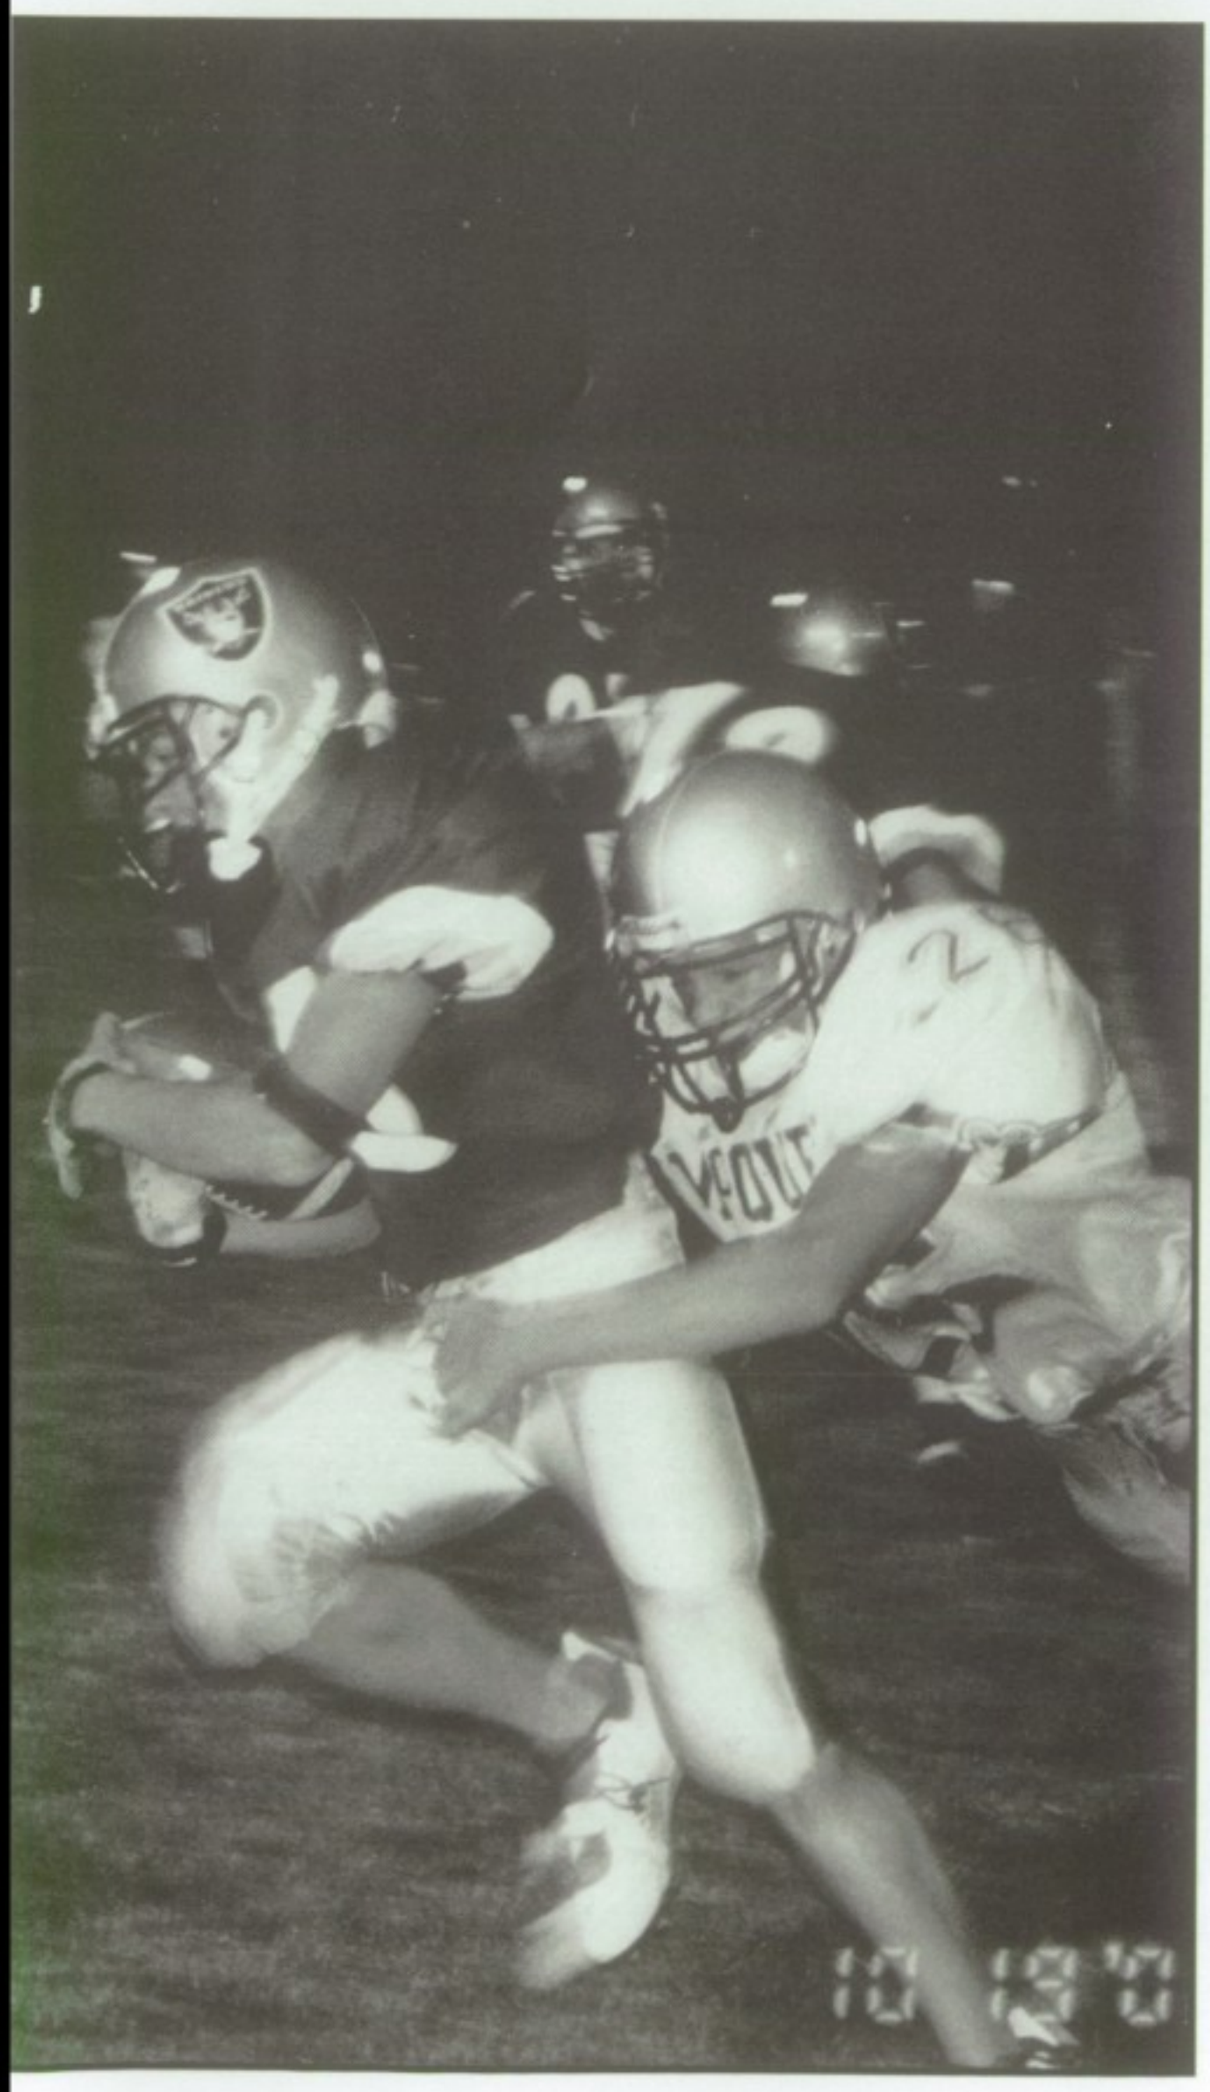
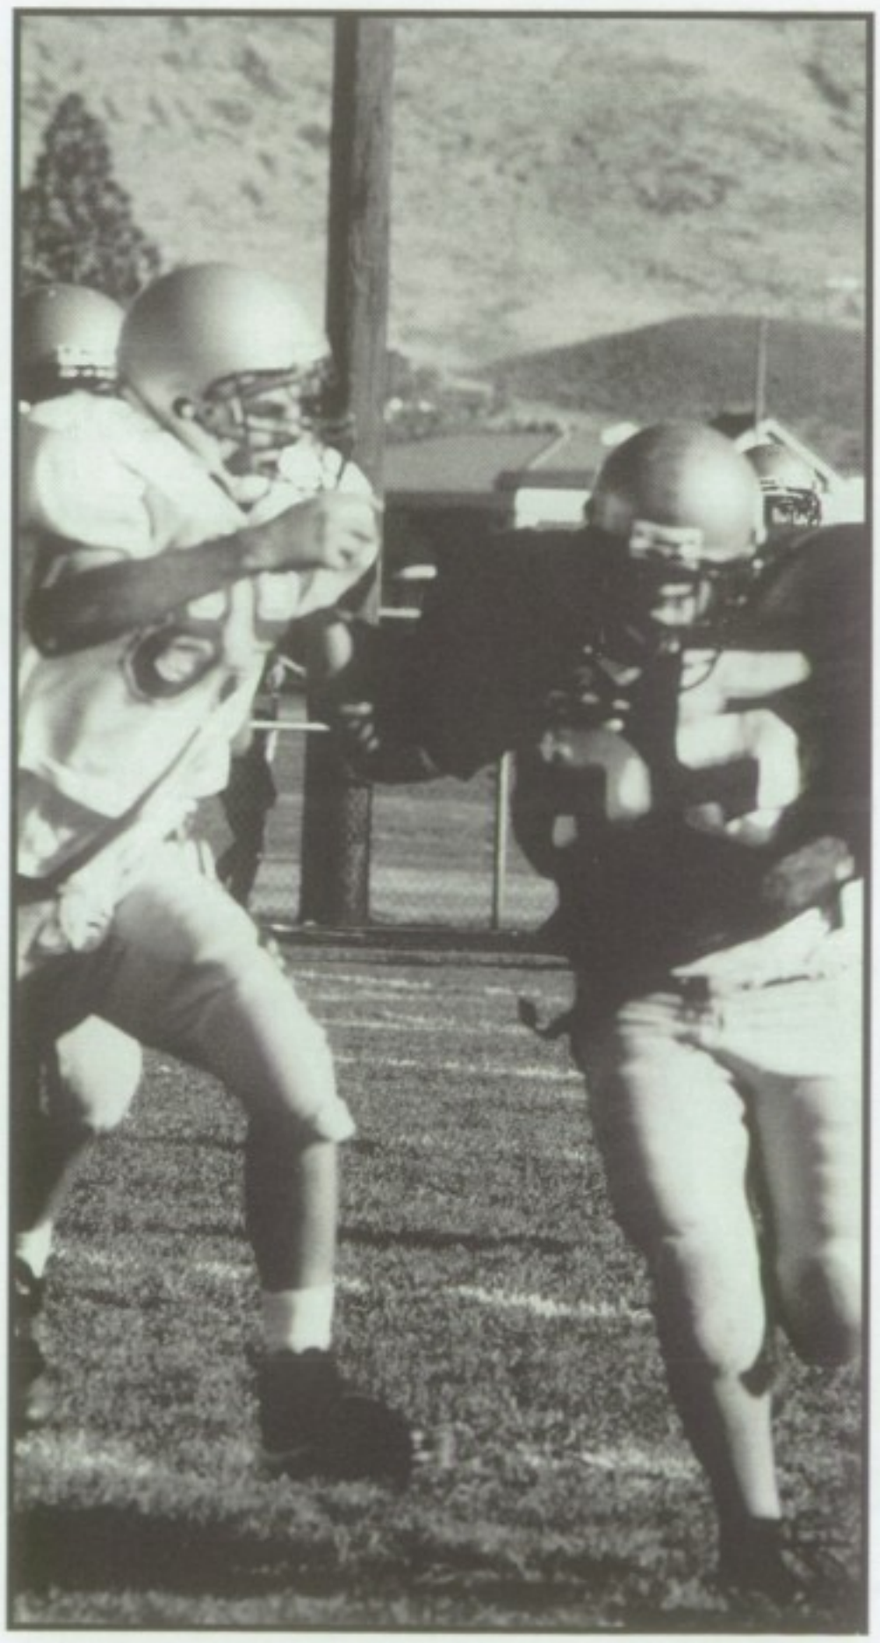
JV Freshman teams

The Freshman and JV football teams had a great year. They won a lot of their games. Many of the players moved up in their positions and learned a lot. Vaughn Terry loved playing for the JV team. "It was a great learning exprience and I had a lot of fun with my friends,"says Terry.

The boys devoted a lot of their free time to the football team. Each member was required to have a 2.0 or better to be eligible to play the season out. Even with the tremendous hours of practice the boys still had to deal with things outside of football such as grades, family and friends.





Joel Cochran (03), shows his strength as he charges to score! He has determanation in his face something that is great coaching from his team and freinds to encourage him to win.

Josh Young #55 from the Freshamn team shoves a Mcqueen player in force of his mighty strengthness. He has it set in his mind that he is going to take it all home for the Raiders.

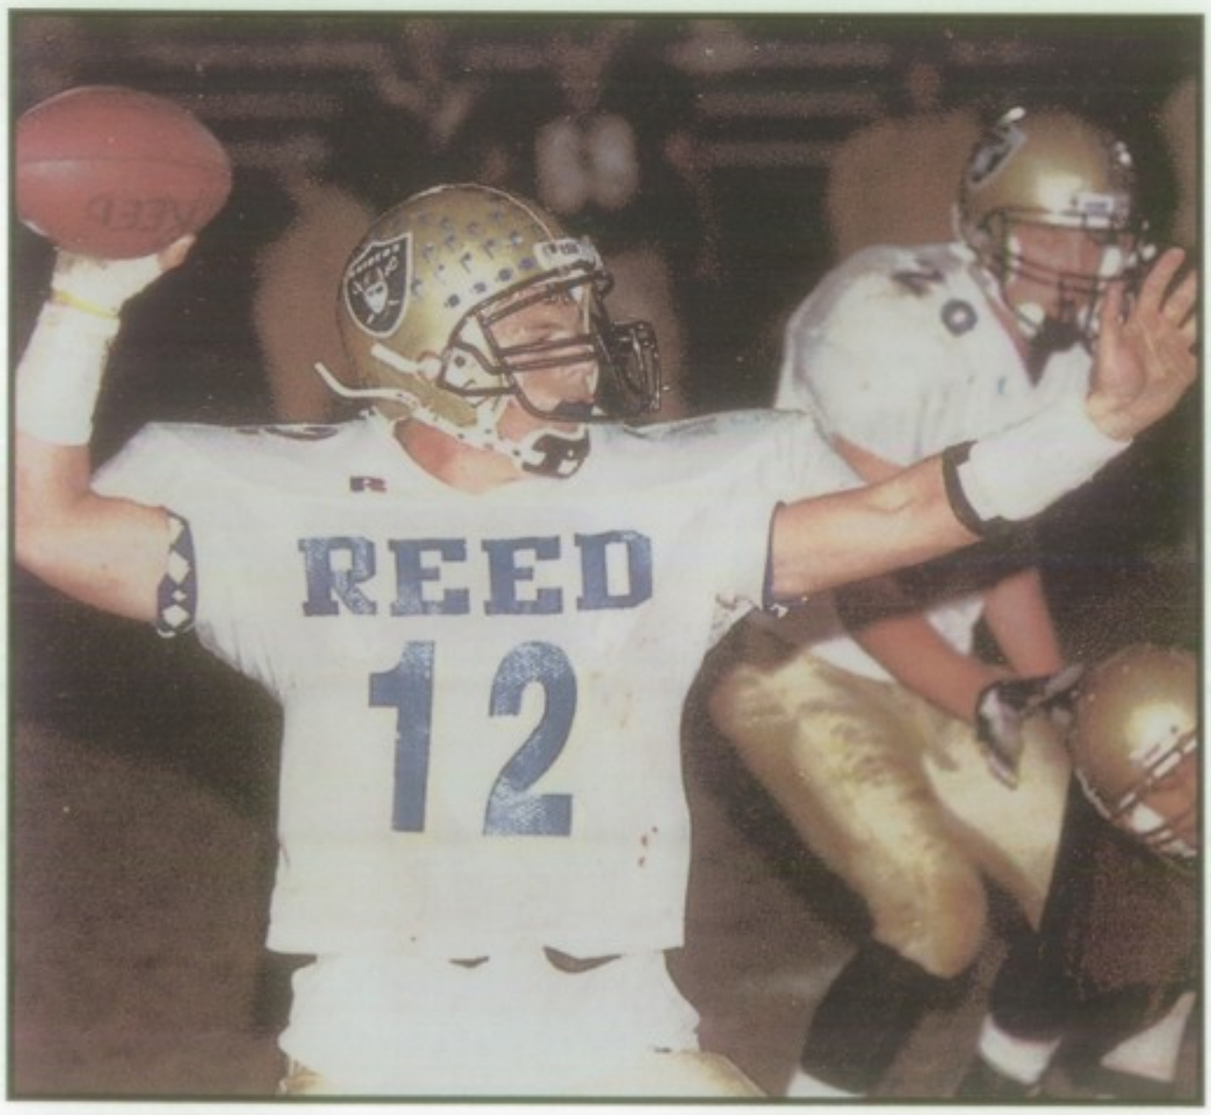
A competitive season

Go hard for four seconds of play for four minutes a game," said Head Coach Doug Parry. With this philosophy in mind, varsity players emphasized doing ther best, and giving their all on the field, no matter how intimidating their opponents might be, or how tired they might feel.

"Be competitive," said Parry. "Give it your all every play and you will be winners."

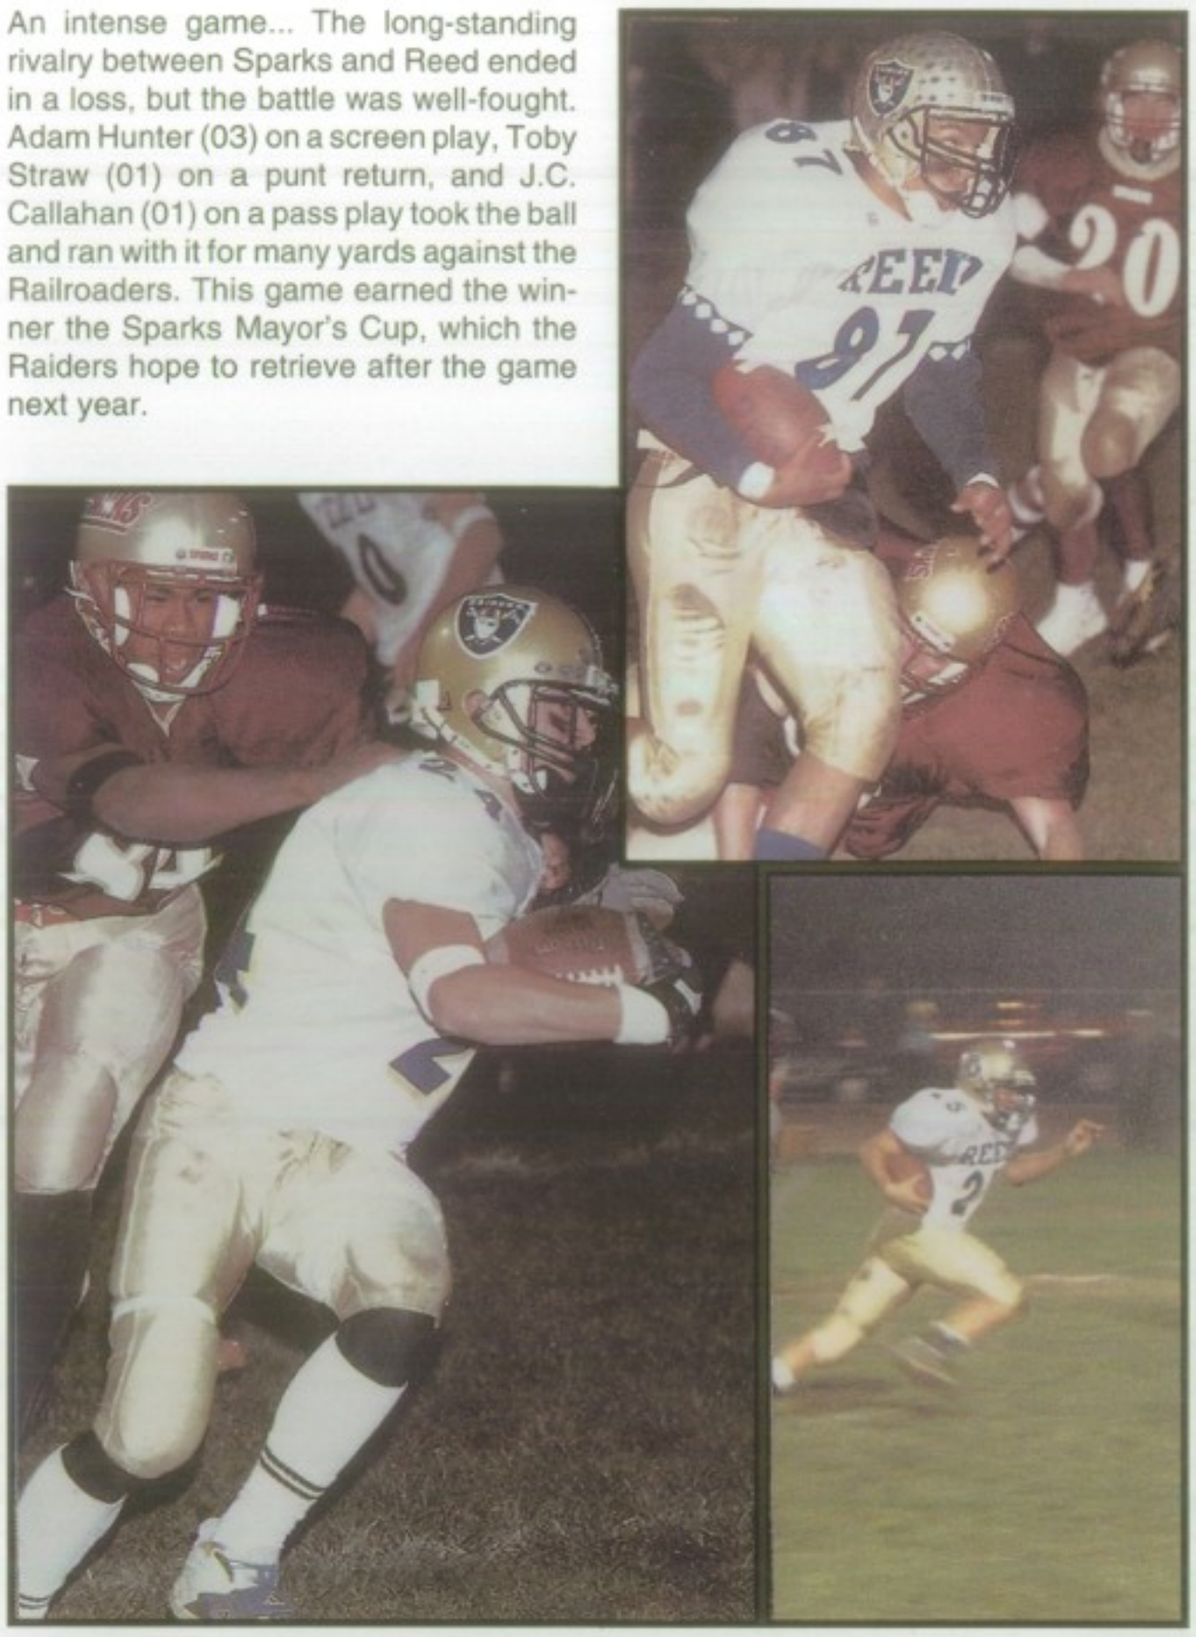
In the heat of the moment... On the line of scrimmage, the team experienced their moment of truth each and every play. Players did their best to make a difference on the field.



Go deep... Throwing the ball to J.C. Callahan, Eric Gibbons (01) hopes for a touchdown. "My favorite was competing and playing in all the games, and how our team held McQueen to the fewest points they earned all season," said Gibbons.

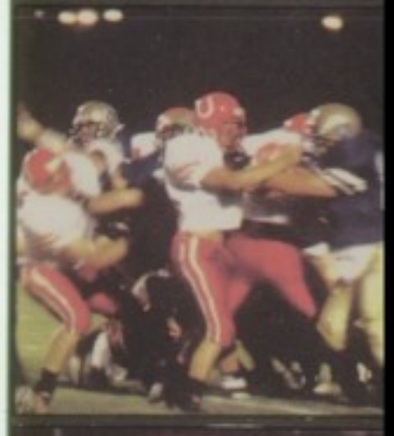
Headed for glory... Avoiding his pursuers, J. C. Callahan (01) goes for the end zone after receiving the ball from Eric Gibbons. Callahan, who played on both sides of the ball, earned the team award for Defensive Player of the Year.

An intense game... The long-standing rivalry between Sparks and Reed ended in a loss, but the battle was well-fought. Adam Hunter (03) on a screen play, Toby Straw (01) on a punt return, and J.C. Callahan (01) on a pass play took the ball and ran with it for many yards against the Railroaders. This game earned the winner the Sparks Mayor's Cup, which the Raiders hope to retrieve after the game next year.



I'll cover you... Following Eric Gibbons (01), Mike Drew (01) covers his back as Gibbons heads downfield for another first down against Sparks. One of the most important things about playing on a team is that players have to forego personal glory to make sure the team wins. This means only one man can carry the ball, and everyone else has to watch out for him to ensure gained yardage and points.

Too slick for you... Evading a Sparks player, Casey Phenix (02) slides past the defense and earns another few yards, which made the Railroaders work extra hard in the last quarter of the game. By giving each play their best shot, players were able to make sure the games were their best, in spite of the scores.



Some things stay the same...
- Coach Doug Parry has been at Reed since 1996
- Practice location
- Game Day Pizza Plus & Eldorado

Some things change...
- New players (like sophomore Adam Hunter)
- This season's record
- Held McQueen to fewest points

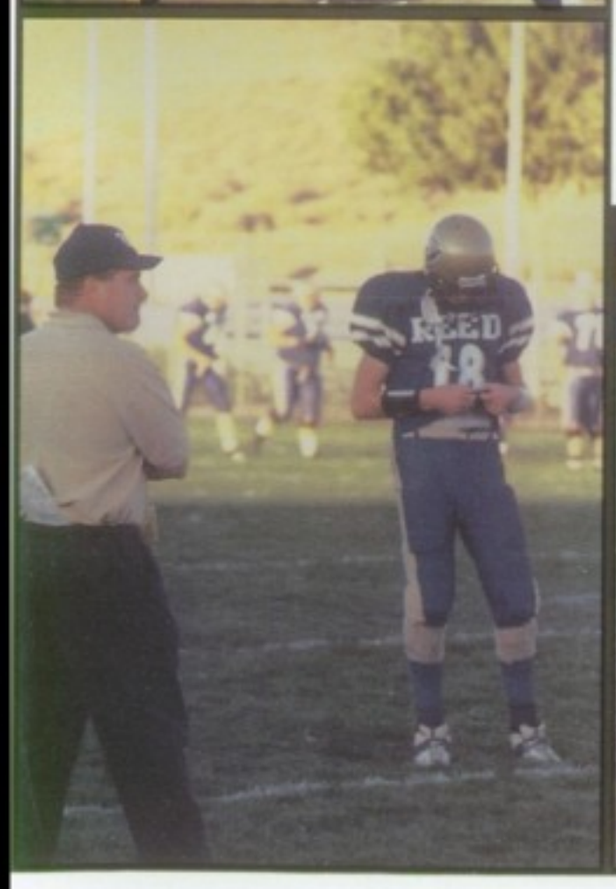
When the heat isn't on...

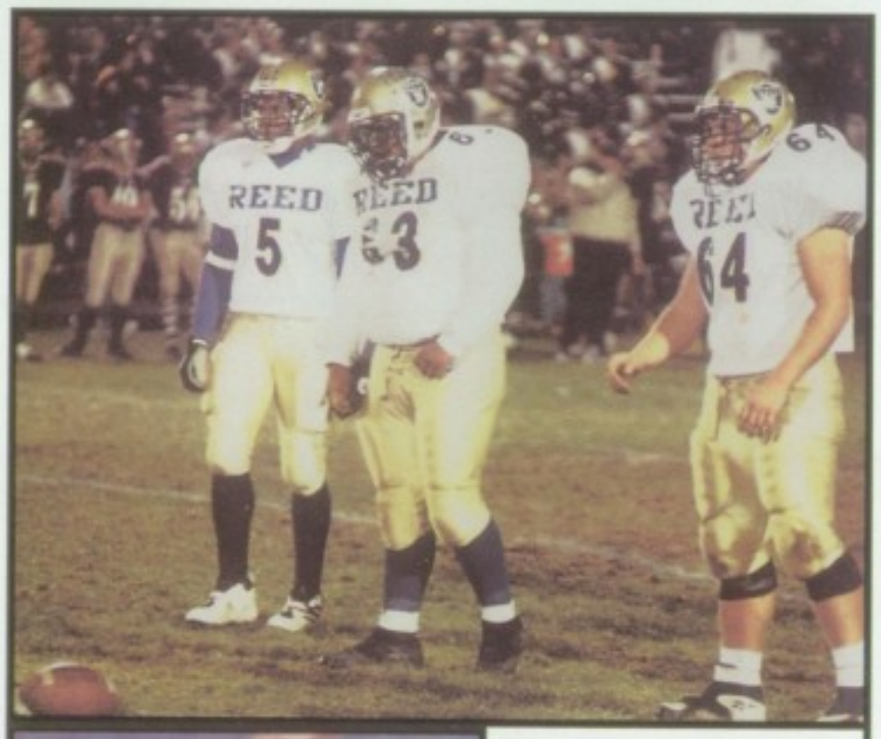
Football isn't all high-pressure. Sometimes the players, coaches, and managers get to take a break.

What is that on my jersey? Cody Fleming (02) checks out a spot on his jersey before a home game. Coach Parry looks across the field in preparation for the night's game.

Check me out... Goofing around before the big game, team manager Brandon Hutt takes the ball over to the coach.

Have you ever seen anyone cuter? Posing in their uniforms, Jesse Oberman and Matt Winters show their Raider pride.





Intensity is the key

In the game and in practice, the players keep their level of intensity up. Defensive players Shannon Richardson, Eric Tamayo, and A. J. Sorenson approach Sparks' line of scrimmage menacingly. Just before a game, Cody Fleming and Mark DePaepe run drills.

Working toward a common goal

With all of the team's accomplishments, some junior varsity players will have the chance to move up and take a shot at zone. Junior varsity girls also have high hopes to make next years varsity team.

Even though the junior varsity boys couldn't go to Zone, they were thinking about the varsity boys the whole time. With all of their good thoughts about taking the title, the guys got their wish.

Amy Schaffer (04)

Excuse me! Get out of my way...Amy Schaffer (04) fights with a Railroader for the ball. Even though Sparks was the teams biggest rival, they still managed to keep their heads up and play as a team.

Jam with us

After a week of practice and tryouts last spring, the girls had weekly practices through the summer and attended a camp at Galena just before school began.

When the football games began, the girls wore their uniforms to school on game days to show their spirit and cheer on their teams.

How does my hair look? On her way to the Sparks-Reed freshman and JV games, Megan Holtz (02) quickly puts up her hair and heads off to Sparks to encourage the freshman and JV squads.

It's more than being cute and bubbly...

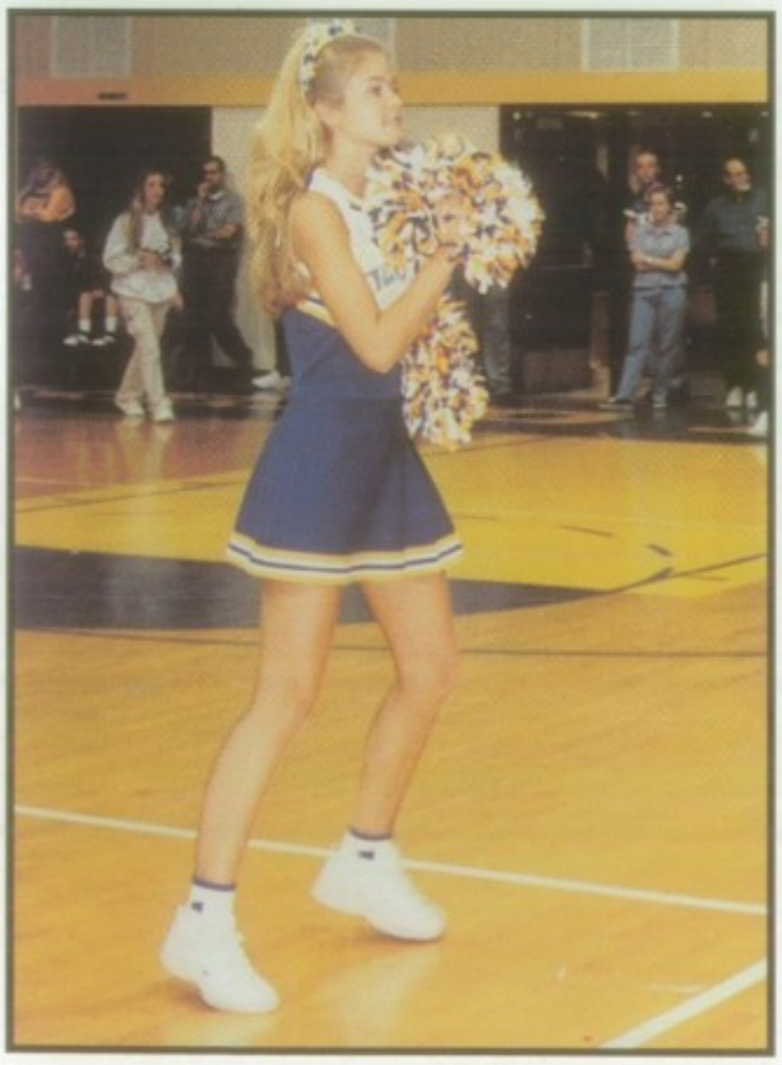
Cheer routines required hard work and dedication

"The best part of cheerleading on varsity was cheering at the games and dancing in the assemblies."
-Crystal Aichele (02)

Please, God, don't let me mess up. Pausing in her routine, Laura Stoltz (02), cathes her breath. The routines the girls did at each assembly were difficult and physically demanding.

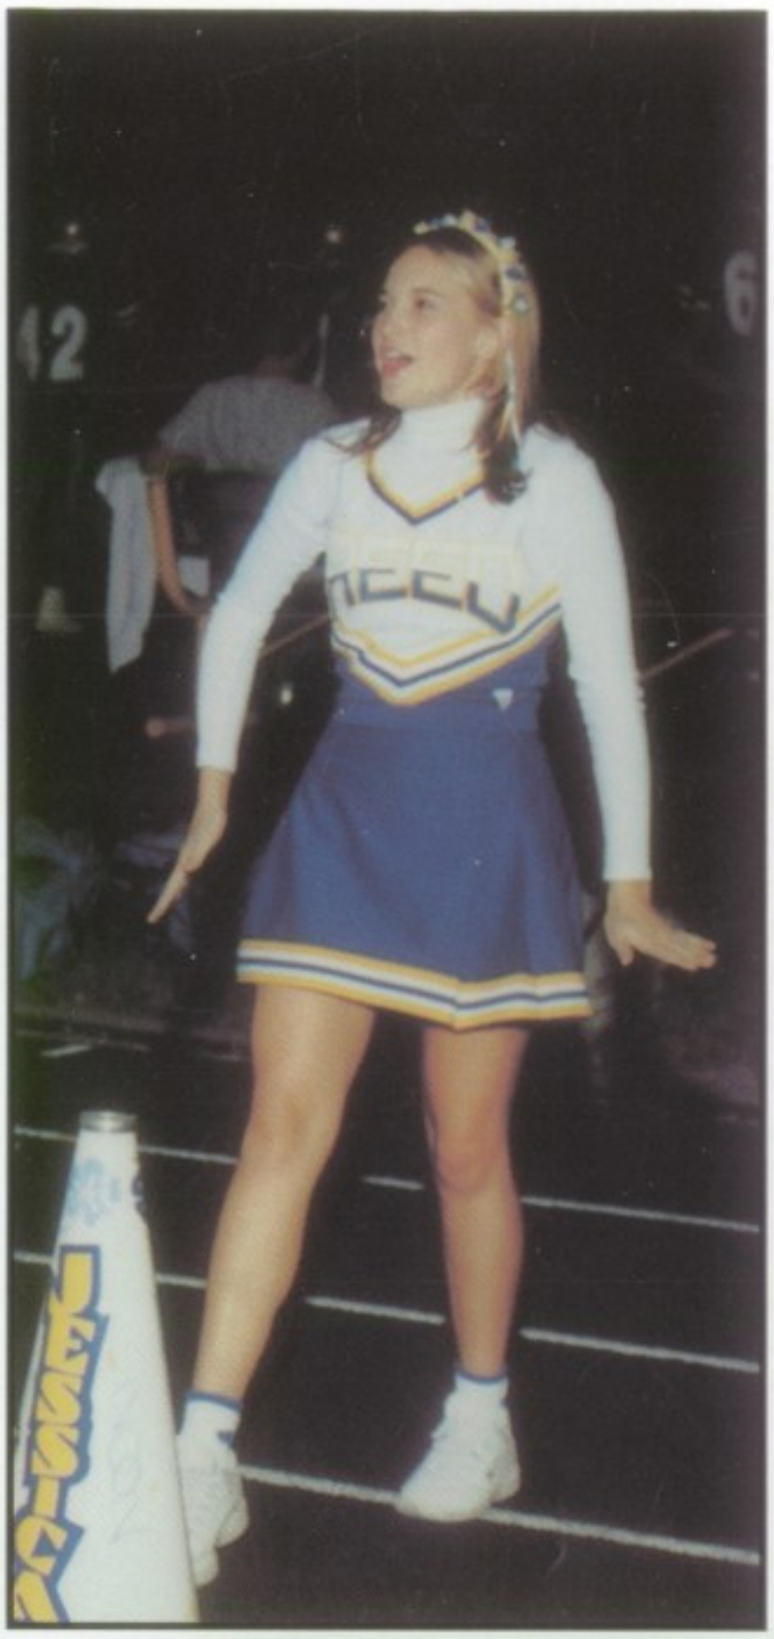
Say cheese and smile pretty. Varsity cheerleaders take a break from the game to smile and show off their pearly whites, which is their habit when they see a camera.

Finally, we're done. What a work out that was too! After doing their routine, Megan Holtz (02), Ros Clark (02), and Alicia Karau (02) show school spirit at the Homecoming assembly.



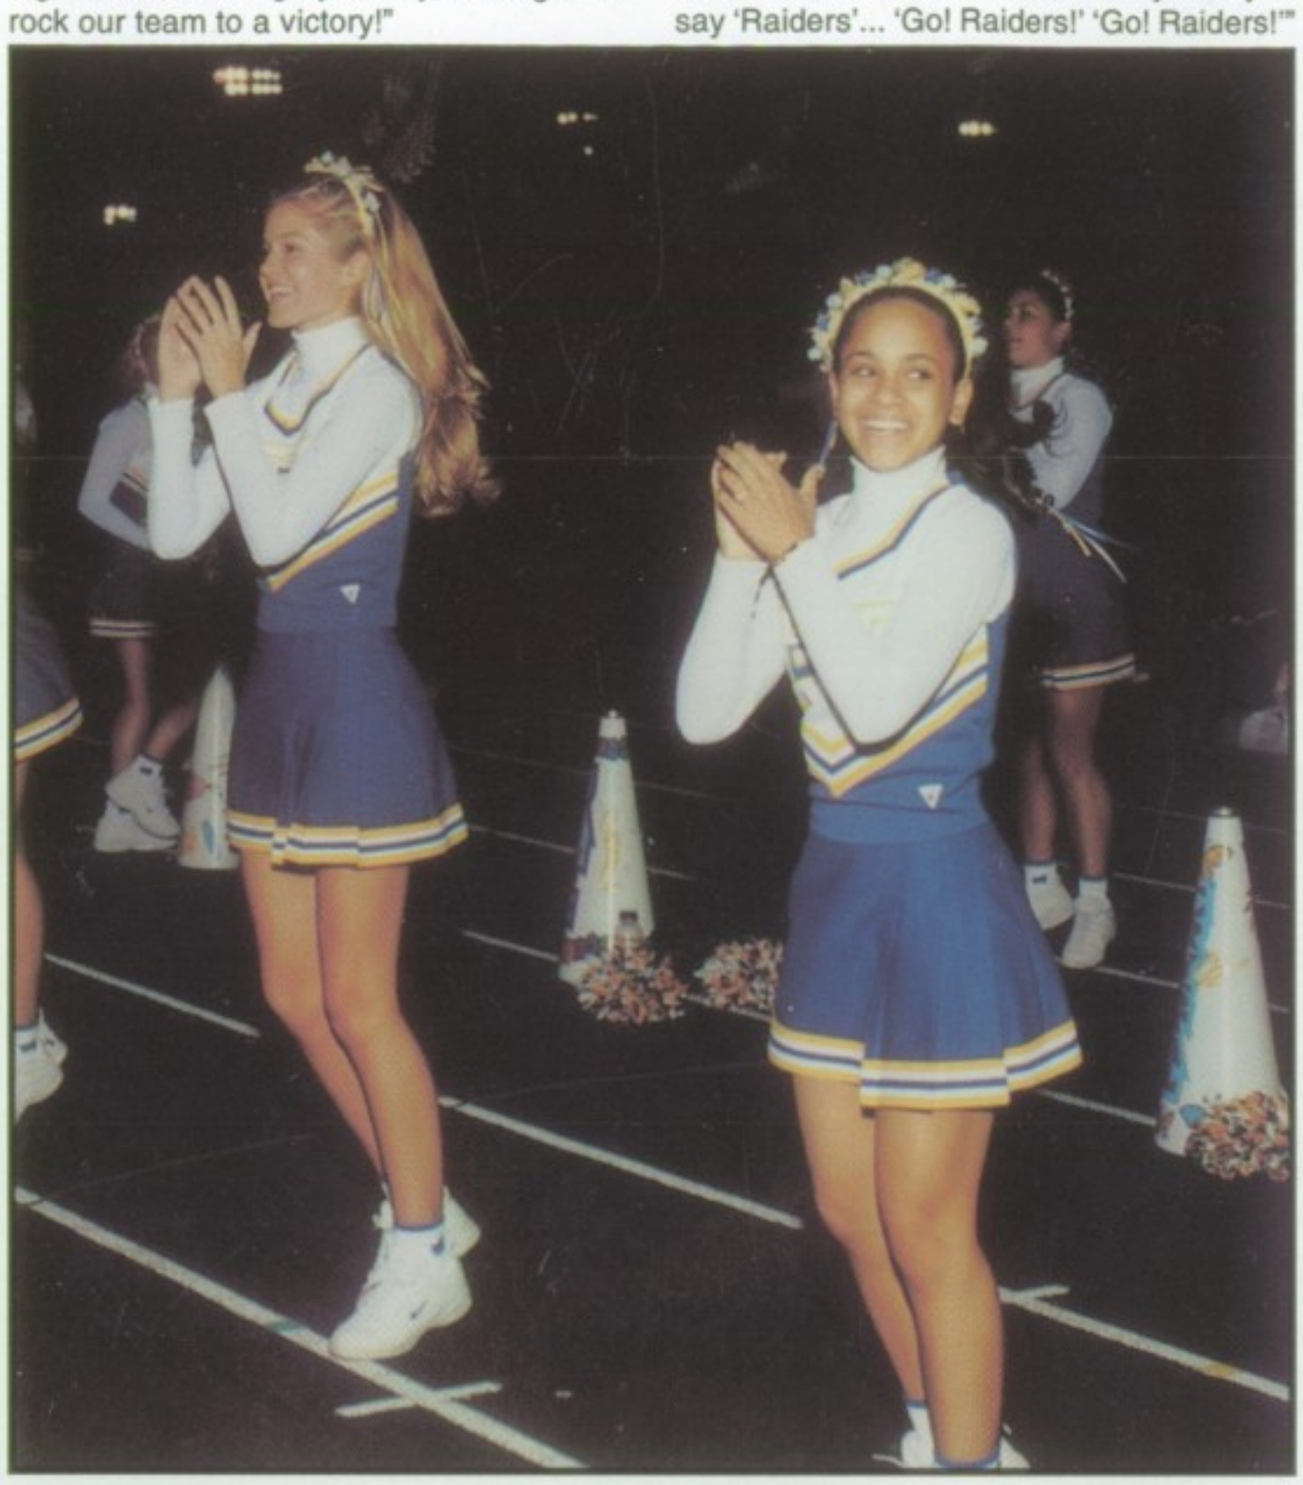
Jam with us! What! What! Showing school spirit, Nicole Manke (01), cheers her team on to victory. The crowd joined in with their favorite cheers, making the football fields and gymnasium reverberate with a thundering voice.

Wow! That was fun... After their special Homecoming dance routine, the varsity cheerleaders show their excitement and school spirit.



Walk like an Egyptian... At Reed's Varsity Homecoming game, Jessica Hicks (02) boogies down with her teammates, cheering, "We are the mighty varsity, we're gonna' rock our team to a victory!"

Hey, Nicole, look! That guy just winked at me! Showing how much fun cheerleading really is, Nicole Manke(01) and Kellee Sims (01) do a cheer for the crowd, "When we say 'Go!' you say 'Raiders'... 'Go! Raiders!' 'Go! Raiders!'"



"I had a blast my first year on varsity, I loved cheering and helping the freshmen adjust."

The varsity cheerleaders have been working on their dances, jumps, moves, and stunts since the middle of August. Each cheerleader gave a lot of their summer to make sure they would look great at games and assemblies. The varsity cheerleaders loved the assemblies, because they were a time to show off their awesome dances, great cheers, and amazing talents.

"The girls really pulled together this year. It wasn't easy for them to adjust to a different way of doing things, but they all learned to be one big team, instead of separate squads," said Sally Kelly, head cheerleading coach.

Varsity girls cheer

The varsity girls practiced hard to bring us fun and exciting cheers.

With 17 girls, this team does a lot of practicing to get everything perfect. Most of the girls have years of experience from being on the teams since their freshman year.

Friendship is made on the squad this year. After spending a day together at a game, Milysa Satmary, Crystal Aichele, Lacy Barela, and Erin O'Connell have all become great friends.

Cheering with friends

We're ready for practice!

"With friends cheering can be so much more fun!"

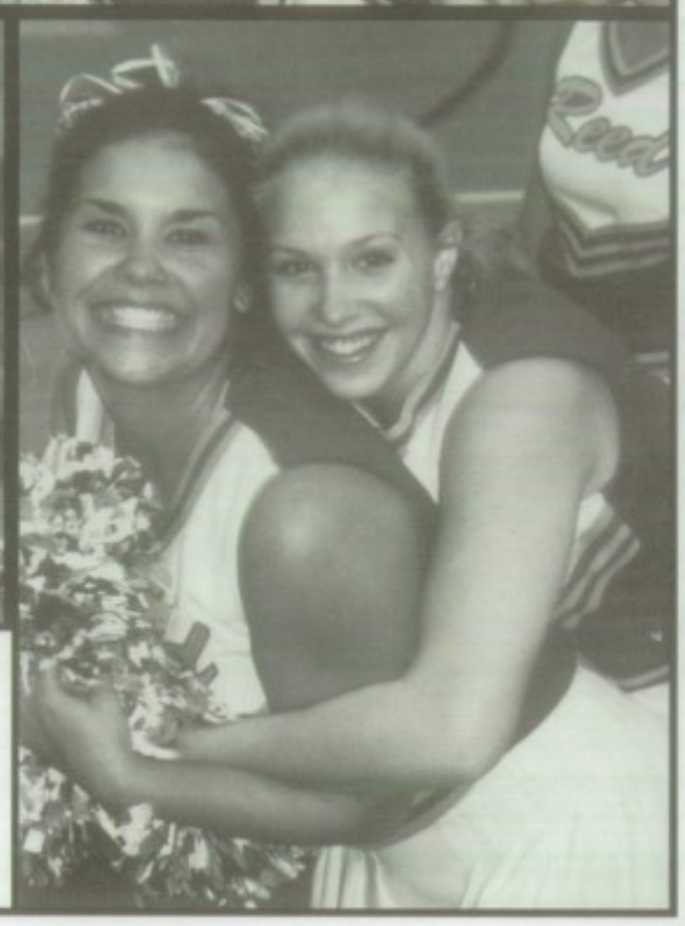
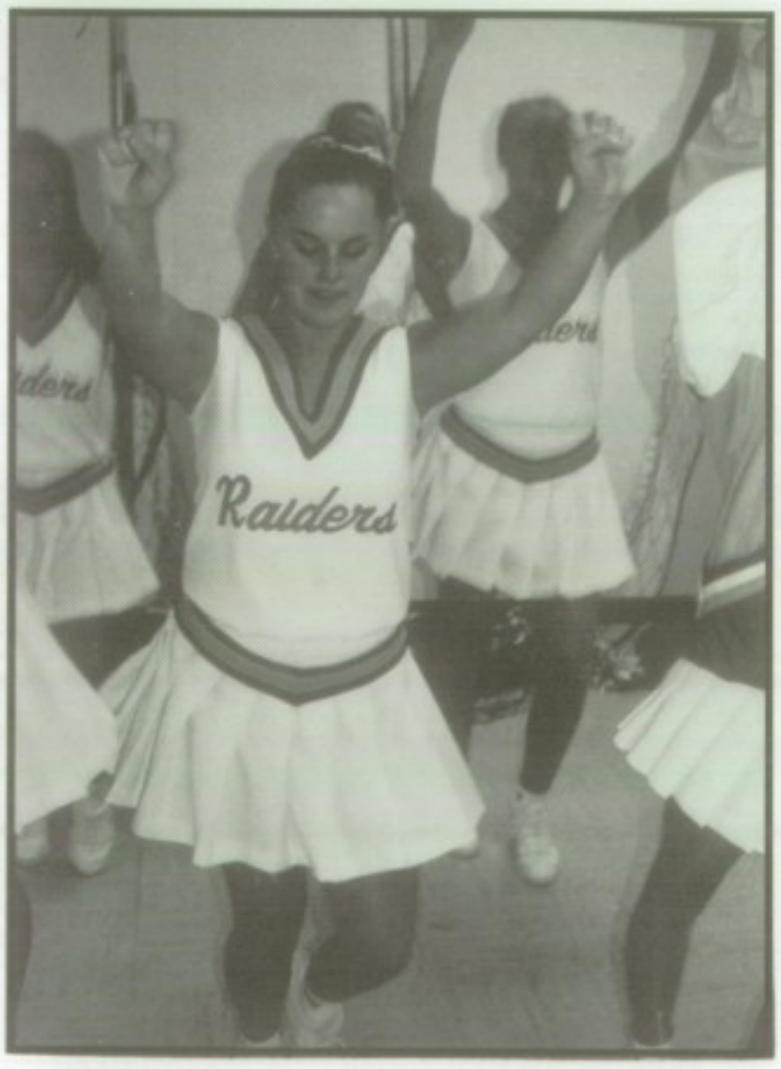
SMILE! Here is your varsity team. Amanda Magrini, Lindsey Chapman, Megan Holtz, Lacy Barela, Crystal Aichele, Kendra Erickson, Ashley White, Erin O' Connell, Dallas Kuehl, Jaime Stein, Rosalind Clark.

STRETCH!..Deandra Pino (02) stretches before a game. She has to make sure all her muscles are loose and ready for jumping.



Best friends forever! Rosalind Clark (02) and Jaime Stein (02) hug each other tight. They cheer together side by side, always smiling.

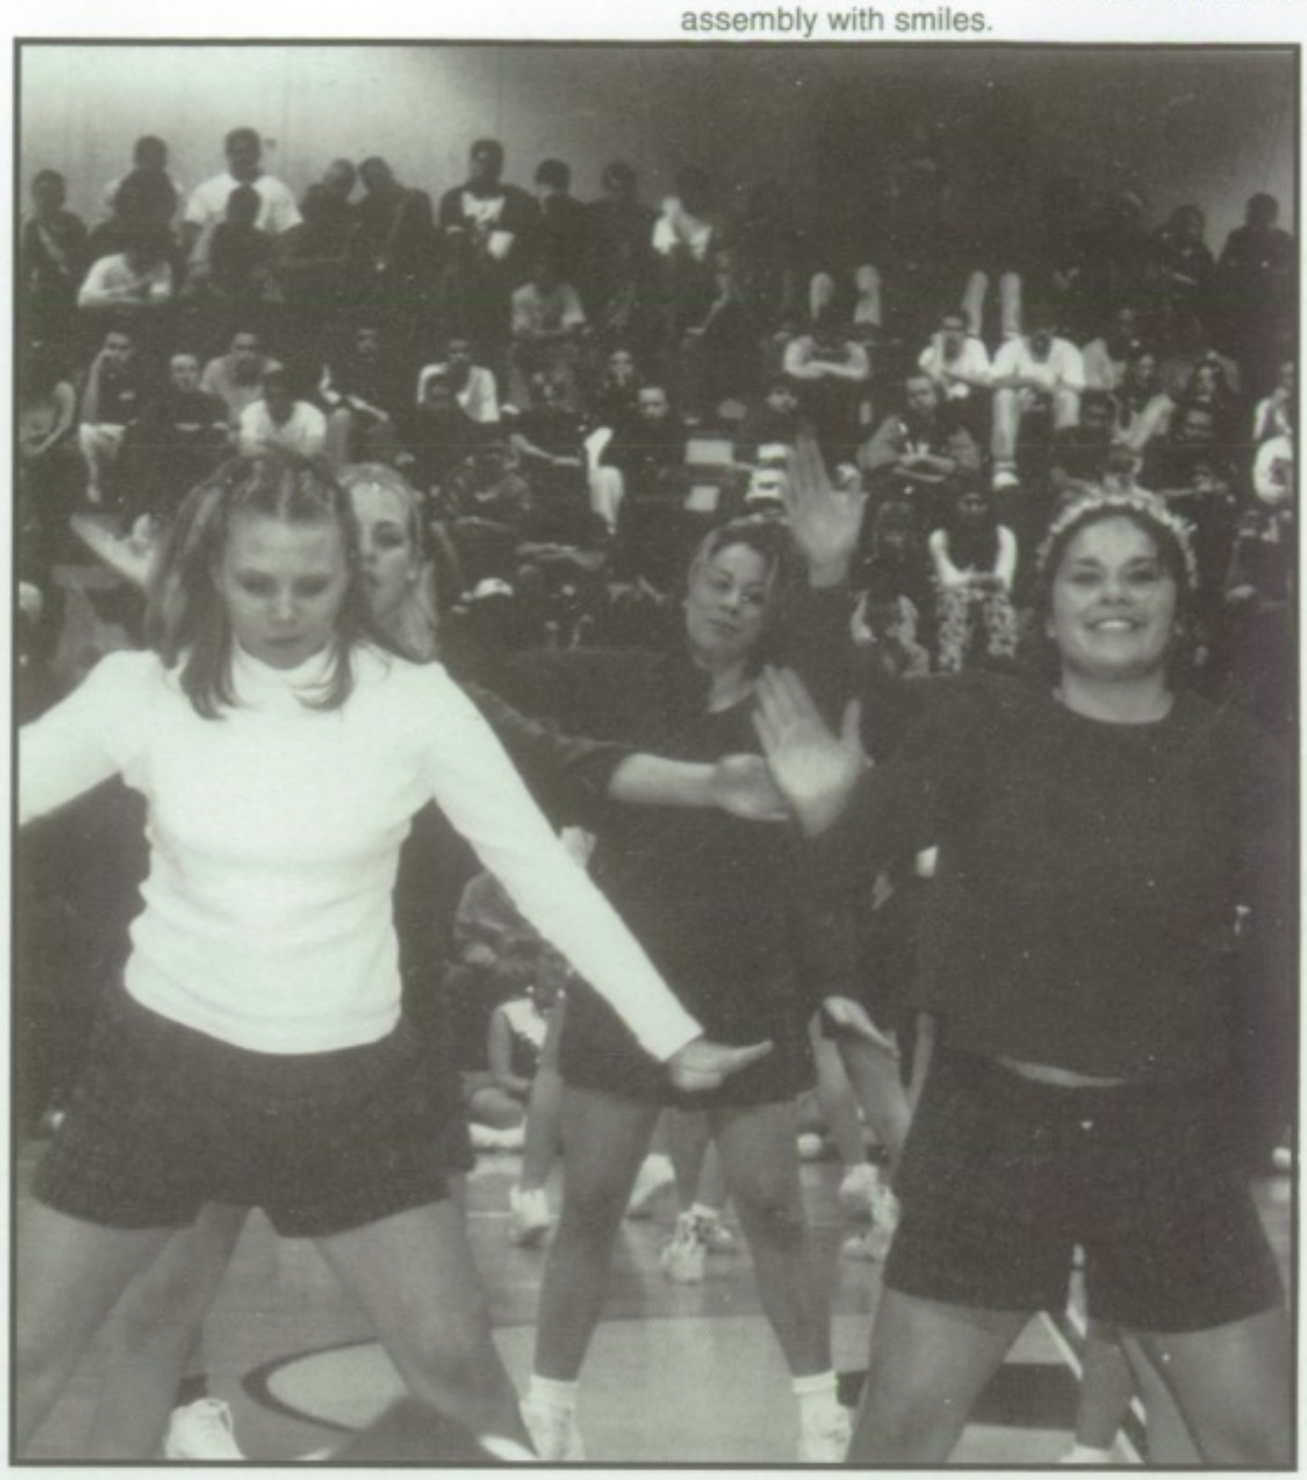


GO RAIDERS!.. Crystal Aichele (02) practices a lot before one of her games. She has to get every move right so in the end she will look great.

Air Jordan meet Air Lacy... being a cute blonde Lacy Barela (02) does a straddle jump in mid-air. She practices daily to get that perfect.

Hercules, Hercules! Practice makes perfect, Erin O'Connell (01), practices before a game the moves of the dance routine they will perform at half time.

Jingle Bells Rock! Christina Givens (01), Lacy Barela (02), Amanda Magrini (02), Jaime Stein (02), Lindsey Chapman (02), and Erin O'Connell (01) perform at the Christmas assembly with smiles.



"Cheering was a lot of fun with Erin."

-Crystal Aichele (02)

"This year Jina and I became closer."

-Rosalind Clark (02)

"I'm really glad that I got to cheer this year."

-Lindsey Chapman (02)

"These are me and my fellow senior girls!"

Raiders on the run

The cross country team had a very sucessful year. With few seniors to lead the team, the younger members of the running group improved their leadership skills.

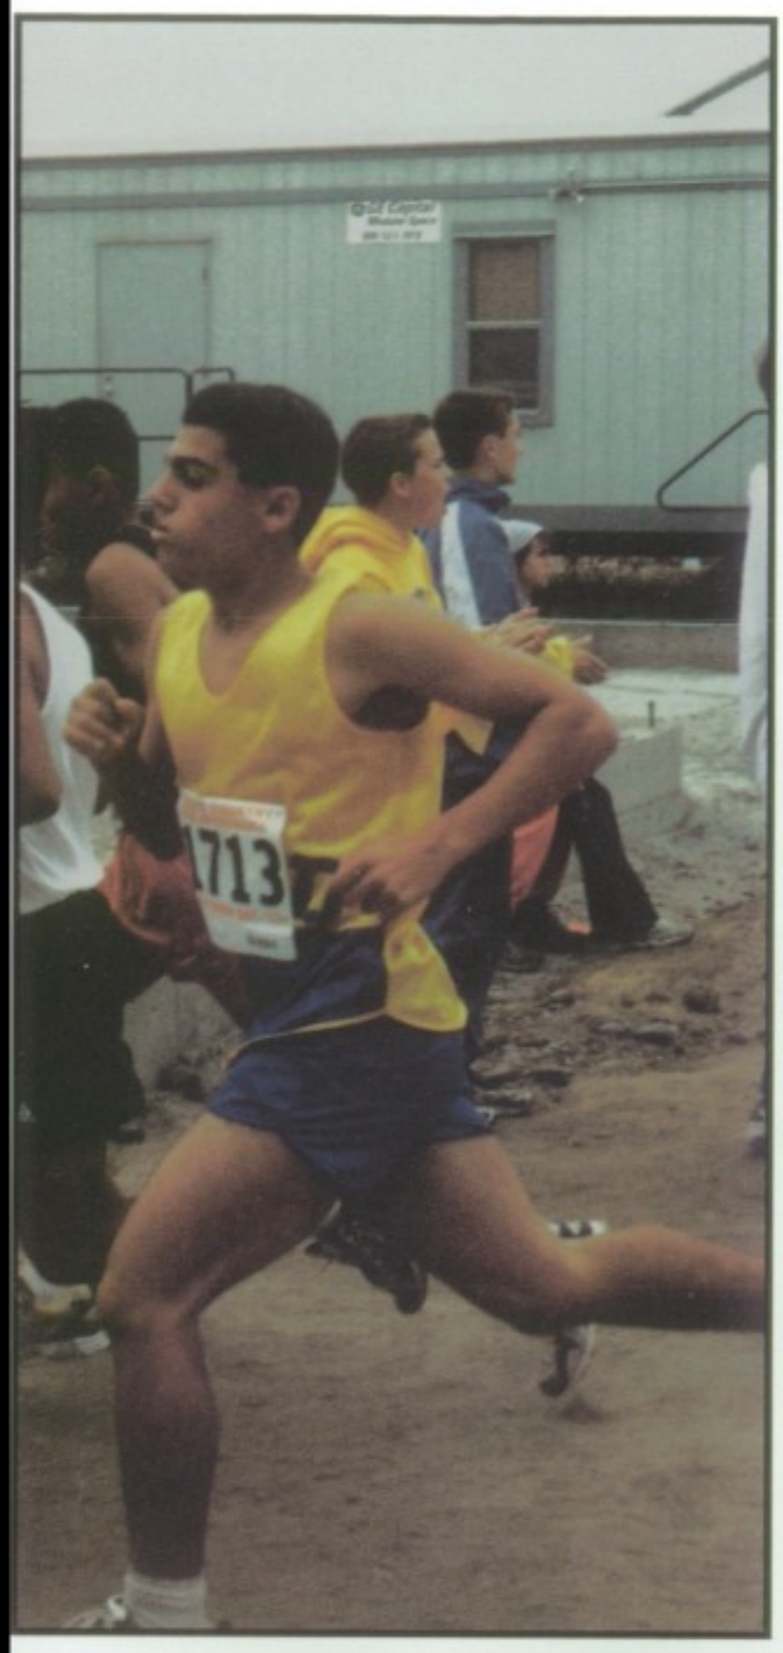
Ready to run! The team meets to go over the course before the race. Before the start of every race, the team had a small meeting and a warm-up jog.

C'mon ride the train... The lady Raiders charge though the sage at the McQueen meet. It was a tough meet because it was so hot, and the course included a steep hill right before the finish.

Pump those arms! Striding down the hill, Kyle Barker (03), looks to pass a competitor. Even though he was exhausted at the end of his race, he still was set on coming in ahead of the pack.

She could pose for the next Nike® ad! Starting up the hill, Camille Vidrine (01) begins passing the pack. She used her smooth form to fly by other teams. "I just worked hard and did my best in each race," Vidrine said.



Keep on rollin,rollin,rollin...Pushing his way through the pack, Charlie Moses (04),works hard to finish the race. Finishing strong is an important key in cross country.

Another banner year

The team started the season 0-2, a beginning that had given some players doubts that they could make State.

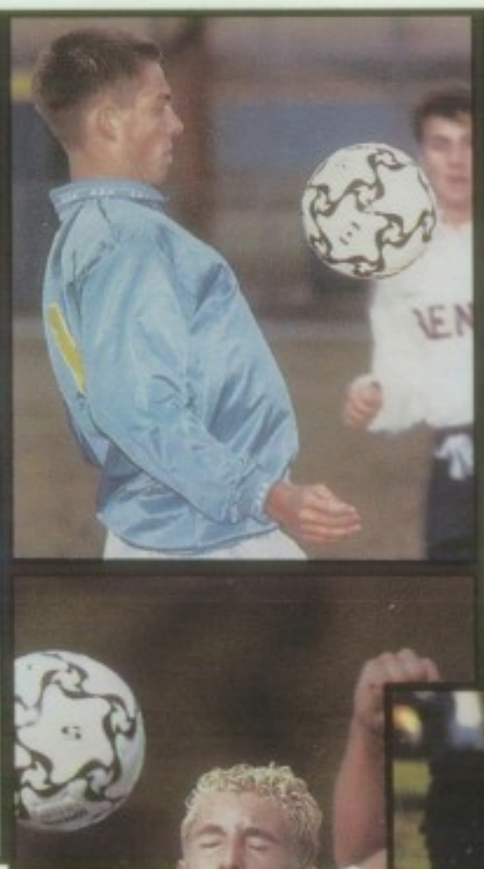
But after their second game, the team rallied, and began making goals, making saves, and making a difference in their W column.

After defeating South Tahoe in Zone, the team defeated Durango in State with 5 penalty kicks, the last kicked in by Zachary Canale (02).

Teamwork... Even though the team actually kicks in the goals, Bart VanDamme has the all-important job of guiding the players into position to get those points. Thanks to his coaching, the team took the State title and earned another banner to hang in Reed's gym.

Fight for it... Struggling to maintain controll of the ball, Marc Thompson (01) prepares to send the ball in the opponent's goal. Maintaining control of the ball was the hardest part to keep Reed soccer on top. "Being State champs was a great way to go out as a senior," said Thompson.

Good save... In all games Vince Licciadi (03) did and excellent job of keeping the other teams scores low. In any team the goaltender has the most important job, because a good defense is sometimes more important than a good offense.



There is no I in team... Learning to work together, Devon Byrne(01), James Gill (01), Marc Thompson (01), Alex Cisneros (03) all contribute to their team's sucess. The coach, Bart VanDamme and the team captain,Jarad Clark (01) stressed the importance of teamwork throughout the season, which is how the team made it to State.

Ouch that's got to hurt...Team captain Jarad Clark (01) head dives to get that ball. When players can't use their hands, they make use of other body parts to keep the ball in play.

Get off my love handles... The team and Brian Gaskins (01) stomped Sparks 3-0 at home.

I'll get it... In the first game of the season, Jarad Clark (01) chases ball downfield against Carson. Reed only lost this game and next game against Douglas.

Whatever it takes

I hope I don't lose my balance... Bouncing the ball off his ankle, Hassan Shabazz (01) steals the ball and takes it downfield.

Boink! Using his head, Scott Baxter (02) maintains possession of the ball in a close game.

Oh no, my hip went out again! Fighting to maintain control of the ball, Brett Radu (01) uses his knee to keep it from his trailing opponent.

Move it, baby! Diving, James Gill (01) saves the point.

Are you ready for this? Dribbling, Brian Gaskins (01) holds the ball.

Hustle up... Chasing the ball, Alex Cisneros (03) maintians control.

Can't catch me! Avoiding the defense, Drew Makoutz (02) sends the ball downfield.

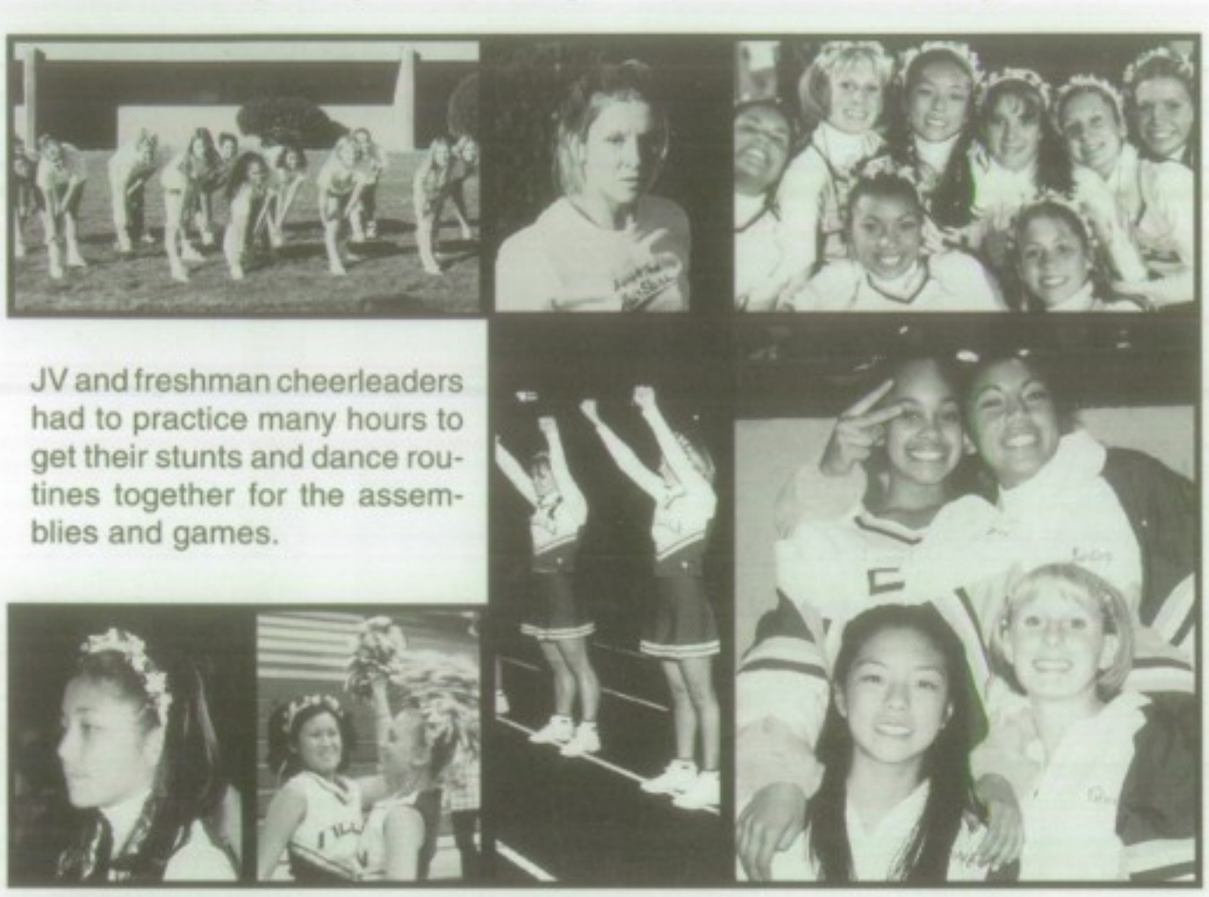
Freshmen & sophomores cheer for football victories

As the lists were posted and the new cheerleaders for the freshman and JV teams were announced, anxious girls stood, waiting to find out if they were to be chosen.

Adviser Sally Kelly worked long hours with the new squads, making sure they understood what they would be required to do as the leaders of the school's spirit.

The girls took first place in the local UNR cheer competition.



JV and freshman cheerleaders had to practice many hours to get their stunts and dance routines together for the assemblies and games.

The freshman cheerleaders practice hard to do the special stunts such as a full extension.Victoria Sims (04). They wake up early in the morning and practice two hours a day. Chelsie Riley (04). All of this practice pays off for when they come home to Reed with a trophy.This year they participated in a competition at the old UNR. They won first place to show who has the most Reed spirit.They also practice very hard for assemblies to show us all a great show. Ivy Alexander (03)

Rah, Rah, Rah! Here we are the J.V squad. Aren't we cute as can be? Janaye Nichols, Jenni Gableman, Ivy Alexander, Hayley Medias, Stephanie Rue and Kendall Hawley, cheer for victory. Even when they are alone, cheerleaders are just as peppy and spirited as when they are cheering for their team.

Teamwork and lots of hours together creates friendships on the freshman and junior varsity teams. Jenni Gableman and Jennifer Joslyn are good friends. All the girls feel that being friends with each other makes the season fun. "Cheering with your friends is the best," said Kendall Hawley.

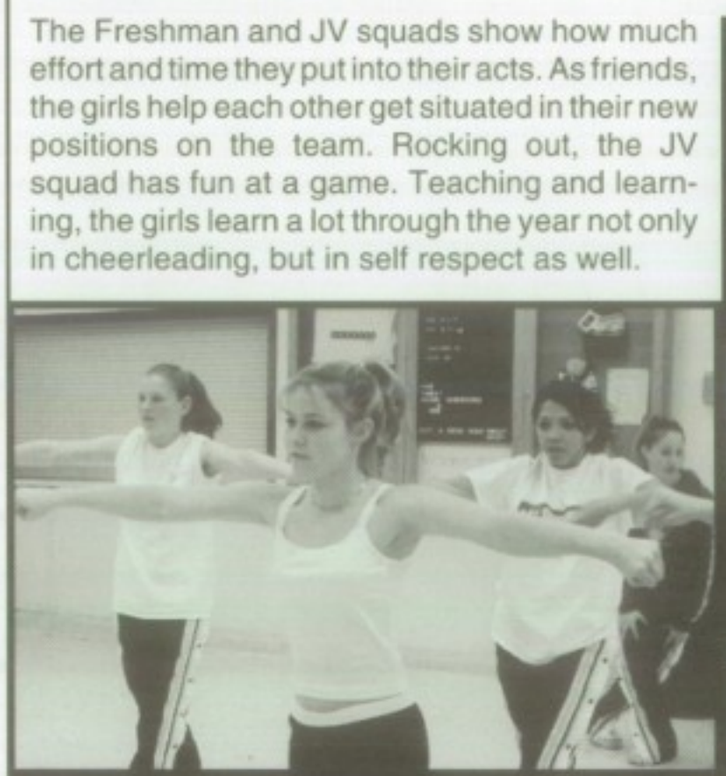
While cheering your best... have fun doing it!

The Freshman and JV squads show how much effort and time they put into their acts. As friends, the girls help each other get situated in their new positions on the team. Rocking out, the JV squad has fun at a game. Teaching and learning, the girls learn a lot through the year not only in cheerleading, but in self respect as well.



GO RADIERS! Cheering with all her heart; Jennifer Edmonds (04), gives us a little flavor of what the moves look like out on the floor. All the girls work together to create their routines for assemblies.

Winter cheer for freshmen and sophomores

Practice makes perfect they always say. In fact Paula Edmonds spends a lot of her time helping her daughter Jennifer Edmonds (04) and the freshman team with their great moves. She helps the girls out, and they love her support. The J.V team practices their final moves for the halftime show so they can look good.

Cheering isn't al ways what ev eryone thinks it is. A lot of the girls try to make it as fun as posssible. As they go throughout the year, they all make a ton of tight friendships that often last throughout their high school years.

Helping each other learn the moves and dance steps is just one aspect of being on the squad. They bring us all kinds of assembly dances, half time shows, also sometimes they go on to competition. When the cheerleaders hit the floor, however, it is all business. Every move is exact and timed perfectly to music.

Jam with us! Turning quickly, Jenni Gableman (03), dances and at a basketball game. She loves to cheer. Gableman has been cheering since her freshman year.

Stephanie Smith (04), leads her team to a victory! She teaches all the girls how to make their moves quick and flashy. Even though she's a freshman, Smith knows the moves and is ready and willing to help the rest of the squad.

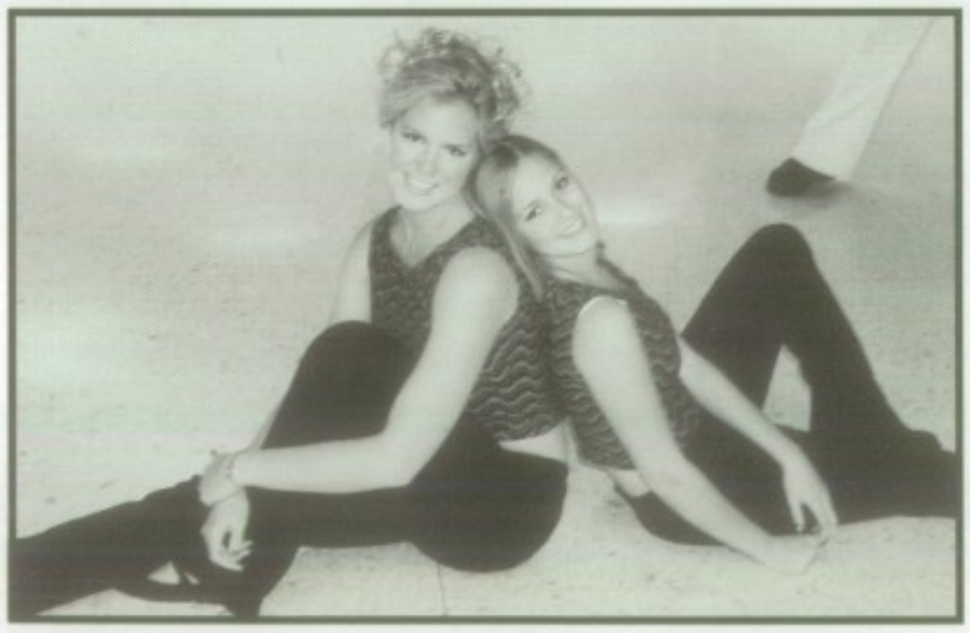
Award-Winning Talent

Practice makes perfect for Reed's flag team. They practice three and a half hours a day for only and five minute routine. They have sixteen girls on the team. Three freshman, three sophmores, seven juniors, and three seniors. They had brand new equipment this year along with new uniforms. They dazzled the eyes of the crowds for shre. They believe in hardwork and dedication.

All the girls practiced to look good as it shows here. Sarah Smith (02). Megan Ploumen (03). Lindsey Corbridge (02). Lindsey Chapman (02). Ashley Turney (02). Amber Bailie (02). Monica Ploumen (01). Katie Snell (01). Ashley Gioglio (04)



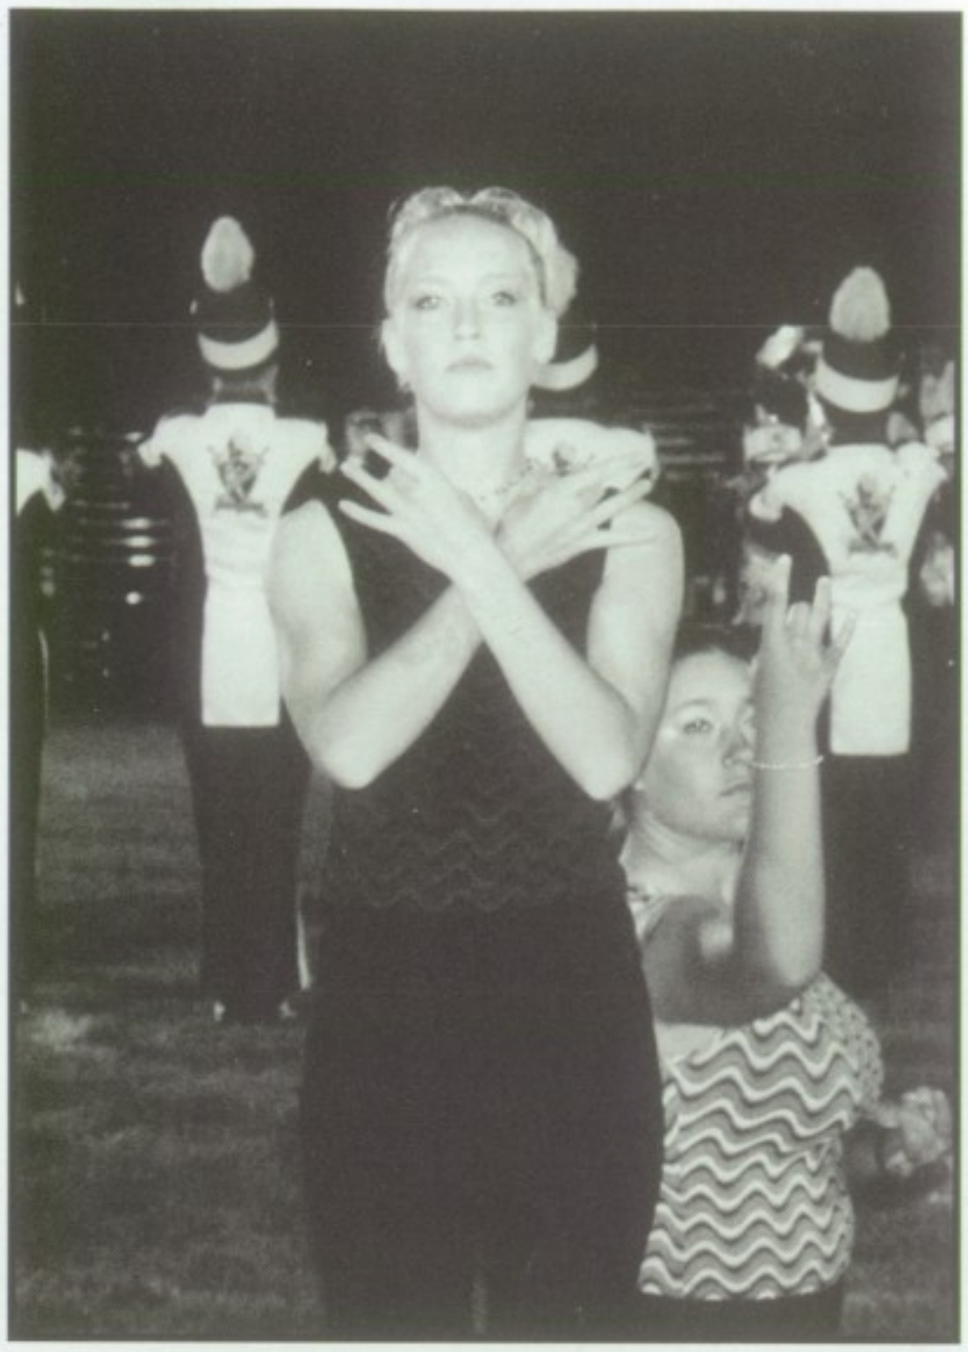
Lindsey Chapman (02) and Megan Ploumen (03) made a good friendship this year along with a lot of other girls that had met each other just this year through flags.

Excited? Oh yes she is! She gets to be doing flags with her friends this year. "I learned a lot about hard work this year, that's for sure," says Kirsten Corbridge (04)

Hold it for Reed pride."I loved flags this year with all my friends, cousins and my little sister Kirsten." said Lindsey Corbridge (02).

"I am applying for UNLV, with a scholarship for flags."

-Serena Proudfoot



Just before the halftime show, Megan Loveland (03) prepares herself mentally for the event. She practices her routine in her mind to help get ready.

The flag team during got together during a regular practice for a group photo. They were excited about everyone knowing how much they work.

Serena Proudfoot teaches MeganLoveland and Janelle Corbridge all they need to know to help them get ready for flags.

Megan Ploumen and Amber Bailie practice hard knowing that everyone will be watching them at the games they think to themselves just how hard it is going to be.

Lindsey Chapman twirls her flag with all her might to show off just how good she really is.

Monica Ploumen enjoys the game by the sidelines as she gives us a big smile for she will be graduating this yearrembering her good times she had with all her pals in flags.

Jaime Bowman takes up her time talking as long as doing her hair for team pictures.

Drill Team Members Show Awesome Team and School Spirit

Our drill team shows massive spirit with every smile and every wave. Unlike the cheerleaders they don't do any cheers but they do provide a series of wonderful and magnificent dances. Sometimes you do not need words to show how you feel about your school. Through dance they show a pride that is unexplainable.

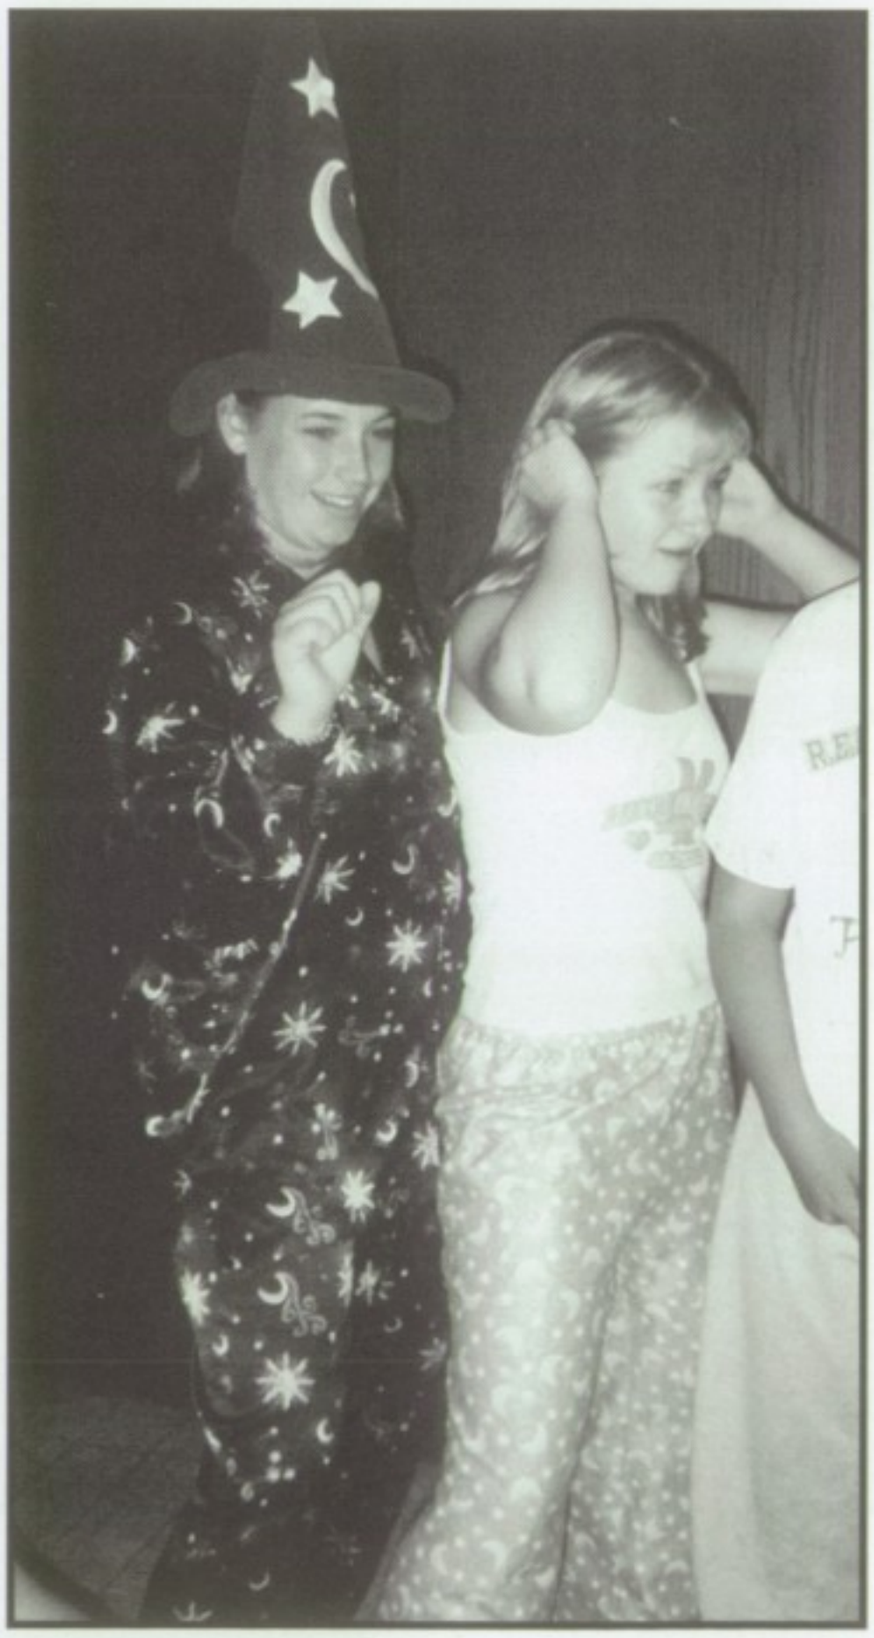
Drill team members worked hard through the summer under the direction of coach Gina Pullin.

The function of the drill team is to add color to the huge green football field when the marching band performs, and to spice up the overall effect of the band's performance by dancing and moving rhythmically to the beat of the music.

Also performing at Open House, assemblies, and in parades, the dancers find that being Reed Royals demands much more time than a few minutes to learn a dance or two.

Friendship was the key this year for the girls, who spent many nights together and found that the bonds of their team stretched farther than just the field.



Hocus Pocus! In her pajamas, Toni Mocabee (04), shows off her wizard outfit as the drill team gets ready for bed. After a fun night of games at their get together they will have a good night's rest.

Disco Duck! At a drill team sleepover Shannon Williams puts on a performance to help build unity for the team. Every once in awhile the Drill Team has get-togethers to help them bond.

Shooting to Win

The rifle team brings unity be tween team-mates. These highly skilled Reed students have earned each others trust and friendship. Rifle team is more then just shooting a gun, it's a learning experience for life. With three different positions to shoot in: standing , kneeling and prone(laying down), rifle team is a benifical extracircicular activity. The team has shown hard work all season!

Stick 'em up! Laying in the prone position, Meghan Lyons (02), makes sure the eye piece is in the proper position. This is necessary for getting an acurate shot.

Ready, Aim, Fire!

Rifle team practices constantly to improve scores.

"Shooting on rifle team is a good way to test your abiity!"
-Jessica Otto

Be very quiet! I'm hunting wabbits! Steadying his gun,Sean Bosch (04), aims at the target. It's very important to make sure your gun is steady, so you can get an accurate shot.

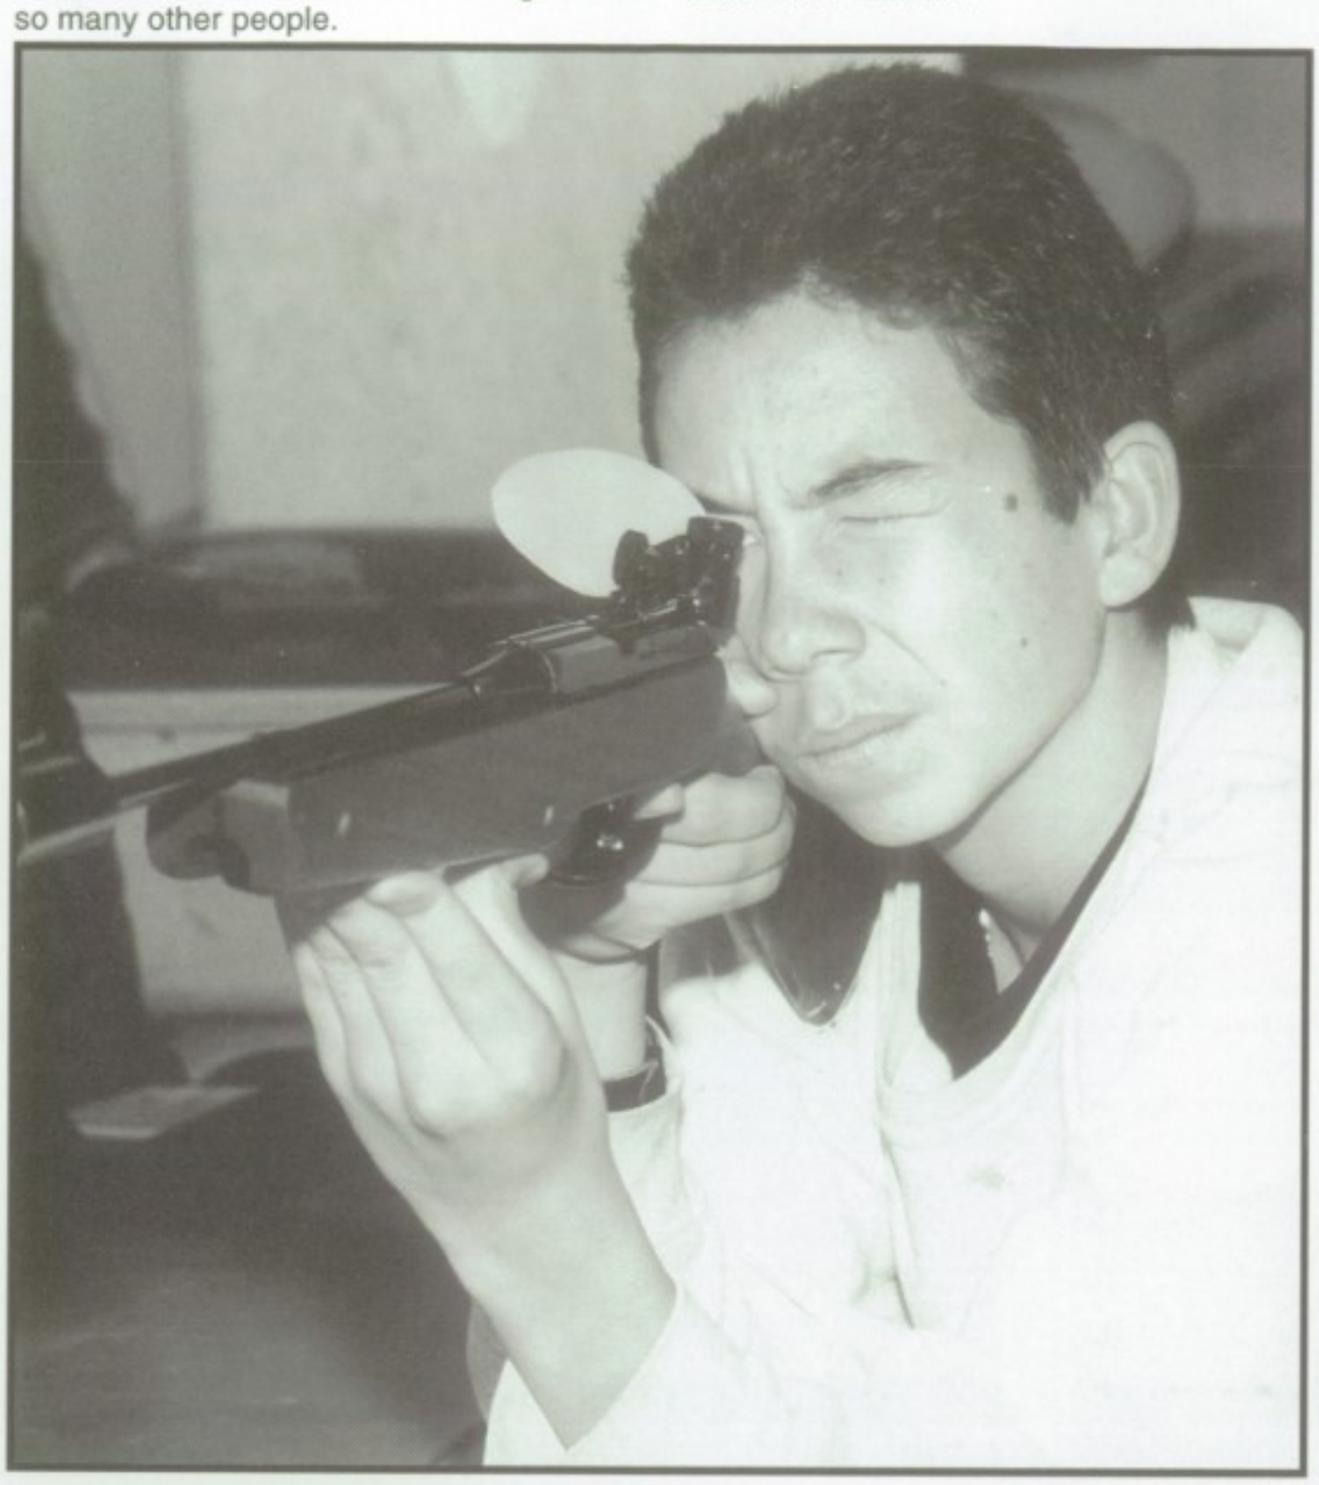
Ready, Aim, Fire! During practice, the rifle team, prepares to take their first shot at the targets that are pinned up on the boards, against the back wall in the rifle range.

What??? Getting ready to pin up his target for shooting practice, Kevin Novosel (03), looks over his shoulder as the instructions are being given.

Reach for the sky! Kneeling down to get a perfect shot, Randall Stover(03), concentrates on the center of the target, in order to get off a good shot to add to his score.

Here is a crowd that you don't want to mess with! The Rifle team gets together in a group picture before practicing for a big meet in January.

Up close and personal. Putting her eyepiece to good use, Amy Speakman (04), lines up her gun with the target at rifle team practice. They have to be careful while shooting around so many other people.



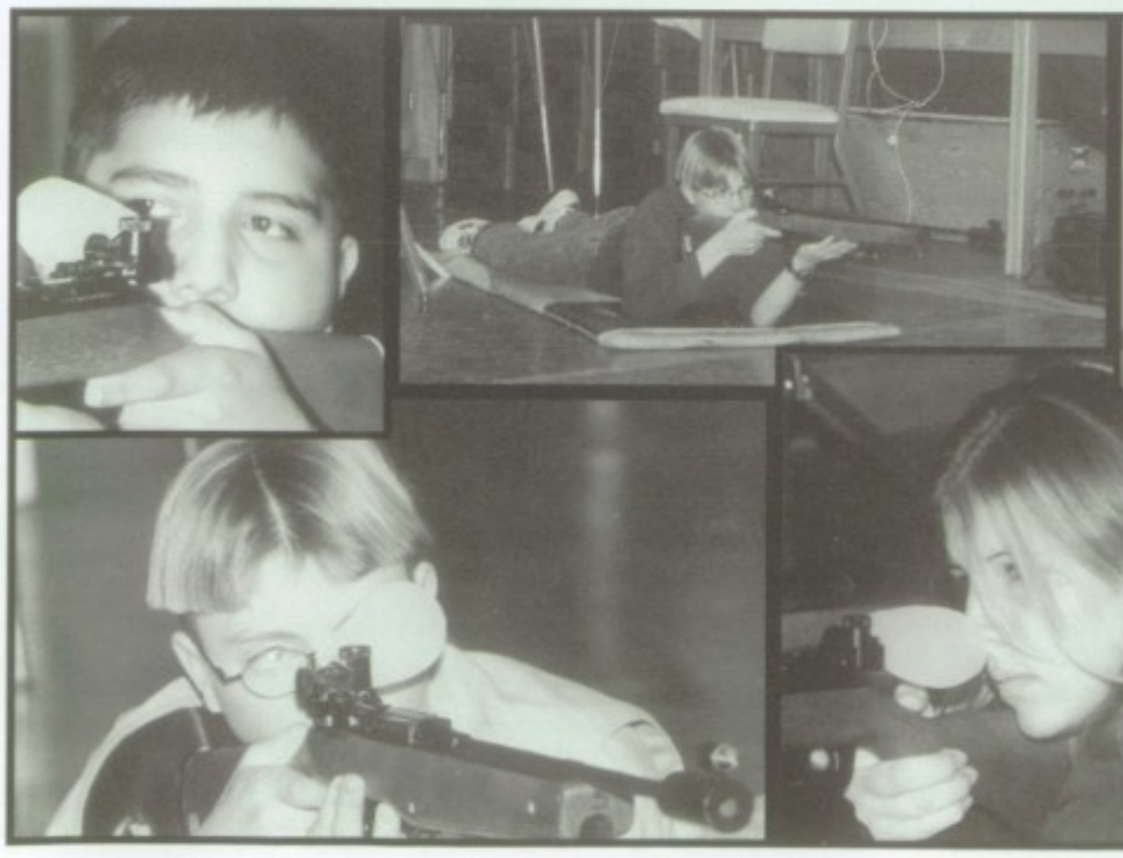
Just a little to the right...making sure that his last shot is his best,Zach Baskara (03), takes perfect aim before one of the last competitions of the season.

"The best part of rifle team is the comrodery of the team members, and the trust."
-Andy Speakman (02)

"The funnest part of rifle team is learning to shoot."
-Amy Speakman (04)

"My favorite part of rifle team is outshootng the rest of the team, hitting the aim, and shooting well!."
-Kevin Novosel (03)

"The best part of Rifle team is getting to shoot in prone position."
-Sean Parker (03)



The rifle team is a wonderful program that is filled with plenty of different skills to master. Reed's rifle team had good overall scores in weekly competitions against other schools, due to their dedication and hardwork at the rifle range. The rifle team is full of skilled marksmen and women who showcase their talents at the competitions. The rifle team also spends a lot of time practicing their shots to get them just right. They use eye pieces, binoculars, charts, and mats to assist them in winning competitions.

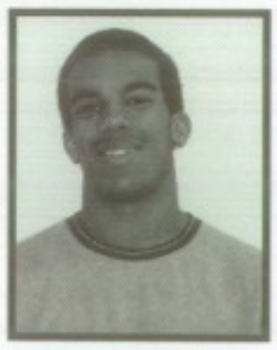
-Adam Hunter



Whoa, watch out! Adam Hunter (02) takes it to the hoop for two. The junior has had a good season. It was a young team, but they worked together and no matter what grade everyone was in, the team came together and saw the season through.

"D-Hall for two!" He's at it again. During the season that was a frequent announcement out of the mouth of Ralph Bothe. He announced all the Varsity Boys home games.

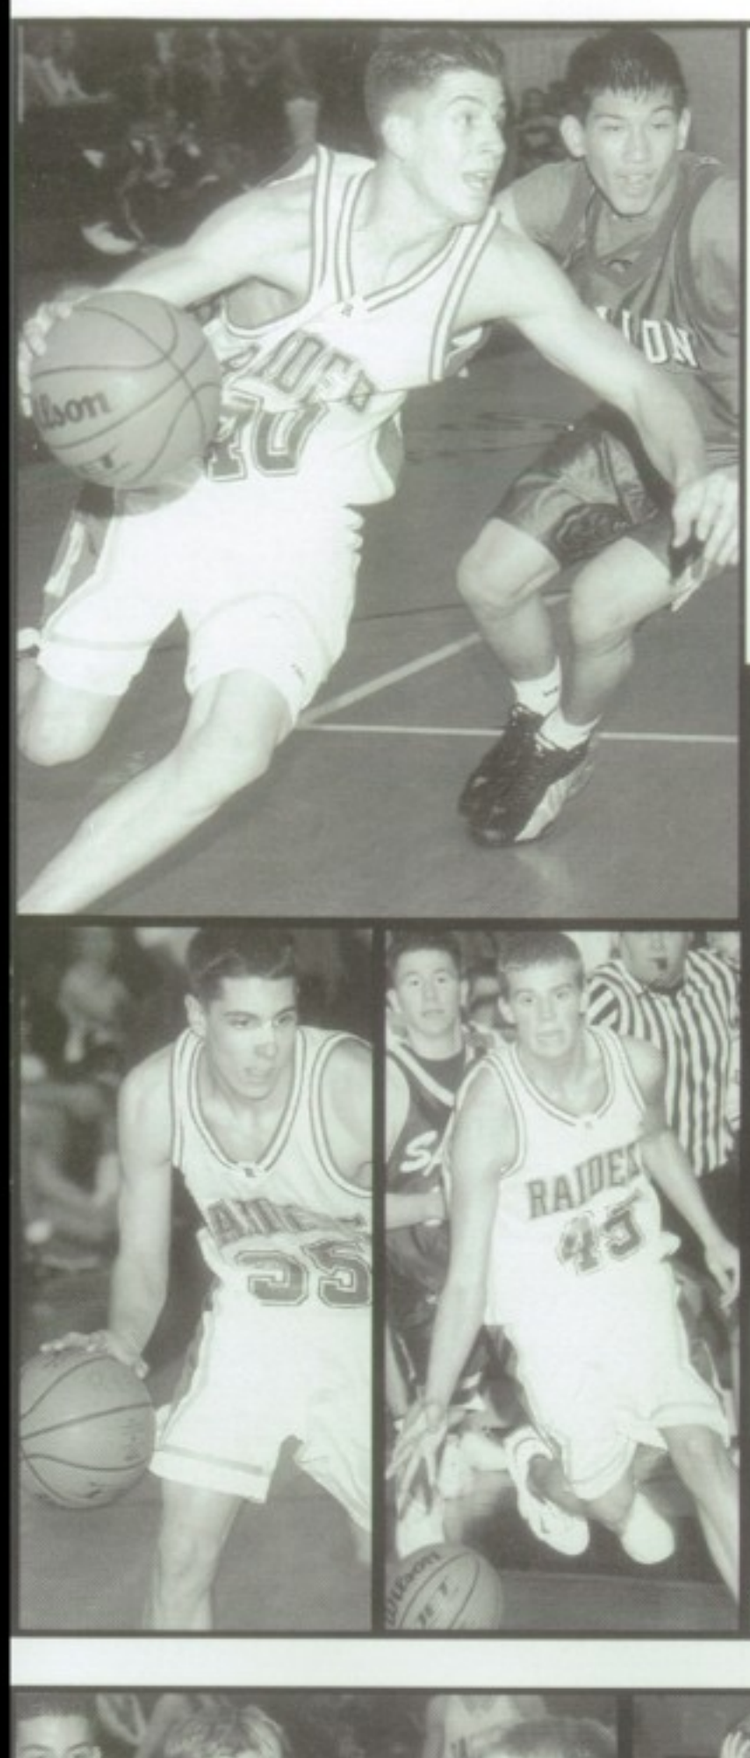
It's a Hoop Thang

The season was one of tribulation. Although they were a young team, they all pulled together to make the best of it. With problem plagued players and only three seniors on the team they went on to win 9-17 games , including the most important; Homecoming, where they successfully defeated Sparks. After it was all said and done, our boys walked away with their heads held high.

Takin' it to the Hoop

Look out! While shooting scores the points, you have to get to the hoop first. Seen here, Ryan Johnson (02), Troy Monroe (01), Brett Lee (01), and Pat Carey (01), take it to the hoop. The guys had to battle defenders in order to get into the key.



What's your favorite part of coaching on the high school level?

"You learn so much about the kids. You get to watch them grow and really learn the game. It's exciting when they want to pursue it on the college level as well."

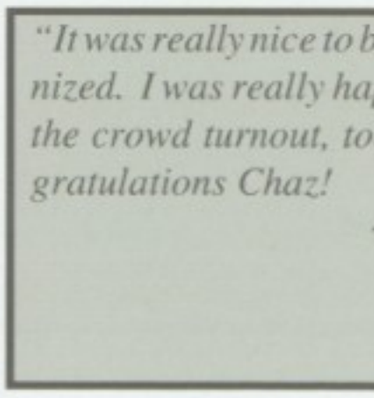
-Coach Hogan

End of the Road

Pat Carey, Brett Lee, and Troy Monroe, walk with their parents, on their last homecoming here at Reed. We asked the guys what their favorite part of the night was .

"It was a long season, but the crowds have been good, and we won the game!"

-Pat Carey



"It was really nice to be recognized. I was really happy with the crowd turnout, too. Congratulations Chaz!

A Man's Sport

Wrestling is an original Olympic sport. Past on through generations of hard work and dedication. Some have said that it is 90% mental and only 10% physical. Although it does help to be fit in matches that go the distances. The mental part comes in when the players are in practice for hours, they fight the urge to give up and quit.

A. Sorensen

Wrestling:What men do during boys' basketball season

Jason Makoutz

Wrestling is a physically demanding sport that takes a lot of hard work and practice.Wrestlers often go on crazy diets or fast before meets to cut weight so they can wrestle in a lower weight class. You have to know how to combine your skills and strengths together at one time. Wrestlers have to know what moves to use and when to attack their opponent. Spinning, dipping, and pinning our Raider wrestlers showed they had the skills and the class to come out on top of the competition.

Ski team glides though the snow for another victorious season

After spending time in the school practicing, conditioning, and preparing their equipment, the ski team hops on the bus and heads towards the mountains! When they get to the ski resort not only do they get to enjoy the beautiful, snowy slopes, but they also get to compete on couses set up on the runs. Then afterwards they get to enjoy just hanging out and goofing around.

Bunny hopping down the hill! Flying through the course, Jessica McNamara, defeats all of the obstacles of the run.

It's all skill! Turning, bending and flying downs the runs, Adam Beintema, Kelly Brown and Kirsten Corbridge, show off how well they can ski with obstacles in their way. It takes a lot of control to be able to ski the courses as they are laid out for the school competitions.

The Abominable Ski Team

The white mist hits your face as you slide down the powder hills, leap into the crisp air, and gracefully touch base with the cool snow.

If this is you, you're a part of the Reed High Ski Team. Kickin' some major booty down the slopes, the ski team did extremely well this season, winning nine of their matches.

The ski team was at a disadvantage, because they could not pratice their sport everyday, like other sports.

They waited to get slope time and spent the other practice hours improving overall body condition so they could win.

Go for it! Giving onehunded percent effort after a full day skiing can be a difficult task, but they keep going and going!

Love and Basketball

Whether it's practice, or the big game of the year, the girls basketball team always give it their all.

They have heart and soul for the game that will probably always be a part of their lives.

Move it! This vertically challenged senior may not seem tough, but get her on the court and you're bound to get burned. Misty Nguyen (01), is one tough cookie.

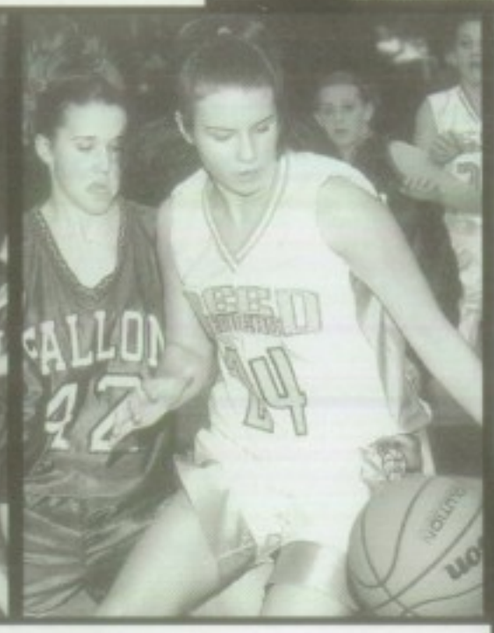
Take it to the hoop!

Us girls know how to represent too!

"Even though it is a lot of work, it's worth it when we win"

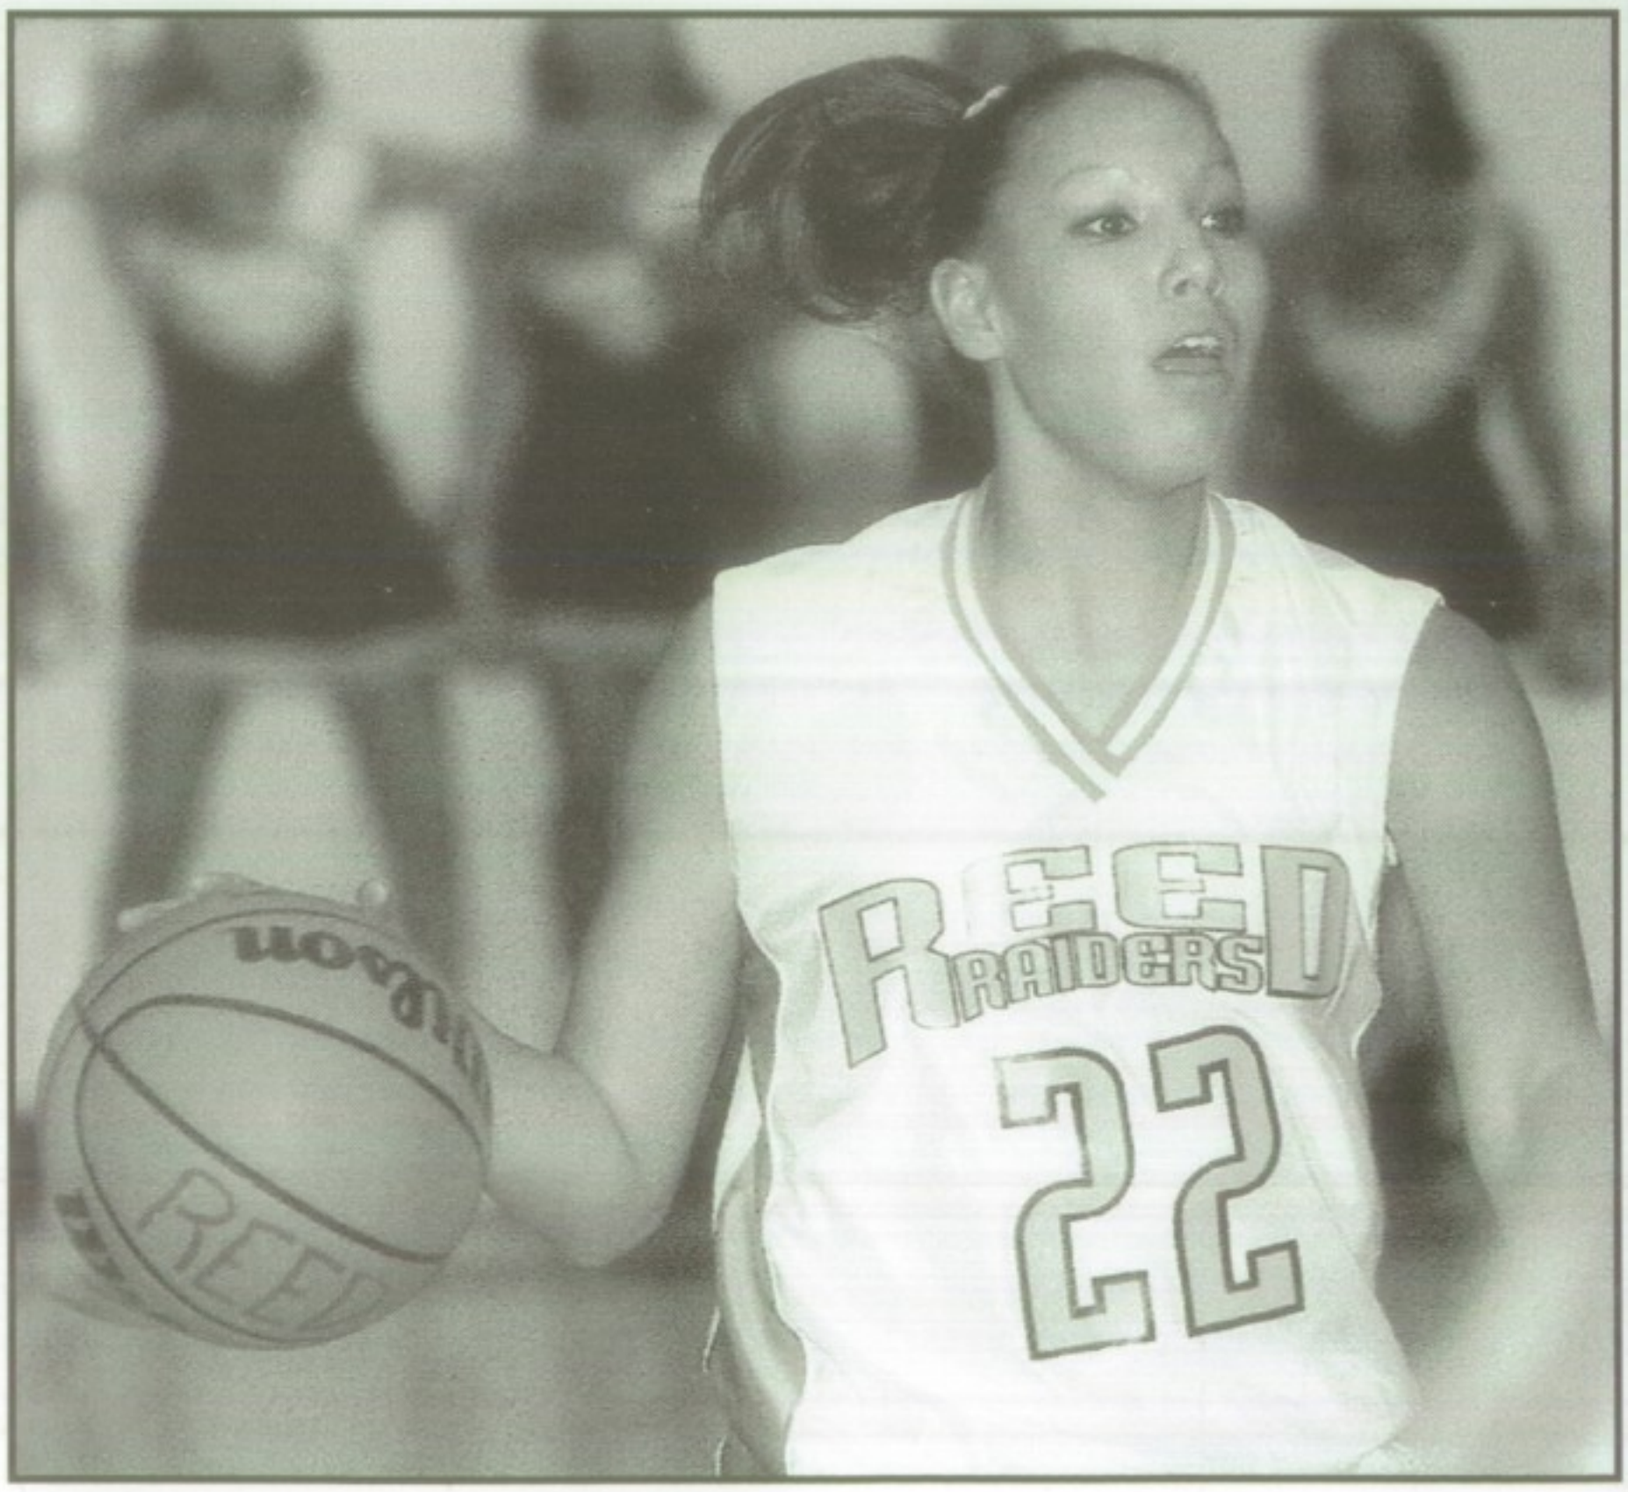
-Megan O'Connor

Show us your skills. Whitney Smith (02), towers over the competition while shooting a basket. Though she puts a lot of effort into practice, she tries to take as many breaks as possible in between drills.



Get out of my way! Megan O'Connor (01), will do just about anything to make a basket. "I think that the more aggressive you are, the more successful you are in this game," explained O'Connor.

Handlin' with ease. Amanda Chaney, and Megan O'Connor, show their awesome ball handling skills at the Fallon game. The ball almost seems like an extension of their hand.



What should I do? As Alana Espiritu (02), scans the court to look for an open teammate, the other team starts to close in. But with her quick thinking, and reflexes she gets the ball to her teammate. "Look at my armpits!" shouted Espiritu.

Look out! Raveon Harrowa (04), is one of the few freshmen on the varsity team. But don't be fooled by her age. This girl knows how to represent.

I almost got it. Erin Jackson (03), reaches for the ball, and successfully rebounds. She shows very good defense at all the games by going for the ball no matter where it is.

Doesn't she look like a WNBA player? Misty Nguyen (01) knows how to make her presence known on the court. "As a point guard, my job is to lead the pack," explained Nguyen.

It's Dance Fever

The dance team entertained us at the assemblies and basketball games. They also had a competition this year in Tracy, Cal., where they did very well. Their many hours of practice helped them to be one of the best dance teams here at Reed.

Here comes Santa Claus....Deandra Pino (02) made sure she was a good little dancer this year. "The girls on the team help to make everyone look good," said Pino.

Get up and dance!

Come get your groove on!

"I love to dance! It is one of my favorite things to do in my free time."

Y'all ready for this?

The J.V. and Freshman teams spent the season improving teamwork and skills. Following in his brothers footsteps, Kris Talancon, showed a great performance this year. Following behind him was Eric Lewis, both were freshmen.

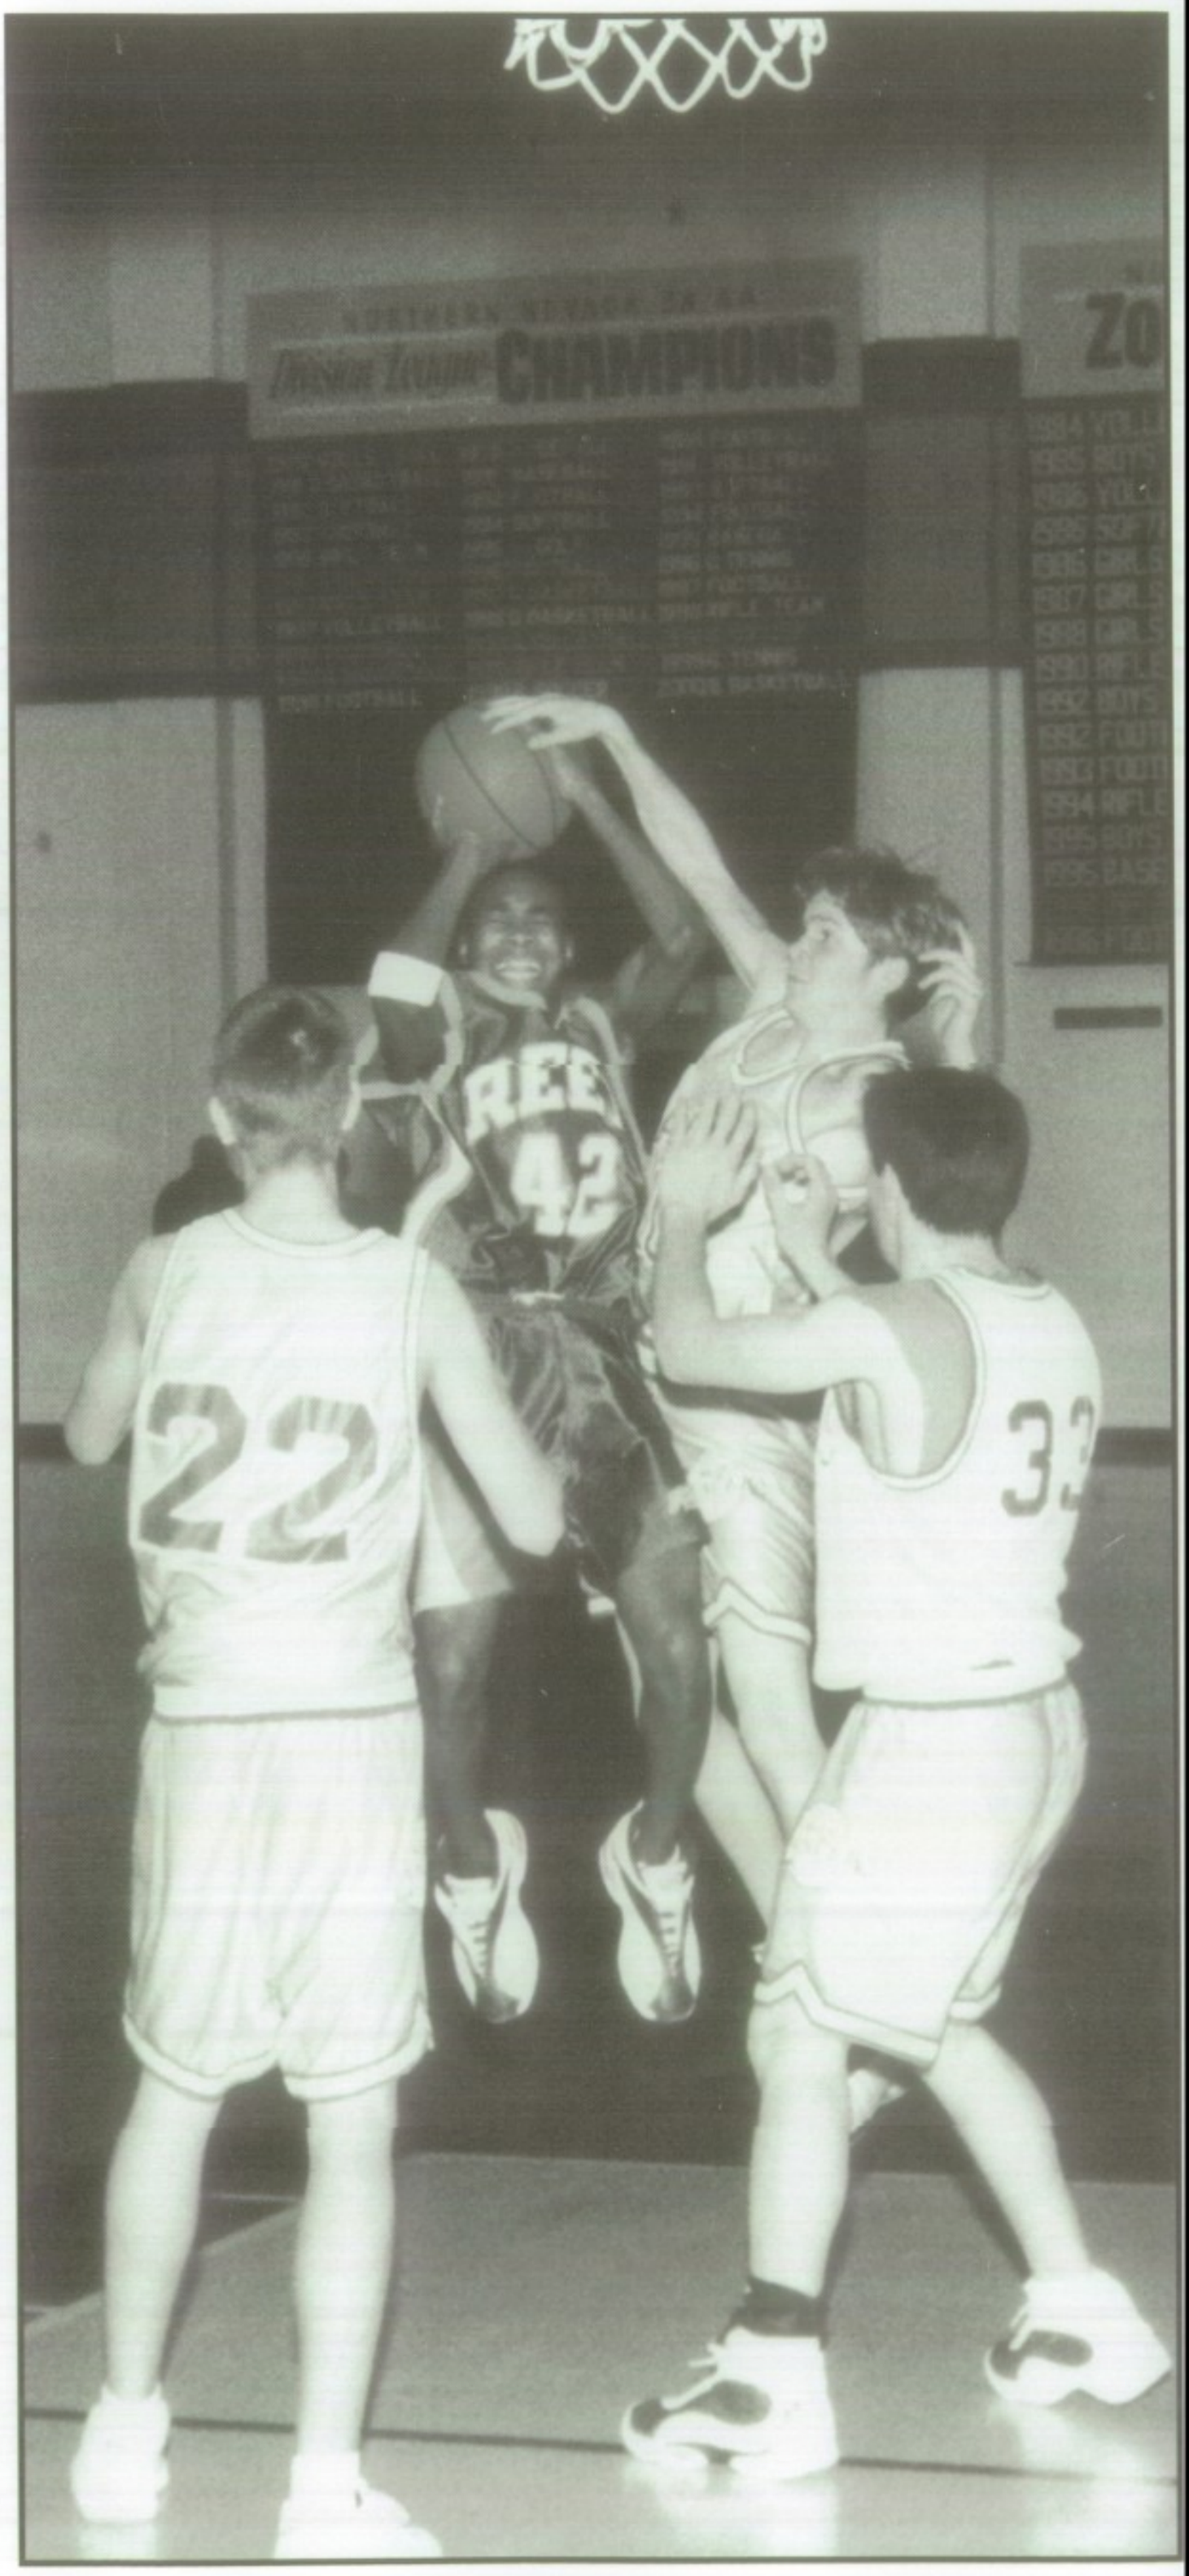
For the J.V team, 6'5" freshmen Terry Johnson, made great things happen this season with his height. Following, his teammate Walter Hopkins (03), also 6"5' , they both had great seasons.

They got game! Reeds tearin' it up. Daryl Solis (04), Zach Jonas (04), Eric Lewis (04), and Kris Talancon(04), show thier skill for the Raiders this year. We look foward to seeing them in upcoming seasons!

So, you wanna battle? Reed players Eric Lewis, Daryl Solis, Britt Hastings, and Antoine White, battle for the loose ball before McQueen recovers it. Reeds determination helped them finish the season strong!

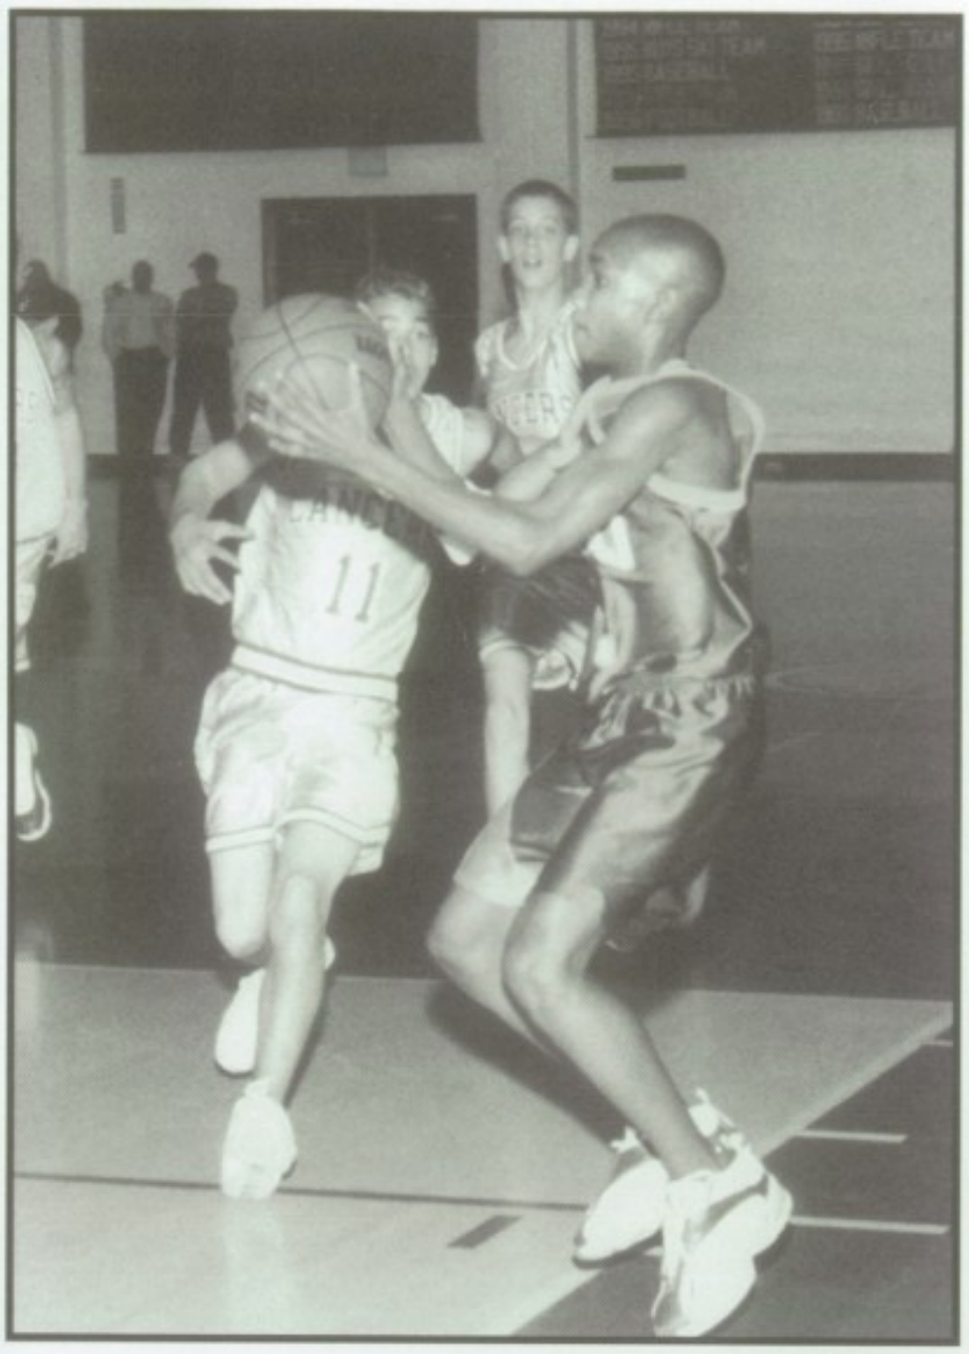
Makin' it look too easy! Kris Talancon (04), steals the ball away from the opposing team. Not the first time we've seen Talancon successfully attempt this, and definately not the last.

Get out of my house! Eric Lewis(04) goes up for a two pointer while being heavely gaurded by three defending players from McQueen. Lewis had a great opening season as a Freshmen.

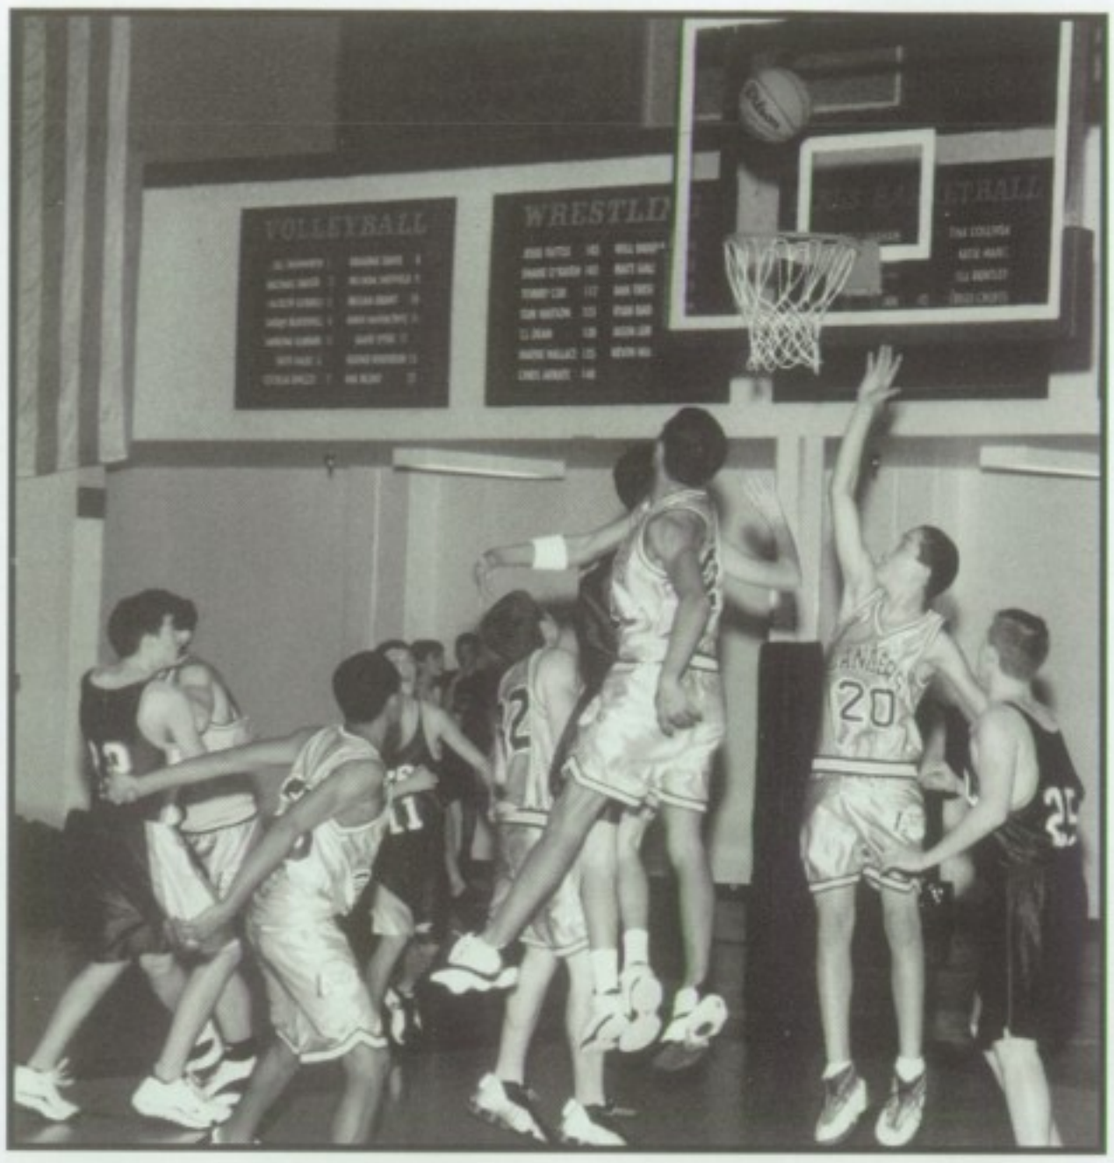


"The young teams really showed Reed and everyone else what's to come in the next few years. They have a lot of skill."

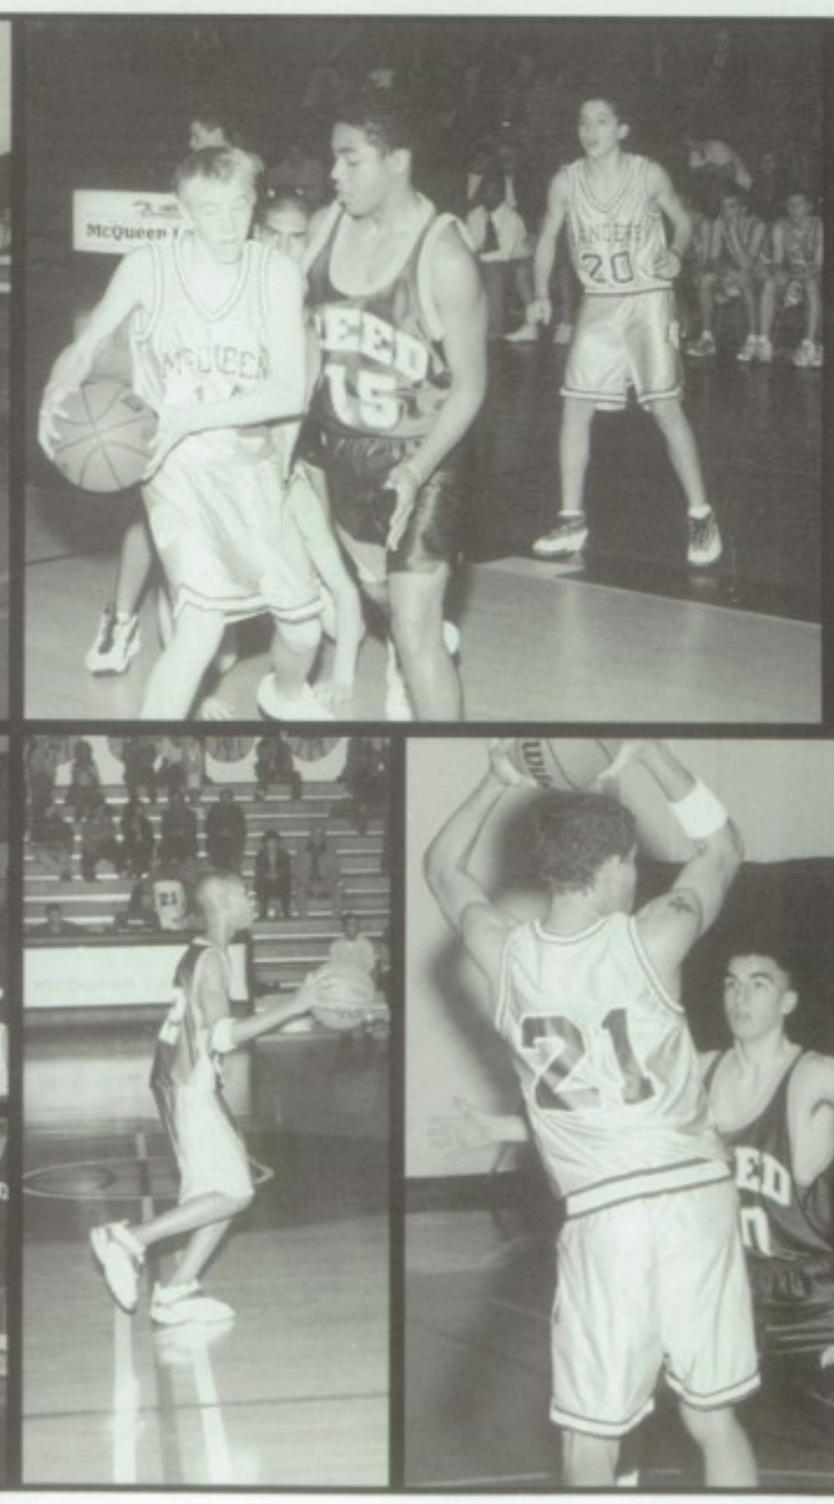
-Elise Buckhart

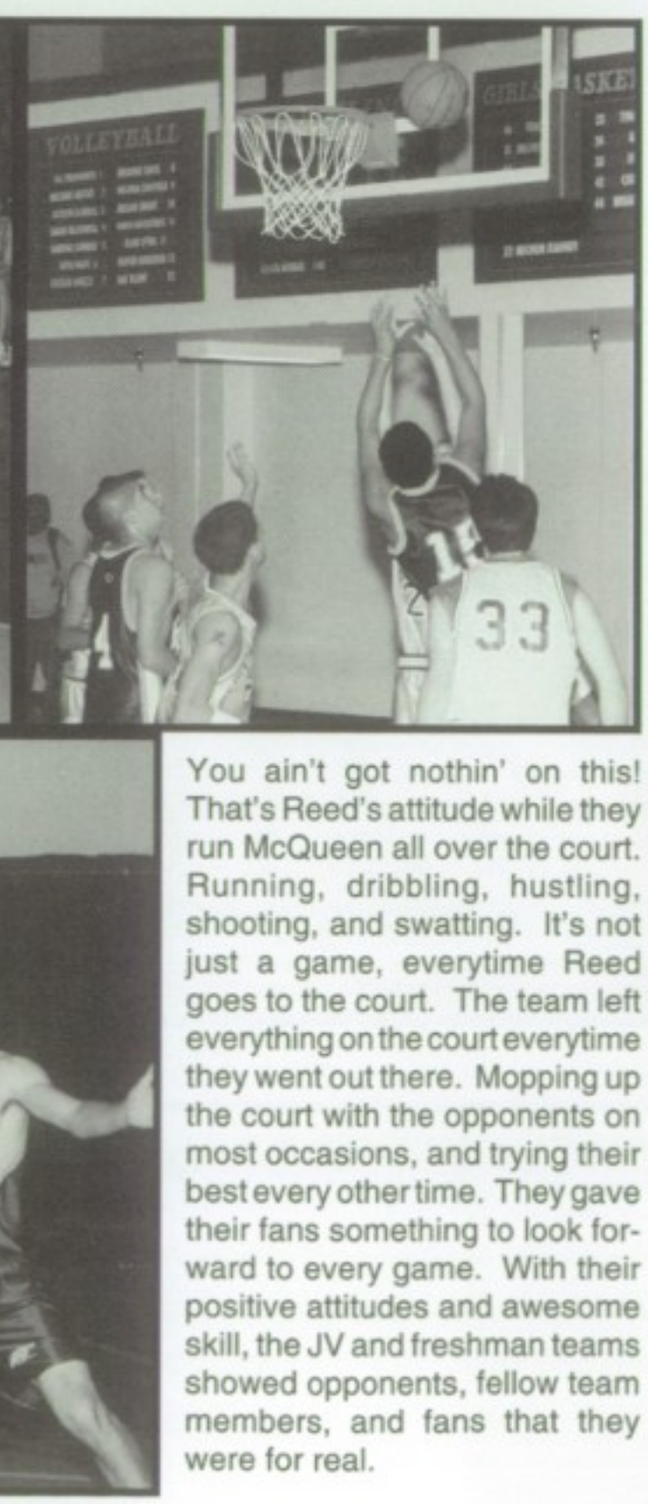


"Stop, drop, shut 'em down..." Eric Lewis, plants his feet to go up for the jump shot. Just one of the many attemps Lewis had this season. Lewis was never afraid to show them what was up.



Baby got hops! Reed goes up for the shot while McQueen tries to dismiss it. Reed's power gives them the chance to make the grade.





You ain't got nothin' on this! That's Reed's attitude while they run McQueen all over the court. Running, dribbling, hustling, shooting, and swatting. It's not just a game, everytime Reed goes to the court. The team left everything on the court everytime they went out there. Mopping up the court with the opponents on most occasions, and trying their best every other time. They gave their fans something to look forward to every game. With their positive attitudes and awesome skill, the JV and freshman teams showed opponents, fellow team members, and fans that they were for real.

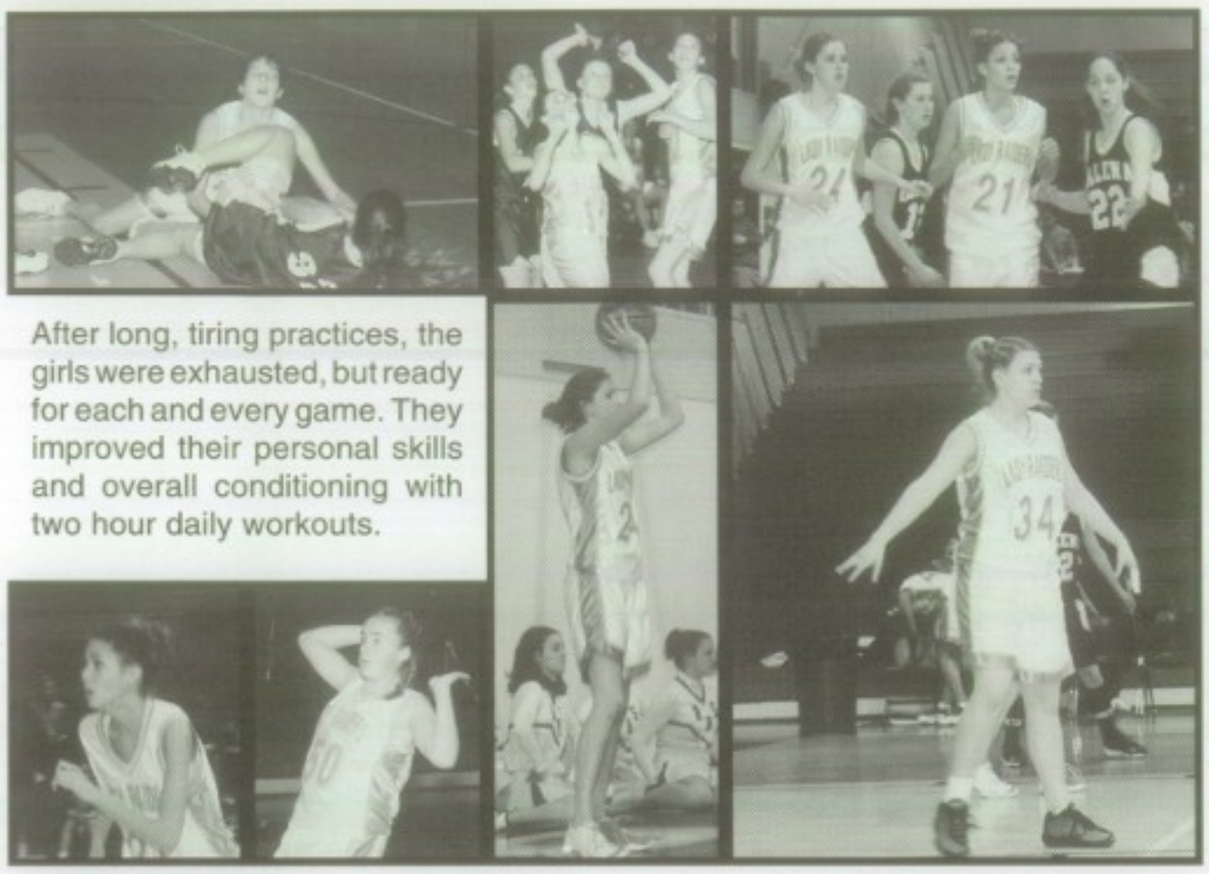
JV & frosh hoopsters rock and roll

The junior varsity and fresh man girls' basketball teams worked very hard this season, practicing their skills and improving their teamwork and on-court communication through daily practices, which were held from 3:30 - 5:30 every day.

The teams played two to three times a week, and thanks to their rigorous practice schedule, they were prepared for just about anything.



After long, tiring practices, the girls were exhausted, but ready for each and every game. They improved their personal skills and overall conditioning with two hour daily workouts.

Hustle ladies... The junior varsity girls' team rushes in for a huddle and a little pep talk from coach Joye Williams. With a little motivation, they were ready to head back to the court and take the game. "As a team, we played great together and had a lot of fun. But the most memorable times of the season were our pre-game rituals and the actual games. We had a great season," said Chelsea McRoberts. (below) Ivy Gallegos (03), (lower right) Kendall Barrett (04)

Get your paws off the ball... Fighting with a Railroader, Heather Hamilton (03) and Lindsey Masset (03) cooperate to take the ball away. Later in the season, Masset was sidelined with an injury. "Even though I broke a knuckle during practice in the middle of the year, it was still fun to watch the games," said Masset.

She shoots and... Against Galena, Heather Hamilton (03) goes up for another two points. As her teammates watch in anticipation, Hamilton wills the ball to make it inside the net. It did, and another two points went up on the board for the Lady Raiders.

I hope I make it... Taking the ball up for a shot, Whitney Tiner (04) goes for two. Just like the junior varsity girls, the freshmen practiced for two hours a day,, working on the basics like dribbling, shooting, and guarding their players.

Hey- this isn't soccer... Leaning down, Jessica Echevarria (04) tries to recover the ball that got bumped out of her hands while she was taking it downcourt.

Supertall... Trying for the rebound, Kim Evans (04) has the advantage of height. Thanks to her stature, she is able to gain control of the ball.

They got skillz... Showing off their talents against Fallon's Green Wave and other opponents, the freshman girls' team uses slick moves to gain control of the ball.

Don't get so bent out of shape.....As Kevin Fleiner winds up for the pitch, the seniors look on with great hopes that they'll win state this year. They were so close to winning last year, so expectations are high this season.

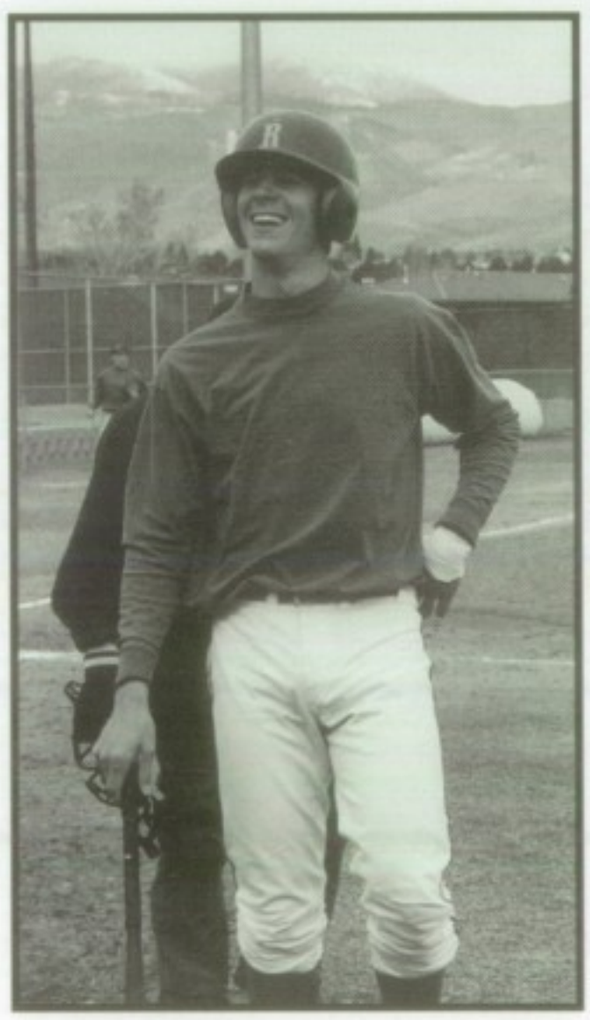
-Kyle Tingley

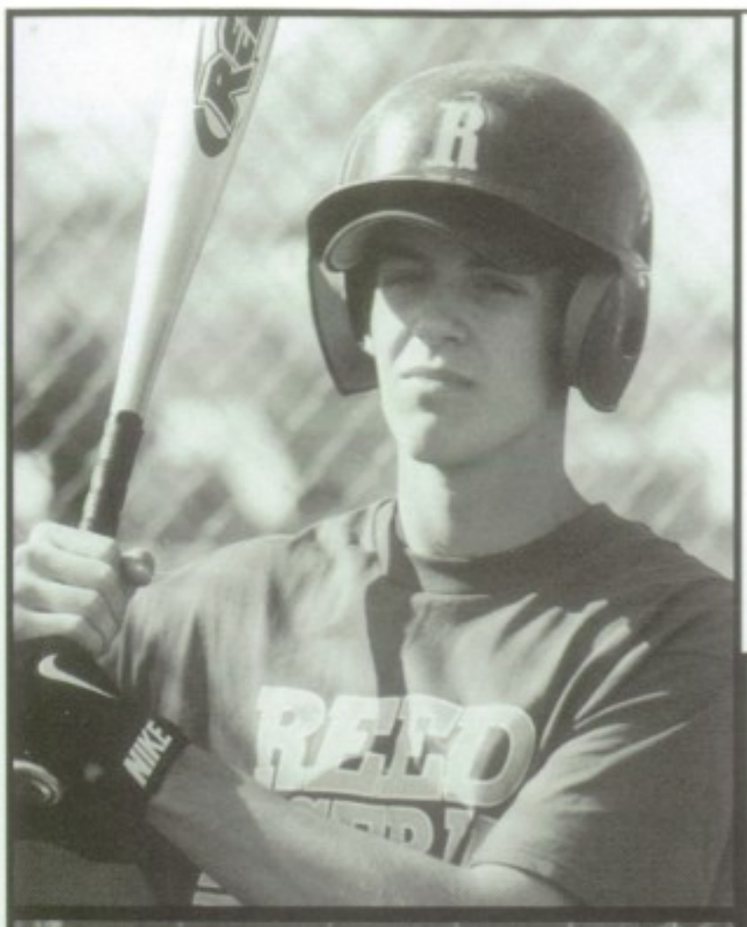
"The best thing about baseball is watching J.C. callahan get beaned."

-Joel Fountain



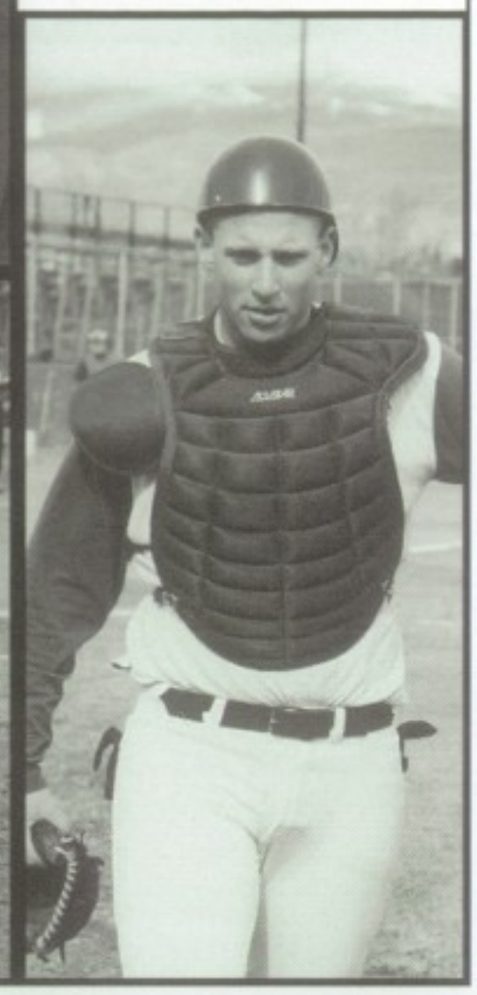
Happy go lucky.....J.D. House shows us all how he struts his stuff after concentrating on his hitting. This is his second year of being on varsity baseball.

Still smilin'.....Though he is concentrating intensly, Craig turner still remembers that this is just a game and everybody should have fun no matter what.



Batter up!

Swing batter batter! J.C. Callahan think he is bat boy. Travis Cubby walks off the field for a rest after a lot of catching. Ryan Johnson thinks hard prepping up for that homerun.



Raiders in the outfield

Practicing through some of the coldest weather imaginable, the "boys of summer" improved their overall teamwork and communication skills that were necessary to win games.

If players were cold or tired, they didn't complain to the coach: that was an unspoken rule.

They worked long hours to perfect their skills, which brought them to victory each game.

Whats your favorite baseball techinque?

"My favorite part is catching a pitch that throws strikes.

I've been playing baseball my whole life baseball is life."

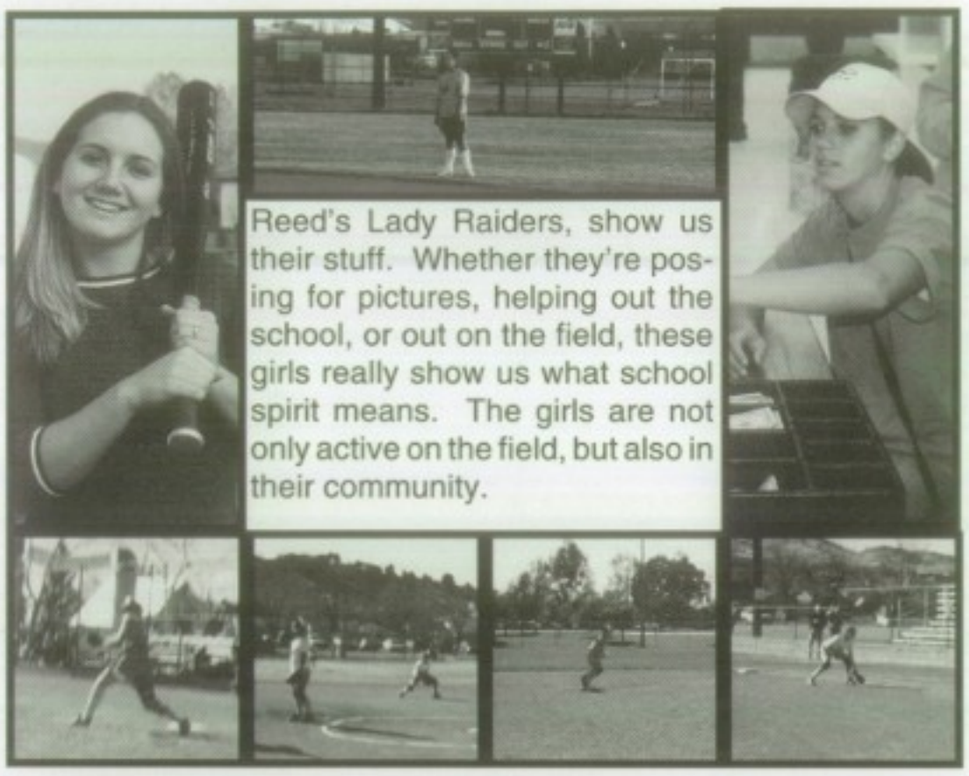
Girl's softball plays hardball with competition

This year's Lady Raiders, are on a mission to the State Championship, to bring home the gold. They all are working toward a common goal of having that blue and gold banner hung in the gym.

To reach their goal, the girls are out at Shadow Mountain Sports Complex everyday practicing, and doing whatever it takes to get them to their goal. The girls appreciate all the parents and fans that came and gave support.

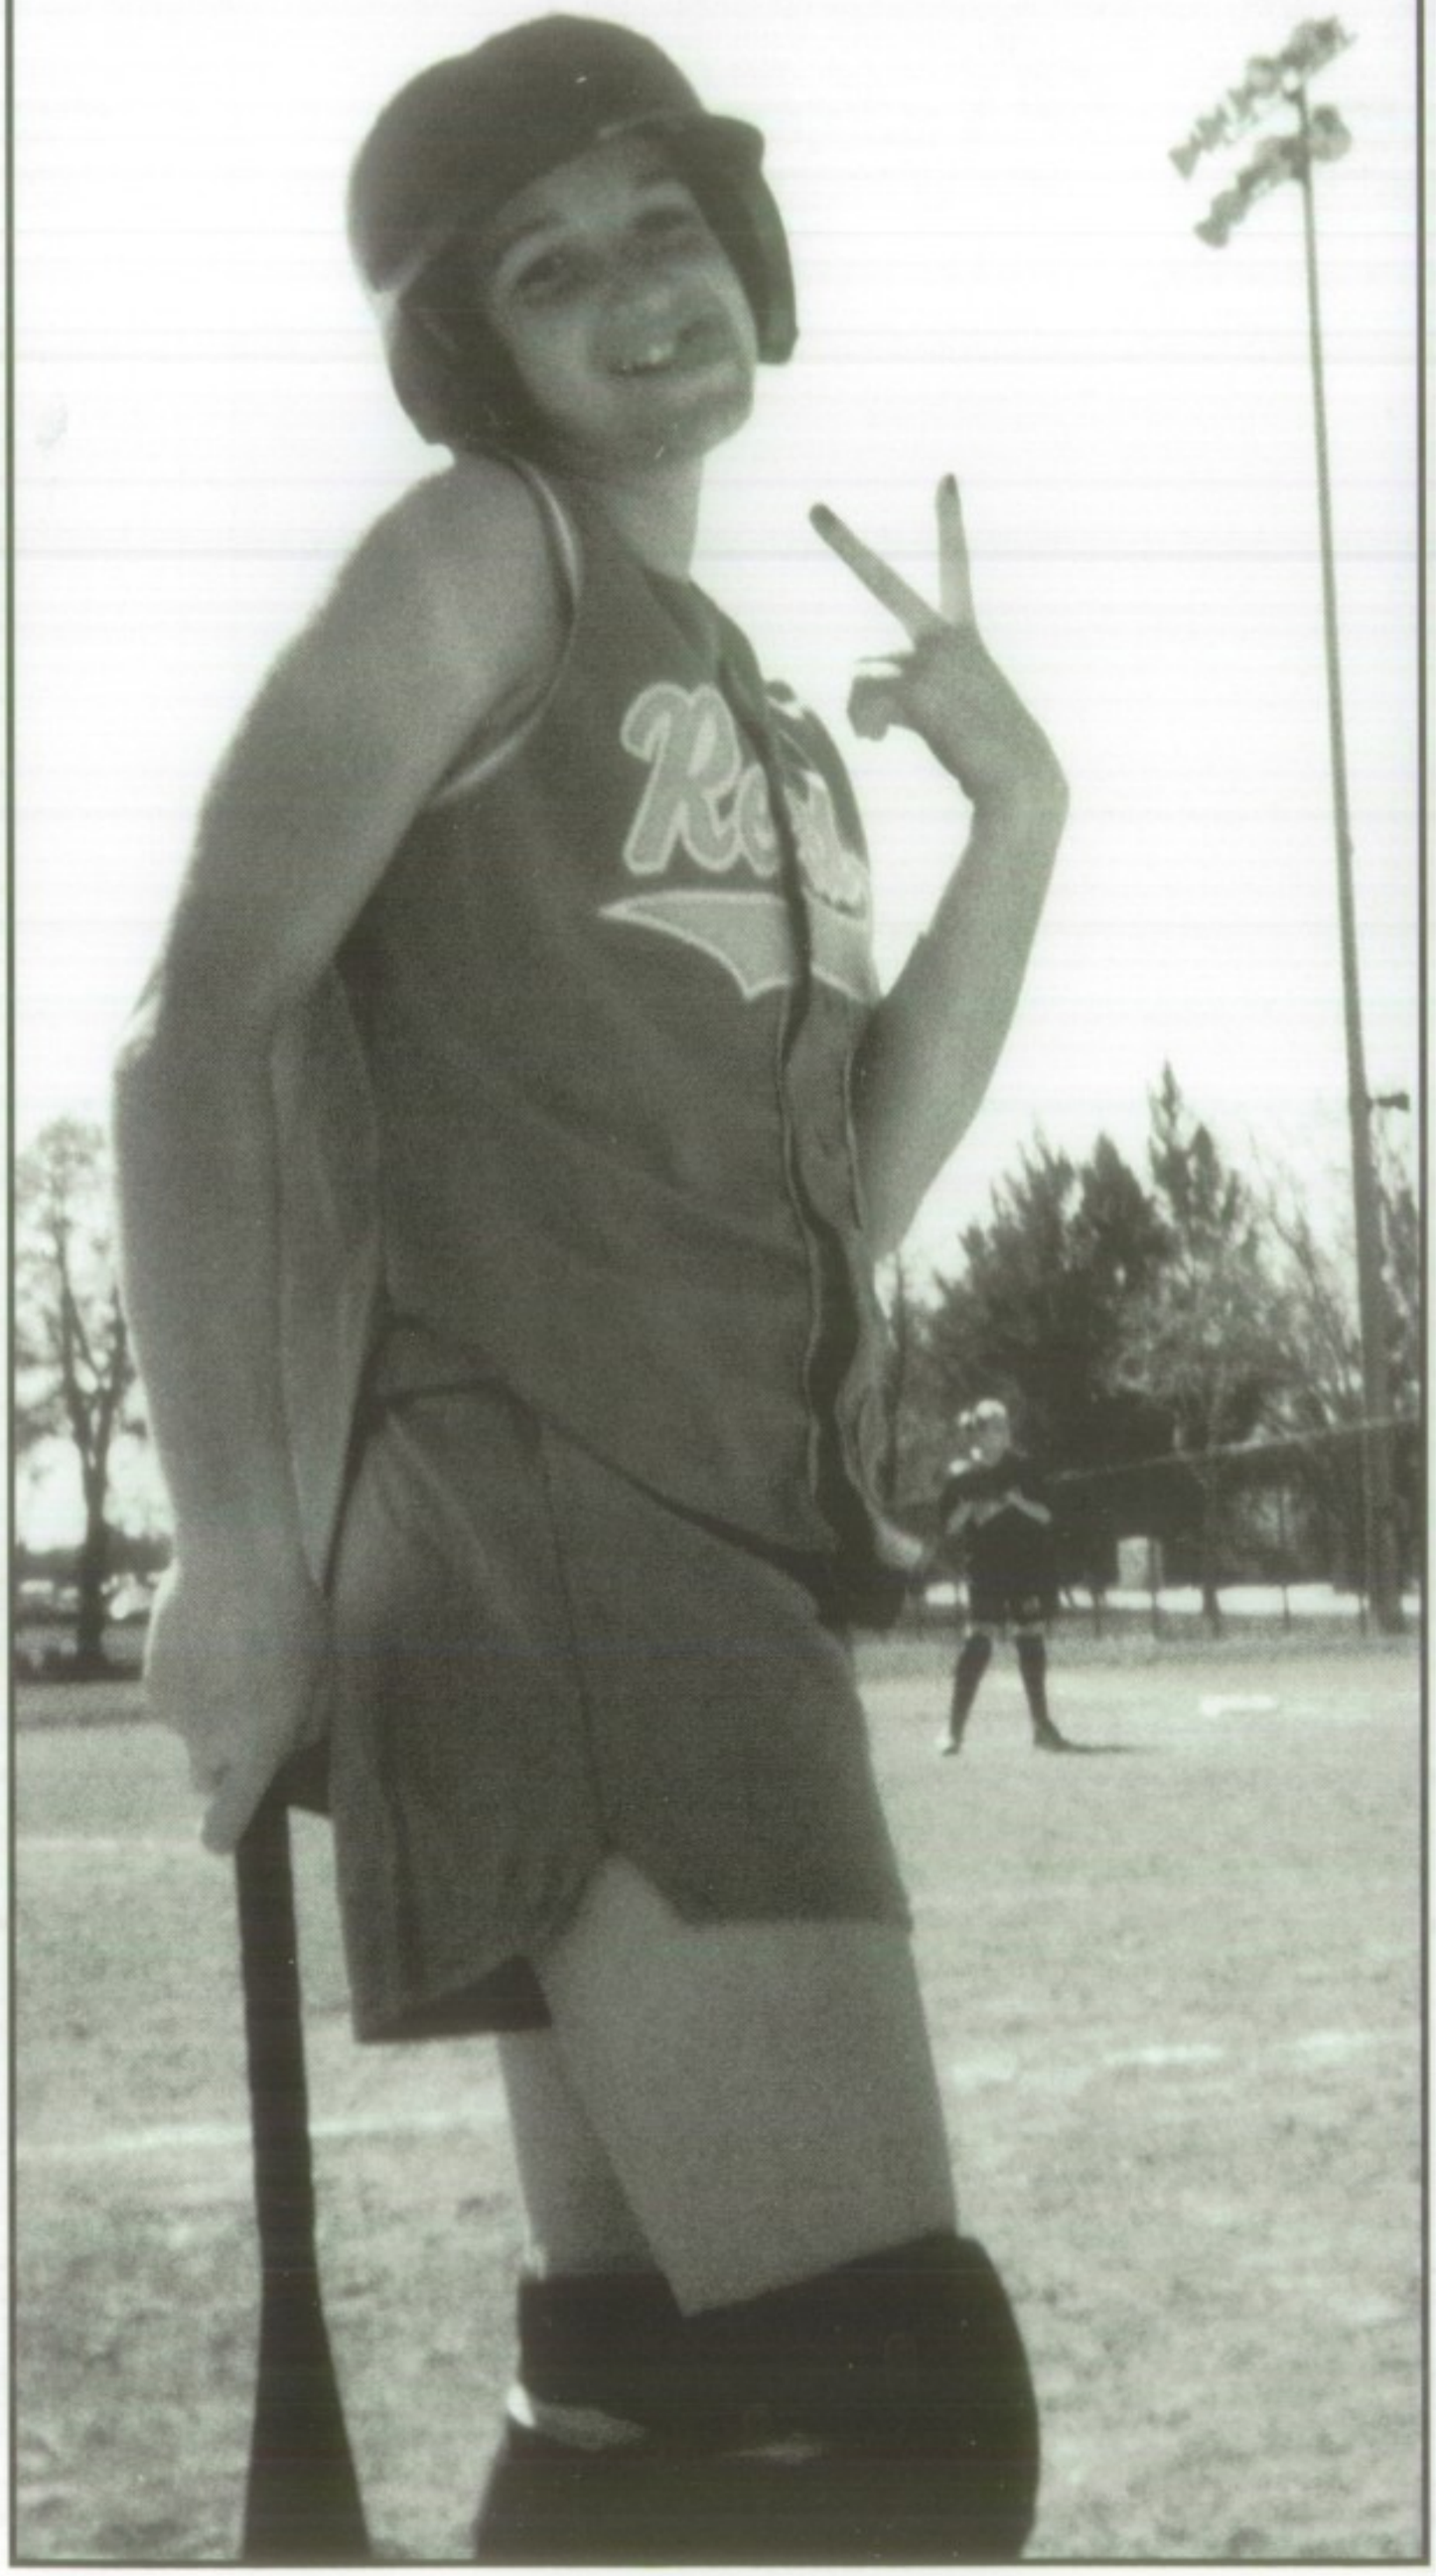


Reed's Lady Raiders, show us their stuff. Whether they're posing for pictures, helping out the school, or out on the field, these girls really show us what school spirit means. The girls are not only active on the field, but also in their community.

Break time! Joann Christ (02), takes a much needed break, after a long day of running, catching, and hitting. The girls play one, or sometimes two games at a time.

It's outta here! Megan O'Connor (01), smacks a ground ball. The senior has played softball on the varsity team since her freshman year. "There's no other game like it. I love softball!" O'Connor said.

Peace, I'm goin' to bat! Adrienne Shafer (02), waits on deck for her turn to bat. The junior has played softball for Reed since her freshman year. "I love playing, and the team is great!" Said Shafer.



"The games were always action packed! We're proud to have an awesome team. Nessy you're goin' all the way!"

-Emily Stolpman & Kerrie Kramer

Don't hate me 'cause I'm beautiful. Katie Baucom (02), poses for a picture outside the dugout. The girls rarely have time to rest. So Katie, why aren't you breakin' a sweat?

Showin' the love. Megan O'Connor (01), and Shaina Overbay (02), are just two of the Lady Raiders top players. They smile for a picture while waiting to get to the field.

Hitting, running, catching, or just goofing around, these girls know how to have a good time. Seen here, practicing before a game, the varsity girls warm up their arms, by throwing back and forth to one another, or catching ground balls. Whitney Smith (02), waits for the ball, it is key to time the pitch perfectly, and make it count. Strike one. One of the not so fun parts about softball is hearing those words out of the umpires mouth. However for these girls, it's very seldom heard. And she scores, Tia Bartek (04), makes it safely to home plate, scoring for the Raiders. Look at all those pearly whites. Lady Raiders smile while waiting for their turn to bat.

"Throwing a fast ball," is what Jake Mcgee likes to do to catch his opponents off guard. In the game against Manogue, Mcgee threw plenty of heat.

Waiting for the ball to head his way, Lesley Cerseola thinks, "Come on, hurry up!" Even though baseball players have to move fast sometimes the game is slow.

Quotable

"We're all warriors and this is brutal."

JV teams prepare for outstanding season

Making the junior varsity team is not an easy accomplishment. There are people from every little league team gunning for a spot on the varsity farm team, and that means hard work and extra hours are required to make it on to the teams.

It's not an easy decision for the coaches, who have to evaluate each player's talent, natural abilities, and dedication to the game and the team.

"Get a quote from one of the JV players about how they have to work hard to be the best. You could even get quotes from a girl and boy. Just fill space," said mrs. walsh.

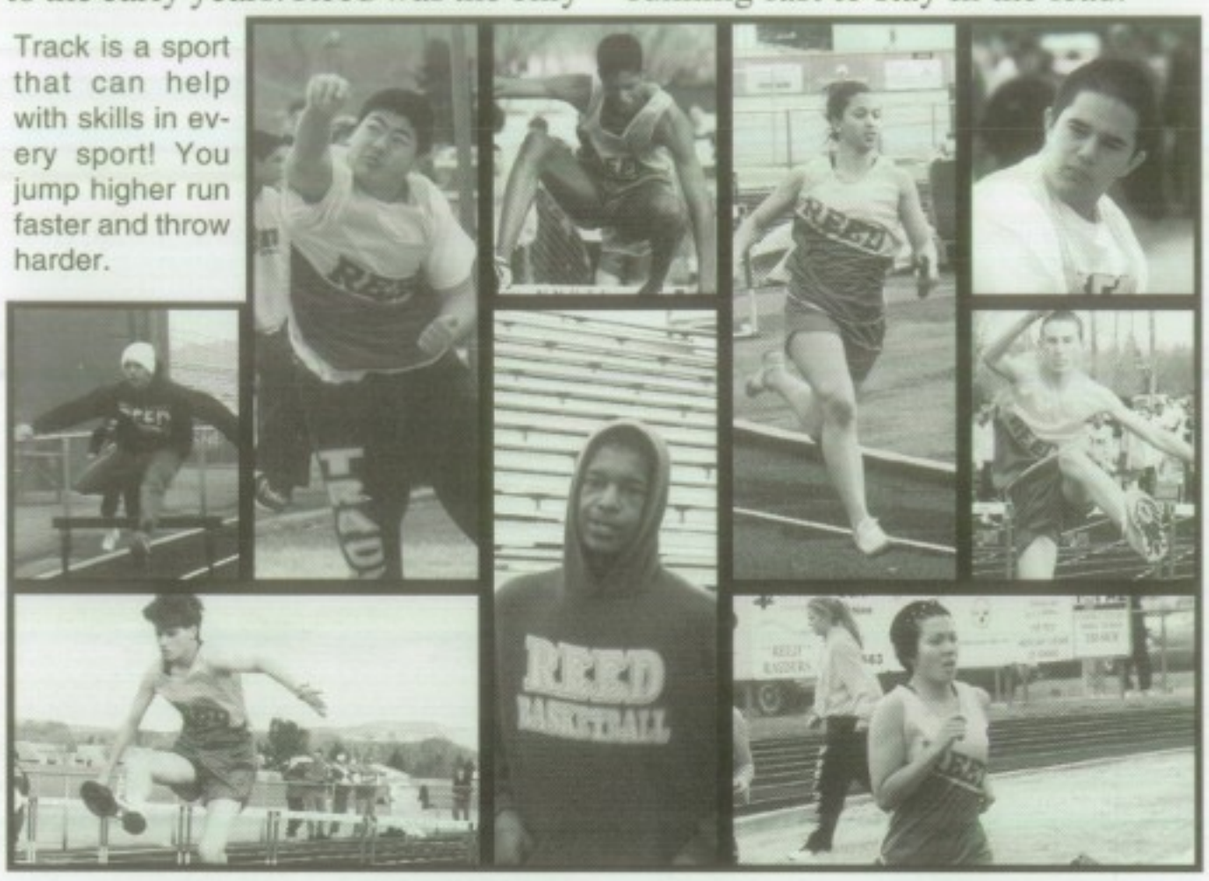
Track and field brings out the best in athletes

Whether they were running, jogging, jumping or vaulting, team members were contributing points toward Reed's overall goal: the State Championship Title. Reed has banners from track and cross country dating back to the early years. Reed was the only team to have an all-weather track for many of those years, which made the school a track and field powerhouse.

This year, athletes were gearing up for a high-pressure season. Southern Nevada schools were nipping at their heels, and the Raiders were running fast to stay in the lead.



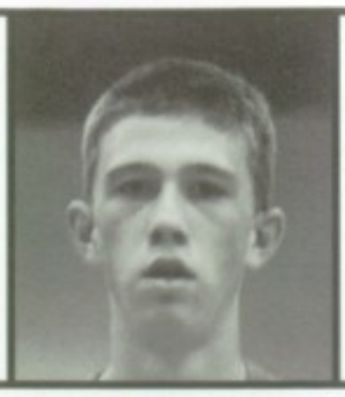
Track is a sport that can help with skills in every sport! You jump higher run faster and throw harder.

Determination! Reed has always had a very good track and field team, we not only win on the track with our speed but in the field events as well. Concentrating on their field events Walter Tran (01), Thai Welty (02), and Amber Nolte (01), prepare for their throw and vaults.

Striding for excellence! Wheather it be stretching at practice or during a race, the Raiders always give 100% effort. Chaz Green (01) and Max McLauglin fight to finish their 800m race, while Jessica Burk (04) clears the opening height for high jump, and Rey Serrano (01) stretches before a hard workout.

Raider attitude! By the looks and these competitors faces you can tell that they are pushing themselves to the limit whether it be sprinting short and fast or showing endurance in a long difficult race, they give it their all.

"Track's tight, I'm a beast."
-Max McLaughlin

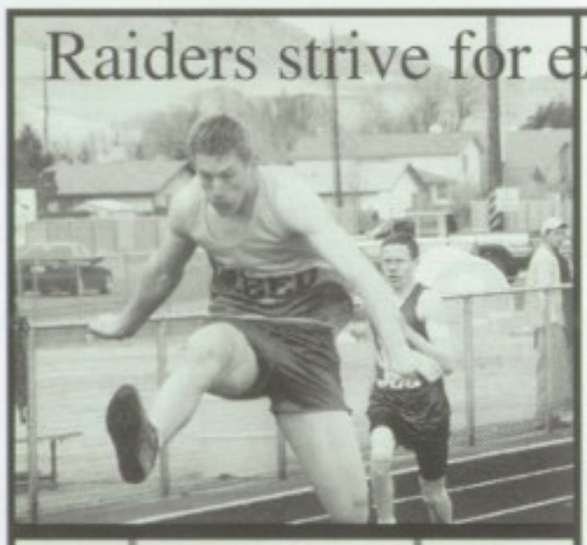


"I don't like Mondays and Wednesday."
-Sherika Hardaway

"It's all fun and games."
-Camille Vidrine

Just like jumping fences. Rey Serrano (01) pulls ahead to take first place in the 110m high hurdles during the first track meet of the year. Serrano is one of the top hurdlers and pole vaulters in the state.

Raiders strive for excellence



Although track and field is a lot of hard work, it can also be fun and make memories! Whenever the team is not practicing or competing they joke around and get to know eachother. The team members also earn eachothers respect by all giving their best at hard practices.

Swoopin'! Moving up on her opponent, Sherika Hardaway (01), works hard to take over the first place position of the race! It's been a challenge to stay ahead and beat Porath of Sparks, but for her senior year she has put forth the effort!.

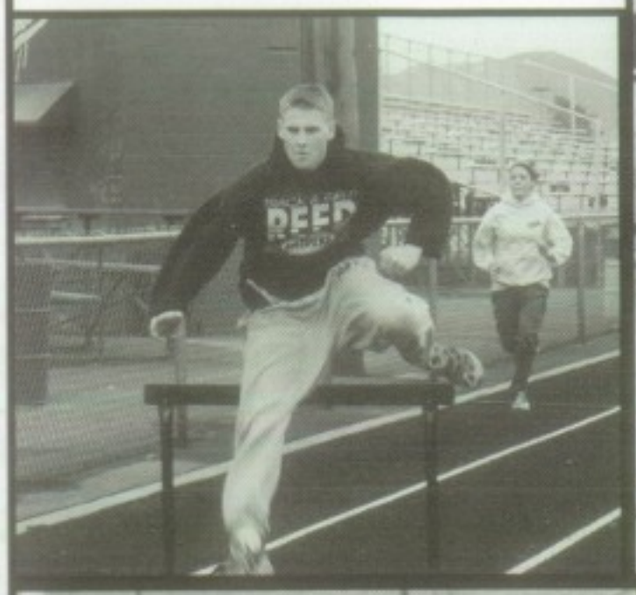
Run like there is no tomorrow. Coming around the curve Kirsten Corbridge (04) takes her last lap in the mile run at Reed's first track meet. Long distance takes a lot of indurance and concentration to compete in these races.

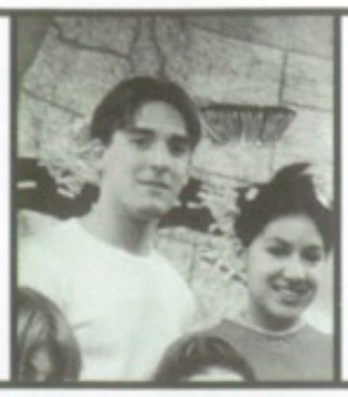
Seniors rule track as well as the school. competing in their last track season in high school Walter Tran (01), our top thrower, and Matt Wallace (01), one of our leading hurdlers will sure make this an interesting season.



Bustin' ours so we can bust theirs. Busting their butts in practice and at the meet the Reed athletes edge out the competition by working extra hard.

Jump! Great form Thai! Just learning how to hurdle, Thai Welty takes first in his heat of of the 110m high hurdles despite his beginners form.

"As the Hibernator would say- Are we there yet Clairin?"
-Peter Spence



"Be about business."
-Ashley White

"Thank God for Tuesdays and Thursdays and running on the grass."
-Claire Housby and Cathleen Corsun

Up, up and away! Leaping skillfully over the high jump bar Amber Nolte (01) clears the height with room to spare. High jump is one of the most complicated events in track and feild. Jumpers must have great flexibilty to carry them over the bar.

Looking for another winning season

This season the track team is looking forward to another great season of winning. The team and coaches don't expect less than the best from our athletes especailly since the boys and girls have won Zone for many years.

Here she comes to save the day! leaning into the curve as she runs the 200m relay, Ashley White (01) pulls away from Hug High and increasing the Raiders lead.

Do we have the same name? Summer Holloway (04) and Summer Foster (01) help eachother out and become good friends this swim season.

Quotable

"Im proud of myself for getting good Zone timing."

-Tommy Bond (03)

"Put a smile on your face!"

-Amanda Magrini (02)

Swimming and smiles, what else could be sweeter?

Listening to the coach is a big thing, Rachel Escorial (03), pays attention at practices. Friends are made during the season. Only four boys were on the team this year and only two swam in the first meets. Tons of drills on different strokes goes on during the season. Most of all the friendships these girls and boys made this year will be in their hearts forever.

Kasey Durant(03), stretches before swimming practice, so all her muscles don't get pulled. This is very important in this sport.

Swimmers sail through season

Here are some Reed swimmers to showing their good looks and techniques. Ryan Katausky (03) takes a breather to rest. Since he is so good with his zone timing. Jana Wilans (04) does a back stroke at practice. Rachel Escorial (03) listens for advice from Coach LeFebre. She pays attention so she knows exaclty how to perfect her form.

It's not easy finding the courage to wear a Speedo® in a culture that prides itself on oversized, overprotective clothing styles for young men. But a few true athletes have had the courage to bare almost everything and slice through the water like a hot knife through butter.

Both young men and women joined the swim team to compete against other schools' best butterflies, breaststrokes, and backstrokes as well as relay teams.

"I was very proud this year of, Tommy Bond and Ryan Katausky, they did very well to compete in zone," said coach LeFebre

One stroke ahead Hayley Medeiros (03) practices her back stroke,hopeing to ace it in her swim meets. Practicing extra hard to get good timeing so she can compete in zone. She has to remember to breath in and breath out. No one wants a tired girl on the team when they need her so badly! "It's all worth it in the end," said Medeiros.

STRETCH! Megan McCormick (03) and Hayley Medeiros (03) give us a little taste of how much fun swim stretching can be! Before every race the girls stretch together as a way of showing team unity and to show school spirit. "It was so much fun to swim with some of my friends this year." said Medeiros. "I was always afraid that I was going to pull a muscle, but thanks to the stretching I didn't," said McCormick.

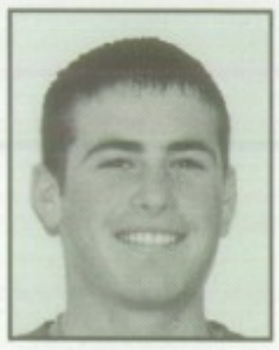
Boys' golf team plans for successful season

"Played a good game every time and placed in the top five every tournoment."
-Matt Elliott (01)

"I think if we can play solid then we can hopefully win zone and place good at state."
-Mike Lockwood (02)



"Working hard will make my golf season great. I hope our team will work together and make zone."
-Rory Hastings (03)

"Practice hard and have fun with the team."
-Zach Jonas (04)

"Shoot low scores, have fun, and play in every tournoment and win them."
-Matt Dearborn (01)

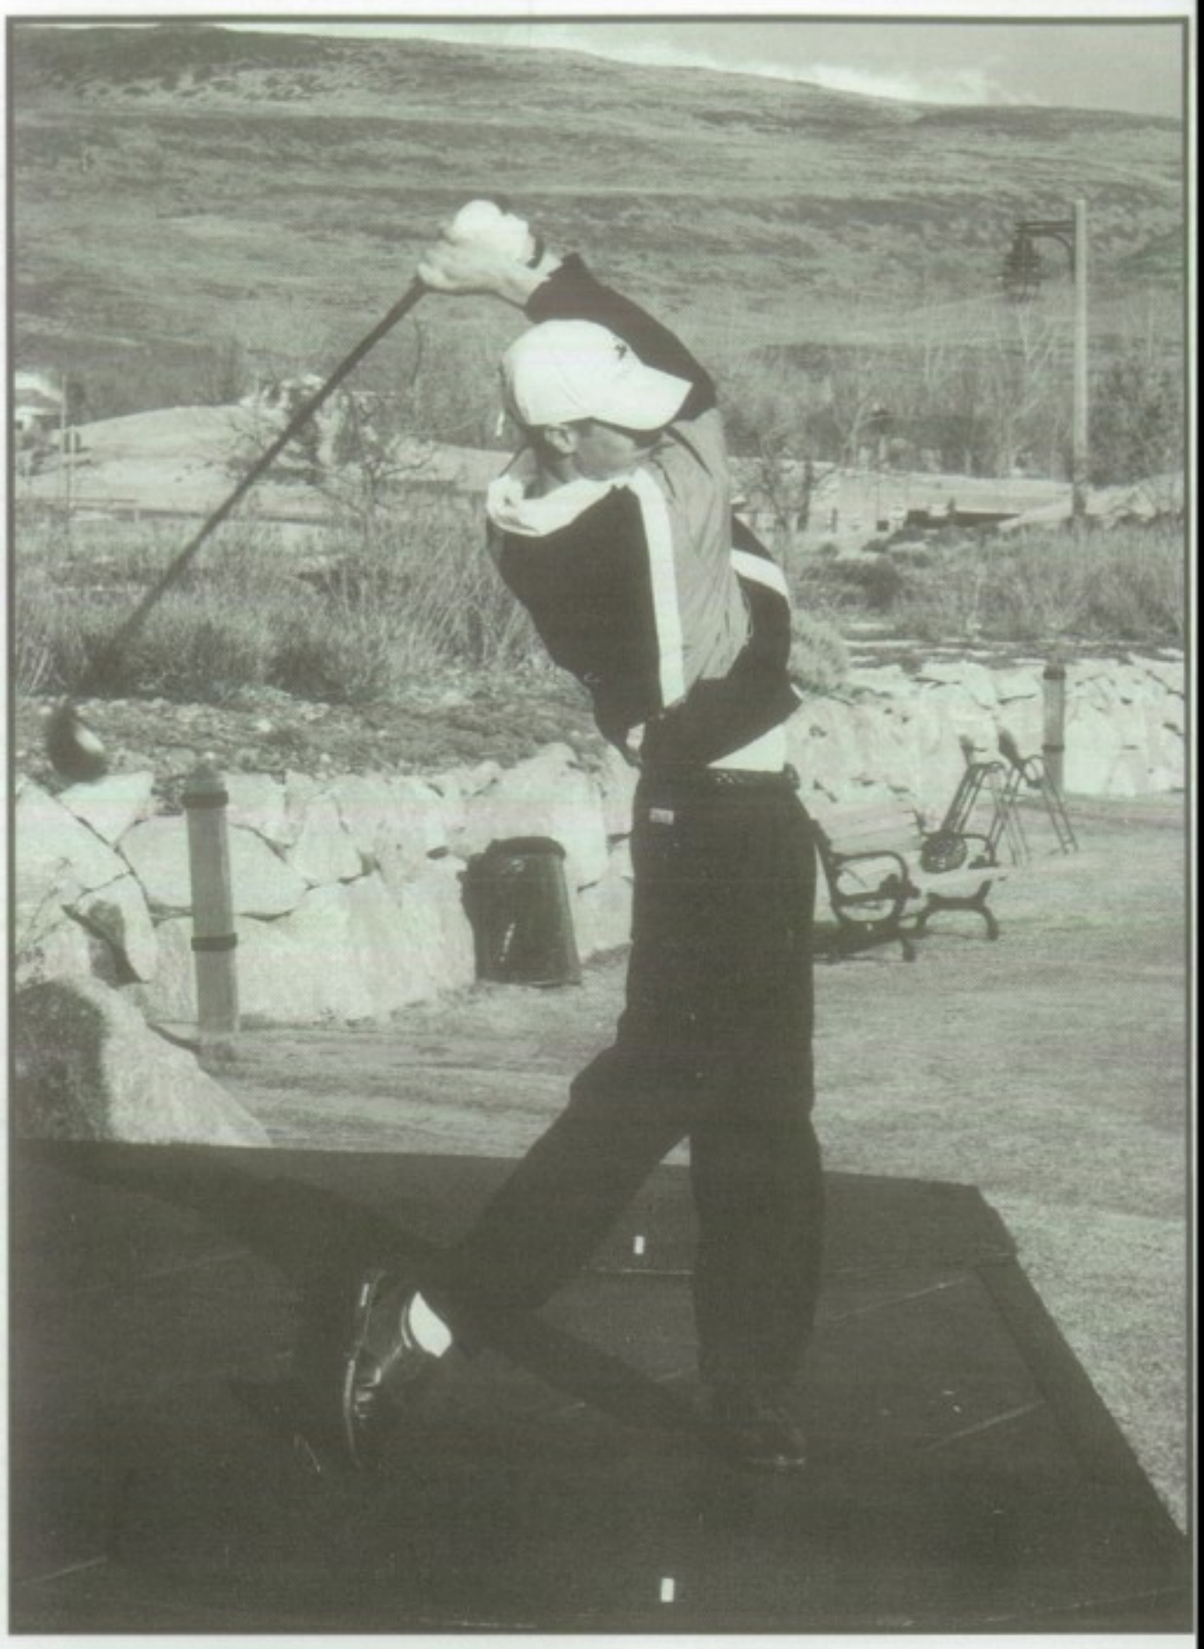
"Play good and listen to our coaches and hopefully win our tournoments and follow our leader Thomas Freestone."
-Dustin Hall (02)

"We plan on going to state and hopefully winning a couple tournoments and having fun."
-Mike Silva (03)

"Make Varsity tournaments and go to zone and state."
-Slater Yohey (04)

Practice makes perfect. During practice at Red Hawk golf course, Thomas Freestone (02), is at the driving range before heading out to the couse. "I'm so good, I should go Pro,"said Freestone.

Am I putting or driving the ball? On the first tee at Red Hawk, Jake Synder (02), swings and hopes the ball goes where he wants it to. "I see what my problem is now,"said Synder.



Just getting ready to go. Placing the ball on the tee, Matt Farley(02), gets ready for his shot. The team practices a lot for their touroments at Red Hawk golf course. "I'm just teeing the ball up getting ready to hit," said Farley.

Where'd my ball go? After hitting a great shot, Matt Elliott(01), looks for his ball in the sand pit. He hopes some of the teammates may have see where it went. "Why am I so good that I losing my ball all the time,"said Elliott.

On January 13,
Reed said goodbye to a beloved teacher and friend.
Lonnie Tolano

1937
2001

"Mr. Tolano was more than a teacher; he was a mentor and friend to the many people who knew him.

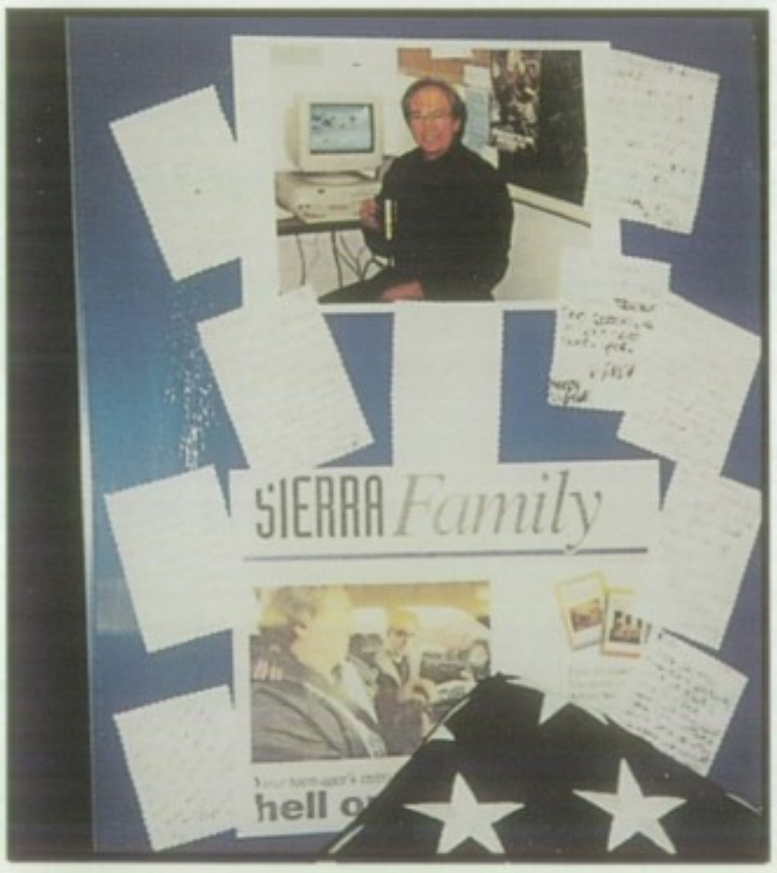
Tolano had a creative way with teaching. His stories were neverending, funny and true.

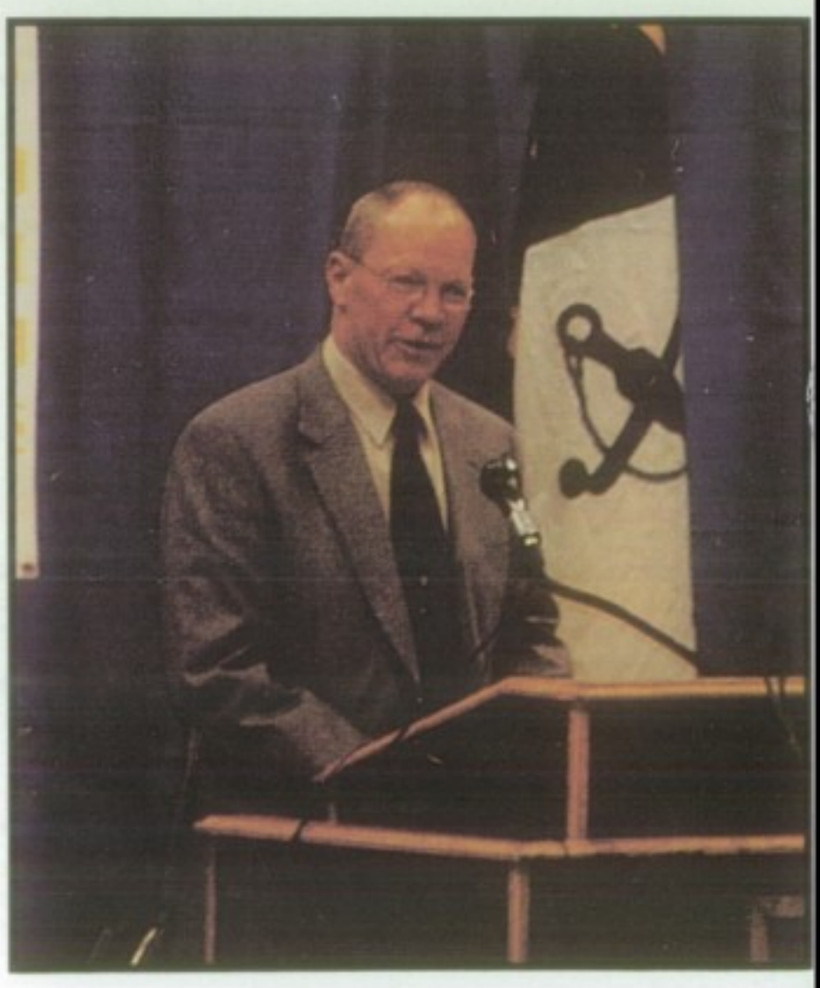
If you needed advice about life situations, after a shy smile he would give all he could to help.

This simple man lived off plain and sugar donuts, (these were a straight path into his heart).

In these halls once strutted a great man whose fighting spirit will always live on."

-Ashley Graham





Reed High students, as well as family and friends come to celebrate the life of a wonderful teacher and mentor. While being a somber occasion, it was a time to remember the good times and fast food wrappers on the floor. "I was always late to his class, so I would go to McDonald's and bring him a Big & Tasty with cheese." remembers student Christy Liem.

A heartfelt donation. Mr. Pat Schellin, the boxing coach at UNR spoke at the ceremony to honor Tolano's memory. Since Mr. Tolano donated a good portion of his time to the boxing team at UNR, they donated a bell to signify their remembrance of all his hard work and devotion to the school's boxing team.

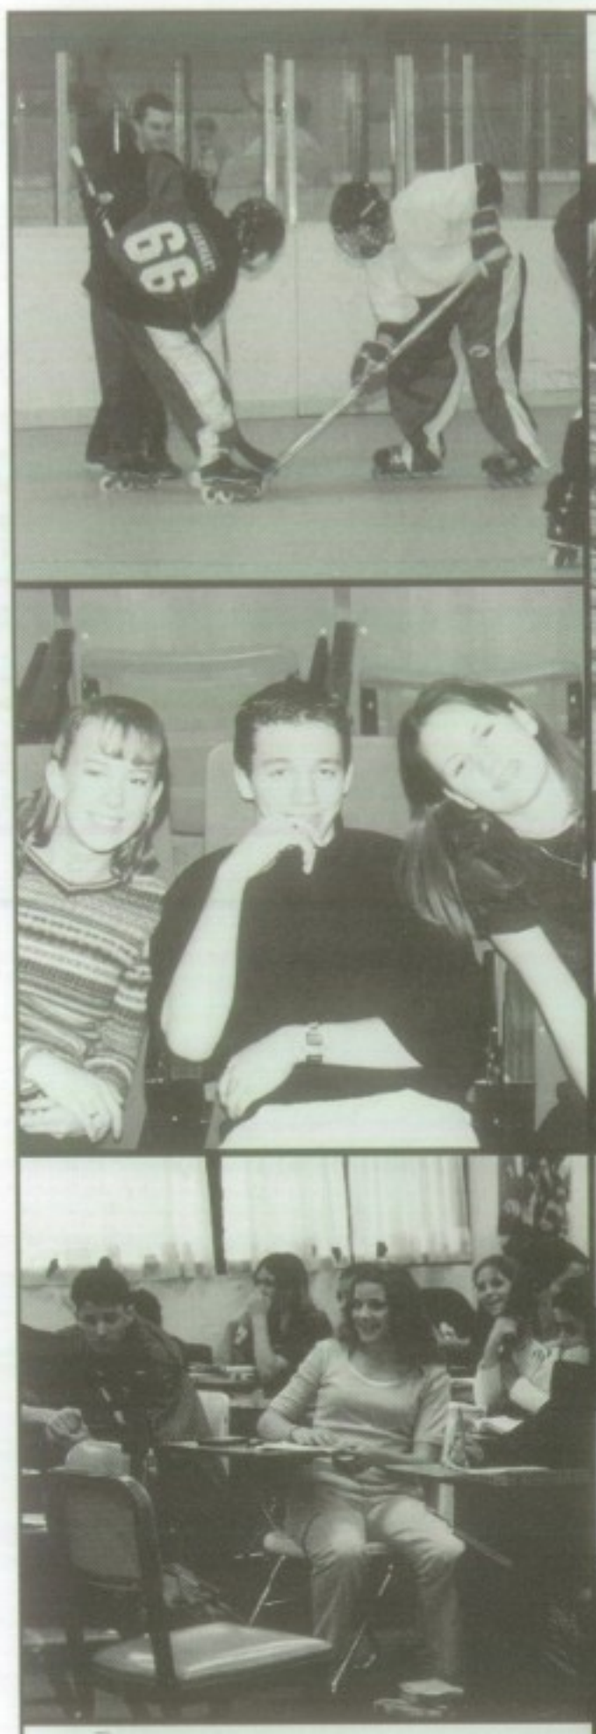
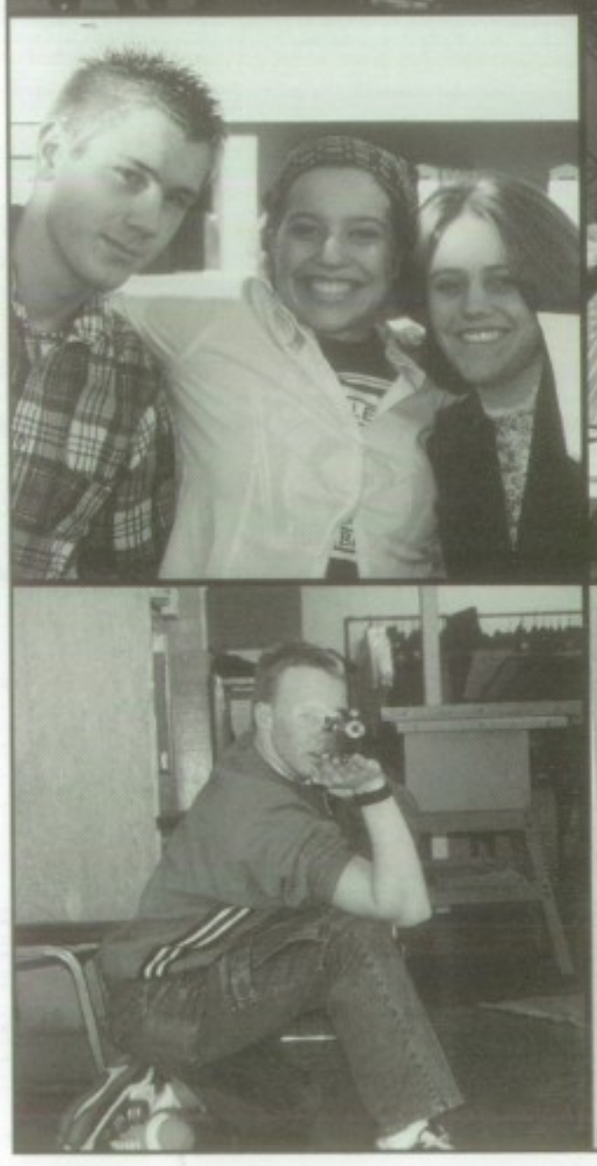
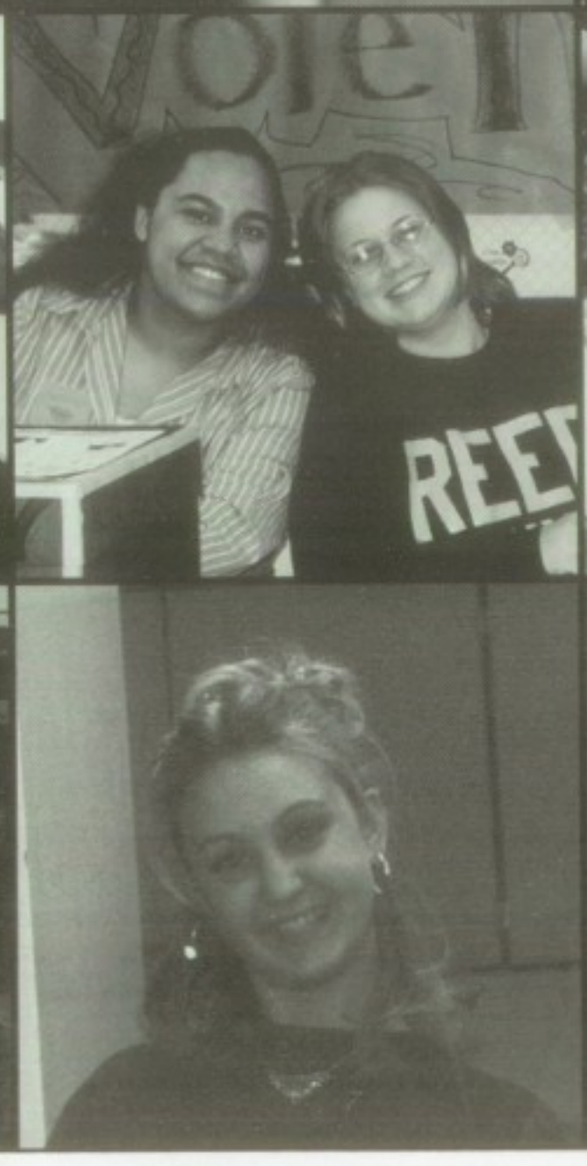
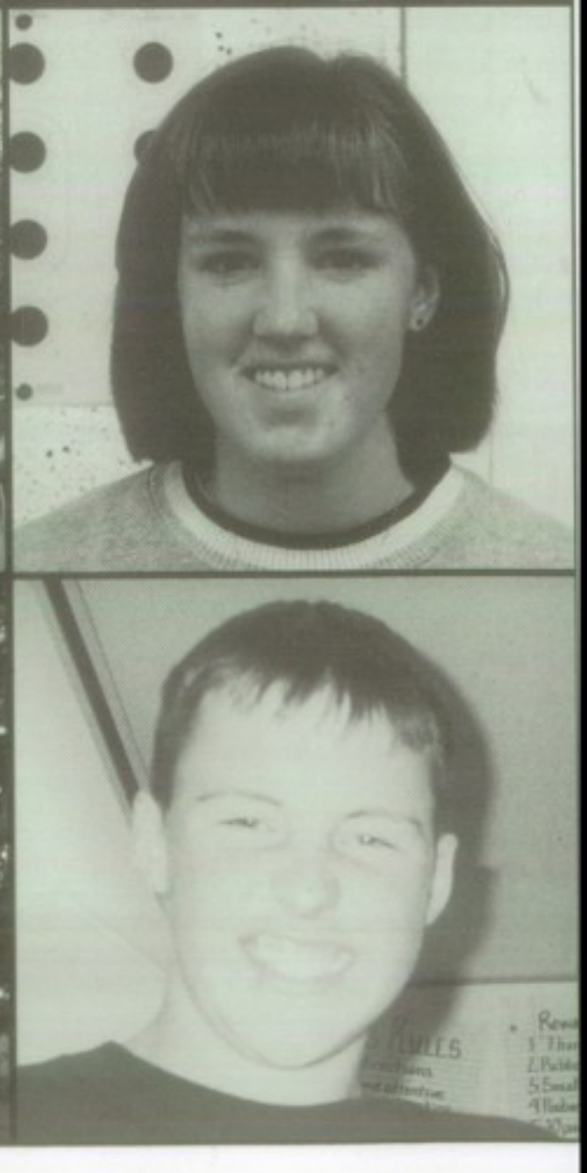
FRESHMAN

Same Interests









Group & Club Photos

Many students at Reed have decided to go the extra mile, giving more of themselves to the high school experience than just completing essays and homework assignments. These are the people who have joined organizations that require them to do just a little bit more.

They have created something of value for themselves and for others. They have bonded with friends who share an interest in the same things they do. They have spent extra hours at school and at meetings, raising funds and donating time to charity to expand their personal horizons and help others at the same time.

They are special, and should be recognized for the extra time and effort they have given to make Reed High a better place for everyone.

Faculty faces off for scholarships

In the past, the members of the faculty have put on costumes, adopted characters, and presented plays, but this year, they decided to do a variety show, which helped raise over $4,000, which will provide scholarships to RHS students.

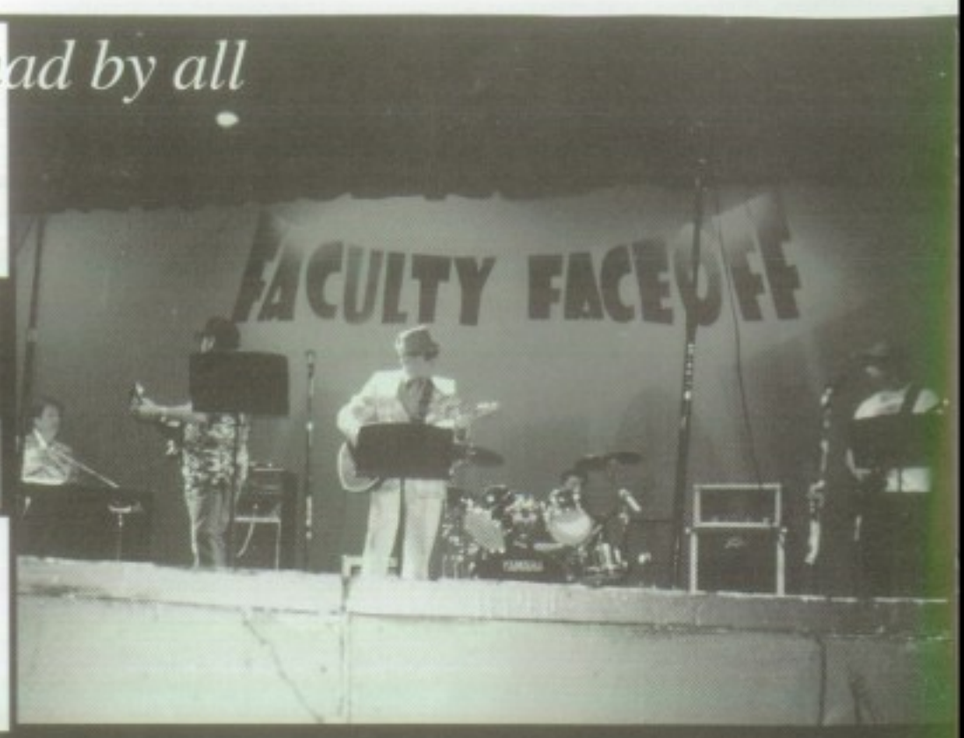
Mike Bosco busts a move up on stage dancing and singing along with the special ed department in a throwback seventies skit that had the crowd roaring.

And a good time was had by all

Faculty members let down their hair to raise money

Part of the foreign language department's skit, Arnaud, an Amity Aide from France, participated wholeheartedly.

The Flying Burgarellos sang old fun songs that the entire audience could sing along with.



Sally Kelley came out doing her thing to "Who Let the Dogs Out?" She gave out prizes like Almond Joys and Sam Goodies gift certificates

To show off her knowledge of japanese culture, Susan Gearheart plays the Taiko drum with three of her Japanese students.

Things aren't the same as they used to be... As part of the evening's entertainment, Roy Wooldridge plays the electric guitar while thinking about the good old days.

Security! can we get some security around here? The school police pose with the adminstration: The sexy Nikki McClouskey, The Blues Brothers... Al Babb, George Hardaway, Steve McKnight, and the dramatic Mary Vesco.

Social studies teacher by day... Mark Towell performed awesomely with the rest of the department to Pink Floyd's "Another Brick in the Wall."

The Blues Brothers at Reed High School... Vice Principals Al Babb and Steve McKnight tore up the stage with their harmonica playing and fabulous dancing.

Some things stay the same...
- Teachers raise money
- Teachers memorize parts
- Teachers act silly

Some things change...
- Studants laugh harder
- A faceoff not a play
- Playing for pizza lunch

Q: What do you have to say now that it's over?

"We are going to shut them down and open up shop."
-Mark Towell

"C h - C h - C h - Chia... from bald to instant hair!"
-Mike Bosco

"We don't need to practice, huh?"
-Mary Vesco

Scenes from the evening... Clockwise from top. Mr. Hardaway; ROTC Department; the winning Social Studies Department; Al Babb, Shelly Bryant, Steve McKnight; Liz Knott and Gary Wagner participating with the Foreign Language Department; Japanese drums from Foreign Language Department.

Jolene Hayes

Jolene,

When I was pregnent with you I would dream of nothing but hitting pearl jackpots, opening garbage cans to find roses lying inside, and many other wonderful things.

These objects when found in dreams represent beauty, good luck and success. Now that you have grown up I can see that those dreams were correct. You are destined to achieve great things. You are my pride and joy and I am soooo proud of you.

I love you,
Mom

Hey Rotten Kid,

You are every parent's dream and you have exceeded any and all expectations I've had for you. Your future is bright and you've earned not only my, but everyone's, respect and admiration. I love you!!!

Love,
Dad (Papa Bear)

"Our Precious Daughter,"

From the moment you came into our lives, you have been such a joy to us. We are so proud of all your accomplishments and how you've become such a responsible, kind and caring, respectful and loving young lady. We could not have asked any more of you than what you have given to us. You have so much to offer the world. Never give up and always reach for the moon and the stars, because nothing is ever too big for your hopes and your dreams. Never settle for anything less than your heart truly desires. We thank you for the love that you have given to us, and we want you to know that we love you so much that words can never say what our hearts are feeling for you.

Shauntaye, we will always be here to support you through whatever it is that you may need. We wish you all of life's best- success, love, and happiness in all that you touch.

You are our precious gift.
Congratulations!

All our love always and forever,
Love Mom & Dad

Shauntaye Rose,

Congratulations! We wish you the best, and we hope all your dreams come true. We remember when you were just three. We can't believe you're graduating! You are such a beautiful young lady who will go far in life. Always remember how much we love you.

Aunt Brenda, Uncle Jeff,
Alex, Erica and Dylan

Ashley Norman

Ashley,
Yesterday, a little girl, today a charming young lady filled with an abundance of good sense. You are truly a gift from God. May you take the road less traveled and find your life surrounded by love, peace and happiness. We are proud of you, and love you ever so dearly.

Dear Aaron,
CONGRATULATIONS!!! May all your hard work and good nature pay off. We are very proud of you and your accomplishments. We could not have asked for a better son.

We love you,
Mom, Dad and Ashleigh

Courtney Danielle Willson

Dear Cory,
You were so tiny I've always called you my 2*4. You weren't especially fond of me until I bought you the Cabbage Patch doll. You loved your "Pa-Pa Patch" and suddenly I was the best Grandma ever. You are my adorable Cory. God bless you.

Love,
Grams

Dear Courtney,
You were once our serious baby, now you're our fun loving daughter.
You've grown from being known as "Heather's little sister" to being your own person.
Never lose your ability to make the best of any situation.
We wish you the best wherever life takes you (and yes, we are very proud of you!)

Love,
Mom and Dad

Coury,
My lunkin head baby sister is all grown up and graduating! Even though I beaned you in the head with a chair, you've turned out just fine. You'll do well wherever you go; just keep looking at it all as one big joke because there's very little to be taken seriously.
I'm proud of you-now go be a rock star.

Love you bunches,
Heather

Erin O'Connell

Dear Erin,
You've grown from our little princess into a beautiful young woman. Your quick wit and sense of humor has made raising you such a joy. We know your values and love of life will keep you on course and ensure you a bright future.

All our love
Mom, Dad and Dar

Justin Cain

Justin,
Learn from the mistakes of others. You can't live long enough to make them all yourself.

With all our love,

Justin,
You are the best brother anyone could have, and I will always look up to you.

Love always,
Jessica

Luke Gabriel Ruiz

Dear Luke,

Here you are at 2 years old, so proud of your baby brother, and now 16 years later you are graduating from high school. My, how time flies. You've grown up into an admirable, handsome, young man and with God's help and guidance may all you're dreams come true. We love you and we will always be so proud of you.

Love, Dad, Mom,

Jamie Thomas

Dear Jamie,

You have been such a joy in our lives from the day you were born to the beautiful young woman you have now become. You have always known how to bring out the best in everyone around you. We are so pround of all of your accomplishments! Keep up the tenacious spirit and follow your heart wherever it may lead. We will always be there for you.

All our love,
Mom and Dad

Heather Dean

Dear Heather,
You have come a long way in life. In you, I see in your future a great independent person who will not let anything get in your way. You had your rough times in school almost to the point of giving up, but you stuck with it, and I can't believe you will be walking up on that stage. I hope in your future you will be able to continue in the world. Don't let it discourage you. GOOD LUCK!

Love, Jason

Heather
You are my toughest twin, my strong independent girl, my competitor. Remember, nobody wants to mess with #23!

Love, Dad

Congratulations,
I can't believe how fast 18 years have gone by. You've grown from a cute little girl to a beautiful young adult. Follow your dreams and don't let stumbling blocks get in your way... just follow your dreams.

Love, Mom, Jason and Holly

Alexis Roman Hill

You care deeply
You sing joyfully
You give generously
You laugh contagiously
You learn enthusiastically
You love unconditionally

Thank you for being the daughter, sister and incredible young woman you've grown to be.
All our love goes with you as your dreams for the future take flight.
Mom, Dad and Adrienne Ariel

Holly Dean

Dear Holly,
In the years I've seen you grow up, you went from a playful little child to a person who is kind to everyone. Even through the rough times, your glowing smile has made the day brighter. Wow! It doesn't seem possible that my little sister is graduating. In the future I hope you will be able to be successful. GOOD LUCK!

Love, Jason

Holly,
You are my sweetest twin, my sunshine girl.
Never lose that light in your eyes.

Love, Dad

Congratulations Holly,
I can't believe you're 18 years old and ready to go out into the world. You have set your goals and know what you want to do, so go forth and you will be able to reach your dreams. You will always have my support.

Love, Mom

Sherika Hardaway

Our Dear and Loving Sherika~
Time is moving much too quickly! Sis, Mom and I would like to take this occasion to reflect on and cherish the many, many moments of joy we have shared with you throughout your life and particularly your high school years. Over and over, you have shown us what a very special, loving, caring young lady you are; one who comfidently chooses to follow the right path, unswayed by individuals or groups. Sherika, we are truly blessed and will continue to pray for you in our family. Continue to work very hard to accomplish your goals- and dreams!
Congratulations, Sherika - May God bless you always!

Love, Dad, Mom and Sis

Rafael Melendrez

Dear Rafael,

You're the best son and brother in this world. Your loving heart and way of being have helped us to get through the difficult times of sadness and pain. Your love and devotion has passed and touched so many lives besides ours- everyone you know, family and friends, know what a great person you are. Now here you are looking toward the future... you made it!!! It's been a struggle, but you made it. Just remember, life is full of obstacles and the biggest is yet to come, but we are here for you... Forever.

Good job B-A-B-Y-C-A-K-E-S!!!

Love,
Mom,Dad,Shrimpy-J,
Christopher (a.k.a. Squeak), and Big Bro' Phillip

Kendall Morton

Kendall "Pie",

Congratulations on your graduation! All the hard work and frustration has paid off. We have watched you grow into a beautiful, independent, strong, young woman. Eighteen years of wonderful memories. Thank you! Continue to make good choices, set goals and work hard. Your new adventure is about to begin and we wish you success. We are very proud of you Kendall.

Love,
Mom, Dad and Breanne

Virginia Gordon

Dear Bear,

We're so proud of you and the person you have become. It only seems like yesterday we watched as you graduated from kindergarten. And now, as you close this chapter, the book of your life unfolds- I am positive it will be a bestseller! Thanks for the wonderful reading.

Love,
Dad

Dear Virginia,

Words cannot express the love you know I have for you. You are my miracle gift from God, and I am so proud to have you in my life. Tiny Grandma will be with you throughout your life, as will I. You have done great things already, and are a special person to all of us. I love you more than my own life.

Love,
Mom

"The best thing for being sad," replied Merlyn... "is to learn something. That is the only thing that never fails... You may miss your only love, you may see the world around you devastated by evil lunatics, or know your honor trampled in the sewers of baser minds. There is only one thing for it then - to learn. Learn why the world wags and what wags it. This is the only thing which the mind can never exhaust, never alienate, never tortured by, never fear or distrust, and never dream of regretting. Learning is the thing for you."

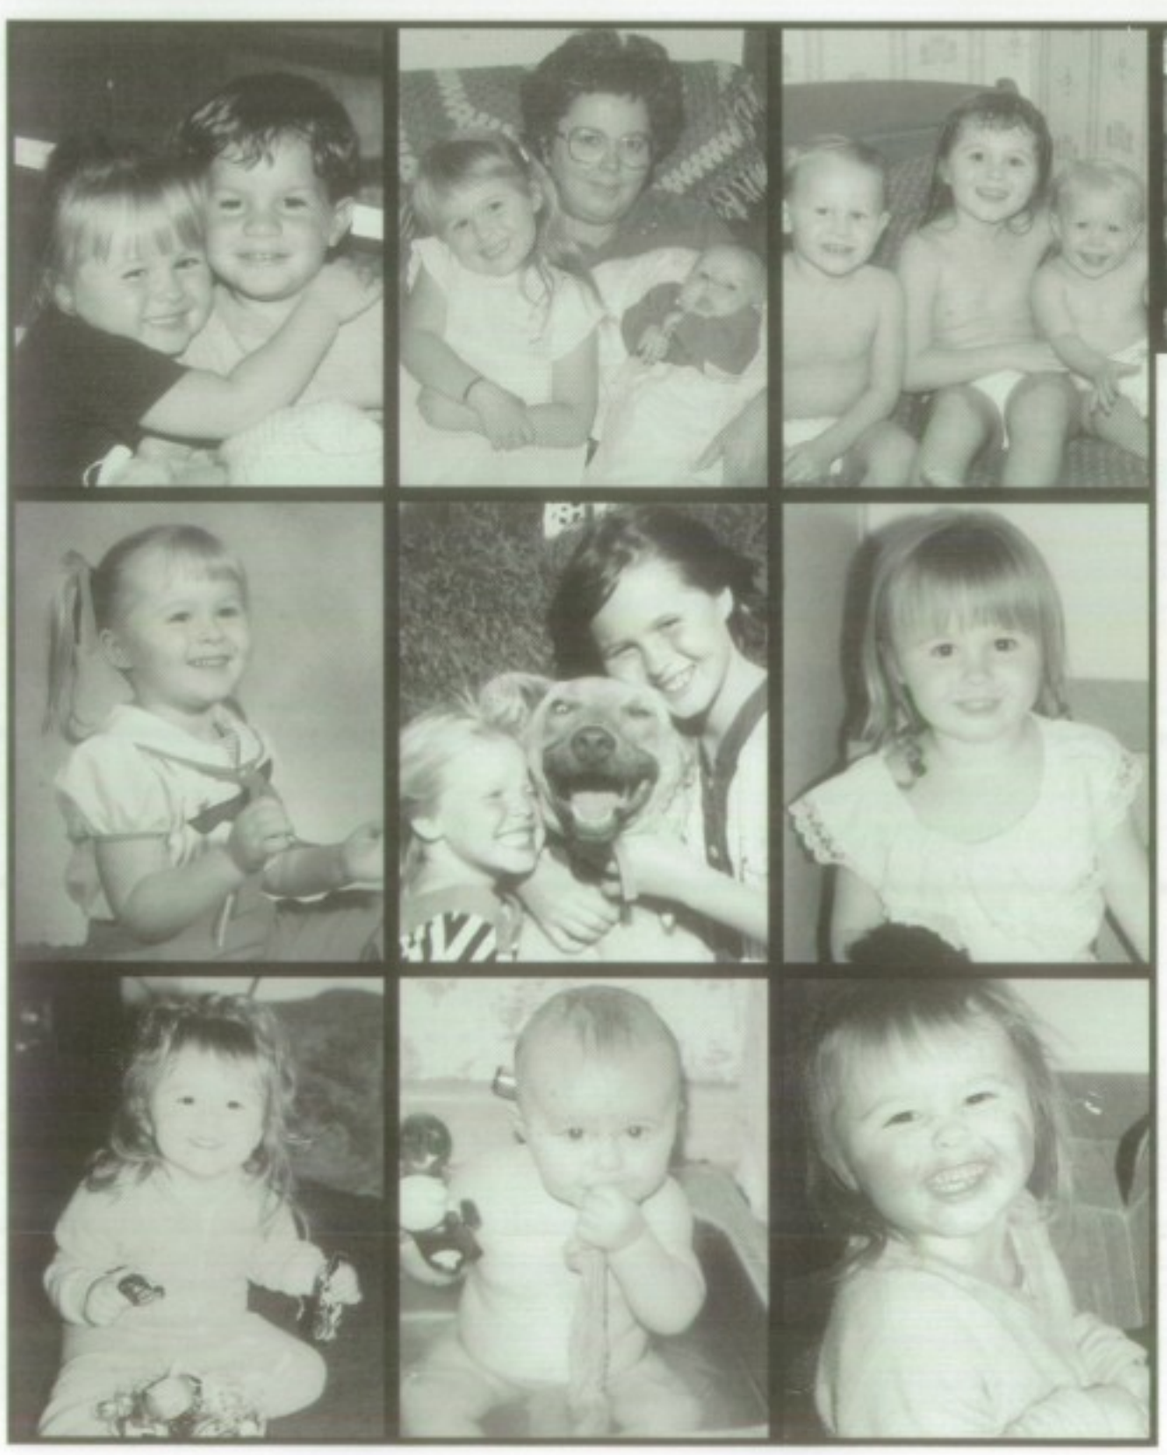
The Once and Future King



Kendra Erickson

We are so proud of all your accomplishments, Kendra.... You are a lovely, intelligent, highly motivated person. We know you will do well in the future. Reed High School is a better place because you were part of it.... We are proud to call you our granddaughter.... Best of luck always. Love, Grandpa Virgil and Grandma Ivy

A girl at just a couple years old, you were already charming the boys with your smile and cuteness! Now you're going to be graduating from high school, and moving to ND to go to college (remember I told you that's where you have to go to college at). You are no longer a cute little girl ...you are a beautiful young lady. Wish we could've been together more while you were "growing up", but just know that I lived for the summers and holidays that you and Britt would come "home". I am SO VERY PROUD of you! One thing I think that we learned from each other the summer of 2000 is that you never have to blackmail someone with a secret you know about them because they have kept many secrets of your own. Thanks Kendra for everything this last summer!

Love Ya, Theresa

I Love you with all my heart. Your mom and I were very young when you were born. When I held you in my arms for the first time I thought "Wow! How could a little person so beautiful come from me?" All through the years as you grew, I wondered how someone so bright could come from me too. I am so proud of you and your accomplishments. My chest is stuck out as far as it can get. Please come to North Dakota for school.

I will love you forever Kendra.
Love, Dad

Kendra Nicole Erickson
aka- Kev-va, Dino, Super-K, Whitie and Kendie

Whatever you have done in your life you have exceeded all the boundaries. You put effort, energy, thought, creativity, humor and love in everything you do. You are a beautiful young lady with integrity, a positive love of life attitude. You are considerate and a highly motivated self starter. I will miss you when you decide to leave the nest and move on. I feel you have good values and ethics to pursue the wonders of life and your wings will allow you to soar high. The past 11 years were challenging having a single parent household. I must say, you were my rock. You helped me maintain a strong foundation of family. We are truly proud of you and all your accomplishments.

Love always,
Mom, Tyler, and Brittany

Kendra,

From the first minute we saw you at the hospital we were so very happy. What a wonderful little granddaughter. You were always such a good little girl to take care of. If we told you something you always listened. You must have applied that in school. What we're trying to say is that we love you and are so very proud of the young lady you've become.

Love,
Grandpa Edwin & Grandma Mailip

Carlos Madrid

Bub,

Your high school years just flew by, for us! You have always been a wonderful son and brother. For as long as we can remember you have played baseball. Now with all of your hard work and dedication you'll take your talent to the college level. We will be there to support you all the way through. Have a wonderful graduation.

Congratulations, Love Always
Dad, Mom, Mo and Raider

Bubby,
Well, you finally made it! I can't believe how grown up and mature you are, it makes me feel old! Thanks for always being there to laugh with and fight with; you're a great lil' bro. You will definitely go far in life - as you keep your eye on the ball! Good Luck and I love you very much.

Your Big Sis,
Mo

Heather Gorsett

To Our Dear Heather,

You have grown from a beautiful baby into a beautiful young women, with a smile to match. As your high school days come to a close, you have your future to create now. You are in control of your future and I know you have the determination to accomplish everything you desire. Always remember, our love is unconditional and everlasting and we will be here for you forever. Congratulations on your graduation. We are so proud of you and we love you dearly!

Love, Mom and Dad

Wan Lee

Dearest Sis,
Thanx for all the times you were there for me. Whenever you need someone, you know I'm always here.

Have fun in life and succeed!

Love always,
your sis, Jean

Wan Lee

Dear Wan,
Congratulations! You're a Senior! Wow! It seems like yesterday, you've been a real joy to our family for 18 years, we are all so proud of your hard work at school. We hope your dreams come true remember for all of life's ups and downs you can always count on us.

Love,
Mom, Dad and Jean

Katrin Snell

To our beautiful daughter Katrin,

We have watched you grow into a compassionate, caring, independent, bright young woman. We are so proud of you! We admire your ability to remain an individual, especially when it is not always the easy way. Thank you for sharing your passion for life with us. Keep your dreams close to your heart and your goals in sight. Remember that the best friend you can have is yourself.

Oh the places you'll go!

We love you very much, Mom and Dad

Shannon Elaine Fyfe

An odyssey complete, another at hand, we reflect on years past with a sense of joy and acquiescence.

The world beckons to your independent spirit and we shall revel in all your accomplishments. But, you will always be our cut, little, "cuddle-bug," with your engaging smile and captivating personality.

Congratulations on your graduation. We are so very proud of you.

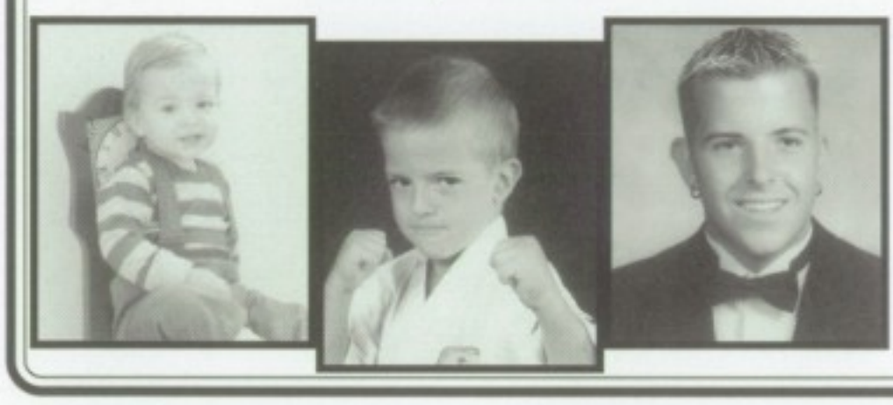
Our best wishes,
Mom and Dad

Shannon,

We've been through it all with you, by your side. Good and bad, straight A's and bad hair days. You've surprised us in everyway, and for that we are proud of you. Congrats and best of luck on achieving your goals.

Valerie and Ryan

Jeremy Horner



Congratulations! All the love we felt for you as a child has grown into admiration and respect for you as a young adult. You have a bright future ahead, we are so proud of you and love you so much!

Curtis Corbridge

Dear Curtis,

Congratulations, you did it!!! We are so proud of you!!! You didn't give up even when things were difficult. Your future is bright because you've learned what it takes to be successful. You are a great son and brother and we wish you the best in everything you want to accomplish!!!

Way to go, skweedo!!!

WE LOVE YOU!!!
Dad, Mom, Jared, Stephanie, Eric and Janelle

Angela Ferretto

Dearest Ang ("Princess"),

You have worked so hard to accomplish so many things. We are very proud of the beautiful person you are. Always believe in yourself, set your goals high and your strength and determination will take you far in life. Your happiness is our happiness, and remember, we are always here for you.

All our love, Mom and Dad

Dear Angie,

My favorite sister! You have always been there for me (no matter how rough I was on you) and I, too, will always be there for you. I know you'll excel in anything you choose to do. Follow your dreams and live life to the fullest.

Love always, Geno

Monica Ploumen

Monica,
Congratulations! We are so proud of you. Keep up the good work.

Patrick Carey

Who would have though this cute Easter bunny would grow to be this handsome young man of whom I am so very proud?

Your loving grandmother,
Mimi

Matthew Acosta

Matthew,

It seems like only yesterday you were following our footsteps and asking so many questions. You have reached the point in life where you must choose your own path. We know you will be a success in whatever you do. We are so very proud of you. May God always be with you.

With all our love,
Mom, Dad, Grandma, Brandon, and Melissa

Ryan Brunton

Ryan,

Being my brother, you are more than just family–you are like a best friend. I can just remember back to the day when I wanted to do everything you did, but the truth is, I have just always looked up to you. I just love to be around you, even if it means you beating me up... again. I love you so much!

Congratulations!
Love Always,
Mandy

Dear Ryan,

You have been a joy ever since the day you were born. We are so proud to have you as our son! You are a gift we will always treasure.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Troy Monroe

Well Troy, you finally made it. I remember when you could hardly wait to be a "school kid." We know you still have dreams and goals that you have not accomplished, but you still have lots of time. Never give up on yourself! We're proud of you and will always be behind you!

Love,
Mom and Dad

Troy-Boy
For as long as I can remember, you have been there for me every time I needed a shoulder to cry on, tell my secrets to and stick up for me. You're the older brother every sister wishes for and lots more. I'm so proud of you and all you have accomplished. You are such a role model to me, and you will never know how much admiration I have for you. You and I share the closest relationship that a brother and sister could ever have.
Thank you for everything.
I love you so much. Best wishes.

Love,
Your little sister Lacy

Alexis J. Alexander

Dear "Janie,"
Watching you grow into the beautiful, intelligent, independent young woman you have become has made us so very proud! Your strength of character, poise and brilliant humor will take you far in life. Thank you, "Precious," for always trying your hardest in all that you do, for being a most wonderful, loving daughter. We wish you continued on that "path" you had so wisely chosen so many years ago.
Congratulations, Baby Girl!
"Love you" with all our heart,
Mom and Dad

Alexis Alexander

Lex,
You have been everything to me since I was born. You are my best friend, my teacher, my hero (several times), and most of all, my loving sister; you never let me down. I'm very proud of you and wish you all the luck in the world. I'm glad we're so close. I'll love you forever and always.

Love, Ivy
"Peanut"

Casey McManus

To our Beautiful Daughter Casey
We are so proud of you. You've always had the courage to think for yourself and go your own way.
You are such a blessing, and you've brought so much joy to our family. There is no doubt in our minds you will be happy and succeed in all you do. You wouldn't know how not to.

We love you very much.
~Mom and Dad

Dear Casey,
Words can't express what you mean to us. Your constant smile, and encouraging words have helped us through many tough times. We wish you the best of luck in all that you do and we thank you for the countless good times we've shared that will forever be in our hearts.
<3 Tara and Colie

Kiley Lagomarsino

Dear Kiley,
It's finally happened! Our "Peanut" has grown up. We want to know what a joy you've been, watching you grow into a mature young woman. May all of your dreams come true, and may all of your goals be accomplished.

Love always,
Mom and Dad

Kiley,
I can't believe my little sister is graduating already! I can remember when we used to take baths together and play Barbies. Now we're old grandmas!
Congratulations on your completion of high school! I wish you the best of luck for a bright future and I know you can accomplish anything. The world is yours now. Thanks for a fun and wild 18 years. I wouldn't trade it for the world. Here's to our college years.... I'm proud of you "bro."

Your wiser, older sis,
Aislinn

Tyler Baxter

Tyler,
Eighteen years ago I was so proud when you were born and now, here you are graduating from high school. Every day of your life I have been proud of you for the loving and caring young man you've become. Thank you for being you. Keep focused, follow your dreams and things will fall into place. I love you very much and know that you will succeed in life no matter what you do. You'll always be our little T-Bone.

Love Ya Always,
Mom

Grant Kelly

Dear Goose,
When you were three years old, your four year old brother Josh taught you to read the newspaper. The lessons stopped abruptly when he realized you could read as well as he could! You have continued to amaze us with your excellence in academics, your musical talent, and your drive for perfection. Congratulations on all your achievements. We look forward to sharing many more with you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Josh, Matthew, Cameron,
Honey, Duke, Cooper, and Cabo

Kellie Labarry & Kelly Wood

Hey Kel~
Well what can I say? We've been through it all together. I love you more than anything; best friends since 5th grade and forever. I'll always be here for you and you know that. Kellie and Kelly, attorneys when you need them. You're by far the best friend anyone could ever ask for. Never change!
I love you!

Love always,
Kellie
P.S. What? 2 for 1 food?!? I'm there.

Kellie,
I can't begin to put into words how much you mean to me. You've been there for me through thick and thin and I don't know what I would do without you. You have been my shoulder to cry on, my "therapist," and most of all my best friend.

I love you so much!
Kelly

Jill Lauderdale

Dear Jill-
You have taken the giant step from little girl to young woman. As you take the giant step into adulthood, we wish you success in every adventure. May your faith in God guide you and may you keep laughter in your daily life. You will always be our "Little Beaut."

Jessica Rae Harshbarger

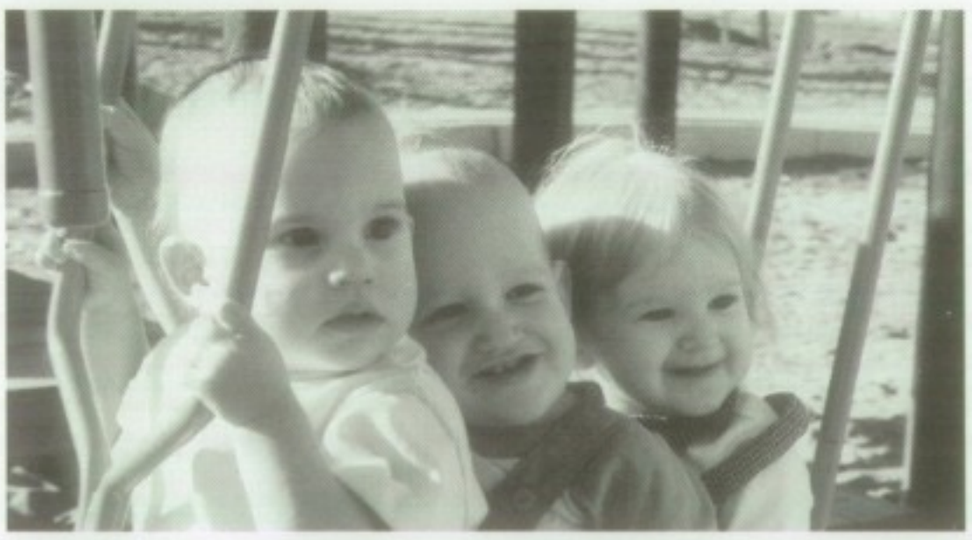
Dear Jessica (Princess Buttercup)
We are so very proud of you and your accomplishments. Watching our bright, inquisitive little girl grow into a truly unique person has been a most rewarding experience. Whether you were setting a new fashion trend or taking apart everything in sight, you always strived to be the best. Your perseverance and determination will lead to success in whatever you pursue.

Keep dreaming your dreams and reaching for the stars, and remember the saying "as you wish" and it will be yours.
May God Bless you and watch over you.

Love Always, Mom and Dad

Rae,
You have been following in my footsteps for a long time, but now it is time to start on a new path of your own. Whatever you choose will lead you to succes beacause you are such a wonderful person. I am so proud to have you for a little sister. Remember I will always be there for you. Congrats!

Love Fer



Daniel, Megan, Jessica,
We are so proud of each of you. You all have been blessed with many talents. Use them. Follow your dreams. Make them all come true. Let your friendship never end.

Tadd & Karen

Megan Argall, Danny Devine and Jessica Harshbarger,
Watching three friends growing up together yet creating such remarkable individuals has been truly a unique experience. Each must go their own way now, weaving their own masterpiece. may it be comforting to know although what appears to be seperate ways are only one square of the great patchwork quilt of the Divine Creator.

May God bless and watch over each of you.

Love the Harshbargers
Clyde, Denise and Jennifer

It is hard to believe that it has been 18 years!! You have all grown up to be such responsible, compassionate and talented young adults. You all have special gifts that will carry with you long after high school. Follow your hearts and dreams. You did it and we are so proud! Congratulations!

Love,

Shaghleen K. Schmidt

Shaghleen,
To see you happy-
laughing and dancing, smiling and content, striving towards goals of your own, accomplishing what you set out to do, having fun with yourself and your friends, capable of loving and being loved, is what we always wished for you.
Today we thought about your beautiful face and felt your excitement for life and your genuine happiness and we, as your family, burst with pride as we realized that our dreams for you came true.
What an extraordinary person you have become and as you continue to grow please remember always how very much
We Love You!

Shaghleen K. Schmidt

To my Lil' Sis,
Well kiddo, you made it through your first test of life. Now onto bigger and better things- like becoming a FRESHMAN again! But seriously... I am so very proud of you and the beautiful woman you have become. Fate has made us sisters, but love has made us friends. And I am so lucky to have a friend like youin my corner.
Congratulations on all of your achievements!!
Love always,

Dear Lea,
It was only four years ago that we met and began our journey to know each other.
At first things were tough, for both of us.
I know this was not our choice, however, I am forever grateful to know you, and to now be a part of your life. I sincerely hope we continue to grow and develop the deep bond which is unique and special between a Daughter & Father.

You have been the greatest experience in my life.
I love you dearly and support you 110%.

Krisstin Sibley

Dear Krisstin,
Where have all the years gone? Yesterday you were our sweet, shy, timid little girl. Today you are a beautiful, intelligent, and a wonderful young woman. We are all very proud of you. Your determination and focus have enabled you to excel in life, so reach for your dreams Krisstin, we know you can achieve anything you set your mind to. You have been the light in our lives. We all love you very much.

Congratulations,
Mom, Dad, Craig, Justin
Brittany and Baxter too!

Krisstin Sibley

Dear Krisstin,
I don't know the key to success, but the key to failure is trying to please everyone. Walk your own road and remember we will always be there to support you. When all is said and done, make sure you have made a difference. You have made us all proud.

Love,
Dad

J.D. House

Dear J.D.,
I can't believe it's been 18 years already. You were such a trooper when we moved you from state to state. I'm glad you finally got to settle in one place and make so many great friends. I'm proud of you Bud and I hope all your dreams come true! Congratulations on your graduation!

I love you!
Mom

J.D. House, #7,
For the last 18 years I have watched you grow into an outstanding young man. I am so proud of you. Keep up the good work!

Joshua,
We love you more than words can say. We know that you will go far in life and that you are capable of great things. Remember no matter what we will always be there for you.

Love Terrie and Dad

Josh-
I just want to say that I love you with all my heart. I wish you the best of luck in your life. I'm so glad that you are my brother. Thanks for always being there for me.

Love your freshman sis,
Marnea

Dennis Bagley

Dear Son:
Graduation- One of the final steps in leaving childhood and entering into the adult world. You'll have to permit a small tear, it seems only yesterday that you were riding around on Dad's shoulders, or in the stroller with bright eyes looking at the new world around you.

Now you're becoming part of that big world. I know it seems we nag you- "Do your homework, clean your room"- but if you're doing those familar things, we don't have to think about how soon you'll be out on your own. We'll miss you- lots.

You may not realize it, but we're proud of you. You've grown into the kind of man we'd hope; kind, caring and strong. Yes, you're a little bit stubborn (you get that from your father's side of the family) but you have always accomplished whatever you set out to do.

I'm going to paraphrase some song lyrics here (surprise surprise!):

You'll never be the sun, or the moon, or the stars, but you'll always be the light of our lives.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Megan DiFraia

Megan (Pear-Pie),

You really have gone through a lot of changes this year. In our minds you will always be our "little girl" but, in reality, you are a grown woman who has made some very mature choices. You made some tough decisions this year that will impact the rest of your life but we know you will succeed and be awesome with the responsibility you have undertaken. Megan, your dad and I will always love you and we are so very proud of you!!

Love you so, Mom and Dad

Chaz Green

Chaz,

Wow!! I can't believe that my little brother is already graduating from high school! I can still remember when we were both so little. Remember our nicknames for each other ("baby" and "brother")? Even though we argue sometimes, I want you to know how proud of you I truly am. Ever since I can remember, you have always been driven to be the best you can be. You are a very strong-willed person, and I know that you will succeed in all that you do. Just remember, this is just the begginning, and there is still a long road ahead of you. Congratulations.

Your big bro-
Marques

Chaz Green

Honey,

It only seems like yesterday that you were in kindergarten. I am very proud of you for what you are and everything that you have accomplished. You have always had the motivation to do the best and I admire that in you. Even though this is the beginning of your life's journey, I have the confidence that you will achieve your goals. I wish you the best in all your future endeavors. . Remember that I am always here for you when you need me. I love you with all my heart.

Mom

Megan DiFraia

Congratulations to our dearest grand-daughter, Megan- from an adorable baby to a darling little girl to a loving teen and, now, a glowing young woman. Each step is a special joy to us.

Samantha Duran

To our beautiful and talented Samantha,

When you were born, our dreams came true. Now that you are grown, we wish the same for your life. You deeserrve only the best. You are such a true friend and an incredible person. Your journey now begins. We know you will live every day to the fullest. Like the saying goes, "Reach for the stars."

Sam, you are a star, and someday, someone special will reach for you.

Proudly and with love,
Your family

Becky Bradshaw

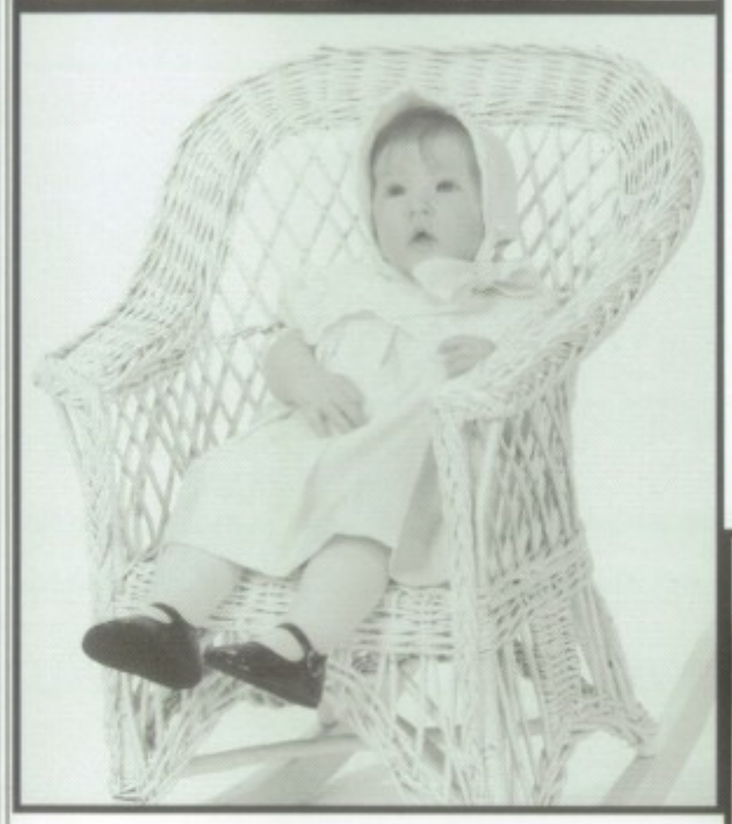
Becky,

We've watched you grow from a little girl, loving to read to her baby dolls, to you loving Amish and country ways to a young woman fighting for a cause and needing her mirror.

Becky, your'e wonderful and have a spirit and it about you. Youv'e been a pure joy to raise from your impish grins, to seeing you give your all. We've always been proud of you.

We love you dearly,
Mom, Dad, Jimmy, Sarah, and Daniel

Amy Inglebright



Amy,

What do I write? What can I say about my beautiful girl?

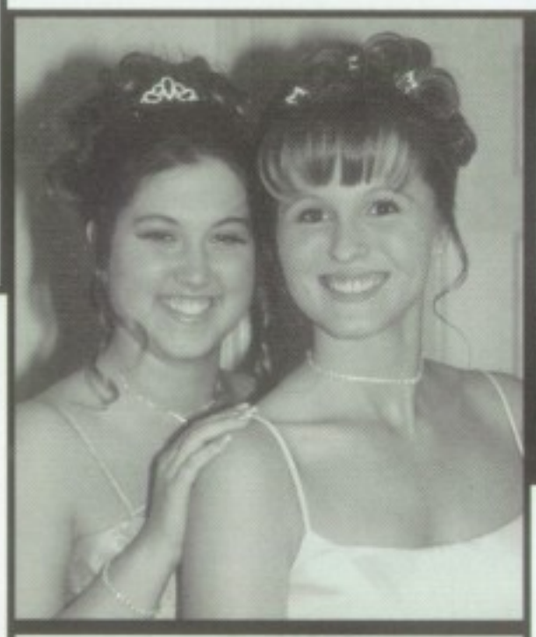
There are no words to let you know my feelings for you.

You're my long awaited first born child, very loved and very much wanted, a true blessing from God.

Honey, you've been the daughter of my dreams, and what I want for you is true joy, which comes from inside. I know you will go far because you are as beautiful on the inside as on the outside.

So go forth my daughter, and be the person God meant for you to be, and know that you're Mother is so very proud of you.

Love,
Mama



Dear Amy,

We just want to express to you how much we are proud of you. You have always been special in our hearts. As you turn into a young woman, know and understand that we support you in your decisions and will be there if you need us. We wish the best for you in your future.

We love you always,
Uncle Jim, Aunt Val, and Jordan

Amy (The Princess)

Amy is a very special and beautiful young lady. As a young girl, Amy has always been a discilined person with direction. Amy knows that whatever she wants to be, she just needs to "go for it."

Amy has been a joy to raise and a daughter any father would be very, very proud of. I'm very proud of my very special daughter and wish the best for her after graduation.

Love, Dad

Amy-

We've shared lots of laughs and tears since seventh grade--haven't we?! I can't believe it's all come to the end or tto the beginning, however you look at it! The time just flew by, it seems like just yesterday we were in middle school and now we are seniors! Remember Chaice, Billy and walking to Circus Circus? How about good ol' Justin and Randy? Or even our little overnight trip to the Hilton! We've been through it all and I hhope we stay this close for the rest of our lives! You've been a great friend these last six years and I thank you for that! Amy, I wish the best of luck in your future, because people like you deserve it all in life. You're a wonderful person, keep smiling and aim high! It's been real Ame!

Love ya' lot Best Bud,

Brooke Bingham

Dear Brooke,

Can you believe that you are already graduating from high school? They say time flies when you are having fun and having you in our lives has been fun. You are smart, talented, kind, and beautiful; truly "a light dancing among the shadows." Of everything that we have done in our lives, raising a wonderful daughter like you is one of the things of which we are most proud. Our wish for you as you move into another stage of your life is that you will be happy and successful in pursuing you dreams, whatever they are. We love you, sweetheart.

Love always,
Mom and Dad

Danny Harrison

We know your strong-willedness and determination will be very instrumental in achieving whatever you set out to accomplish. It has been exciting seeing yor talents come to fruition.

Your ability to be true to yourself, whatever the cost, is truly one of your strengths, and because of that, may you always stand tall and go forward.

We love you.
Dad, Mom, Gabe, Michael, & Emily

Pat Carey

Dear Patrick,

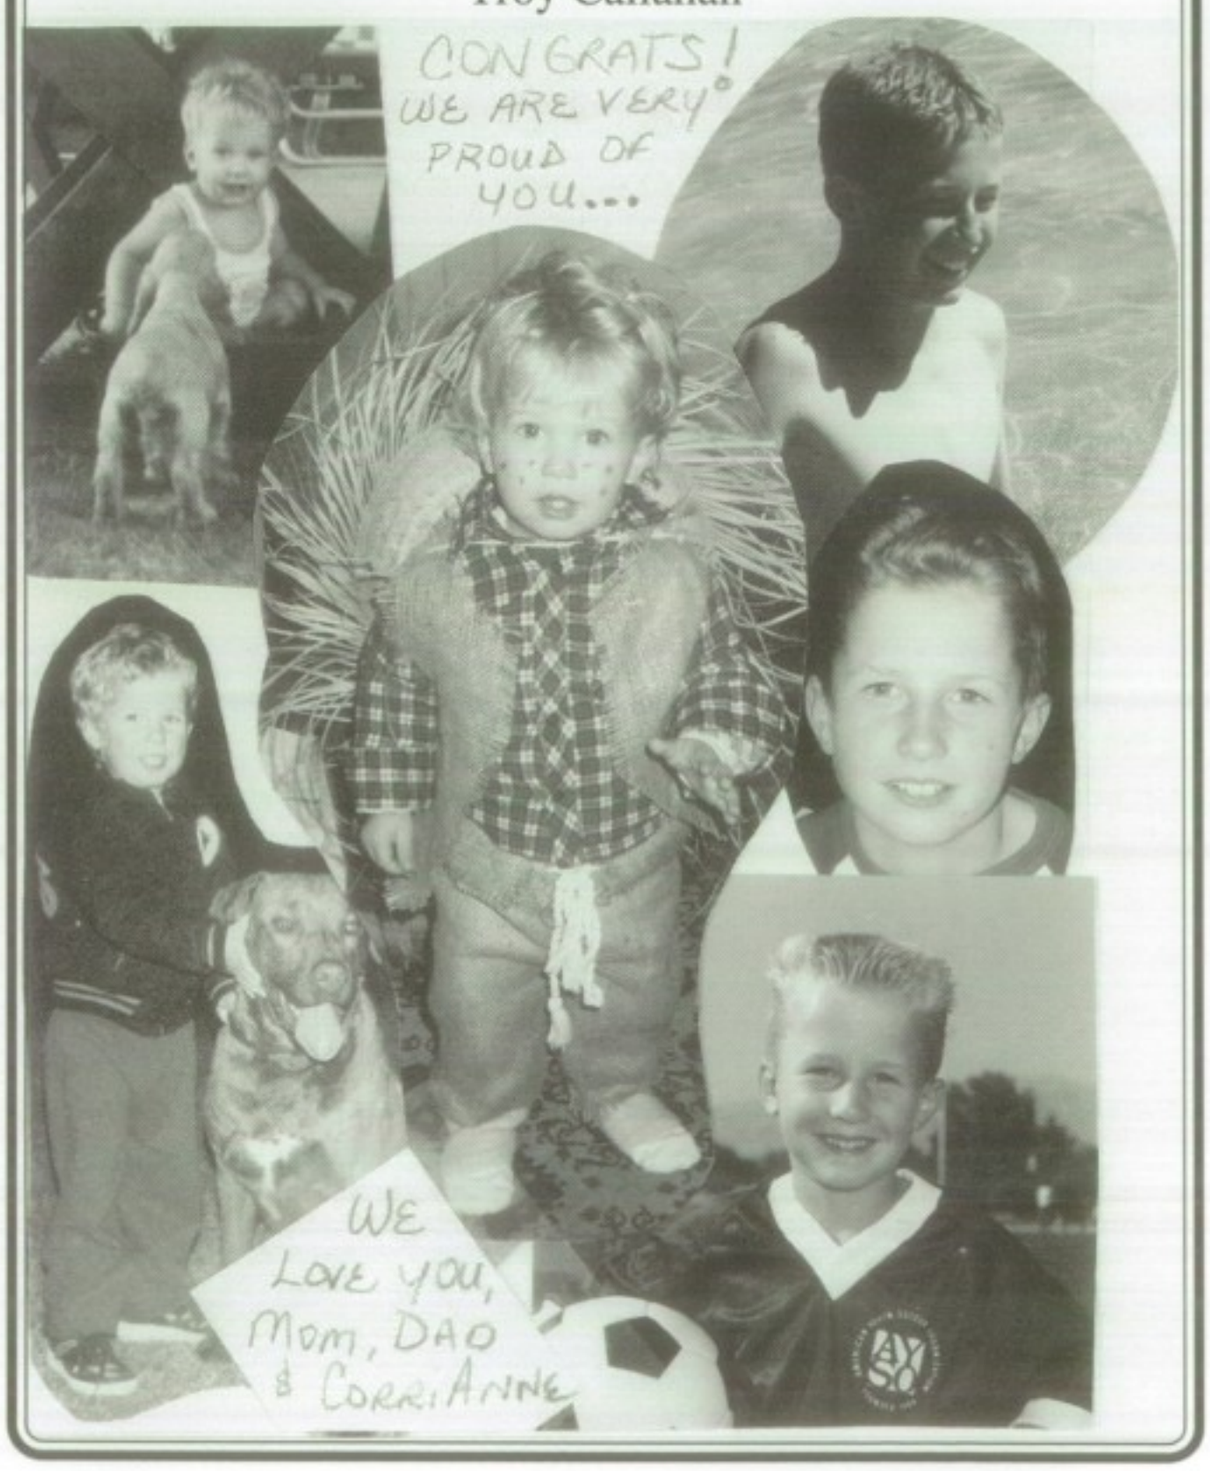
The poem you wrote in elementary school sure became a prediction of the kind of person you have grown to be:

P-Practically perfect in everyway
A-Athletic, aand oh so fun to watch
T-Talented in so many different ways
R-Radically humorous and fun to be with
I-Intelligent (or so we like to think)
C-Coolest kid around
K-Kind and caring to everyone

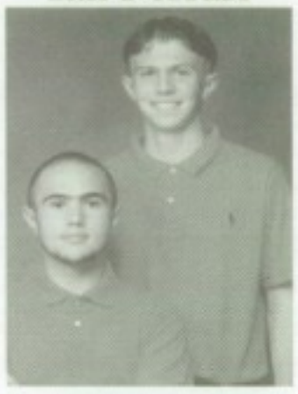
We have enjoyed your school years tremendously and are so very proud of the young man you have become.

We love you,
Mom and Dad

Troy Callahan



Ian Ferrari



Dear Ian,

As a young person you have developed a tremendous inner strength, a strong moral character, and a not always quiet determination. To the young man who developed into an awesome soccer player and trumpet player, we will miss those balls and notes. We are extremely proud of your accomplishments and we know you will continue on the right path. Keep you unwavering focus, you have always lead by example. Remember to smile and laugh, they are your greatest assets. Your success is now in your hands, do well.

We Love You,
Mom, Dad and Collin

Nicole Manke

Congratulations Nic'

Time has already gone so fast! Wasn't it just yesterday that you were dancing, baking cookies, playing with dolls and rollerblading?

You have always been so grown up and independent. You will reach your goals and dreams -because you are you!

You make us so proud and our hearts so full of joy.

Love ya' always,
Gamma and Papa Manke

For my sis;

Thanks for being a great sister and always watching out for me. I couldn't have asked for a better big sis. I'm proud of you.

Love you Lots,
Bren'

Dear Nic'

It seems like it was yesterday that you were our BABY.

We closed our eyes for a moment and opened them to find a kind , caring and loving person whom we respect.

We're so proud of you.

Love you,

Carly Gurinskas

Every day, I am so amazed at the beautiful woman you have become. Your sweetness and incredible sense of humor make every day a joy.

Always follow your dreams, live life to the fullest; and made each day count.

Congratulations, we are very proud of you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Carly Gurinskas

Car,

It doesn't seem like you should be graduating, you're just a baby, I'm going to be a very scared girl for you. I don't know what kind of sad, depressed life I would have had without you. I'm sooooo glad you're my sis and have and will always be in my life. I'm so proud of you and I hope I turn out to be as wondeful as you are!

Love always,
Robyn

Nicole Johnson

We can't believe this time is already here. Since you were a little girl, you have had a mind of your own, and you have been very independent.

Now is your time to truly BE independent and live your life to its fullest. We are so proud of you and all the accomplishments you have achieved so far.

This is just the beginning for you!

We love you...
a lot!

Dear Jennifer,

We are so proud of you! You could not be more loyal, loving, and beautiful. Pursue your dreams. Be positive, aim high, and believe in yourself and let no one discourage you or step in your path. Your determination, courage and warm heart will help you in the pursuit of those dreams. Be happy, keep smiling, and always know you have our love and support!!! Congratulations on a job well done!

-Love Mom and Dad

Nicolous Leveaux

We are so proud of the young man you have become. We will always be here for you. Remember to take time to have fun in life.

-Love Dad and Tam

Ick, you have been such a wonderful brother. You'll never know how much I truly value our friendship and how close we have become over the years. Growing up with you as my little bro has been a blast. I wish you the best of luck in everything you do. Thank you for all the great memories with many more to come.

-Love Toe

Sarah Lewis

Dearest Sarah,

You have brought so much happiness to my life. I am so proud of you. You are so independent and intelligent. I don't worry about you too much because you are so level headed and you seem to make good decisions about your life. I have always expected a lot from you. You always seem to give 100% in most all the things you do. I love you.

-Love Mom

Serena Proudfoot

Hey kid,

Congratulations! You're the greatest and we're so proud of you. You've got what it takes to have a wonderful life.

-We Love You Very Much,
Mom and Dad

Sierra Malan

Dearest Sierra,

Time just flies by so quickly and here you are graduating. You are very special to us.

We know whatever you focus on you will succeed in.

May you always focus on the stars.

-We love you so!!
Mom, Dad, and John

Katie Brecke

Katie,

I can't believe that you are actually graduating. I'm going to really miss you. Thanks for always looking out for me. No matter how much you bother me you know that I love you and I always will. Don't let the small things get to you. Be happy and enjoy your life more.

-I love to love you,
Lexie

Katie,

Dad and I are so proud of you. You are beautiful inside and out. May all of our dreams be fulfilled. This is truly the beginning of your life.

-Love you forever,
Mom and Dad

Scott Norman

Scott,
You have been through a lot in your eighteen years. We are very impressed by how you have handled yourself, found a focus and worked toward it. May your future success come easier than your past. You've come from tiny to pterodactyl to terrific. Congratulations! We are so proud of you and love you.
-Mom and Dad

Kristel Peterson

Dear Tipsy Cat,
I'm so sad this day has finally come! Im going to miss you so much. You are the funniest person to hang out with and I'm so proud of how far you've come! Thank you for always being my best friend and sister! I love you!

-XOXO Holly (Peaches)

James Gill

Big Brother James,
Congrats! We're glad that you have made it this far. You're a smart kid and you can do all that you want to big bro. Don't ever give up and keep your head in the game.

-Love you forever
Michael and Christina

Emily Stolpman

My memory of you at the beauty of your young age is certainly in my hands as I write this, trying to think of what to say. "Em" the little cutie pie has certainly found all her beauty within, as I feel with my heart. To me, that is truly what I see of and in you–your loving soul (Love you, Mom!)...But does the rest of the world know that?

-Love Mom

Trenton Goodsell

Trenton,
You will always be our "Hero." We are so proud of you. You've turned out to be a great young man. You have made a difference, of good, in so many people's lives.

-With all our love,
Mom andDad

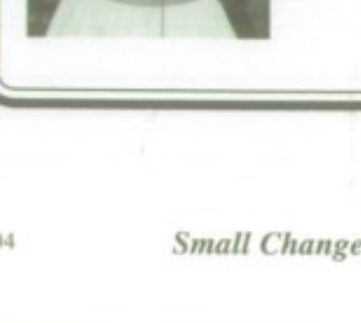
Heather Busch

Heather,
How fast time has changed our lives. I can't belive you're already graduating high school and begining your adult life. I'm so proud of you.
-Love always,
Brother Jeff

Heather B-
You've always been my princess-with or without costume. Remember, you can be whatever you want to be. The only boundaries in your life will be the ones you set. Aim high and never grow up.

-Love Mom

Devon Byrne

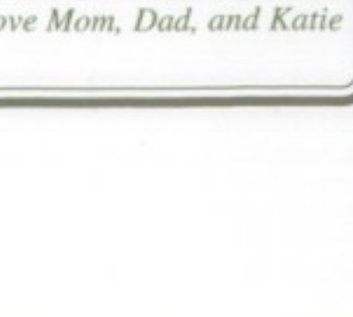


Devon, what can we say! In some ways it's ben a LONG 12 years, but then again it seems only yesterday you started kindergarten. We are very proud of you and wish you all the success in your years after high school in whatever field you chose. You will do well in anything, once you set your mind to it. You have grown into a mature young man-we are very proud to call you our son. Keep this thought always-you are loved SO VERY MUCH!!!

-Dad and Mom

Congratulations on the success you have found. School has always been a struggle for the both of us, but the past four years have been the most exciting for me. I've seen your struggles and watched you mature into the man that you have become. Your growth has assisted in my own. I have always looked up to you, but have never been so proud as I am now to be your brother. I wish you luck in everything that you set out to do, but remember that only you are in sole control of your own success.

-I love you,
Justin



Shannon Albitre

Congratulations Shannon,
You have had a lot of adversities handed to you for such a young life, but your inner strength and maturity, your love of life, your responsibility and genuine concern for others have guided you through it all. I know in your adult life, you will touch others, they will be proud to call you their friend. You will have anything you want in life–just go get it. I am very proud to call you "my son."

-We love you,
Your family

Megan Fleming

Dear Megan,

Our baby girl has grown up. Ever since you were little you made us laugh, your smile is so contageous. Not afraid to take on the world, you succeed in everything you do.

We have watched you grow to become more responsible and independent every day. You are truly a beautiful person.

Congratulations on your Graduation Day. We are very proud of you.

-Love and Kisses
Mom and Dad

Dear Princess,

You are a wonderful sister and our best friend. We are very proud of your accomplishments and the person you have become.

Good luck in the future. May all your dreams come true.

It's been a long journey in every sense
You've experienced so much
And learned from it all
You know it's all a start
You have far to go
The things that brought you here
Will shape the rest of your life
Intelligence, Wisdom, Kindness
And most of all, Happiness
For yourself, and to share with others
Congratulations! Be happy!

"J.C." ("Little Man Tall Man")

You're a grandson we are proud of. We have enjoyed watching you grow and supporting you through your athletic and academic pursuits. We admire your dedication and are looking forward to your college years and whatever they may bring. Continue to make good choices, put your heart into everything you do in life and your energy will follow. "That's Our Boy!"

Love from,
All your Grandparents

J.C.,

Well, you made it! You've been my best friend since you were born. You've taught me to be brave and to "go fast." As you become a "grown up" (yuck), remember to be brave. Just use that tough head of yours to tackle whatever comes your way. No matter how big you get, you will always be my little bro. I love ya,

A rose by any other name is still a rose.
The great part is watching a rose grow and bloom each year.
The rose, an intelligent and unique flower, adapts to the environment in which it exists, becomes stronger and more beautiful with each passing season.
It instinctively seeks friends, fends off foes and realizes when seasons are complete.
At the end of this season our rose completes an exhaustive journey toward adulthood.
Congratulations on achieving the first major milestone en route to rest of your life.

Take time
for what's important to you, for what makes you happiest...
Take time to be with those you love
And share your deepest wishes with them
Make your secret dreams and your favorite fantasies come true...
Take time to look around at all the gladness the world can offer...
All of it is yours,
If only you take the time.

P.S. Remember, be true to your heart.

MiMi,

I know that in the past we have gone through some rough times, but I want you to know that I still love you. You're my sister, and always will be. I can't begin to tell you how proud I am of you. You've accomplished something that I am still striving for, completion. I only wish I had it as easy as you. You're someone I have always looked up to. You're bright and very beautiful. Ignore anything rotten I have said to you, because it's not true. It's the complete opposite. I'm a sister, we can say rotten things we don't mean.

All I see in your future is happiness. You're ready for whatever comes at you. Lead your life in places you've never been. I love you lots and I appreciate all that you have done for me.

Love you always,

Courtney Noel Brown

My Darling Courtney,

I can't believe we are here already! Watching you grow, learn and change has been a wonderful gift I will cherish all my life. Here are my words of wisdom...

Life is truly a ride!!! We're all strapped in and no one can stop it, When the doctor slaps your behind, he's ripping your ticket, and away you go. As you make each passage from youth, to adulthood, to maturity, sometimes you will put your arms up and scream, sometimes you will just hang on to the bar in front of you. But, the ride is what it is all about! I think the most you can hope for at the end of life is that your hair's messed up, you're out of breath , and you didn't throw up! Hey, kiddo enjoy the ride!

I love you.

Mom

Linda Murillo

Dear Linda~

Before you were born, I spent months trying to find the perfect name for you. Up until the day you were born, I had not picked one yet, however, as soon as you were born and I saw your big dimples and wavy hair, that made me fall in love with you.

I knew your name had to be Linda because it meant beautiful in Spanish.

You were, and still are, the most beautiful creature I have ever seen! Having you has made me the happiest mother in the whole world!

You are the sweetest, most caring, smartest, most intelligent and most loving daughter any mother could wish for, and I want you to know how proud and happy you make me.

I know you know this, because I tell you everyday, but I'm going to tell you one more time... I love you more than anything in this world.

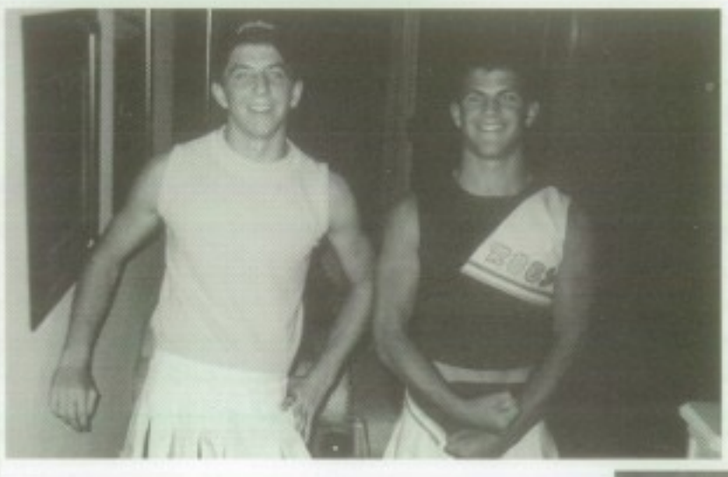
Eric Gibbons

My Son,

You came into this world 6 weeks early and just weighing 5 lbs 4 oz. By the time you were 3 months old you weighed 16 pounds. You amazed everyone! You have grown to be a fine young man, I'm so very proud of you. Your academic and athletic accomplishments are superior, along with your sense of humor and the care you give. That you are an adult and about to step into the world is hard for a mother to comprehend. I love you so much and will always forever and ever. I will always be there for you. You will by my "baby." You are a strong man, the world awaits you... so go for it, have fun and always remember that I hold you in my heart.

I love you ,
Mom



Eric,

I just want to say how proud I am to be your step-dad. You have always been a great guy and have the drive and ability to be anything you wish. I thank you for letting me in your life supporting your mom with your love. I know that it's a big world out there ahead of you, but just remember to plan your work, and work your plan and you can't fail!!! Your mom and I will always support you in whatever you choose to do, (as long as it's good for you), and don't forget to call.

Always your bud,
Bruce

Gibby,

Good luck in college. Thanks for being a great brother. Stay strong!!! I love you!

People have been looking at our school yearbooks to help them remember for over 50 years. But our innovations have been progressing steadily forward for a century, since we invented the first class rings. In fact, Jostens is part of the whole school experience from start to end, even supplying students with graduation products. And when you're looking back to even your earliest school portraits that represent you at every stage of your life, well, we were there then, too.

Colophon

The 2001 Galleon was created on Macintosh computers (1 G4 tower, 1 Powerbook laptop, 5 iMac DVs, 1 Powermac 7200), using AppleWorks 6.0, PhotoShop 6.0, PageMaker 6.5, and Jostens Yeartech 2000. It was printed on 80 pound paper, with sewn, rounded, backed binding. It consisted of 320 pages, with 96 pages of full color, a four page, full color gate-fold tip in, as well as a 16-page full-color World Beat insert. Headlines and body copy were in Times, subheadlines and captions were in Helvetica. There are over 7,000 photographs included.

Film and processing were from Smith's Food and Drug Center at Baring Pavilion. Most candid pictures were taken by staff members with SMC Pentax-FA cameras with variable zoom lenses. Ross Photo was the contracted yearbook photographer. Jostens Publishing Company in Visalia, CA printed the book. Books originally cost $40.00 each, and the price went up $5.00 each month through January, when sales ended at $60.00 each.

Lizabeth A. Walsh, Certified Journalism Educator, was the teacher and adviser. The staff included: Kerrie Kramer, Sara Bambauer, Britlyn Beck, Cathleen Corsun, Ashley Graham, Claire Housby, Christy Liem, Jessica Miller, Erika Orozco, Brittany Pearson, Jared Perkins, Brenda Reyes, Emily Stolpman, Kelly Wood (all full-year staffers); Lacy Barela, Jennifer Bond, Mark Forman, Christina Garcia, Sabrina Haney, Jessica Rodrigue, Shawnice Kraeber, Chelsie Riley, Steve Rose (one-semester staffers).

School Principal: Mary Vesco, Asst. Principals: Al Babb, John Carlson, George Hardaway, Steve McKnight.

Beauty and brains... After emerging as the natural leader of the yearbook staff, Kerrie Kramer (01) took over many production responsibilities, including the development of the theme throughout the book, creation of many spreads, and editing layouts.

The more things change, the more they stay the same...

Everything changes: people, nature, and just life in general. Along with these changes come choices.

Some will choose college, others a career, while others still have time left in high school. No matter what your choice, and no matter the change it brings, some things will always stay the same.

Over this time we have all made numerous friends, some who we may never see again, but there will always be those one or two who will always stay with us forever.

So as your life chages no matter what path you choose, or the changes it may bring; remember to take it one day at a time, enjoy it, and always make the best of it, bec ause it's the only one you get and you can't escape it. So, whether you like change or fear it, just remember this:

The more things change, the more they stay the same.

Our most sincere thanks...

Right now I would like to take the time to say, "thank you" to all the outside people who put time and effort into making this yearbook what it is. Without the help of those people, this process would have been ever so trying and even more difficult!

On the behalf of the whole staff working on the 2001 Galleon we express our deepest thanks to all of you!

CLAIRLEEN!!! An unsuspecting duo, Claire Housby(02) and Cathleen Corsun (02) proofed and edited many of the layouts in the book, taking over spread. They became some of the best associate editors any yearbook staff could ever ask for.
